On April 11, 2017, Cypress Semiconductor Corporation (the Company) issued the following press release, which contains the text of a letter sent to the Company's stockholders on April 11, 2017.

Cypress Clarifies That Stockholders Do Not Need To Take Immediate Action Regarding T.J. Rodgers Proxy Materials

SAN JOSE, Calif. April 11, 2017 Cypress Semiconductor Corporation (Cypress) (NASDAQ: CY) today sent a letter to its stockholders clarifying that they do not need to take any immediate action in response to proxy materials they may receive from T.J. Rodgers.

The full text of the letter follows:

April 11, 2017

Dear Fellow Stockholder:

In the coming days, you may receive proxy materials related to Cypress Annual Meeting of Stockholders, scheduled for June 8, 2017, from an entity calling itself CypressFirst, which was created by T.J. Rodgers, Cypress departed CEO, who was forced by the Cypress Board to resign in 2016. It is important to understand, as Mr. Rodgers materials will hopefully make clear, that you do not need to take any immediate action, or return any proxy card right away, in response to those materials. You have many weeks to make a decision. Importantly, we, the Cypress Board of Directors, expect to send you proxy materials in the coming weeks, as soon as we complete the regulatory process and are able to do so. These materials will include our WHITE proxy card.

We encourage you to wait until receiving this information from Cypress before casting your vote, so that you can make a fully informed decision about the future of your Company.

Thank you very much. If you have any questions, please contact:
