IF YOU ALREADY HAVE VOTED FOR THE $31.00 PER SHARE AXA
FINANCIAL MERGER PROPOSAL THERE IS NO NEED FOR YOU TO TAKE ANY FURTHER ACTION

February 12, 2004

A handful of investors, including a Wall Street hedge fund manager, continue to criticize MONY's proposed merger with AXA Financial. You may have received letters or telephone calls from these dissident investors, or their paid agents, urging you to vote against the transaction. In fact, you may also receive another form of proxy from these investors similar to the enclosed proxy card. We believe the dissidents are asking you to pass up MONY's best alternative for creating value and we suggest that you disregard any communication you may receive from them or their agents.

In order for you to receive $31.00 in cash for each of your MONY Group shares, stockholders must vote to approve the merger agreement. Our records show that you have already voted, and we thank you for participating in this important process. We want to make certain, however, that you continue to be apprised of the reasons to support the merger agreement, and ask that you consider the facts presented below.

YOUR BOARD BELIEVES THIS OFFER IS THE BEST ALTERNATIVE AVAILABLE TO MONY GROUP STOCKHOLDERS

The MONY Group's Board of Directors carefully considered many factors before unanimously concluding that the merger agreement was in the best interests of MONY stockholders. We want to make sure that you understand the reasons for, and benefits of, the merger:

- Cash premium for your MONY shares. $31.00 per share represents a 25.3% premium to MONY's average closing stock price over the one year period ending on the date of the merger's announcement and a return of approximately 32% over the price per share at MONY's 1998 IPO.

Edgar Filing: MONY GROUP INC - Form DEFA14A

- Full and fair value for your MONY shares. Professional Wall Street analysts who follow the insurance industry agree that the $31.00 per share cash offer represents full and fair value for your MONY shares.

No other offer or realistic alternative has emerged. Almost five months since the merger was announced, no bidder willing to pay more for MONY has emerged and no one has proposed an alternative concrete plan to produce additional value for stockholders.

If the merger is not approved, we believe the market price of your MONY stock is likely to decline. A number of professional Wall Street analysts have warned that MONY's stock price is likely to decline if the merger is not approved, based on potential rating agency downgrades and other factors. Rating downgrades could have serious negative consequences for MONY, its stockholders and policyholders.

For these reasons, among others, we believe AXA Financial's $31.00 per share cash offer is the best alternative for MONY stockholders.

WHERE IS THE VALUE IN THE DISSIDENTS' PLAN?

Unlike your board, the dissidents who are soliciting your vote against the merger have no legal obligation to look out for your interests. Indeed, one of these investors has admitted publicly that it has no concrete plan to create value for MONY stockholders and that, if the merger is not approved, the market price of MONY's shares could drop. In this regard, we have reproduced a copy of our recent communication, which appeared in The Wall Street Journal, on the following page. We think you will find it of interest and ask that you consider it carefully.

DO WHAT IS BEST FOR YOU

Your vote is important. If you have voted in favor of the AXA Financial merger agreement, we thank you. We urge you to remember that the dissidents have presented no concrete plan to create greater value for MONY stockholders, and suggest that those urging you to reject the merger have interests which are different from yours. Compare the $31.00 per share in cash you can receive in the AXA transaction to the unknown future value being suggested by the dissidents, and do what is best for you.

MONY's WHITE proxy card is enclosed for your convenience. Should you prefer, telephone and Internet voting is available—please refer to your voting form for instructions.

ATTENTION MONY STOCKHOLDERS

RECEIVE $31.00 PER SHARE IN CASH OR TAKE A LEAP OF FAITH

A handful of MONY's stockholders, including Southeastern Asset Management and Highfields Capital, have argued that, one day, MONY might be worth more than AXA Financial's $31.00 per share cash merger proposal. However, when asked to publicly explain specifically how this could happen, the response was as follows:

I wish I could answer that in more detail but we are just not far enough down that road....Maybe that seems like a leap of faith to not get a specific plan....

(G. Staley Cates, Southeastern Asset Management, February 4, 2004)

The fact is that Southeastern and Highfields have not presented any concrete plan to create additional value for MONY's stockholders or any credible alternative to AXA's $31.00 per share cash merger proposal. Without the merger, Wall Street analysts who follow MONY have predicted that the value of your shares could decline, based on potential ratings downgrades and other factors. Even Southeastern agrees that, if the merger is not approved, the market price of MONY's shares could drop. (Letter to MONY shareholders from G. Staley Cates and O. Mason Hawkins, February 4, 2004)

Ask Yourself

Would you rather receive $31.00 per share in cash or take a leap of faith with a handful of disgruntled investors, including a Wall Street hedge fund, who, without presenting a concrete plan, are asking you to take a chance that you might receive more than $31.00 at some indeterminate point in the future?

Then...Do What's Best for You.

Having carefully considered various strategic options, MONY's Board of Directors has unanimously approved a realistic plan to provide full and fair value to stockholders AXA Financial's $31.00 per share cash merger proposal. Wall Street stock analysts who follow MONY agree $31.00 per share is full value. Even Richard Grubman of Highfields admits, "This company...at this juncture, might be worth [$31.00 per share]."
(Richard L. Grubman, Highfields Capital, February 6, 2004)

DON'T TAKE A LEAP OF FAITH.

Southeastern and Highfields have presented NO CONCRETE PLAN to create greater value for MONY's stockholders.
