Item 2.03. Creation of a Direct Financial Obligation or an Obligation under an Off-Balance Sheet Arrangement of a Registrant

On July 20, 2005, GreenMan Technologies, Inc. entered into a $1 million convertible term note (the "Term Note") with Laurus Master Fund, Ltd. ("Laurus Funds"), a New York-based institutional fund.

Edgar Filing: GREENMAN TECHNOLOGIES INC - Form 8-K

The Term Note has a maturity date of June 30, 2007 and bears interest at the prime rate published in The Wall Street Journal from time to time plus 1.75%. Interest on the loan is payable monthly commencing August 1, 2005. Principal will be amortized over the term of the loan, commencing on February 1, 2006, with minimum monthly payments of principal of $58,823.53. Laurus Funds has the option to convert some or all of the principal and interest payments into common stock at a price of $.33 (the average closing price of our common stock on the American Stock Exchange for the 3-day period ending July 18, 2005) (the "Fixed Conversion Price"). Subject to certain limitations, regular payments of principal and interest will be automatically convertible into common stock if the average closing price of the common stock for the five trading days immediately preceding a payment date is greater than or equal to 110% of the Fixed Conversion Price.

We will be required to pay a premium of 2% of the amount of each principal payment under the Term Note made in cash. In addition, we will be required to pay a premium of 20% of the then-outstanding balance of the Term Note if we prepay the note.

In connection with the Term Note, we also issued to the Laurus Funds an option to purchase up to an aggregate of 2,413,571 shares of our common stock at an exercise price equal to $0.01 per share.

We have agreed to register for resale under the Securities Act of 1933 the shares of common stock issuable to Laurus Funds upon conversion of borrowings under the Term Note and upon exercise of the option.

The interest rate under the note is subject to downward adjustment on a monthly basis (but not to less than 0%). The downward adjustment will be in the amount of 200 basis points for each incremental 25% increase in the average closing price of our common stock over the then applicable conversion price of the note for the five-day period preceding such monthly determination date if we have at that time registered for resale all of the shares of our common stock underlying the note and the option we are issuing to Laurus Funds in this transaction, or 100 basis points for each incremental 25% increase in the average closing price of our common stock over the then applicable conversion price of the note for the five-day period preceding such monthly determination date if we have not at that time registered for resale all of such shares.

The amount of our common stock Laurus Funds may hold at any given time is limited to no more than 4.99% of our outstanding capital stock and no more than 25% of our aggregate daily trading volume determined over the five-day period prior to the date of determination. These limitations may be waived by Laurus Funds and do not apply if we are in default. In addition, the total number of shares of our common stock issuable to Laurus Funds pursuant to the Term Note, the option or otherwise is limited to 3,843,148 without approval of our stockholders.

The Fixed Conversion Price applicable to the Term Note is subject to adjustment on a full ratchet basis if we issue shares of our common stock (or common stock equivalents) at a price per share less than the Fixed Conversion Price. There are exceptions for issuances of stock and options to our employees and for certain other ordinary course stock issuances.

Subject to applicable cure periods, amounts borrowed under the Term Note are subject to acceleration upon certain events of default, including: (i) any failure to pay when due any amount we owe under the Term Note; (ii) any material breach by us of any other covenant made to Laurus Funds; (iii) any misrepresentation made by us to Laurus Funds in the documents governing the Term

Note; (iv) the institution of certain bankruptcy and insolvency proceedings by or against us; (v) the entry of certain monetary judgments against us that are not paid or vacated for a period of 30 business days; (vi) suspensions of trading of our common stock; (vii) any failure to deliver shares of common stock upon conversions under the Term Note; (viii) certain defaults under agreements related to any of our other indebtedness; and (ix) changes of control of our company. Substantial fees and penalties are payable to Laurus Funds in the event of a default.

Our obligations under the Term Note are secured by a first priority security interest in all of our assets, including pledges of the capital stock of our active subsidiaries. These subsidiaries have also guaranteed our obligations and have granted a security interest in all of their assets to secure these guarantees.
