ANGLOGOLD TO SELL AMAPARI

AngloGold announced today that it has signed an agreement to sell its wholly-owned Amapari Project to Mineracao Pedra Branca do Amapari, for the total consideration of US$18.2 million. The Amapari project is located in the State of Amapa, North Brazil. Since acquiring the property as part of the package of assets AngloGold purchased from Minorco in 1998, the Company has been seeking to prove up additional reserve ounces in order to get it to a size and life that would justify the management resources needed to run it effectively. This has not yet been achieved and the Company has received an offer from a purchaser who can constructively turn this orebody to account. AngloGold estimates the project to have reserves of 9.8 million tonnes at 2.29 g/t.

Commenting on the transaction, Roberto Carvalho Silva, regional head for AngloGold South America, said: "Although it has been a difficult decision to dispose of the property, AngloGold has realised a fair price for it and I am pleased that the project will be completed".

Background Note for Editors:

Mineracao Pedra Branca do Amapari is wholly-owned by Eike Batista, the founder of TVX Gold, recently acquired by Kinross Gold Corporation.
