Letter from the Chair of the board and the President and Chief Executive Officer

Dear fellow shareholder:

You are invited to attend this year's annual and special shareholder meeting. It will be held on Wednesday, June 6, 2007 at 9:30 a.m. (Eastern time), at Centre Mont-Royal, 2200 Mansfield Street, Montréal, Québec, in the auditorium Le Grand Salon. If you cannot attend the meeting in person, you can view a live webcast on our website at www.bce.ca.

As a shareholder, you have the right to vote your shares on all items that come before the meeting. This circular tells you about these items and how to exercise your right to vote. In addition to information relating to the special business you will be voting on, you will find in this circular information about the nominated directors, the auditors, the proposed amendments to equity-based compensation plans, our corporate governance practices and compensation of our directors and officers.

This year, in addition to the business mentioned above, you will be asked to vote on a special resolution approving the name change of BCE Inc. to Bell Canada Inc. This proposal represents the culmination of a series of strategic initiatives that we have undertaken over the past few years to rationalize the holding company structure of BCE and simplify its operations in order to put the focus where it belongs – on our core communications business. Eliminating our holding company operations will save corporate costs and enable further cost efficiencies by doing away with the need for duplicate audited financial statements and redundant filing costs.

On April 17, we announced that the company is reviewing its strategic alternatives with a view to further enhancing shareholder value. As part of that review, we also announced that we have entered into discussions with a group, led by major Canadian pension funds, to explore the possibility of taking the company private.

We cannot be sure that these discussions will lead to any specific action being taken. But we are committed to maximizing value for our shareholders by considering a range of alternatives.

We look forward to seeing you at this year's annual and special meeting.

Sincerely,

RICHARD J.
CURRIE

board

About voting your shares

YOUR VOTE IS IMPORTANT AS A SHAREHOLDER, IT IS VERY IMPORTANT THAT YOU READ THIS INFORMATION CAREFULLY AND THEN VOTE YOUR SHARES, EITHER BY PROXY OR IN PERSON AT THE MEETING.

Voting by proxy

This is the easiest way to vote. Voting by proxy means that you are giving the person or people named on your proxy form (proxyholder) the authority to vote your shares for you at the meeting or any adjournment. A proxy form is included in this package.

You can choose from five different ways to vote your shares by proxy:

1. by telephone
2. on the Internet
3. by mail
4. by fax
5. by appointing another person to go to the meeting and vote your shares for you.

The directors who are named on the proxy form will vote your shares for you, unless you appoint someone else to be your proxyholder. If you appoint someone else, he or she must be present at the meeting to vote your shares.

If you are voting your shares by proxy, our transfer agent, Computershare Trust Company of Canada (Computershare), or other agents we appoint, must receive your completed proxy form by 4:45 p.m. (Montréal time) on Tuesday, June 5, 2007.

Please follow the instructions below based on whether you are a registered or non-registered shareholder.

You are a registered shareholder

if your name appears on your share certificate. Your proxy form tells you whether you are a registered shareholder.

You are a non-registered (or beneficial) shareholder

if your bank, trust company, securities broker or other financial institution holds your shares for you (your nominee).

For most of you, your proxy form tells you whether you are a non-registered (or beneficial) shareholder.

If you are not sure whether you are a registered or non-registered shareholder, please contact Computershare.

2 In person at the meeting

How the votes are counted

You have one vote for each common share you hold on April 16, 2007. As at April 13, 2007, 801,369,842 common shares were entitled to be voted at the meeting.

The election of directors (subject to our majority voting guidelines – see What the meeting will cover Electing directors), appointment of the auditors and amendments to the equity-based compensation plans will each be determined by a majority of votes cast at the meeting by proxy or in person. The special resolution concerning the name change of BCE will be subject to the affirmative vote of not less than two thirds of the votes cast at the meeting by proxy or in person.

Computershare counts and tabulates the votes. It does this independently of us to make sure that the votes of individual shareholders are confidential. Computershare refers proxy forms to us only when:

§ it is clear that a shareholder wants to communicate with management

§ the validity of the form is in question, or

Table of Contents

What the meeting will cover

Five items will be covered at the meeting:

1. receiving our financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2006, including the auditors' report
2. electing directors who will serve until the end of the next annual shareholder meeting
3. appointing the auditors who will serve until the end of the next annual shareholder meeting
4. considering and, if thought advisable, approving, with or without variation, a special resolution (the full text of which is reproduced as Schedule A to this Circular) to approve the name change of BCE as described in this Circular
5. considering and, if thought advisable, approving, with or without variation, a resolution (the full text of which is reproduced as Schedule B to this Circular) to approve amendments to the equity-based compensation plans as described in this Circular.

The meeting may also consider other business that properly comes before it. As of the date of this Circular, management is not aware of any changes to these items, and does not expect any other items to be brought forward at the meeting. If there are changes or new items, your proxyholder can vote your shares on these items as he or she sees fit.

1. Receiving our financial statements

We will place before the meeting our financial statements, including the auditors' report, for the year ended December 31, 2006. The financial statements are included in our 2006 annual report, which you can access on our website at www.bce.ca.

2. Electing directors

You will be electing a board of directors (board) of 15 members. Please see About the nominated directors for more information. Directors appointed at the meeting will serve until the end of the next annual shareholder meeting, or until their earlier resignation.

All of the individuals nominated for election as directors are currently members of the board and each was elected at our 2006 annual shareholder meeting by at least a majority of the votes cast.

We adopted in 2006 new guidelines with respect to election of directors. Notwithstanding the Corporation's By-Laws and the Canada Business Corporations Act (CBCA), at any shareholders' meeting at which directors are to be elected in an uncontested election (i.e., the election does not involve a proxy battle), if any director nominee receives a greater number of votes withheld from his or her election than votes for such election, then such director nominee must, no later than 10 days following the receipt of the audited and final scrutineer's report relating to such meeting (vote results), submit to the board his or her resignation letter, which will take effect only upon the acceptance of such resignation by the board.

The board, upon the recommendation of the Corporate Governance Committee (CGC), will within 90 days following the public disclosure of the vote results determine either to accept or not the subject director's offer to resign, and the board will cause the Corporation to promptly publicly disclose, via press release, the board's determination, including, in cases where the board has determined not to accept the resignation, the reasons therefor. It is generally expected that the CGC will recommend that the board accept such resignation, except in extraordinary circumstances.

If you do not specify how you want your shares voted, the directors named as proxyholders in the enclosed proxy form intend to cast the votes represented by proxy at the meeting FOR the election as directors of the nominated directors in this circular.

3. Appointing the auditors

The board, on the advice of the audit committee, recommends that Deloitte & Touche LLP be re-appointed as auditors. Deloitte & Touche LLP and its predecessors have been the auditors of the Corporation since it was created in 1983. The audit firm appointed at the meeting will serve until the end of the next annual shareholder meeting.

If you do not specify how you want your shares voted, the directors named as proxyholders in the enclosed proxy form intend to cast the votes represented by proxy at the meeting FOR the appointment of Deloitte & Touche LLP as auditors.

4. Approving the name change of BCE

You will be asked to approve a change of BCE's name from BCE Inc. to Bell Canada Inc. or, if such name is not accepted by the relevant governmental, regulatory and self-regulatory authorities, such other similar name as may be allowed, and to authorize the board, in its discretion, to complete, postpone or abandon this change of name. This name change represents the culmination of a series of strategic initiatives undertaken over the last few years to simplify our corporate structure and eliminate our holding company operations.

The text of the special resolution to be considered at the meeting approving the name change is set out in Schedule A. To take effect, this resolution must be approved by at least two thirds of the votes cast by the holders of common shares present in person or represented by proxy at the meeting.

The board recommends that shareholders vote FOR the approval of the name change of BCE.

If you do not specify how you want your shares voted, the directors named as proxyholders in the enclosed proxy form intend to cast the votes represented by proxy at the meeting according to the board's recommendations noted in the above paragraph.

5. Approving the amendments to equity-based compensation plans

You will be asked to approve certain amendments to the Long-Term Incentive (Stock Option) Program (1999) (Stock Option Plan), the Employees' Savings Plan (1970) (ESP Plan) and the Employees' Savings Plan (2000) (U.S. ESP Plan, and collectively with ESP Plan, ESP Plans and with Stock Option Plan, Plans).

In 2006, the Toronto Stock Exchange (TSX) introduced new rules affecting the Plans. The Corporation would like to implement changes to the Plans to address these rules and must amend the Plans to do so. The amendments are described in this section and have been conditionally approved by the board and by the TSX, subject to shareholder approval.

Amendment procedures The TSX strongly advises that stock option plans have provisions that outline the type of amendments that require shareholder approval and those a company can make without shareholder approval. These provisions are called amendment procedures. Before the TSX changed its rules, shareholder approval was required for a plan or option amendment if the TSX considered the amendment to be material. The objective of the new rules is to allow shareholders to determine the types of plan or option amendments that require shareholder approval before a company can make them. Under the new rules, if a plan does not have amendment procedures by June 30, 2007, then every amendment, even of a minor housekeeping nature, will require specific shareholder approval.

Proposed amendment procedures relating to the Stock Option Plan

The proposed amendment procedures would require shareholder approval prior to the following changes to the Stock Option Plan or options granted under it:

- § increasing the number of common shares that can be issued under the Stock Option Plan
- § reducing the strike price of an outstanding option (including a cancellation and regrant of an option, constituting a reduction of the exercise price of an option)
- § extending the expiry date of an outstanding option or amending the Stock Option Plan to permit the grant of an option with an expiry date beyond the maximum term allowed under the Stock Option Plan
- § changing the provisions relating to the transferability of options except if the transfer is for normal estate settlement purposes
- § amendments to eligible participants that may permit the introduction of non-employee directors on a discretionary basis, and
- § amendments to provide for other types of compensation through equity issuance, unless the change results from application of the anti-dilution provisions of the Stock Option Plan.

Examples of the types of changes to the Stock Option Plan or options granted under it that we could make without shareholder approval include:

- § amending the process by which an optionee who wishes to exercise his or her option can do so, including the required form of payment for the shares being purchased, the form of exercise notice and the place where such payments and notices must be delivered
- § amending the identity of the Stock Option Plan participants (i.e., the identity of the persons to whom the options are granted or could be granted), excluding non-employee directors
- § amending the termination provisions for the Stock Option Plan or for an option granted under it as long as the change does not otherwise contravene any other provision of the Stock Option Plan or extend an outstanding option's expiry date
- § amending the provisions relating to the effect of termination, cessation or death of an optionee on the right to exercise options
- § amending the provisions on the transferability of options for normal estate settlement purposes
- § adding a cashless exercise feature, payable in cash or securities, which provides for a reduction of the Stock Option Plan reserve for an amount equal to the total number of underlying securities

§ delegating any or all of the powers of the committee of the board to administer the Stock Option Plan to senior officers of the Corporation

§ proceeding with housekeeping changes (such as a change to correct an immaterial inconsistency or clerical error or omission or a change to update a routine administrative provision), and

§ proceeding with any change deemed necessary or desirable to comply with applicable law or regulatory requirements.

Proposed amendment procedures relating to the ESP Plans

The proposed amendment procedures would require shareholder approval for the following changes to the ESP Plans:

§ amending the limit on employee contribution

§ amending the offering period to more than 27 months

§ introducing a discount purchase price

§ amending the maximum employer contribution

§ increasing the number of common shares issuable pursuant to the ESP Plans, and § allowing for a potential dilution associated with the ESP Plans, together with all other security-based compensation arrangements, of more than ten percent of outstanding common shares of the Corporation.

Examples of the types of changes to the ESP Plans that we could make without shareholder approval:

§ amending the process by which an eligible employee participates in the ESP Plans

§ amending the definition of an eligible employee under the ESP Plans

§ amending the termination provisions for the ESP Plans

§ amending the terms of the ESP Plans relating to the effect of leave of absence, long-term disability, lay-off or death of an eligible employee under the ESP Plans

§ amending the provisions on the transferability of the rights under the ESP Plans for normal estate settlement purposes

§ proceeding with housekeeping changes (such as a change to correct an immaterial inconsistency or clerical error or omission or a change to update a routine administrative provision), and

§ proceeding with any change deemed necessary or desirable to comply with applicable law or regulatory requirements.

Blackout periods

The TSX recognizes that, for reasons of good corporate governance, many public companies have internal policies prohibiting certain employees from buying or selling the company's securities during specific periods. The times that these restricted employees are not permitted to trade in a company's securities are often called "blackout periods." Trading restriction policies are not only a component of good corporate governance, they also assist in fostering compliance with legal requirements that prohibit people from trading in a public company's securities when they have material information about the company that has not yet been released to the public. A blackout period is designed to prevent a person from trading on material information that is not yet available to other shareholders. For example, a blackout period occurs during a specified period before and after the day that a company announces its quarterly or annual financial results. A blackout period might also arise during the time that a company has material undisclosed information about an important potential transaction it might be considering, such as a significant merger or acquisition. For us, a restricted employee is prohibited from buying or selling the Corporation's securities at all times except for a short period of time (about 24 days) after the release of our quarterly financial results. However, if a restricted employee has undisclosed material information during one of the four permitted window trading periods in each calendar year, then the employee cannot trade in the Corporation's securities until that information has been disclosed. The TSX recognizes these blackout periods might, in the case of options, result in an unintended penalty to employees who are prohibited from buying or selling securities of their company during that period because of their company's internal trading policies. As a result, the TSX now provides a framework for extending options that would expire during a blackout period. We propose adopting the TSX framework so that options issued under the Stock Option Plan expire at the later of the expiry date set for the option or, if that date occurs during a blackout period or shortly after it, 10 business days after that blackout period ends. This change has no additional dilutive impact on our common shares and no adverse impact on us or our shareholders.

Amendments regarding exercise prices

The Stock Option Plan currently provides that the subscription price for options be at least equal to the closing price of the common shares on the day before the grant becomes effective.

In line with the Corporation's prudent approach to governance and to the use of options, notably in respect of the process for determining exercise prices, the proposed amendments specify that the exercise price of an option will be the higher of the volume weighted average of the trading price per common share of a board lot of common shares traded on the TSX: (i) on the trading day prior to the day the grant becomes effective or, if at least one board lot of common shares has not been traded on such day, then the closing price for the next preceding day for which at least one board lot was so traded; and (ii) for the five consecutive trading days ending on the trading day prior to the day the grant becomes effective.

Ancillary modifications

Set out below are some other ancillary modifications proposed to be made to the Stock Option Plan and to the ESP Plans to align such Plans with current TSX requirements:

- § To replace the current requirements that (a) the aggregate number of common shares issuable under each one of the ESP Plans within any one-year period, combined with the number of common shares issued within the same one-year period under any other securities-based compensation arrangement, shall not exceed 10% of all outstanding common shares at any time; and (b) that the number of common shares which may be issued under each one of the ESP Plans to any one insider and to such insider's associates, within any one-year period, combined with the number of common shares issued to such insider and to his/her associates within the same one-year period under any other securities-based compensation arrangement, shall not exceed 5% of all outstanding common shares at any time, with the following requirements: (1) the number of common shares issuable to insiders in aggregate, at any time, pursuant to each one of the ESP Plans and any other securities-based compensation arrangement cannot exceed 10% of the common shares issued and outstanding; and (2) the number of common shares issued to insiders within any one-year period pursuant to each one of the ESP Plans and any other securities-based compensation arrangement cannot exceed 10% of the common shares issued and outstanding.

About the nominated directors

The table below tells you about the people who have been nominated for election as directors and the voting securities that they own directly or indirectly. Generally, all non-management directors sit on at least one board committee. We have also included other directorships held by the nominated directors during the past five years with public companies that are currently listed on an exchange. Information with respect to other public board directorships is given as of March 7, 2007. Please note that our directors' shareholdings in common shares of the Corporation shown in 2007 decreased as a result of the BCE Plan of Arrangement concluded on July 10, 2006, under which our shareholders received, for each common share of the Corporation: (i) 0.915 of a consolidated common share of the Corporation, and (ii) 0.0725 units of Bell Aliant Regional Communications Income Fund (Bell Aliant). As well, the numbers of deferred share units of the Corporation were increased by 1.174% in July 2006 to preserve the value of deferred share units before and after the BCE Plan of Arrangement.

Also see Corporate Governance committee report Directors' compensation Directors' share unit plan for a description of our deferred share unit plan for non-management directors.

As a public company, we are required by law to have an audit committee. The responsibilities of the audit committee are set forth in its written charter which is available in the governance section of our website at www.bce.ca.

This report tells you how the audit committee is managed and our process for complying with applicable laws and regulations.

See Schedule 1 Audit Committee in our annual information form dated March 7, 2007 for more information about the audit committee, including the audit committee's charter, information about independence, financial literacy, relevant education and experience of audit committee members, as well as audit committee policies and procedures for engaging the external auditors.

About the audit committee

The audit committee has five independent directors: Mr. T.C. O'Neill (Chair), Mr. A. Bérard, Mr. A.S. Fell (who was appointed to the audit committee in June 2006 concurrently with Mr. R.C. Pozen stepping down from such committee), Ms. J. Maxwell, and Mr. V.L. Young. The audit committee communicates regularly and directly with management and the internal and external auditors. The audit committee held six regularly scheduled meetings and six special meetings in 2006. The special meetings were held for the purpose of providing additional reports to the audit committee with respect to the status of the Corporation's first-time compliance with Section 404 of the U.S.

Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 (Sarbanes-Oxley Act) (see Internal Control Over Financial Reporting below). Time is set aside at each regularly scheduled committee meeting for the committee members to meet without management, and without the internal and external auditors, and to meet separately with each of management and the internal and external auditors.

The audit committee continued to focus on three key areas in 2006:

- § assessing the appropriateness of our financial reporting
- § reviewing the adequacy of policies and processes for internal control over financial reporting, risk management and compliance with laws and regulations that apply to us, and oversight of our compliance with our code of business conduct and environmental policy, and
- § overseeing all aspects of the internal and external audit functions.

Since the Corporation has securities registered in the United States, we are subject to the provisions of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act and related rules and regulations of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) (related SEC rules). In addition, since our common shares are listed on the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE), we are subject to certain NYSE corporate governance rules (NYSE rules). The Canadian Securities Administrators (CSA) have rules relating to audit committees and certification of financial information (Canadian Financial rules) with which we must comply.

Table of Contents

Members financial literacy, expertise and simultaneous service

Under the Sarbanes-Oxley Act and related SEC and NYSE rules, the Corporation is required to disclose whether its audit committee members include at least one audit committee financial expert, as defined by these rules. In addition, the Canadian Financial rules and the NYSE rules require that all audit committee members be financially literate.

The board of directors has determined that at least one of the members of the audit committee, being the Chair of the audit committee, Mr. T.C. O'Neill, is qualified as an audit committee financial expert. Please see Schedule 1 Audit Committee in our annual information form dated March 7, 2007, for the relevant education and experience of all our audit committee members.

The NYSE rules require that if an audit committee member serves simultaneously on the audit committee of more than three public companies, the board must determine and disclose that this simultaneous service does not impair the ability of the member to effectively serve on the audit committee.

In addition to serving on the Corporation's audit committee, the following audit committee members currently serve on the audit committees of the following public companies: Mr. Bérard Bombardier Inc., Groupe BMTC Inc. and TransForce Inc.; and Mr. O'Neill Nexen Inc., Adecco, S.A., and Loblaw Companies Limited. The board has carefully reviewed the audit committee service of each of Mr. Bérard and Mr. O'Neill and has concluded in each case that these other activities do not impair their ability to effectively serve on the Corporation's audit committee. This conclusion is based on the following:

§ each is retired and is not involved in professional activities other than sitting on various public company boards and audit committees

§ each has extensive accounting and financial knowledge and experience, which serves the best interests of the Corporation, and

Financial reporting

The audit committee meets to review the following documents with management and the external auditors and recommends them to the board for approval:

§ our annual and interim financial statements

§ the related management's discussion and analysis of financial condition and results of operations (MD&A)

§ our annual report for U.S. purposes on Form 40-F

§ our annual information form (AIF), and

This review is to provide reasonable assurance that:

§ the Corporation's financial reporting is complete and fairly presented in all material respects

§ the accounting standards used to prepare our financial statements are appropriate, in particular, where judgments, estimates, risks and uncertainties are involved, and

§ we have provided adequate disclosure of material issues.

The audit committee also reviews new legal and regulatory initiatives that apply to us and the adoption and disclosure of new accounting standards. It also assesses the potential impact of choosing between accounting alternatives, when appropriate.

Disclosure controls & procedures

The audit committee is responsible for overseeing management's assessment of disclosure controls and procedures, related certifications provided by the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) and the Chief Financial Officer (CFO) and any related disclosures that may result from management's assessment.

Under the Sarbanes-Oxley Act and related SEC rules, and under the Canadian Financial rules, the Corporation is required to design and maintain disclosure controls and procedures to ensure that the information we publicly disclose is accurately recorded, processed, summarized and reported on a timely basis. The board has approved guidelines outlining the Corporation's disclosure controls and procedures, as well as a written charter outlining the responsibilities, membership and procedures of the disclosure and compliance committee. This committee consists of officers and other key employees responsible for overseeing the accuracy and timeliness of the Corporation's disclosure documents.

As part of our disclosure controls and procedures, we have established a comprehensive process to support the annual certifications required under the Sarbanes-Oxley Act and related SEC rules, and to support the annual and quarterly certifications required under the Canadian Financial rules. Among other things, these certifications by the CEO and the CFO state that:

- § they are responsible for establishing and maintaining the Corporation's disclosure controls and procedures
- § they have evaluated the effectiveness of these disclosure controls and procedures
- § the Corporation's financial statements, related MD&A and the AIF do not contain any untrue statement of a material fact, and
- § the Corporation's financial statements and other financial information fairly present in all material respects the Corporation's financial condition, results of operation and cash flows.

Internal control over financial reporting

The audit committee is responsible for overseeing management's assessment of internal control over financial reporting (ICFR), related certifications provided by the CEO and the CFO and any related disclosures that may result from management's assessment.

Management has established a comprehensive process to document ICFR and evaluate the effectiveness of such controls in compliance with the requirements of Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act and related SEC rules.

Management has prepared a report on the effectiveness of ICFR as of December 31, 2006, which is filed as part of the annual report. This management report contains:

§ a statement of management's responsibilities for establishing and maintaining adequate ICFR

§ a description of the framework used to evaluate, and management's assessment of, the effectiveness of the Corporation's ICFR, and

Regulations also require that the CEO and CFO in separate individual certificates attest as to the Corporation's ICFR. The CEO and CFO have certified that they have disclosed to the external auditors and the audit committee based on their most recent evaluation of ICFR:

§ all significant deficiencies and material weaknesses in the design or operation of ICFR which are reasonably likely to adversely affect the Corporation's ability to record, process, summarize and report financial information, and

§ any fraud, whether or not material, that involves management or other employees who have a significant role in the Corporation's ICFR.

The audit committee met with management, our internal audit and the external auditors, Deloitte & Touche LLP, on a regular and frequent basis over the course of 2006 to receive status reports on management's documentation and assessment process. Management and the CEO and CFO provided the audit committee with their report on their review of the design and operating effectiveness of ICFR as at December 31, 2006.

The audit committee will continue to regularly monitor management's evaluation process and our compliance with ICFR processes throughout 2007.

Complaint procedures for accounting and auditing matters

The audit committee established procedures for receiving, filing and handling complaints that the Corporation or any of its subsidiaries might receive about:

§ accounting, internal accounting control or auditing matters

§ evidence of an activity that may constitute corporate fraud, violation of federal or provincial laws, or misappropriation of property that belongs to the Corporation or any of its subsidiaries, if such activity is deemed material by the Chief Legal Officer.

The audit committee also established whistleblowing procedures for confidentially and anonymously submitting concerns from employees about questionable accounting or auditing matters. To this end, we developed an internal online web tool that allows all employees to report questionable accounting and auditing practices in complete confidence. This is in addition to the other means of communication available to our employees, such as an Employee Help Line which can be accessed either by telephone or online on a completely anonymous and confidential basis 24/7 contact with the Ethics and Policy Management Group (EPMG), e-mail and regular mail.

Audit function

External auditors

The audit committee is responsible for recommending to the board the appointment of the external auditors and their compensation. The audit committee is directly responsible for:

§ evaluating the external auditors to make sure that they fulfil their responsibilities. The audit committee reviews the external auditors' performance against auditing standards, as well as its qualifications, independence, internal quality control procedures, audit plans and fees, and § assessing the adequacy of the auditor independence policy and approving recommendations for changes to, and monitoring compliance with, the policy. This includes the process for approving all audit and other services provided by the external auditors in advance.

Auditor independence policy

Our Auditor Independence Policy is a comprehensive policy governing all aspects of our relationship with the external auditors, including:

§ establishing a process for determining whether various audit and other services provided by the external auditors affect their independence

§ identifying the services that the external auditors may and may not provide to the Corporation and its subsidiaries

§ pre-approving all services to be provided by the external auditors of the Corporation and its subsidiaries, and § establishing a process outlining procedures when hiring current or former personnel of the external auditors in a financial oversight role to ensure auditor independence is maintained.

The Auditor Independence Policy is available in the governance section of our website at www.bce.ca.

External auditor s fees

The table below shows the fees that Deloitte & Touche LLP billed to the Corporation and its subsidiaries for various services for each year in the past two fiscal years. Fees for audit services increased in 2006 primarily due to additional audit work on ICFR as a result of the requirements of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act.

Other fees

These fees include any other fees for permitted services not included in any of the above-stated categories. No such services were provided in the last two fiscal years.

Internal auditor

The audit committee also oversees the internal audit function. This includes:

§ overseeing internal audit plans, staffing and budgets

§ evaluating the responsibilities and performance of the internal auditor, and § reviewing periodic internal audit reports and corrective actions being taken.

The senior vice-president, audit and risk management reports directly to the Chair of the audit committee.

Risk management

§ our processes for identifying, assessing and managing risk, and

§ our major financial risk exposures and the steps we take to monitor and control such exposures.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE COMMITTEE REPORT

The responsibilities of the Corporate Governance Committee (CGC) are set forth in its written charter which is available in the governance section of our website at www.bce.ca.

This report describes how the CGC is managed and how it ensures that we maintain the highest standards of corporate governance to meet, and in some cases exceed, laws, regulations and other corporate governance initiatives that apply to us. It also tells you how non-management directors are compensated and the process by which such compensation in general is determined.

About the corporate governance committee

The CGC is currently made up of five independent directors: Mrs. D. Soble Kaufman (Chair), Mr. A. Bérard, the Honourable E.C. Lumley, Mr. J.H. McArthur and Mr. J.A. Pattison (who was appointed to the CGC in June 2006 concurrently with Mr. A.S. Fell stepping down from such committee).

The CGC held four regularly scheduled meetings and two special meetings in 2006. The CGC communicates regularly and directly with the officers. Time is set aside at each regularly scheduled meeting for the committee members to meet without management.

Under its charter, the CGC reviewed and reported, or made recommendations, to the board on the following matters in 2006 and up to the date of this Circular:

- § the size and composition of the board to ensure that the board and its committees continue to benefit from the range of skills, expertise and experience needed to function effectively and for sound succession planning
- § the independence of directors and our director independence standards; these standards are available in the governance section of our website at www.bce.ca
- § the financial literacy and expertise of the members of the audit committee
- § the consideration of existing and new board interlocks and of the possible effect of any change in a director's external directorships or principal occupation on such director's suitability to continue to serve as a director
- § the nominees for director who will stand for election at the meeting
- § the annual review of the effectiveness of the board and of its committees and the assessment of the performance of each director and of the board, the board Chair, board committees and each committee Chair
- § the directors' attendance record
- § the annual review of the adequacy and form of non-management directors' compensation for serving on the board and its committees, including the requirement for minimum share ownership, to ensure that it continues to be appropriate
- § how we align with the corporate governance guidelines of the CSA National Instrument 58-101 Corporate Governance Guidelines (Canadian Governance rules), NYSE rules, the Sarbanes-Oxley Act and other corporate governance initiatives
- § the statement of corporate governance principles and guidelines, including the majority voting guidelines for the election of directors
- § the manner in which our shareholders will exercise their voting rights at the meeting, and
- § the Bell Community Investment Program.

The Community Investment Program provides support to registered charitable organizations and their initiatives taking place in Canada with the focus on the health, well-being, safety, security and education of children or youth living within Canada so they may reach their full potential.

The CGC also carries out an annual evaluation of its performance with the board, and reviews annually the adequacy of the charter of the board, the charter of the CGC and the respective charters of each other committee of the board.

Finally, the CGC reports regularly to the board on its activities.

Directors' compensation

In designing a compensation program for non-management directors, our objective is to ensure that we attract and retain highly qualified, committed and talented board members, with an extensive and relevant breadth of experience, as well as to align the interests of directors with those of our shareholders.

The board sets the compensation of non-management directors based on the CGC's recommendations. The CGC regularly reviews the compensation of non-management directors and recommends to the board such adjustments as it considers appropriate and necessary to recognize the workload, time commitment and responsibility of the board and committee members and to remain competitive with director compensation trends in North America. Directors' compensation was revised effective January 1, 2003 to introduce a flat annual fee and eliminate attendance fees. Any director who is also an employee of the Corporation or any of its subsidiaries does not receive any compensation as a director.

In early 2006, the CGC refined the process for the annual review of the determination of the compensation of non-management directors by adopting more formal parameters for setting such remuneration. These parameters are established on the basis of a comparator group being the applicable publicly traded companies included in the peer group of comparator companies (Canadian and U.S.) that is used by the MRCC to benchmark its executive compensation policy. Within such comparator group, the total compensation of non-management directors is positioned at the same level as our executive compensation (see Report on Executive Compensation - Total Compensation). Following a review of the non-management directors' compensation in relation to these parameters in 2006, the CGC and the board determined that the levels of compensation of non-management directors in 2006 were generally in line with market practice at the time. In 2007, the CGC will review the compensation of non-management directors to ensure our directors' compensation program remains in line with market practices.

Table of ContentsCash compensation

The annual fees set out below also compensate non-management directors for their services as directors of any subsidiaries whose common shares are not publicly traded, such as Bell Canada and Telesat Canada, in 2006. Directors receive an annual flat fee and do not receive additional retainers or attendance fees. The annual fee for each position is paid on a quarterly basis.

position	annual fee
Non-management directors who live in Canada and future directors who live outside of Canada	$ 150,000
Two non-management directors who live outside of Canada and who were members of the board when the annual flat fee arrangement was approved in November 2002 (Mr. J.H. McArthur and Mr. R.C. Pozen)	US$ 150,000
Chair of the board, who also currently serves as Chair of the board of Bell Canada and Telesat Canada with no additional compensation	$ 300,000
Chair of the audit committee	$ 225,000

Directors share unit plan

Under the Share unit plan for non-employee directors (1997) each non-management director receives his or her compensation in the form of deferred share units. One deferred share unit is equal in value to one common share and each director accumulates deferred share units until he or she reaches the minimum share ownership requirement of 10,000 common shares or deferred share units. Once the director reaches this minimum requirement, he or she can choose what proportion of his or her compensation will be paid in deferred share units.

Each director has an account where deferred share units are credited and held until the director leaves the board. The number of deferred share units credited to each director's account is calculated by dividing the amount of the quarterly fee payment by the common share price on the day the credit is made.

Holders of deferred share units are credited additional units that are equal to the dividends declared on the Corporation's common shares. Additional deferred share units are credited to each non-management director's account on each dividend payment date. The number of deferred share units is calculated using the same rate as the dividends paid on the common shares.

When a director retires from the board, we will buy the same number of common shares on the open market as the number of deferred share units the director holds in the plan, after deducting appropriate taxes. These shares are then delivered to the former director.

Compensation of directors of subsidiary boards

The directors' annual flat fee also compensates non-management directors for their services as directors of subsidiaries whose common shares are not publicly traded, including Bell Canada and Telesat Canada, in 2006. As a result, only those directors who sit on boards of subsidiaries whose common shares are publicly traded, such as Aliant Inc. prior to July 2006 while it was a subsidiary of the Corporation, receive additional compensation.

During 2006, one non-management director of the Corporation, Mr. V.L. Young, also served (up to July 2006) as a director of Aliant Inc. and certain of its subsidiaries.

Mr. Young received regular director fees from Aliant Inc. according to its rates for non-management directors.

Mr. Young's compensation from Aliant Inc. up to July 2006 (during the period that Aliant Inc. was a subsidiary of the Corporation) was based on the following fee structure:

Annual retainer¹

board	$ 35,000
committees	$ 3,000
Attendance fees
board	$ 1,500
committees	$ 1,500

- 1 All or part of the annual retainer and fees may have been paid in deferred share units under the share unit plan of Aliant Inc. existing at the time.

Minimum share ownership requirement

We encourage our directors to own shares so as to have a substantial investment in the Corporation. Under the board's minimum share ownership requirement, non-management directors must own at least 10,000 shares or deferred share units. They must meet this requirement within five years of being elected to the board or November 26, 2002 (when this requirement was adopted), whichever is later. As of the date of this circular, all non-management directors have met this minimum share ownership requirement.

The board believes that the current share ownership requirement continues to effectively link the interests of the non-management directors to those of the shareholders.

Alignment of interests with shareholders

The board believes that the following measures relating to the manner in which we compensate our non-employee directors effectively link their interests to those of our shareholders:

- § the minimum share ownership requirement
- § the necessity for our non-management directors to retain all deferred share units until they leave the board
- § the cancellation (effective November 2002) of our non-employee directors' Stock Option Plan, and
- § the use of formal parameters for assessing the remuneration of our non-employee directors.

Statement of corporate governance practices

The board and management believe that good corporate governance practices help create and maintain shareholder value. Accordingly, we are committed to attaining high standards in all aspects of corporate governance.

The CGC conducted a careful review of the Canadian Governance rules and evaluated our corporate governance practices against them. The board has concluded that we comply with, and in some cases exceed, the Canadian Governance rules. Likewise, the CGC and the board reviewed our corporate governance practices against the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, other related SEC rules, NYSE rules, Canadian Financial rules, and other similar indicators. Although we are not required to comply with most of the NYSE rules, our governance practices comply with substantially all of the NYSE rules. You will find a summary of the differences between our governance practices and the NYSE rules in the governance section of our website at www.bce.ca.

Table of Contents

Acting on the recommendation of the CGC, the board adopted in early 2006 a Statement of Corporate Governance Principles & Guidelines. These guidelines complement the board's written mandate and provide a general description of the board's expectations and responsibilities of its individual directors.

Board of directors

The board has overall responsibility for the supervision of the management of our business in the Corporation's best interests. In exercising this responsibility, the board must act in accordance with a number of rules and standards, including:

§ the CBCA

§ the Bell Canada Act

§ other laws that apply to telecommunications companies

§ laws of general application

§ the Corporation's Articles and By-Laws

§ the Corporation's administrative resolution and the written charters of the board and each of its committees

§ the Corporation's Code of Business Conduct (code of conduct) and Complaint procedures for accounting and auditing matters and other internal policies.

In 2006, the Board held eight regularly scheduled meetings and seven special meetings.

Role of the board

In 2005, the board approved its written mandate, which is attached as Schedule C. The mandate can also be found in the governance section of our website at www.bce.ca. We have summarized below the principal duties and responsibilities of the board. Some of these duties and responsibilities are first reviewed and recommended by the appropriate committee and then submitted to the full board for its consideration and approval.

Strategy & budget

The board approves our overall strategic direction and objectives during an annual key planning session. This session is typically held in December, coincident with the board's approval of the business plan and budget for the coming year. The annual business plan outlines our strategy and objectives and sets out measurable financial and operating targets. The board assesses all material proposed transactions during the year to ensure (among other things) they align with our annual strategy and objectives. Management reports to the board on any developments that could affect our objectives and strategic direction.

Financial reporting and external auditors

The board is responsible for:

§ reviewing and approving, as required, our financial statements and related financial information

§ appointing (subject to approval of shareholders) and removing the external auditors, and

Risk management, capital management and internal controls

In this area, the board is responsible for:

§ identifying and assessing the principal risks of our business and ensuring the implementation of appropriate systems to manage these risks

§ ensuring the integrity of our internal control systems and management information systems and safeguarding our assets

§ reviewing, approving and overseeing as required compliance with our disclosure policy and our disclosure controls and procedures, and § reviewing processes for identifying and managing our principal risks, including risk management policies, internal control procedures and standards relating to risk management.

Chief executive officer and other officers

The board is responsible for:

§ appointing the CEO and all other officers of the Corporation

§ developing the corporate goals and objectives that the CEO is responsible for meeting and reviewing his performance against these corporate goals and objectives annually

§ approving the compensation and benefits policy (including pension plans) for officers and approving (by the independent directors) all forms of compensation for the CEO, and § providing stewardship in terms of succession planning, including the appointment, training and monitoring of the CEO, other officers and senior management personnel.

Governance

In the broad area of governance, the board is responsible for:

§ developing our approach to, and disclosure of, corporate governance practices, including developing a Statement of Corporate Governance Principles & Guidelines

§ developing appropriate qualifications and criteria for the selection of new directors and establishing the criteria for determining director independence

§ approving the nomination of directors and ensuring that a majority of directors are independent

§ appointing the board Chair and the Chair and members of each board committee

§ ensuring that each audit committee member is financially literate, and determining who among the members of the audit committee qualify as an audit committee financial expert

§ providing an orientation program for new directors and continuing education programs for all directors

§ annually assessing the effectiveness and contribution of the board, its directors, the board Chair, each board committee and their respective Chairs, and § approving the compensation policy for non-management directors.

The board has also established an administrative procedure which sets out rules governing the approval of transactions carried out in the ordinary course of the Corporation's operations. These rules also provide for the delegation of authority and the signing or execution of documents on behalf of the Corporation.

At each regularly scheduled board meeting, the directors meet without management and without the non-independent directors.

The board and each committee may hire outside advisors at our expense. With the approval of the CGC, individual directors may also hire outside advisors.

Table of Contents

Legal requirements and communication

In addition, the board oversees the adequacy of our processes to ensure compliance with applicable legal and regulatory requirements.

The board also establishes measures for receiving feedback from shareholders. In addition to our annual shareholder meeting, we have a toll-free number for shareholder inquiries (1-888-932-6666) and for investor and general inquiries (1-800-339-6353). Shareholders and other interested parties may also communicate with the board and its Chair by contacting the Corporate Secretary's Office at corporate.secretariat@bell.ca or 514-786-8424, or for any complaints and/or concerns with respect to the Corporation's accounting, internal accounting controls or auditing matters, shareholders should consult the Corporation's complaint procedures for accounting and auditing matters on our website at www.bce.ca. Finally, the Corporation communicates regularly with the investment community and the media to explain our results and to answer questions. This includes meetings, conferences, press releases and quarterly conference calls. Our quarterly financial results analyst conference calls are webcast live on our website at www.bce.ca.

Composition of the board

In terms of the composition of our board, our objective is to have a sufficient range of skills, expertise and experience to ensure that the board can carry out its responsibilities effectively. We also seek to have a reasonable geographical representation that reflects where our shareholders live and where we conduct our business. Directors are chosen for their ability to contribute to the broad range of issues with which the board routinely deals. The board reviews each director's contribution and determines whether the board's size allows it to function efficiently and effectively. The board believes that its current size and range of skills promote effectiveness and efficiency.

The CGC receives suggestions for board candidates from individual board members, the CEO, shareholders and professional search organizations. On a regular basis, the CGC reviews the current profile of the board, including average age and tenure of individual directors and the representation of various areas of expertise and experience.

Majority voting

Early in 2006, the board adopted, on a voluntary basis, majority voting principles for the election of directors at the annual shareholders' meeting.

As we have for several years, we continue to ensure that the proxy forms we use for the election of directors at our shareholders' meeting enable shareholders to vote in favor of, or to withhold their vote, separately for each director nominee. We also continue to call for a vote by ballot on the election of directors rather than a vote by show of hands. The official vote results are presented in the audited and final scrutineers' report for the meeting, and the company discloses the vote results through a report filed on SEDAR (www.sedar.com), Canada's System for Electronic Document Analysis and Retrieval. This vote results report includes the number and percentage of votes cast for, and votes withheld from, each individual director nominee.

The board also established in early 2006 guidelines specifying that, in an uncontested election (i.e., the election does not involve a proxy battle), any director nominee who receives a greater number of votes withheld than votes for his or her election, must submit to the CGC his or her resignation letter no later than 10 days following the public disclosure of the vote results. The resignation will take effect upon its acceptance by the board.

It is generally expected that the CGC will recommend, absent exceptional circumstances, that the board accept such resignation. Within 90 days following the filing of the vote results, the board will, upon recommendation of the CGC, decide to accept or refuse the resignation and will promptly publicly disclose its decision via press release. A director who so tenders his or her resignation will not participate in any discussion or action of the CGC or of the board with respect to the decision to accept or not his or her resignation. In cases where the board determines to refuse the resignation, the reasons for its decision will also be disclosed. If a resignation is accepted, the board may appoint a new director to fill any vacancy, or may reduce the size of the board.

Independence of the board

It is the board's policy that at least a majority of its members must be independent. Acting on the recommendation of the CGC, the board is responsible for determining whether or not each director is independent. The board analyzes all of the relationships each director has with the Corporation and its subsidiaries. To guide this analysis, the board has adopted director independence standards. These standards are consistent with the Canadian Governance rules and the NYSE rules and can be reviewed in the governance section of our website at www.bce.ca. In general, a director who meets these standards and who does not otherwise have a material relationship with the Corporation would be considered independent under the Canadian Governance rules and the NYSE rules.

Evaluating the information provided by each director against the independence standards outlined above, the board determined that all of the directors standing for election at the 2006 annual and special shareholder meeting (with the exception of our President and CEO, Mr. M.J. Sabia) do not have a material relationship with the Corporation and are considered to be independent under the Canadian Governance rules and the NYSE rules. Because he is an officer of the Corporation, Mr. Sabia is not considered to be independent under these rules.

Certain directors may be partners in or hold other positions with entities that provide legal, financial or other services to us or to our subsidiaries. The board has reviewed these relationships and has determined that each of these directors is independent on the basis that:

§ the amount of fees received by such entities for services rendered to us or our subsidiaries are not material to these entities or to the Corporation

§ such services are provided on customary commercial terms by these entities and are received by us or our subsidiaries in the ordinary course of our respective businesses, and

§ we are at liberty to choose from among other service providers which maintain similar quality standards.

Board Chair

Our By-Laws provide that directors may determine from time to time whether the Chair should be an officer or should act solely in a non-executive capacity. Should they decide that the Chair should be an officer acting in an executive capacity, the board must designate one of its members as the lead director who is responsible for ensuring that the board can function independently of management.

For the past several years, the board decided that the Chair should be separate from management and appointed as Chair Mr. R.J. Currie. Mr. Currie is not an executive officer of the Corporation or its subsidiaries and is considered independent under the Canadian Governance rules and the NYSE rules.

Table of Contents

The detailed mandate of the board Chair can be found in Schedule C and in the governance section of our website at www.bce.ca. The principal duties and responsibilities of the board Chair consist of leading the board in all aspects of its work, effectively managing the affairs of the board and ensuring that the board is properly organized and functions efficiently. The board Chair also advises the CEO in all matters concerning the interests of the board and the relationships between management personnel and board members.

Expectations and personal commitments of directors

The board expects all of its members to comply with the Corporation's Statement of Corporate Governance Principles & Guidelines. Members are also expected to comply with the Corporation's policies that apply to directors and the various board procedures and practices. These procedures include the declaration of interest and changes in principal occupation (see below for details), the conflict of interest guidelines (see below for details), the share ownership guidelines (see Corporate Governance Committee Report – Directors' Compensation for details) and the code of conduct (see below under Ethical Business Conduct for details). The board also expects all of its members to demonstrate beyond reproach personal and professional characteristics. These characteristics include high ethical standards and integrity, leadership, financial literacy and current fluency in their own field of expertise.

The board further expects all of its members to make meaningful commitments during their time as directors of the Corporation. Each director is expected to participate in the director orientation program and in continuing education and development programs. They are expected to develop and expand a broad, current knowledge of the nature and operation of our major businesses. Similarly, all members are expected to commit the necessary time required to be an effective and fully contributing member of the board and of each board committee on which they serve.

With respect to time commitment, the board approved the following recommended guidelines:

§ each director should periodically review their other commitments (including their commitments as directors on other public and private company boards or non-profit organizations), and

§ each director should consider whether their current or intended future commitments may limit their ability to be an effective and fully contributing member of the board and each committee on which they serve.

The CGC periodically reviews each director's external commitments and considers whether such commitments may impair the director's service on the board or each board committee on which such director serves, and provides recommendations to the board in this respect.

The CGC is also responsible for administering our policy on directors' attendance at meetings of the board and its committees. Under this policy, the Corporate Secretary must report to the CGC any director who did not attend at least 75% of the board and committee meetings held in the year. The CGC reviews each director's attendance record and takes this into consideration when proposing the list of nominated directors for election to the board at the next annual shareholders' meeting.

Directors must follow the procedure for declaration of interest and changes in their principal occupation. The procedure is designed to enable the CGC to be notified in a timely fashion of any change in a director's external directorships and principal occupation, and to permit the CGC to review and consider any possible effect of such a change on the suitability of that director's continued service as a member of the board. This procedure also states that directors are expected to tender their resignation upon a change in their principal occupation, which only becomes effective when it is accepted by the board upon the recommendation of the CGC.

Our conflict of interest guidelines for directors sets out how conflict situations will be managed during a board meeting. If a director is deemed to have a conflict of interest because of an interest in a party to a proposed contract or transaction with the Corporation, then a specific declaration of interest is noted in the minutes of the meeting. As well, the conflicted director must abstain from voting on the matter. Depending on circumstances, the director may also withdraw from the meeting while the board deliberates. This procedure is followed on an as-required basis.

Orientation and continuing education

New directors are given the opportunity to individually meet with members of senior management to aid in their understanding of our business. The CGC assists new directors in becoming acquainted with the Corporation and its governance processes and encourages continuing education opportunities for all members of the board.

All directors have regular access to senior management to discuss board presentations and other matters of interest. We also give directors a reference manual, which is updated regularly. This comprehensive manual contains information about our various businesses and special legislation affecting us and our investments. It also covers the structure and responsibilities of the board and its committees, the legal duties and liabilities of directors, the Corporations Articles and By-Laws, the Corporations Statement of Corporate Governance Principles & Guidelines and other significant policies.

The board recently adopted guidelines with respect to directors' attendance at external continuing education programs under which we reimburse the costs of attendance. In recognition of the rapidly changing technology and competitive environment in our business, the board recently determined to devote a portion of time at regularly scheduled meetings and board sessions to an in-depth focus on each of the business segments in which we operate, as well as our industry in general.

Board assessments

As part of its charter, the CGC is required to develop and oversee a process to enable each director to assess the effectiveness and performance of the board and its Chair, the committees of the board and their respective Chairs and themselves as a member of the board. In 2006, the assessment process was conducted through one-on-one meetings. Each director met first with the Chair of the board to discuss their assessment of the performance of the board as a whole, the performance of each board committee on which they serve, the CGC Chair (if they serve on the CGC), and their own performance as a member of the board. Next, each director met with the Chair of the CGC to discuss the performance of the Chair of the board and the Chair of each committee (other than the CGC Chair) on which they serve. To facilitate these meetings, a written guide (approved by the CGC) was given to each board member for their review and use in preparing for these meetings. The guide included suggestions for topics and questions for discussion at the meetings, including (among others) the board's responsibilities, its relationship with management, its operations and its composition, committee structure and operations, and materials prepared for board and committee meetings and time-liness of delivery to directors. Following the one-on-one meetings, an in camera session of the board was held in early 2007 at which the board discussed and reviewed feedback from the one-on-one meetings and considered the appropriateness of any modifications or enhancements to the effective performance of the board, its committees, the Chair of the board, the respective Chairs of the committees of the board and individual directors.

Board committees

There are four standing committees of the board: the Audit Committee, the Corporate Governance Committee, the Management Resources and Compensation Committee and the Pension Fund Committee. It is our policy that each of the audit committee, the MRCC and the CGC must be comprised solely of independent directors. As well, none of the members of the audit committee has directly or indirectly accepted any consulting, advisory or other compensatory fee from the Corporation or any of its subsidiaries, other than ordinary director fees. The board has concluded that all of the audit committee members are independent under the more stringent audit committee independence tests under the Canadian financial rules and the NYSE rules.

The complete charter of each board committee can be found in the governance section of our website at www.bce.ca. As well, the position description of the committee Chairs is detailed in the corresponding committee charter. The principal duties and responsibilities of each committee Chair consists of leading the committee in all aspects of its work, effectively managing the committee's affairs and ensuring that it is properly organized and functions efficiently. At each regularly scheduled board meeting, each board committee, through the committee Chair, provides a report to the board of directors on its activities. Please see each committee report in this Circular for a complete review of the activities of the respective committees in 2006.

Chief Executive Officer

Our CEO has primary responsibility for the management of the business and affairs of the Corporation. As such, the CEO, subject to the board's approval, develops our strategic and operational orientation. In so doing, the CEO provides leadership and vision for the effective overall management, profitability and growth of the company, and for increasing shareholder value and ensuring compliance with policies adopted by the board. The CEO is directly accountable to the board for all of our activities. The board approved a written position description for the CEO, a copy of which is attached at Schedule D and is also available in the governance section of our website at www.bce.ca.

Ethical Business Conduct

In mid-2005, we established the EPMG which reports to our Corporate Secretary, and in turn to the CGC and the audit committee. The creation of this group is part of a corporate-wide initiative to strengthen our governance practices, our ethics program and our oversight of corporate policies across the Corporation.

The EPMG has responsibility, among others, for:

§ the oversight of our ethics program, including the code of conduct and ethics training

§ our anonymous 24/7 Employee Help Line that assists employees with any ethical issues

§ our complaint tool allowing for anonymous reporting of issues relating to questionable accounting, internal controls, auditing matters or corporate fraud, and

§ the implementation and oversight of a new corporate policy management framework designed to improve employee awareness and access to some of the core corporate policies and business unit-specific practices, processes and procedures.

Corporate policies

The most significant corporate-wide policies with respect to business ethics are the code of conduct, the complaint procedures for accounting and auditing matters, the disclosure policy and the auditor independence policy. These policies are available in the governance section of our website at www.bce.ca.

Code of business conduct

Our code of conduct provides various rules and guidelines for ethical behaviour based on our values, applicable laws and regulations and corporate policies. Our code of conduct applies to all employees, officers and directors. In recognition of the important role of the directors and senior management personnel in demonstrating their commitment to and support of the company's ethics program, as embodied in the values and rules set out in the code of conduct, the board determined to require all directors, officers and vice-presidents to certify annually their compliance with the code of conduct. This certification also confirms their express support for the setting of standards to discourage wrongdoing and to promote honest and ethical conduct throughout the organization.

Our shareholders, customers and suppliers expect honest and ethical conduct in all aspects of our business. Accordingly, we require that employees, officers and directors certify annually that they have reviewed and understood the code of conduct. In addition, all new employees are required to complete an online training course on the code of conduct within the first few weeks of being hired.

Table of Contents

Employees must also report to their manager any real or potential conflict of interest and, as required, provide written disclosure of such conflict to the EPMG. The EPMG is responsible for managing the conflict of interest issues of employees. In addition to the requirements to comply with the conflict of interest guidelines and procedures set out in the code of conduct applicable to employees, all officers and vice-presidents are required to disclose to the EPMG any potential or actual conflicts of interest. Any actual or potential conflict of interest is resolved by the EPMG or the Chief Legal Officer.

We consider it vital that employees have the most effective tools to pose questions or raise issues concerning any ethical dilemma. Our Employee Help Line can be accessed either by telephone or online on a completely anonymous and confidential 24/7 basis, to pose questions or report concerns relating to issues under the code of conduct. The system is administered by an independent outside firm specializing in the field. Our new support system also provides employees a means to track the progress of their enquiries online, responds to requests for additional information (when required) and provides the Corporation with an auditable record of issues raised.

Complaint procedures for accounting and auditing matters

Please see Audit Committee Report – Internal Control Over Financial Reporting for more details.

Disclosure policy

The board periodically approves policies for communicating with our various stakeholders, including shareholders, employees, financial analysts, governments and regulatory authorities, the media and the Canadian and international communities. Several years ago, we adopted a disclosure policy governing our communications to the investment community, the media and the general public. This policy is designed to assist us in ensuring that our communications are timely, accurate and broadly disseminated according to the laws that apply to us. Among others, the policy establishes guidelines for the verification of the accuracy and completeness of information disclosed publicly and the principles of disclosure with respect to material information, news releases, conference calls and webcasts, electronic communications and rumours. All officers and vice-presidents are required to certify annually their compliance with the disclosure policy.

Auditor independence policy

Our Auditor Independence Policy is a comprehensive policy governing all aspects of the Corporation's relationship with its external auditors. Please see Audit Committee Report – Auditor Independence Policy for more details.

Oversight and reports

The board is responsible for ensuring that management creates and supports a culture in which ethical business conduct is recognized, valued and exemplified throughout the organization. The board must also satisfy itself as to the integrity of the CEO, other corporate officers and senior management. Both the CGC and the audit committee support the board in its oversight of our ethics program. The CGC has the responsibility for the content of the policies discussed above, while the audit committee has the oversight responsibility for compliance with these policies.

The audit committee receives a quarterly report prepared by the EPMG on the number, nature and scope of issues raised under the code of conduct and provides details of the complaints received in respect of accounting and auditing matters. This report also details the status of investigations and any follow-up action required. In addition, the EPMG provides an annual report to the audit committee identifying the officers and vice-presidents who have signed their annual certification statement under the code of conduct.

The Chair of the audit committee is notified by either the Chief Legal Officer or internal audit of any complaints that relate to accounting, internal controls, auditing matters or corporate fraud. The results of any investigation or follow-up action are provided to the audit committee.

MANAGEMENT RESOURCES AND COMPENSATION COMMITTEE REPORT

The responsibilities of the MRCC are set forth in its written charter which is available in the governance section of BCE's website at www.bce.ca.

The first part of this report tells you how the MRCC is managed, what its responsibilities and powers are and how it makes sure that BCE's strategies for management resources in general, and executive compensation in particular, are consistent with its business plan.

The second part of this report tells you how certain executive officers are compensated and the process by which such compensation of officers in general is determined.

About the management resources and compensation committee

The MRCC is currently made up of five independent directors: Mr. R.J. Currie (Chair), Mr. R.A. Brenneman, Mr. A.S. Fell, Mr. J.H. McArthur and Mr. R.C. Pozen (who was appointed to the MRCC in June 2006 concurrently with Mr. V.L. Young stepping down from such committee).

The MRCC held four regularly scheduled meetings and five special meetings in 2006. It communicates regularly and directly with the Corporation's officers. Time is set aside at each regularly scheduled committee meeting for the committee members to meet without management.

Under its charter, the MRCC reviewed and reported, or made recommendations, to the board on the following items in 2006 and up to the date of this Circular:

- § the appointment or resignation of officers and the terms of these changes to ensure that they are appropriate in relation to both external and internal benchmarks

- § the review of proposed major changes in organization or personnel with the President and CEO

- § the review of the President and CEO's performance against pre-set specific corporate and individual goals and objectives approved by the MRCC and recommendation for approval by the independent directors of the board of the terms of his compensation

- § the review with the President and CEO of the performance of the other officers and the terms of their compensation

- § the review with the President and CEO of the Bell group's management resources and plans for ensuring appropriate succession to officers and other senior management personnel

- § the review of the appropriateness as well as significant design changes to perquisites and benefit plans (excluding pension plans which are overseen by the PFC, see Pension fund committee report)

- § the administration of benefit plans under the MRCC's authority including a review of new legislative or regulatory requirements and the impact of various transactions or corporate reorganizations, contemplated or otherwise, on such plans

- § the market benchmarking of the share ownership requirements and the monitoring of interim measures for executives to ensure such share ownership requirements are met

- § the review of the executive compensation policy, as further detailed in this report under Executive officers compensation

- § the review of this report on the compensation of executive officers, and

- § the review of health and safety procedures and compliance with respect to the health and safety policies.

Independent advice

The Corporation retains the firm of Towers Perrin to provide expertise and advice in connection with the design of executive compensation programs and policies. During 2006, management requested Towers Perrin to provide advice on various compensation matters such as a compensation market review for our executive positions and the design of our mid- and long-term incentive plans. The Corporation and Bell Canada paid a total of $202,000 for such services rendered in 2006. Towers Perrin was also used to provide advice on specific compensation issues for other management personnel.

The MRCC also carries out an annual evaluation of its performance with the CGC, including the review of the adequacy of its charter.

Finally, the MRCC reports regularly to the board on its activities.

Executive officers' compensation

Report on executive compensation

The executive compensation policy is designed to attract, motivate and retain the executive officers needed to achieve and surpass the Corporation's corporate objectives and to build a company that can capture growth opportunities in our rapidly changing markets and that leads the industry in terms of operational performance and creation of value for our shareholders.

Our compensation philosophy is to offer total compensation that is competitive in the marketplace. To complement this market positioning, we also ensure (for internal equity) that the compensation of each position fairly reflects the responsibilities of that position compared to other positions.

A substantial portion of every executive officer's cash compensation each year is based on meeting annual corporate performance objectives. In addition, we have in place mid-term and long-term incentive programs. These are mainly in the form of restricted share units and stock options that are designed to:

- § compensate and retain executive officers
- § link the executive officers' interests to those of the shareholders
- § encourage executive officers to pursue value-creating opportunities for the Corporation by allowing them to participate in the appreciation of share value, and
- § encourage the type of leadership and behaviour required for the achievement of our strategic objectives by creating an even stronger link between executive compensation and our mid-term and long-term operational competitiveness and financial success.

Table of Contents

We periodically review our executive compensation policy to make sure that it continues to meet our objectives. This review also includes a specific review of the compensation of the President and Chief Executive Officer and of the executive officers. In this document, executive officers whose compensation is disclosed in the Summary compensation table are referred to as the named executive officers.

In 2004, we implemented a revised compensation policy which placed more emphasis on compensation at risk mainly through the introduction of performance-based restricted share units and stock options. This year, we further reinforced our pay for performance philosophy by increasing once more the weight on variable compensation to build a culture geared towards greater individual accountability and higher levels of performance. These changes to our compensation policy are highlighted under Total Compensation.

Total compensation

In 2006, total compensation consisted of:

§ base salary

§ annual short-term incentive awards

§ mid-term incentive awards

§ long-term incentives, and § benefits and perquisites, including pension benefits, described under Other compensation information.

Total compensation is positioned at the 60th percentile of compensation paid by the group of companies that the Corporation compares itself against (comparator group). Paying at the 60th percentile of the comparator group means that 40% of the companies in the comparator group pay more, and 60% pay less, for similar positions. We believe this allows us to attract and retain high-performing executives.

In 2006, we modified our compensation policy to put more emphasis on compensation at risk. Base salaries and mid-points were therefore main-tained at their 2005 levels. In this context, base salaries could however be adjusted, as required, to reflect an increase in responsibilities or job scope. In conjunction with the above and in order to preserve our current competitive positioning to the North American market, short-term incentive targets (measured as a percentage of base salary) were increased by up to 10% for all executives except for the President and Chief Executive Officer and for the Chief Operating Officer. The base salary and the annual short-term incentive are positioned at the 50th percentile (median) and the 75th percentile, respectively. The other components of total compensation are used to bring overall compensation of the executive officers to the 60th percentile. This reflects our objective to put a significant portion of compensation at risk, encouraging the required behaviour for achieving the desired business results. On average, named executive officers have approximately 75% of their total direct compensation at risk. Since 2004 and in light of the introduction of grants of Restricted Share Units (RSUs) made under a mid-term incentive plan, there is less emphasis on the use of long-term incentive plans under which stock options are granted. Moreover, stock options granted since 2004 have performance and time-vesting criteria. For more information on key features of these plans, see Mid-term incentive plan and Long-term incentives.

We did not assign specific weightings to any element of the total compensation other than the positioning of base salary, short-term incentive and total compensation value in relation to the market.

The comparator group for 2006 consisted of 46 publicly traded Canadian and U.S. companies. The companies in the comparator group were selected based on one or more of the following criteria: telecommunications/high technology, strategic use of technology, most admired companies and revenues. The annual review of the comparator group in 2006 resulted in a net addition of one company.

Please see Other compensation information Executive compensation table for more information on compensation paid to the named executive officers over the past three years.

Base salary

We determine the base salary of each executive officer within a salary range to reflect the scope and responsibilities of the position as well as individual performance. The mid-point of the salary range corresponds to the median of the comparator group for similar positions. The minimum for the salary range is 20% below the mid-point and the maximum is 20% above.

Annual short-term incentive awards

The short-term incentive program is designed to support the achievement of corporate objectives and reward executive officers based on the Corporation's success. The main focus of our senior executives is on Bell Canada, our core asset. Therefore, all short-term incentive awards for executive officers are determined using a corporate performance factor based on Bell Canada's results. In 2006, the following components of Bell Canada's performance were used for setting short-term incentive awards:

§ EBITDA¹ (45%)

§ revenue (25%), and

This resulted in a Bell Canada corporate performance factor of 90% of the target award which was computed based on total results for Bell Canada.

We determine the annual short-term incentive awards by taking both the corporate performance and the executive officer's individual contribution into consideration.

In 2006, the individual contribution was evaluated based on the achievement of objectives (results) and the demonstration of leadership behaviour required to drive corporate success (leadership attributes). The individual performance factor may vary between 0 and 200%.

Each year, we set target values for the awards. In 2006, target awards ranged from 50% of base salary for the lowest eligible officer's position to 125% of base salary for the President and Chief Executive Officer. The lowest target for the named executive officers was 80% of base salary.

On the basis of the above factors, we determine the size of the annual short-term incentive awards. Awards are calculated based on the product of the target award, the corporate performance factor and the individual performance factor. The maximum payout is two times the target award. Awards granted for a year are paid at the beginning of the following year.

1 The term EBITDA (earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization) does not have any standardized meaning according to Canadian generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). It is therefore unlikely to be comparable to similar measures presented by other issuers. We define EBITDA as operating revenues less operating expenses, meaning it represents operating income before amortization expense, net benefit plans cost and restructuring, and other items. The most comparable Canadian GAAP financial measure is operating income.

2 Bell Canada determines a Customer Loyalty Measurement (CLM) by conducting telephone interviews every month with customers of all its business units. The CLM consists of a short-term component. In order to determine Bell Canada's performance, transactional surveys are used where customers, after having interacted with Bell Canada, are asked to evaluate the service received.

Table of Contents

Executive officers may participate in the share unit plan for senior executives and other key employees (1997) (deferred share unit plan) by electing to receive up to 100% of their annual short-term incentive award in deferred share units (DSUs) instead of cash. They must decide how they wish to receive their award by the end of the year in which the award is earned. Please see Deferred share unit plan for more information.

Awards in the form of DSUs can be used as a means to achieve the mandatory share ownership levels described under Share ownership requirements.

Mid-term incentive plan

We may grant to executive officers and other key employees, and those of certain subsidiaries, restricted share units (RSUs). The RSU plan is designed to more closely link the compensation of the executives with the achievement of specific financial and operating objectives that are key in supporting the overall business strategy.

RSUs are granted for a given performance period based on position and level of contribution.

At any time, the value of one RSU is equal to the value of one BCE common share. RSUs vest according to the vesting schedule relating to the performance period for the award. Under the vesting schedule, RSUs vest over time, provided that pre-set financial and operating objectives directly aligned to specific goals are met. RSUs that are granted during a given performance period are all subject to the same vesting rules and objectives attached to the performance period.

Dividend equivalents in the form of additional RSUs are credited to the participant's account on each dividend payment date and are equal in value to the dividend paid on BCE common shares. These additional RSUs are subject to the same vesting schedule that applied to the original grant of RSUs.

At the end of the performance period, we assess the actual performance against the pre-set objectives to determine the percentage of RSUs that will become vested (vesting percentage). RSUs become vested on the date the board confirms the vesting percentage. All unvested RSUs as of that date are forfeited. If an employee participating in the plan is terminated prior to the end of the performance period, he must have participated in at least half of the performance period to be entitled to receive his vested RSUs.

Participants may choose to receive their payment of RSUs in cash, in BCE common shares, or a combination of both. We may, however, determine that all or a portion of a participant's RSUs is to be paid out in BCE common shares if he has not met the minimum share ownership requirements described under Share ownership requirements. Payment in cash is calculated based on the number of vested RSUs in the participant's account times the percentage chosen for payment in cash times the market value of a BCE common share on the day before the board confirms the vesting percentage (after withholding taxes and any other deductions). For payment in shares, the Corporation will buy a number of BCE common shares on the open market equal to the number of vested RSUs chosen to be taken in shares (less withholding taxes and any other deductions). Such purchase will occur within 45 days from the day the board confirms the vesting percentage.

For executive officers, the vesting of the RSUs granted for the performance period ending December 31, 2007 (2006-2007 RSUs) is conditional on the achievement of the following Bell Canada financial and operating objectives:

- § free cash flow³ (50%)

- § revenue (25%), and

- § customer loyalty⁴ (25%).

The vesting of the RSUs granted to Mr. Sabia, President and Chief Executive Officer, includes an additional objective which is described under Chief Executive Officer's Compensation.

For more information on the vesting schedule of the 2006-2007 RSUs, see the table under Other compensation information - Mid-term incentive plan.

Long-term incentivesStock options

We may grant to executive officers and other key employees, as well as those of certain subsidiaries, options to buy BCE common shares under stock option plans.⁵ Under the BCE Inc. Long-Term Incentive (Stock Option) Program (1999), not more than 50% of the BCE common shares covered by options under the plan may be granted to insiders

(as defined in the Plan) who participate in it. We may recommend special grants of stock options to recognize specific achievements or, in some cases, to retain or motivate executive officers and key employees. We may also determine, within the parameters of the stock option plans (see Amendments section) and subject to board approval, the terms and conditions of each grant. The number of outstanding options held by an employee is not taken into account when determining if and how many new options are awarded to him.

The exercise price is the price at which a common share may be purchased when an option is exercised. The exercise price⁶ is at least equal to the market value of a BCE common share on the day before the grant becomes effective. The grant becomes effective on the third business day following the board's confirmation of the grant unless there is undisclosed material information or unless regulatory requirements dictate otherwise, in which cases the grant will become effective at a later date.

In 2004, we introduced a performance component to the vesting schedule of options granted. These options are front-loaded, meaning that options are granted at the beginning of a performance period (or later in the period for a newly hired or promoted executive), for the entire performance period. During that period, stock options that vest solely over time have therefore been granted only under exceptional circumstances.

Performance and time-vesting options granted in 2004 have a performance period of January 1, 2004 to December 31, 2006 and are called the 2004-2006 Front-loaded options.

3 The term free cash flow does not have any standardized meaning according to Canadian GAAP. It is therefore unlikely to be comparable to similar measures presented by other issuers.

We define it as cash from operating activities after capital expenditures, total dividends and other investing activities. The most comparable Canadian GAAP financial measure is cash from operating activities.

4 See footnote 2 on page 31.

5 Two stock option plans are in place: the BCE Inc. Long-Term Incentive (Stock Option) Program (1999) and the BCE Inc. Replacement Stock Option Plan (Plan of Arrangement 2000). Both plans are substantially similar in their terms and, unless specifically noted where material differences exist, this section refers to the terms of the Stock Option Program (1999). The BCE Inc. Long-Term Incentive (Stock Option) Program (1985) was terminated on March 7, 2007. There were no outstanding options under such program.

6 In the BCE Inc. Replacement Stock Option (Plan of Arrangement 2000), the exercise price was set in direct relation to the value of the optionee's existing options immediately prior to the effective date of the Plan of Arrangement in connection with the spin-off of Nortel Networks Inc. by BCE in 2000.

Table of Contents

Under the terms of our stock option plans, the right to exercise an option accrues or vests by 25% per year for four years from the effective date of the grant, unless we determine otherwise. In 2004, we determined that the vesting of the 2004-2006 Front-loaded options would be based on a combination of time and performance. Vesting under the performance criteria was conditional on the BCE total shareholder return (BCE TSR) meeting or exceeding the median total shareholder return (median TSR) of a group of Canadian and U.S. publicly traded telecommunications companies. The group which was originally comprised of 12 companies was reduced to 11 companies in 2006 as a result of merger and acquisition activities.

The board confirmed in early 2007 that although the 2006 BCE TSR performance was strong at 18.2%, results for 2004 and 2005 were not as strong therefore the BCE TSR did not meet the median TSR for the three-year period ending December 31, 2006. As a result, none of the 2004-2006 Front-loaded options vested. Executives have been awarded a new front-loaded grant of stock options in 2007 for a two-year cycle ending December 31, 2008. This grant will vest in 25% increments each year over the next four years. The vesting of these new options will vest solely over time, in line with current market practices.

The stock option plans provide that the term of any option may not exceed 10 years from the effective date of grant. The term of the Front-loaded options is six years. If the option holder retires, leaves the BCE group of companies, dies, or the company he works for is no longer part of the BCE group of companies, the term may be reduced pursuant to the stock option plan under which it was granted. Options are not assignable by the optionee, except to the optionee's estate upon the optionee's death. We may use our discretionary authority under the relevant plan as described under Amendments in order to otherwise alter the terms of the options within the parameters of the relevant plans.

Option holders will lose all of their unexercised options granted after 2001 if they engage in prohibited behaviour after they leave the BCE group of companies. This includes using our confidential information for the benefit of another employer. In addition, the option holder must reimburse the after-tax profit realized on exercising any options during the twelve-month period preceding the date on which the unfair employment practice began.

Prior to November 1999, some options were granted with related rights to special compensation payments (SCPs). SCPs are cash payments equal to the excess of the market value of the shares on the day of exercise of the related option over the exercise price of the option. SCPs, if any, are attached to options and are triggered when the options are exercised.

Effective January 1, 2003, we adopted the fair value method of accounting for stock option compensation on a prospective basis.

Change of control

If there is a change of control of BCE and the option holder's employment is terminated within 18 months of the change of control for a reason other than for cause, or if the option holder terminates his employment for good reason, his unvested options can be exercised for a period of 90 days from the date of termination, or for a longer period that we may determine.

In 1999, we introduced special vesting provisions that will apply if there is a change of control of the Corporation. A change of control occurs when:

- § another party acquires 50% or more of the outstanding securities of a class of voting or equity securities of BCE
- § the composition of a majority of the BCE board changes for a reason such as a dissident proxy solicitation
- § BCE's shareholders approve plans or agreements for disposing of all or substantially all of BCE's assets, liquidating or dissolving BCE, or in certain cases, merging, consolidating or amalgamating BCE, or
- § we determine that an event is a change of control.

Change of control or partial change of control of Bell Canada or a designated entity

Unvested options of an option holder who is employed in one of our business units, such as Bell Canada or another subsidiary that we identify as a designated business unit, will become exercisable if:

- § BCE's interest in the business unit or subsidiary falls below 50% but remains at least 20%, and

§ the option holder's employment is terminated within 18 months of the reduction for a reason other than for cause, or if the option holder terminates employment for good reason.

The option holder has up to 90 days from that day, or longer if we so determine, to exercise the options.

If our interest in a designated business unit falls below 20%, option holders who are employed in that business unit may exercise all of their unvested options effective upon the earlier of:

§ one year following the reduction in the interest, or

§ the day the option holder was terminated.

The option holder has up to 90 days from that day, or longer if we so determine, to exercise the options.

Termination clauses

The following provisions for early termination apply to stock options, unless we have, for specific circumstances, determined otherwise either at the time an option is granted or later, based on our discretionary authority under the relevant stock option plan. See Amendments for more information.

All non-vested options are forfeited when an employee ceases to be employed by BCE or an applicable subsidiary. Participants have 30 days following their termination date (without exceeding the original option period) to exercise their vested options. At the end of the 30-day period or as of the expiry date, all outstanding options are forfeited. The same provisions apply when someone dies except that the estate has 12 months instead of 30 days to exercise all vested options (without exceeding the original expiry date).

When an employee retires, options granted after September 2000 continue to vest for three years after retirement. Participants have three years following their retirement date (without exceeding the original expiry date) to exercise their vested options. At the end of the three-year period or on the original expiry date if it is earlier, all outstanding options are forfeited.

For options granted before September 2000 which are already vested, participants have five years following their retirement date (without exceeding the original expiry date) to exercise their vested options. At the end of the five-year period or on the original expiry date if it is earlier, all outstanding options are forfeited.

We have determined that the termination provisions applicable to the 2004-2006 Front-loaded options would be as follows:

If termination of employment occurs within the first two years of the performance period, all options forfeit. If termination occurs in the third year of the performance period, vested options on the termination date can be exercised within 30 days. Unvested options forfeit. If termination occurs in the third year of the performance period and the vesting percentage established at the end of the second year is 0%, 25% of the participant's options vest at the end of the third year if the performance goal is met at that time. The participants have 30 days after the date the board confirms the vesting percentage to exercise vested options. The same provisions apply if someone dies except that the estate has 12 months to exercise vested options (without exceeding the original expiry date). If retirement occurs in the first year of the performance period, two thirds of the options forfeit. If retirement occurs in the second year of the performance period, one third of the options forfeit. No options forfeit if retirement occurs in the last year of the performance period. Options that are not forfeited upon retirement continue to vest for three years after the retirement date according to the vesting schedule. Participants have three years following their retirement date (without exceeding the original expiry date) to exercise vested options. At the end of this period or on the original expiry date if earlier, all outstanding options forfeit.

Amendments

Under the discretionary authority granted to the MRCC under the relevant stock options plans,⁷ we may use such authority to depart from standard vesting provisions, exercise schedules or termination provisions at the time of grant of new options or later on with respect to any outstanding option, without shareholder approval. We may not, without shareholder approval, extend the term of any option beyond 10 years from the original date of grant.

In 2006, we did not amend our stock option plans. We are, however, seeking shareholder approval to amend the Stock Option Program (1999) to specify which future amendments to the Program will require shareholder approval and to implement other ancillary modifications. For more information, see Approving the amendments to the equity-based compensation plans on page 8.

Deferred share unit (DSU) plan

The DSU plan is designed to more closely link the interests of the executive officers to those of the shareholders. DSUs may be awarded to certain executive officers and other key employees and those of certain subsidiaries. DSUs have the same value as BCE common shares. The number and terms of outstanding DSUs are not taken into account when determining if DSUs will be awarded and how many DSUs will be awarded under the plan. DSUs vest immediately.

Dividend equivalents in the form of additional DSUs are credited to the participant's account on each dividend payment date and are equal in value to dividends paid on BCE common shares.

Executive officers can choose to have up to 100% of their annual short-term incentive award paid in DSUs instead of cash. The award is converted into DSUs based on the market value of a BCE common share on the day before the award becomes effective.

DSUs count towards the minimum share ownership requirements, which are described under Share ownership requirements.

We may also grant special awards of DSUs to recognize outstanding achievements or for reaching certain corporate objectives.

Holders of DSUs may not redeem their DSUs while they are employed by a company within the BCE group of companies. Once they leave the BCE group, the Corporation will buy a number of BCE common shares on the open market equal to the number of DSUs a participant holds in the plan, after withholding taxes and any other deductions. These shares are then delivered to the former employee or to the estate in case of death.

Share ownership requirements

We believe in the importance of substantial share ownership and our compensation programs are designed to encourage share ownership by executive officers. A minimum share ownership level has been set for each position as a percentage of annual base salary:

§ President and Chief Executive Officer 500%

§ Chief Operating Officer 400%

§ Heads of major lines of businesses, and Chief Financial Officer 300%

Officers must meet their target within five years (5-year target) of their hire or promotion date with the objective that 50% of their target will be reached within 3 years of such date (3-year target). As of the date of this report, those named executive officers who have reached their target date have met their share ownership requirements. The 5-year target had to be reached by April 2006 for officers hired or promoted before the implementation of share ownership requirements in April 2001. Share ownership requirements also apply to all Vice-Presidents with a target of 100% of annual base salary.

Shares or DSUs received under the following programs can be used to reach the minimum share ownership level:

§ DSU plan, described under Deferred share unit (DSU) plan

§ employees savings plan, described in Other compensation information Executive compensation table, footnote 7

§ shares acquired and held by exercising stock options granted under our stock option plans, described under Long-term incentives, and

Concrete measures are taken if the 3-year target or the 5-year target is missed. These measures include, but are not limited to, the payment of a portion of the short-term annual incentive award in DSUs, the payment of RSUs in shares and, when BCE stock options are exercised, the requirement to hold BCE common shares having a market value equal to a portion of the after-tax financial gain resulting from the exercise. These measures remain in effect until the target is reached.

Chief Executive Officer s compensation

When Mr. Sabia was appointed President and Chief Executive Officer in 2002, he asked that his current and future base salary and incentive compensation be adjusted to place more weight on variable (at risk) compensation. As a result, we reduced the mid-point of the salary range for the Chief Executive Officer from the median of the comparator group to 90% of that value (adjusted mid-point). At the same time, we increased the target value of the annual short-term incentive from 100% to 125% of base salary to preserve the alignment of the total cash compensation. In 2005, Mr. Sabia s base salary was set at $1.25 million, the adjusted (90%) mid-point for the comparator group. We did not make any changes to Mr. Sabia s salary and short-term incentive target in 2006. We evaluate at the beginning of each year the performance of the Chief Executive Officer for the preceding year based on his contribution to the:

§ financial performance of BCE compared to financial targets set at the beginning of the year

§ progress of BCE in reaching its operating and strategic objectives

§ development of the executive team and succession planning

§ maintenance of BCE s leadership in the telecommunications industry.

In 2006, BCE met or exceeded its basic objectives for earnings per share and free cash flow. Moreover, Bell Canada, BCE's core asset, met or exceeded its basic objectives for cost reduction, EBITDA margin and capital intensity. BCE and Bell Canada both reported an increase in revenues for 2006 with revenues from growth services outpacing the decline in the legacy business and now representing a majority of Bell Canada's revenues. BCE finished the year on a strong financial footing.

In addition, Bell Canada had a very strong performance on cost reduction in 2006 and made steady progress in customer service and retention.

The transformation of BCE was accelerated in 2006. In addition to selling its remaining interest in the CGI Group Inc. and reducing its interest in CTVglobemedia (formerly Bellglobemedia), BCE created the Bell Aliant Regional Communications Income Fund, announced the sale of Telesat Canada and began the process of rationalizing BCE Inc.'s holding company operations. As a result of these and other strategic initiatives, BCE has simplified its corporate organization, improved the revenue mix between growth and legacy products and services, and strengthened its operational capacity.

Taken together, these actions have delivered total return to shareholders of 18.2%. This exceeded the total shareholder return (TSR) of the S&P/TSX Composite Index over the same period.

With respect to talent management, BCE has continued to strengthen the executive team through the recruitment of highly talented executives and through continuing efforts to improve the company's execution capabilities through a wide range of executive development and culture change initiatives.

In light of Mr. Sabia's substantial contribution in all of these areas, we recommended and the board awarded him a short-term incentive award in the amount of $2,800,000 for the year 2006 which was computed based on an individual performance factor of 200%. Mr. Sabia elected to receive all of his short-term incentive award in DSUs.

As President and Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Sabia received a grant of 148,755 RSUs in 2006, which covers the performance period ending December 31, 2007. The vesting of Mr. Sabia's RSUs is based on reaching financial and operating objectives, which have been set on the basis of the following components of Bell Canada's performance:

§ free cash flow⁸ (25%)

§ revenue (25%)

§ customer loyalty⁹ (25%) and

§ earnings per share (25%).

Mr. Sabia was not granted any options in 2006 as he received Front-loaded options in 2004 for the three-year performance period of January 1, 2004 to December 31, 2006. As discussed above under Long-term incentives - Stock options, the 2004-2006 Front-loaded options have not vested for all executives, including Mr. Sabia.

We did not make any changes to Mr. Sabia's pension arrangements in 2006.

Compensation policy of subsidiaries

Bell Canada's compensation policy is the same as BCE's. As of January 1, 2007, all executive officers of BCE were transferred to Bell Canada.

Conclusion

In our view, the total compensation of the named executive officers for 2006 was appropriate in supporting the business strategy and very competitive in the marketplace.

Overall, we are confident that our approach to compensation has allowed BCE to attract, motivate and retain executive officers whose type of leadership is considered essential for success now and in the future, and align their interests with those of our shareholders.

Table of Contents

1 MR. SABIA was appointed Executive Vice-President of BCE and Vice-Chairman of Bell Canada on July 3, 2000. On December 1, 2000, he was appointed President of BCE while maintaining his responsibilities at Bell Canada. On March 1, 2002, he became President and Chief Operating Officer of BCE and Chief Operating Officer of Bell Canada. He became President and Chief Executive Officer of BCE on April 24, 2002 and Chief Executive Officer of Bell Canada on May 2, 2002. We paid his 2006 total compensation, but charged 40% of it to Bell Canada for services provided to Bell Canada.

MR. VANASELJA was appointed Chief Financial Officer of BCE on January 15, 2001 and also Chief Financial Officer of Bell Canada on December 13, 2003. We paid his 2006 total compensation, but charged 40% of it to Bell Canada for services provided to Bell Canada.

MR. COPE was appointed President and Chief Operating Officer of Bell Canada on January 19, 2006. His 2006 total compensation was paid by Bell Canada and based on an annual salary of $900,000. MR. COPE has been participating in certain stock option and benefit programs since November 18, 2005, being the day his benefits were withdrawn by his former employer.

MR. PICHETTE was appointed Chief Financial Officer of Bell Canada on September 25, 2002. He was appointed Executive Vice-President of Bell Canada on December 1, 2003. On November 1, 2004, he was appointed President Operations, Bell Canada. His 2006 total compensation was paid by Bell Canada.

MR. HUNTER was hired by BCE on February 24, 2003 as Executive Vice-President of BCE and Bell Canada. On March 15, 2005, he was appointed Executive Vice-President and Chief Corporate Officer of BCE and Bell Canada. We paid his 2006 total compensation, but charged 40% of it to Bell Canada for services provided to Bell Canada.

The main terms of their employment with us are described under Pension arrangements and Termination and other employment arrangements.

Annual salary increases are generally effective as of March 1 of any given year.

MESSRS. SABIA, VANASELJA and HUNTER were transferred to Bell Canada effective January 1, 2007.

2 The board believes that the company made considerable progress in 2004 especially with respect to the resolution of important labour negotiations, the development and implementation of the Galileo initiative and the company's accelerated transition to Internet Protocol and a new generation of services. The board is of the view that MR. SABIA has made a particularly substantial contribution to this progress in 2004. By virtue of this contribution, the MRCC recommended and the board awarded him a short-term incentive in the amount of $1,475,000 for the year 2004. However, given the disruption in customer service that occurred in 2004 as a result of the implementation of the new wireless billing system and MR. SABIA's belief in the final accountability of the CEO, he declined payment.

3 This column does not include an amount for perquisites and other personal benefits if they total less than $50,000 or 10% of the total of the annual salary and bonus, which is the disclosure threshold set by the laws that apply to us. For MR. SABIA, perquisites in the amount of $77,559 are included in 2006 which consist mainly of a perquisite allowance in the amount of $59,190. Other types of annual compensation are disclosed in this column, as described below. For MR. SABIA, this includes an amount of $18,362, $18,362 and $18,363 for payment of taxes on an additional life insurance policy of $10 million in his name for year 2006, 2005 and 2004, respectively. For MR. VANASELJA, this consists of a special compensation payment (SCP) of $315,190 in 2005. Please see Long-term incentives for details. For MR. HUNTER, this includes a housing allowance in the amount of $24,000 in 2006, 2005 and 2004 to compensate him for maintaining, for business reasons, a second residence in a city other than his main work location.

- 4 For 2006, this column includes 443,000 options granted to MR. COPE on November 18, 2005, being the day his benefits were withdrawn by his former employer, to replace non-performance-based options granted by his former employer. These options will vest at 100% on the 3rd anniversary of the grant and expire after 6 years.

No options were granted in 2006 as all executive officers, other than MR. COPE, received a grant of 2004-2006 Front-loaded options in 2004 for the 3-year performance period ending December 31, 2006. Please see MRCC Report Long-term incentives for details.

We do not grant freestanding stock appreciation rights (SARs) under our stock option plans.

- 5 For all the named executive officers except MR. COPE, this column includes DSUs. DSUs have the same value as BCE common shares. The number of DSUs awarded was calculated using the closing price of BCE common shares on the TSX on the day preceding the effective date (3rd business day following the date the award is approved by the board). The dollar amount included in this table is the pre-tax value of the DSUs on the day the award was effective. This column includes DSUs granted as payment of the annual short-term incentive award.

Additional DSUs are credited to each named executive officer's account on each BCE common share on the dividend payment date. The number of DSUs is calculated using the same rate as the dividends paid on our common shares. Please see MRCC Report Deferred share unit (DSU) plan for details. The table below shows the total number of DSUs that each named executive officer held and their value at December 31, 2006, based on a BCE common share price of $31.40 at year-end. The total number of DSUs shown excludes DSUs granted in 2007 for the payment of the 2006 annual short-term incentive award which are disclosed in the Summary compensation table.

name	at december 31, 2006 total number of dsus held	total value $
Michael J. Sabia	214,153	6,724,408
Siim A. Vanaselja	21,606	678,428
George A. Cope
Patrick Pichette	39,079	1,227,087
Lawson A.W. Hunter	21,080	661,910

Since December 31, 2006, MR. SABIA received DSUs in March 2007 as payment of the 2006 annual short-term incentive award and DSUs credited in lieu of dividends on January 15, 2007, for a total number of DSUs currently held of 307,672, as shown on page 17.

The numbers of DSUs originally awarded were increased by 1.174% in July 2006 to preserve the value of DSUs before and after the Bell Aliant transaction. The transaction provided for a consolidation of all outstanding BCE common shares and the distribution of Bell Aliant units to holders of BCE common shares.

For MR. COPE, this column includes share units which have been granted outside of the Restricted share unit (RSU) plan. These share units will vest on December 31, 2007 subject to MR. COPE being employed by Bell Canada on such date. They are not subject to performance vesting as they were granted in replacement of share units from his former employer which were not performance-based. The terms of the RSU plan, other than the vesting provisions, are deemed to apply to the share units granted to MR. COPE.

RSUs granted under the RSU plan are not included in this column as they have performance vesting criteria and qualify as a mid-term incentive. See MRCC Report Mid-term incentive plan for further details.

- 6 For 2005, this consists of amounts payable under the RSU plan related to the RSUs granted in February 2004 for a 2-year performance period ending December 31, 2005 (2004-2005 RSUs). The vesting of the 2004-2005 grant of RSUs was based on reaching pre-set operating objectives. The 2004-2005 RSUs became fully vested on January 31, 2006 when the board confirmed the achievement of all specific operating objectives. The value was determined on the day the RSUs became vested i.e., January 31, 2006, based on a BCE share price of $27.38 (the day preceding the vesting date).

MR. SABIA elected to use all of the after-tax proceeds (about $1.5 million) from his 2004-2005 RSUs to purchase BCE common shares which he also elected to retain through-out his tenure as President and Chief Executive Officer.

- 7 For all the named executive officers, amounts in this column include company contributions under the Employees Savings Plan.

Under the Employees Savings Plan, when employees, including executive officers, elect to contribute up to 6% of their eligible earnings to buy BCE common shares, BCE or Bell Canada contributes $1 for every $3 that the employee contributes.

This column also includes payments for life insurance premiums for all of the named executive officers.

For MR. SABIA, it includes an amount of $19,721 for premiums paid in 2004, 2005 and 2006 for an additional life insurance policy of $10 million in his name.

For MR. COPE it includes an amount of $225,000 in 2006 for employer contributions to MR. COPE's defined contribution account. See Pension arrangements for further details. Bell required MR. COPE to exercise all vested stock options and dispose of all shares of his former employer prior to his appointment in January 2006. As a result, Bell agreed to compensate him on an after-tax basis for the decrease in share price of his former employer following the announcement of his departure which negatively impacted the gain on the exercise of his stock options and the value of shares he sold for a total amount of $1,717,678 paid in 2006. For 2006, it also includes a hiring incentive of $2,100,000 paid to MR. COPE in 2005. Prior to his appointment, as stipulated in his employment agreement, MR. COPE had met his minimum share ownership target of 4 times annual salary and has agreed to keep the shares while employed by Bell Canada. See MRCC Report Share ownership requirements for further details.

In 2006, 2005 and 2004, this also includes the value of additional DSUs credited in lieu of dividends on BCE common shares, except for MR. COPE who does not participate in the DSU plan. For 2006, 2005 and 2004 respectively, this represents an amount of $247,651, $159,321 and $129,494 for MR. SABIA, $27,497, $25,634 and $19,531 for MR. VANASELJA, $44,000, $22,290 and $11,062 for MR. PICHETTE and $22,880, $8,846 and $3,367 for MR. HUNTER.

Table of ContentsMid-Term Incentive Plan

The following table illustrates potential future payouts to the participating named executive officers under the RSU plan. For a description of the terms of the RSU plan, see MRCC Report Mid-term incentive plan.

- 1 Participants may choose to receive payment of RSUs in cash, in BCE common shares, or in a combination of both subject to meeting share ownership requirements. For payment in BCE common shares, BCE will buy a number of shares on the open market equal to the number of vested RSUs a participant holds in the plan after deduction for applicable taxes.
- 2 The 2006-2007 grant of RSUs is based on achieving pre-set financial and operating objectives. Additional RSUs are credited to each named executive officer's account on each BCE common shares dividend payment date. The number of additional RSUs is calculated using the same rate as the dividends paid on our common shares. Please see Mid-term incentive plan for details.
- 3 The performance period associated with the 2006-2007 grant of RSUs will end December 31, 2007.
- 4 The vesting of the 2006-2007 grant of RSUs is conditional on the achievement of Bell Canada's financial and operating objectives weighted as follows:
 - free cash flow (50%)
 - revenue (25%), and
 - customer loyalty (25%)
 and for MR. SABIA, President and Chief Executive Officer:
 - earnings per share (25%)
 - free cash flow (25%)
 - revenue (25%), and

customer loyalty (25%)

Early in 2008, the results will be evaluated by the MRCC and will translate into a specific vesting percentage as per the following schedule:

level of objectives achieved	vesting percentage
75%*	50%
from 75.1% to 99.9%*	Calculated on a linear basis to 100%
100%	100%
Less than 75%	0%

* 75% to 99.9% of a given objective must be achieved for a portion of RSUs to vest based on weighting associated with such objective.

For MR. SABIA, the vesting schedule applies to the free cash flow and revenue objectives only. For the earnings per share and customer loyalty objectives, targets must be met for vesting to occur.

Amounts shown in the threshold column show the number of RSUs that will become vested at the end of the performance period assuming that only one objective is achieved at 75%. Amounts shown in the target and maximum columns show the number of RSUs that will become vested at the end of the performance period assuming that 100% of the objectives are met.

5 MR. COPE did not receive any 2006-2007 RSUs as he was granted share units outside of the RSU plan. These appear under Shares or units subject to resale restrictions in the Summary compensation table.

1 All of the executive officers, except MR. COPE, received a grant of Front-loaded options in February 2004 for the three-year period ending December 31, 2006 (2004-2006 Front-loaded options). The board confirmed in early 2007 that the BCE TSR did not meet the median TSR for the three-year period ending December 31, 2006. As a result, none of the 2004-2006 Front-loaded options vested.

MR. COPE received a grant of time-vesting options on November 18, 2005, being the day his benefits were withdrawn by his former employer, to replace non-performance-based options granted by his former employer. These options will vest at 100% on November 18, 2008.

Each option granted under our stock option plans covers one BCE common share. No rights to SCPs were attached to options granted in 2005. Please see MRCC Report Long-term incentives for details.

2 These numbers represent stock options. The percentage represents the options granted to MR. COPE over the total options granted to employees in 2005. A limited number of options were granted in 2005 given that front-loaded options were granted in 2004 for a three-year period. No freestanding SARs are granted.

3 The exercise price of the stock options in this table is equal to the closing price of the BCE common shares on the TSX on the day before the grant was effective.

The table below is a summary of all of the stock options that each of the named executive officers exercised under stock option plans in the financial year ended December 31, 2006. It also shows their unexercised options at December 31, 2006. Giving effect to the March 2007 board decision that the 2004-2006 Front-loaded options did not vest and were forfeited, the information in the unexercisable columns in the table below reflects the total number and value of all other (time-vesting only) stock options that each of the named executive officers have and that are outstanding as of December 31, 2006.

Aggregated option/SAR exercises during the most recently completed financial year and financial year-end option/SAR values

Lawson A.W. Hunter			57,750	19,250	196,928	65,643

1 The total value realized is calculated using the closing price of a board lot of common shares of BCE on the TSX on the day the options were exercised less the exercise price.

It does not include SCPs which, if any, would appear under Other annual compensation in the Summary compensation table. Please see MRCC Report - Long-term incentives for more information.

2 These numbers relate only to stock options. No freestanding SARs are granted.

3 An option is in-the-money when it can be exercised at a profit. This happens when the market value of the shares is higher than the price at which the options may be exercised. The value of unexercised in-the-money options is calculated using the closing price of a board lot of common shares of BCE on the TSX on December 31, 2006, less the exercise price of those options.

4 MR. SABIA has retained 45,617 BCE common shares which correspond to the after-tax financial gain resulting from the exercise of the 114,557 options just before the expiry date.

5 MR. COPE received a grant of time-vesting options on November 18, 2005, being the day his benefits were withdrawn by his former employer, to replace non-performance-based options granted by his former employer. These options will vest at 100% on November 18, 2008.

Table of ContentsEmployees Savings Plans (ESPs)

ESPs are designed to encourage our employees and those of our participating subsidiaries to own shares of the Corporation. In most instances, each year, employees who have completed at least 6 months of service and who do not control directly or indirectly 5% or more of the outstanding common shares of BCE are eligible to participate in the plans and can choose to have up to a certain percentage of their annual eligible earnings withheld through regular payroll deductions to buy BCE common shares. In some cases, the employer may also contribute up to a maximum percentage of the employee's annual eligible earnings to the plan. The number of shares which may be issued under the ESPs to any insider, within any one-year period, combined with the number of shares issued to such insider within the same one-year period under any stock option plan may not exceed 5% of all outstanding BCE common shares. Each participating company decides on its maximum contribution percentage. Employees can contribute up to 12% of their annual earnings. BCE or Bell Canada contributes up to 2%. The trustee of the ESPs buys BCE common shares for the participants on the open market, by private purchase or from BCE (issuance of treasury shares). The price of the shares purchased by the trustee on the open market or by private purchase is equal to the value paid by the trustee for such shares. The price for treasury shares (if any) purchased from BCE is equal to the weighted average prices of the shares purchased by the trustee on the open market and by private purchase (if any) in the week immediately preceding the week in which the purchase is made from BCE. The purchase price for treasury shares may not be below the market price of the securities, as established pursuant to the plan. All the shares have been purchased on the market in 2006, but we may issue shares from treasury from time to time to fill employee subscriptions. Upon termination of employment, participation in the ESPs ceases and the participant receives all the shares or the value of such shares in the participant's account, excluding those purchased by contributions made by the participating company during the year of termination unless the participating company authorizes it. In instances of retirement or death, such entitlement to the company contribution is automatic. Participation in the ESPs is not assignable. In 2006, we did not amend our Employees Savings Plans. We are however seeking shareholder approval to amend the BCE Inc. Employees Savings Plans (1970) and (2000) to specify which future amendments to the Plans will require shareholder approval and to implement another ancillary modification. For more information, see Approving the amendments to the equity-based compensation plans on page 8.

Pension arrangements

All of the named executive officers participate in the Bell Canada Pension Plan (Bell Plan) since January 1, 2007. Messrs. Sabia, Vanaselja and Hunter participated in the BCE Pension Plan up to that date. The Bell and the BCE pension plans are similar. All named executive officers except Mr. Cope are covered under the defined benefit arrangement of the Bell Plan. In addition, they have entered into defined benefit supplementary executive retirement agreements (Defined Benefit SERPs). Mr. Cope is covered under the defined contribution arrangement of the Bell Plan and has also entered into a supplementary agreement (Defined Contribution SERP).

Defined benefit SERPs

Under the Defined Benefit SERPs, named executive officers receive 1.5 years of pensionable service for every year they serve as an officer. Retirement eligibility is based on the executive officer's age and years of service. The board may credit additional years of service towards retirement eligibility, pension calculation or both, through a special arrangement.

In general, a named executive officer will receive SERP benefits when he reaches one of the following:

§ at least age 55, and the sum of age and service is at least 85

§ at least age 60, and the sum of age and service is at least 80

§ age 65 and has 15 years of service.

Pensions are calculated based on pensionable service and pensionable earnings. Pensionable earnings include base salary and short-term incentive awards, up to the target value, whether they are paid in cash or DSUs. The one-year average of the named executive officer's best consecutive 36 months of pensionable earnings is used to calculate his pension.

A named executive officer may receive up to 70% of his average pensionable earnings as total pension benefits under the Bell Plan and Defined Benefit SERPs.

Pensions are payable for life. Surviving spouses receive about 60% of the pension that was payable to the named executive officer.

Named executive officers receive a retirement allowance equal to one year's base salary when they retire. This is not included in their pensionable earnings.

The table below shows the estimated annual pension benefits for various categories of pensionable earnings and years of pensionable service that would be payable under the Bell Plan and Defined Benefit SERPs, assuming that a named executive officer retired on December 31, 2006 at age 65.

These benefits are not subject to any deductions for government benefits or other offset amounts. They are partly indexed every year to increases in the Consumer Price Index, subject to a maximum of 4% per year.

	20 YEARS	30 YEARS	40 YEARS	50 YEARS

3,700,000	1,252,100	1,878,200	2,430,400	2,590,000

1 Two ESPs are in place: the BCE Inc. Employees' Savings Plan (1970) and the BCE Inc. Employee's Savings Plan (2000). The ESP (2000), which is intended for employees whose principal employment is in the United States, is not currently in use and thus, there are no accumulated shares currently issued under this plan.

The terms of both plans are substantially similar.

Defined contribution SERPs

Named executive officers hired on or after January 1, 2005 are eligible to benefits under the Defined Contribution SERP after having served as an officer for at least 5 years. These supplemental arrangements consist in the application of a multiplier to employer's contributions accumulated in their account under the defined contribution arrangement of the Bell Plan while serving as an officer.

The defined contribution arrangement of the Bell Plan is the sum of:

§ Employee contributions: Employee may contribute up to a maximum of 4% of pensionable earnings, subject to the Income Tax Act limit.

§ Employer contributions: Employer contributes 4% of pensionable earnings and matches the first 2% of employee contributions, for a maximum of 6%. Any contribution in excess of the Income Tax Act limit is notionally deposited into the account.

Once a named executive officer becomes eligible for benefits under the Defined Contribution SERP, a multiplier varying from 1.25 upon reaching 45 points (age and years of service) to 3.0 with 80 points will apply. A named executive officer may therefore accumulate while an officer (through employer contributions and the related multiplier) up to 18% of his pensionable earnings plus credited investment returns. The board may credit additional years of service, additional Corporation contributions or both, through a special arrangement.

Pensionable earnings include base salary and short-term incentive awards, whether they are paid in cash or DSUs. Benefits under the Defined Contribution SERP in excess of the Income Tax Act limit are payable in a lump sum at termination, death or retirement.

Pension benefits for named executive officers

The number of years of service for calculating total pension benefits at December 31, 2006 was 26.0 years for Mr. Sabia (age 53), 18.8 years for Mr. Vanaselja (age 50), 8.9 years for Mr. Pichette (age 44) and 5.8 years for Mr. Hunter (age 61).

Mr. Sabia is eligible for Defined Benefit SERP benefits if he retires on or after age 60. If Mr. Sabia's employment is terminated on or after age 55 but before age 60, his pension will be equal to 40% of his pensionable earnings. In this case, the calculation will be based on the annual average of his best consecutive 60 months of pensionable earnings. If Mr. Sabia's employment is terminated before age 55 for any reasons other than for cause or a change of control, his pension from age 55 will be calculated as if he was age 55 when he left the Corporation.

Mr. Vanaselja is eligible for Defined Benefit SERP benefits if he retires on or after age 60. If he retires between age 55 and 60, he will receive a pension calculated according to the Bell Plan including benefits in excess of the maximum pension prescribed by the Income Tax Act.

Mr. Pichette can retire at age 55 under his Defined Benefit SERP. If Mr. Pichette's employment terminates on or after age 47 but before age 55, or if his employment is severed for any reasons other than cause between age 45 and 47, he will be eligible for a deferred pension at age 55 according to the Bell Plan with deemed service being credited until age 55 including benefits in excess of the maximum pension prescribed by the Income Tax Act.

Mr. Hunter is eligible since age 60 to retire under his Defined Benefit SERP. His pension will be equal to 20% of his pensionable earnings if he retires at age 63, 25% at age 64 and 30% at age 65.

Based on current pensionable earnings and service accrual to the earliest eligibility date for a supplementary pension, the estimated annual benefits payable are as follows:

DEFINED BENEFIT SERPs

	AGE AT EARLIEST ELIGIBILITY DATE	ESTIMATED ANNUAL BENEFIT $
EXECUTIVE
Michael J. Sabia	55	836,500

Siim A. Vanaselja	60	366,900
Patrick Pichette	55	314,600
Lawson A.W. Hunter	61	79,700

In conjunction with his appointment as President and Chief Operating Officer, Mr. Cope was credited 5 years of service and $180,000 of notional employer contributions, through a special arrangement under his Defined Contribution SERP. The total employer contributions to Mr. Cope's account accumulated as of December 31, 2006 were $254,995 excluding the impact of the multiplier. At year end, his multiplier was 1.55 based on 51 points (age 45, 6 years of service).

Termination and other employment arrangements

We entered into an agreement with Mr. Sabia on April 24, 2002 setting out the terms of his employment. In addition to the total compensation elements and pension arrangements described above, the agreement provides for the following principal terms:

Mr. Sabia will receive payments if:

- § he is terminated without cause, including following a change of control, or
- § he resigns for certain reasons, including if there is a major change in his responsibilities, such as being removed as a director of BCE (other than if required by law), a reduction in his total compensation or specific benefits or perquisites, or for any reason within one year of a change of control. The employment agreement defines a change of control primarily as another party acquiring at least 33 $\frac{1}{3}$ % of BCE's voting shares or at least 33 $\frac{1}{3}$ % of its assets.

These payments include:

- § base salary and annual short-term incentive award, prorated to the number of complete months expired immediately after the termination
- § a lump-sum payment equal to his base salary plus the target value of the annual short-term incentive award for up to 36 months or the period between the day he is terminated and the day he is eligible to receive his pension at age 65, whichever is less. The current target for the annual short-term incentive award for the Chief Executive Officer is 125% of base salary
- § any other benefits, such as pension, disability, insurance proceeds, stock options or other amounts that may be payable under any other plan or agreement if Mr. Sabia's employment is terminated.

The above payments are subject to Mr. Sabia's compliance with the non-competition and non-solicitation provisions of his employment agreement.

If there is a change of control, all of Mr. Sabia's BCE stock options will vest, whether his employment is terminated or not.

Mr. Sabia's employment agreement also covers compensation and treatment of stock options if he leaves BCE because of illness or disability, if he retires or if he dies.

Table of Contents

Mr. Cope's employment agreement dated October 18, 2005 with Bell Canada provides for the following terms:

§ if his employment is terminated for any reasons other than cause, a severance indemnity equal to his base salary and annual short-term incentive award for a period of 24 months subject to the non-competition provisions of his employment agreement. The award will be based on the average of his awards for the two years preceding his termination

§ a commitment from Mr. Cope to meet his share ownership target prior to his appointment in January 2006 (which he has already met) through the purchase of $3,900,000 worth of BCE shares which he has agreed to keep while employed by Bell Canada.

Mr. Pichette will receive the following severance payment if his employment is terminated for any reasons other than cause:

§ a severance indemnity equal to his base salary and annual short-term incentive award at target for a period of 24 months.

Mr. Hunter's employment agreement dated January 27, 2003 provides for the following severance payment if his employment is terminated for any reasons other than cause:

§ a severance indemnity equal to his base salary and annual short-term incentive award at target for a period equal to the amount of time between the date of termination and age 65, to a maximum of 24 months.

PENSION FUND COMMITTEE REPORT

The responsibilities of the PFC are set forth in its written charter which is available in the governance section of our website at www.bce.ca.

A pension fund committee is not required under the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, the related SEC rules, the NYSE rules, the Canadian Financial rules or Canadian Governance rules. However, the board believes that the PFC further enhances our corporate governance practices.

This report tells you how the PFC is managed and how it makes sure that the pension plans, pension funds and master fund are properly managed.

About the pension fund committee

The PFC is currently made up of five independent directors:

Mr. R.C. Pozen (Chair), Mr. R.A. Brenneman (who was appointed to the PFC in June 2006), Mr. B.M. Levitt, Mr. P.M. Tellier and Mr. V.L. Young (who was appointed to the PFC in June 2006 concurrently with the stepping down of Mr. J.A. Pattison from such committee). The PFC held four regularly scheduled meetings and two special meetings in 2006. The PFC communicates regularly and directly with the officers. Time is set aside at each regularly scheduled committee meeting for the committee members to meet without management.

The PFC advises the board on policies relating to the administration, funding and investment of the pension plan, pension fund and master fund. The master fund is a unitized pooled fund that the Corporation sponsors for the collective investment of its pension fund and the pension funds of its participating subsidiaries.

Under its charter, the PFC focused on the following key areas in 2006:

- § monitoring the performance of the pension fund
 - § thoroughly reviewing and monitoring the applicable statements of investment policies and procedures and in particular, revising investment parameters such as those applying to foreign content restrictions, income trusts and currency hedging
 - § reviewing the financial situation of the Corporation's applicable pension plans in light of revised actuarial standards, regulatory reforms and lower long-term interest rates and the ensuing required funding of the applicable pension plan
 - § monitoring the continued establishment of a defined contribution pension plan component for eligible group employees as well as monitoring and reviewing the investment options and structure provided under such particular pension arrangement. The defined contribution alternative was introduced in late 2004 and features active and passive investment options offered through a multi-manager structure, and
 - § monitoring and reviewing our overall competitive position with regards to pension and post-retirement benefits.
- The PFC also reviewed and reported, or made recommendations, to the board on the following key items in 2006 and up to the date of this Circular:

- § the overall structure of the investment process, including the periodic review of the performance of applicable investment managers, and
- § the review of the operating systems (including control systems and procedures for supervising and monitoring the operating systems) in place for carrying out our responsibilities as employer and administrator of the pension plan, pension fund and master fund.

The PFC also carries out an annual evaluation of its performance with the CGC, including the review of the adequacy of its charter.

Finally, the PFC reports regularly to the board on its activities.

Personal loans to directors and officers

The Corporation and its subsidiaries have not granted loans or extended credit to any current or nominated directors or executive officers or to individuals who have held these positions during the last fiscal year, or to any of their associates, and to this extent we are compliant with the prohibition under the Sarbanes-Oxley Act.

Directors and officers liability insurance

We and our subsidiaries have bought directors and officers liability insurance coverage of US$200 million (approximately $236 million). This insurance is to protect the directors and officers and those of our subsidiaries against certain liabilities they may incur in this capacity. In 2006, the Corporation charged a total of $3,736,198 against earnings for its portion of the premium.

When we are not permitted by law to indemnify a director or officer, the deductible is zero. When we are permitted to indemnify him or her, the deductible is US$10 million (approximately $11.8 million). In addition, we pay 25% of all defence costs (other than securities claims). With respect to losses (other than securities claims losses), the percentage of allocation between the Corporation and the insurer is negotiated between them.

Canadian ownership and control regulations

Since 1994, the Telecommunications Act and associated regulations have governed Canadian ownership and control of Canadian telecommunications carriers. Bell Canada and certain of its affiliates are subject to this Act.

Under the Telecommunications Act, in order for a corporation to operate as a Canadian common carrier, the following conditions have to be met:

- § Canadians own at least 80% of its voting shares
- § at least 80% of the members of the carrier company's board of directors are Canadians
- § the carrier company is not controlled by non-Canadians.

In addition, where a parent company owns at least 66²/₃% of voting shares of the carrier company (Carrier holding company), the Carrier holding company must have at least 66²/₃% of its voting shares owned by Canadians and must not be controlled by non-Canadians. Regulations give certain powers to the Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission (CRTC) and to Canadian carriers themselves to ensure that they comply with the Telecommunications Act. These powers include the right to:

- § suspend the voting rights attached to shares considered to be owned or controlled by non-Canadians
- § refuse to register a transfer of voting shares to a non-Canadian
- § force a non-Canadian to sell his or her voting shares
- § suspend the voting rights attached to that person's shares, if that person's holdings would affect our status as Canadian under the Act.

However, in our case, there is an additional control restriction under the Bell Canada Act. Prior approval by the CRTC is necessary for any sale or other disposal of Bell Canada's voting shares unless we retain at least 80% of all Bell Canada voting shares.

Similarly, the Canadian ownership rules for broadcasting licensees, such as Bell ExpressVu Limited Partnership, is generally in line with the rules for Canadian common carriers by restricting allowable foreign investments in voting shares at the licensee operating company level to a maximum of 20% and at the holding company level to a maximum of 33¹/₃%. The CRTC is precluded under a direction issued under the Broadcasting Act from issuing, amending or reviewing a broadcasting license of an applicant that does not satisfy these Canadian ownership criteria.

Cultural concerns over increased foreign control of broadcasting activities led to a restriction that prevents a holding company that exceeds the former 20% limit or its directors from exercising control or influence over any programming decisions of a subsidiary licensee.

In addition, because we hold a broadcasting licence as a limited partner in Bell ExpressVu Limited Partnership, we are subject to the 20% foreign ownership limit for broadcasting licensees.

The percentage of non-Canadian ownership of our common shares was approximately 14.1% at December 31, 2006. We monitor and periodically report on the level of non-Canadian ownership of our common shares.

Schedule B Resolution approving the amendments to BCE's equity-based compensation plans

The following ordinary resolution approving the amendments to the BCE Inc. Long-Term Incentive (Stock Option) Program (1999) (the Stock Option Plan), BCE Inc. Employees Savings Plan (1970) (the ESP Plan) and BCE Inc. Employees Savings Plan (2000) (the U.S. ESP Plan) is being submitted for consideration at the meeting and, if thought advisable, approval, with or without variation:

RESOLVED, AS AN ORDINARY RESOLUTION,

1. THAT the Stock Option Plan be amended as follows:

The second paragraph of Section 3 of the Stock Option Plan set out below be deleted:

Notwithstanding any other provision of the Plan, the aggregate number of Shares covered by Options granted to Optionees who are Insiders (as hereinafter defined) at the time the Options are granted shall not, unless approval of BCE's shareholders is obtained or unless any required approval of the stock exchanges on which the Shares are listed and posted for trading is obtained, exceed fifty percent (50%) of the total aggregate number of Shares covered by Options granted to all Optionees, including Optionees who are Insiders, provided that Options that have been granted and have expired unexercised pursuant to the Plan shall not be included in such aggregate numbers.

and be replaced by the following:

The number of Shares issuable to Insiders (as hereinafter defined), at any time, under the Plan and all security-based compensation arrangements of BCE, cannot exceed 10% of issued and outstanding Shares; and the number of Shares issued to Insiders, within any one year period, under all security-based compensation arrangements of BCE, cannot exceed 10% of issued and outstanding Shares.

Section 5 of the Stock Option Plan set out below be deleted:

The subscription price for each Share covered by an Option (the Subscription Price) shall be established by the Committee at 100% of the market value (as hereinafter defined) of a Share on the last trading day prior to the Effective Date, unless the Committee makes a determination that the Subscription Price shall be higher than such market value, provided that, where an Optionee had previously been granted an option to acquire shares of a BCE subsidiary or a company which is proposed to become a BCE subsidiary (which option may be vested or unvested and exercisable or unexercisable) and, pursuant to a determination of the Board of Directors, upon the recommendation of the Committee, that it is the best interest of the Corporation to do so, such option is intended to be converted into an Option so that the economic position of the Optionee is unaffected by such conversion, the Subscription Price for each Share covered by such Option may be established by the Committee at less than 100% of market value of a Share on the last trading day prior to the Effective Date, further provided that such Subscription Price shall be subject to any required approval of the stock exchanges on which the Shares are listed and posted for trading. The Committee may, in the case of a grant to an Optionee who is employed outside Canada at the time of the grant, fix the Subscription Price at an amount in United States dollars equivalent to the Subscription Price in Canadian dollars.

and be replaced by the following:

The subscription price for each Share covered by an Option (the Subscription Price) shall be established by the Committee at 100% of the market value (as hereinafter defined), unless the Committee makes a determination that the Subscription Price shall be higher than such market value. The Committee may, in the case of a grant to an Optionee who is employed outside Canada at the time of the grant, fix the Subscription Price at an amount in United States dollars equivalent to the Subscription Price in Canadian dollars.

Section 7 of the Stock Option Plan is amended by adding the following as a third paragraph:

Notwithstanding any other provisions of the Plan, if the expiry date of an Option (the Termination Date) occurs during a period during which an Optionee would be prohibited from buying or selling securities of the Corporation due to trading restrictions imposed by the Corporation in accordance with its trading policies affecting trades by employees in the Corporation's securities (a Blackout Period) applicable to the relevant Optionee, or within 10 Business Days (i.e., a day on which the Shares are available for trading on the facilities of the Toronto Stock Exchange and of the New York Stock Exchange) after the expiry of a Blackout Period applicable to the Optionee, then the Termination Date for that Option shall be the date that is the tenth Business Day after the expiry date of the Blackout Period (the Blackout Expiry Date). Section 7 applies to all Options outstanding under this Plan. The period of 10 Business Days from the expiry date of a Blackout Period to a Termination Date shall apply for all Options outstanding and for all Options to be granted under the Plan and shall not be amended by the Board of Directors of the Corporation or the Committee without the approval of the shareholders of the Corporation in accordance with Section 12 of the Plan.

Section 12 of the Stock Option Plan set out below be deleted:

From time to time the Board of Directors may, in addition to its powers under the Plan, add to or amend any of the provisions of the Plan or terminate the Plan or amend the terms of any portion under the Plan; provided, however, that (i) any approvals required under any applicable law or stock exchange rules are obtained, and (ii) no such amendment or termination shall be made at any time which has the effect of adversely affecting the existing rights of an Optionee under the Plan without his or her consent in writing. For greater certainty, the limitation set forth in item (ii) above shall also apply to all the powers of the Board of Directors or the Committee pursuant to the Plan, including, but not limited to, sections 6 and 7 hereof to vary the vesting and exercise schedules of Options.
