MARATHON PARTNERS L.P.

_____, 2015

Dear Fellow Shutterfly Stockholder:

Marathon Partners L.P. and the other participants in this solicitation (collectively, “Marathon Partners” or “we”) are the beneficial owners of an aggregate of 2,035,095 shares of common stock, $0.0001 par value per share (the “Common Stock”), of Shutterfly, Inc., a Delaware corporation (“Shutterfly” or the “Company”), including 155,000 shares of Common Stock underlying certain call options, making us one of the Company’s largest stockholders. We have nominated a slate of three (3) highly qualified director candidates for election at Shutterfly’s upcoming 2015 annual meeting of stockholders (the “Annual Meeting”). We did so because we believe Shutterfly’s board of directors (the “Board”) must be reconstituted in order to ensure that the Company is being run in a manner consistent with your best interests. The individuals we have nominated are highly qualified, capable and ready to serve stockholders to help Shutterfly address the challenges and opportunities ahead and evaluate open-mindedly all alternative strategies to make Shutterfly a stronger, more profitable, and ultimately more valuable company.

Our interests are fully aligned with the interests of all Shutterfly stockholders. We believe there is significant value to be realized at Shutterfly. However, in order to realize this potential, we believe that the Board needs to be reconstituted with directors who have the experience, the independence, and the stockholder-oriented mindset to oversee and implement the changes necessary to drive substantial value. We have strong views regarding the future direction of Shutterfly and how to create substantial value for stockholders, which we have clearly articulated to the Company in numerous conversations with representatives of Shutterfly and in both private and public letters to the Company. In fact, over the past two years, we have tried to engage constructively with members of the management team and Board to discuss our views and concerns regarding the direction of the Company as well as opportunities to create value for Shutterfly stockholders.

We have made it clear to the Board and management that we have become increasingly frustrated with the Company’s:

- executive compensation plan;
- operating performance;
- capital allocation and M&A strategy; and
- handling of the Company’s 2014 strategic review process.

To that end, we have made every effort to work constructively with the Company to reconstitute the Board with a group of highly qualified director candidates. However, there has been no meaningful progress in our discussions to date. We are therefore seeking your support at the Annual Meeting to elect three (3) highly qualified director candidates who are committed to reexamining the Company’s current strategy and focusing on specific opportunities to enhance value for stockholders. We recognize that Shutterfly’s Chief Executive Officer and President, Jeffrey T. Housenbold, is among the three (3) directors up for election at the Annual Meeting and understand the significance of voting a company’s chief executive off of its board of directors. However, we believe Mr. Housenbold’s influence over the Board has proven destructive for stockholders as his compensation has increased despite the Company’s poor performance and is chief among the reasons for the serious issues now facing the Company, including its poorly aligned executive compensation and questionable handling of the 2014 sale process.

The Company has a classified Board, which is currently divided into three (3) classes. The terms of three (3) Class III directors expire at the Annual Meeting. We are seeking your support at the Annual Meeting to elect our three (3) nominees in opposition to three (3) of the Company's director nominees for the class with terms ending in 2018. Your vote to elect our nominees will have the legal effect of replacing three (3) incumbent directors with our nominees. If elected, our nominees will constitute a minority on the Board and there can be no guarantee that our nominees will be able to implement the actions that they believe are necessary to unlock stockholder value.

We urge you to carefully consider the information contained in the attached Proxy Statement and then support our efforts by signing, dating and returning the enclosed BLUE proxy card today. The attached Proxy Statement and the enclosed BLUE proxy card are first being furnished to the stockholders on or about _____, 2015.

If you have already voted for the incumbent management slate, you have every right to change your vote by signing, dating and returning a later dated proxy.

- Since late March, Marathon Partners and Shutterfly have been engaged in ongoing discussions regarding, among other things, Board composition and the Company's executive compensation program.

REASONS FOR THE SOLICITATION

WE BELIEVE THAT SIGNIFICANT IMPROVEMENT TO SHUTTERFLY'S BOARD IS NEEDED NOW

We are soliciting your support to elect our Nominees at the Annual Meeting because we have little confidence that the Board, as currently composed, has the objectivity and commitment to take the steps necessary to enhance stockholder value at Shutterfly. We believe that the Board needs to be reconstituted with directors that have the experience, the independence, and the stockholder-oriented mindset to oversee and implement the changes necessary to drive substantial value.

As one of Shutterfly's largest stockholders, our interests are directly aligned with the interests of all stockholders. We have been active and supportive stockholders of Shutterfly for almost seven years. We believe our knowledge of the business and experience in dealing with Shutterfly's management team has given us a solid foundation for analyzing both the Company's risks and value-enhancing opportunities. We are disappointed by the Board's failure to adequately address the issues we have identified and now believe a greater sense of urgency for creating stockholder value is required at the Board level to best position the Company and its owners for long-term success.

We believe Shutterfly shares are deeply undervalued and that the current Board has not taken the necessary steps to adequately address the following serious issues facing the Company:

- We are concerned with Shutterfly's prolonged stock price underperformance;
- We are concerned that management and the Board may lack the commitment to improve operating results after two years of margin erosion and aggressive acquisition activity;
- We believe the Company's current and proposed executive compensation program has created a misalignment of interests between senior management and Shutterfly stockholders;
- We believe the members of the Board lack a substantial vested interest in Shutterfly; and
- We believe the Company needs to be more aggressive in exploring certain value enhancing activities, including stock repurchases and other strategic alternatives.

We Are Concerned with the Company's Prolonged Stock Price Underperformance

We believe stockholders should be seriously concerned with the Company's stock price underperformance. As displayed in the chart below, Shutterfly has significantly underperformed peers over the past four years.

	Share Price Performance (1)
	1 Year		2 Year		3 Year		4 Year
Russel 2000 Index	5	%	45	%	69	%	62	%

(2) Comprised of the 17 publicly-traded technology companies used by the Company in its 2015 proxy statement

Despite this unacceptable performance, the Board, in our view, has not taken sufficient action to improve performance or hold management accountable. We believe this clearly displays a misalignment of interests between the Board and its stockholders.

We Are Concerned with the Company's Poor Operating Performance

We are concerned that management and the Board may lack the commitment to improve operating results after two years of margin erosion and aggressive acquisition activity at Shutterfly.

Year	EBIDTA Margins	Operating Margins
2012	20%	6%
2013	19%	3%
2014	18%	1%

In fact, Shutterfly stockholders have endured a multi-year investment period with expenses and capital expenditures outpacing revenues coupled with an elevated level of M&A activity of yet unknown value. As displayed in the chart below, expenses have significantly outpaced revenue over the past two years.

Yr./Yr. Growth	2013	2014	'12 -'14 CAGR
Total Revenue	22.3 %	17.6 %	19.9 %
Total Operating Expenses	28.5 %	18.0 %	23.1 %
Total Stock Based Compensation	43.4 %	15.4 %	28.6 %
Total Capital Expenditures	47.6 %	17.7 %	31.8 %

Perhaps even more concerning is the fact that during this time, management has continued to be handsomely compensated despite Shutterfly's disappointing results and stock price underperformance.

We are Concerned with the Company's Executive Compensation Practices and the Board's Apparent Unwillingness to Follow Through on its Own Written Assurances to Reduce Executive Compensation

We believe management's ability to properly evaluate and address the serious challenges facing the Company is compromised by the misalignment between executive compensation and the Company's performance. We have serious concerns with various aspects of Shutterfly's executive compensation due to its inability to strongly align stockholder and management interests, including:

- excessive awards based upon revenue and earnings before interest taxes depreciation and amortization ("EBITDA") growth as opposed to metrics that we believe better align management's incentives with the creation of stockholder value, such as free cash flow per share, adjusted earnings per share and GAAP earnings per share ("GAAP EPS");
 - lack of incentives encouraging long-term stock ownership by executives; and
 - lack of accountability for the results of acquisitions and investments.

We believe the majority of Shutterfly stockholders share our serious concerns with Shutterfly's executive compensation as evidenced by the dramatic decrease in the stockholder approval rate of the Company's 'say on pay' proposal. In fact, Shutterfly's rate of approval has deteriorated from approximately 98% of the votes cast in favor of the 'say on pay' proposal at its 2011 annual meeting of stockholders to just over 50% of the votes cast at its 2014 annual meeting of stockholders, as displayed in the chart below.

Year	% of shares voted FOR 'Say on Pay'
2011	97.7%
2012	63.6%
2013	54.6%
2014	50.1%

Importantly, the two leading independent proxy voting advisory firms, Institutional Stockholder Services Inc. ("ISS") and Glass Lewis & Co. ("Glass Lewis"), share our serious concerns with the Company's executive compensation. ISS has not only recommended a vote "AGAINST" the Company's say-on-pay proposal in each of the last three years but assigned Shutterfly a Governance QuickScore of 10 in the "Compensation" category in its 2014 report, indicating the highest level of concern. Similarly, Glass Lewis assigned Shutterfly an "F" pay-for-performance grade in its 2014 report, noting that "overall, the Company paid more than its peers, but performed moderately worse than its peers." Glass Lewis also assigned Shutterfly a "D" grade and recommended that stockholders vote "AGAINST" the Company's say-on-pay proposal in its 2013 report.

Consistent with the concerns raised by ISS and Glass Lewis, we are troubled by the fact that Mr. Housenbold's compensation has significantly exceeded Shutterfly's proxy peer group over the past three years, despite the Company's poor performance.

Peer Group Median Compensation	$ 6,101	$ 6,576	$ 4,572
SFLY CEO Compensation	$ 13,302	$ 13,187	$ 16,185
SFLY Multiple of Median Compensation	2.2 x	2.0 x	3.5 x

Note: $ in Thousands

Furthermore, we are seriously concerned with Shutterfly's total stock-based compensation relative to peers, which we find excessive. In fact, we believe Shutterfly's over reliance on stock-based compensation is a real cost to stockholders and should be addressed in a manner that recognizes this fact. Shutterfly's total stock-based compensation over EBITDA well exceeds that of its proxy peer group, as evidenced by the following chart:

SFLY SBC / EBITDA	29 %	36 %	37 %

SFLY Multiple of Median SBC / EBITDA	1.6	x	1.8	x	2.5	x

As discussed above, both ISS and Glass Lewis share our serious concerns regarding the Company’s failure to adequately link executive pay with performance. ISS indicated that there is a “high concern with respect to CEO pay and company performance relative to ISS' derived peer group of companies within similar sector and size range,” noting that “CEO pay has significantly outranked Shutterfly’s performance on a three-year basis, relative to peers.” Glass Lewis likewise believes Shutterfly has been “deficient” in linking executive pay to performance stating that “the CEO was paid more than the median CEO compensation of these peer companies.” While we support appropriately compensating executives who drive and actually achieve improved performance, in instances where value is not enhanced or even destroyed, compensation should be adjusted accordingly.

We do not believe the Company has properly aligned executive pay with performance and that this is largely due to a number of troubling aspects of the Company's compensation program. We are very concerned that Shutterfly's compensation program permits excessive awards based upon simple revenue and EBITDA growth rates as opposed to metrics that we believe more directly align management incentives with stockholder value enhancement, such as free cash flow per share, adjusted earnings per shares and GAAP EPS. We note, for example, that Shutterfly's incentive metrics do not include any deduction for stock-based compensation expenses and are gross metrics that lack a per share component. We believe this fosters a culture that does not properly recognize that stock options and RSUs are real expenses to stockholders. Despite the Company's belief that "net revenues and adjusted EBITDA are the best measures of [its] annual financial performance, as they are two of the key valuation measures monitored by [its] stockholders" as stated in its 2014 proxy statement (the "2014 Proxy Statement"), we believe stockholders should be concerned that Shutterfly's current compensation program fails to include metrics that are widely recognized as more direct drivers of increased stockholder value such as free cash flow per share, adjusted earnings per share and GAAP EPS.

Shutterfly's heavy reliance on stock-based compensation for employees and its long-standing incentive compensation plans that focus on metrics that are above stock-based expense is a primary reason, we believe, for the significant growth in the number of shares outstanding over time despite significant share repurchases. We further believe growth in shares outstanding is a real cost to stockholders as it dilutes their interests in Shutterfly's business. While we recognize that reasonable levels of stock-based compensation can serve as a strong motivator for employees, Shutterfly's stock-based compensation expense as a percentage of EBITDA is significantly higher than its peer group, as we have demonstrated above.

The fact that the Company maintains an incentive compensation program that does not recognize stock-based compensation as an expense and serves to excessively dilute its stockholders gives us little comfort that stockholders' interests are aligned with those of management and the Board. We are also very concerned that Shutterfly's executive compensation program fails to encourage long-term stock ownership by executives. As displayed in the chart below, CEO Jeffrey Housenbold has engaged in numerous sales of Shutterfly stock over the past five years, which causes us to seriously question his level of confidence in the Company. We believe Mr. Housenbold's strong desire to turn his stock-based grants into cash creates a misalignment with the interests of Shutterfly stockholders.

Housenbold Sales ($ in Millions)	$ 9.8	$ 38.2	$ 0.0	$ 44.5	$ 6.0	$ 6.3	$ 104.8
Housenbold Purchases ($ in Millions)	$ 0.0	$ 0.4	$ 1.3	$ 0.0	$ 0.0	$ 0.0	$ 1.7

Equally as concerning is the fact that Mr. Housenbold has actually sold shares of Common Stock at prices lower than the Company has paid to repurchase such shares in specific quarters. In the first quarter of 2014, for example, the Company repurchased 665,035 shares of its outstanding Common Stock at an average price of $52.04, while Mr. Housenbold sold 88,888 shares at an average price of $48.01.

Date	Shares
	Sold	Price	Value
3/24/2014	21,143	$ 44.20	$ 934,432
3/24/2014	18,836	$ 44.91	$ 845,955
2/24/2014	37,581	$ 50.69	$ 1,904,902
2/24/2014	11,328	$ 51.38	$ 582,054
Total	88,888	$ 48.01	4,267,343

Perhaps even more concerning is the Company's recent out-of-cycle grant of approximately $7 million of restricted stock units (RSUs) to Mr. Housenbold on November 20, 2014 (the "RSUs Grant"). Not only did the Board approve the RSUs Grant at a time when the Board was well aware of significant stockholder concerns regarding executive compensation, and immediately after receiving several bids from outside parties that did not result in the successful sale of the Company, but it did so just prior to the critical holiday selling season. We believe the RSUs Grant was excessive by any standard, and that the Board's decision to approve such a grant cannot be the product of rational corporate decision-making that is in the best interests of the Company or its stockholders.

In fact, we have extreme difficulty understanding the circumstances that would cause the Board to support and approve this excessive and unusually-timed grant of RSUs, particularly in light of the Company's dedication to improving its compensation practices due to legitimate and serious stockholder concerns as disclosed in the 2014 Proxy Statement:

"We actively engaged with each of our top 20 institutional stockholders, representing over 87% of the outstanding shares of our common stock, to discuss the 2013 Say-on-Pay vote and identify their concerns and potential areas for improving our executive compensation program. We also carefully reviewed the reports issued by Institutional Stockholder Services (ISS) and Glass-Lewis & Co. on our executive compensation policies and practices and considered various actions to respond to their concerns. The Compensation Committee, in addition to its regular meetings in July and October 2013, held two special meetings in September 2013 to specifically consider the collective stockholder input from these efforts."

Stockholder Concern

Response Reflected in 2014 Compensation Decisions

Size of overall CEO target compensation package Significantly reduced the overall target compensation of our CEO for 2014 (-31% vs. 2013), driven mostly by a reduction in target long-term incentive compensation, minimally offset by an increase in base salary to align with the compensation peer group median.

Source: The 2014 Proxy Statement.

The 2014 Proxy Statement further stated that Shutterfly had "significantly reduced" both the CEO's overall target compensation as well as its long-term incentive award for 2014. Despite stockholder concerns with executive compensation and the Company's publicly stated intention to address them in 2014, Shutterfly approved the RSUs Grant with little explanation to stockholders and in complete contradiction to its stated intentions in the 2014 Proxy Statement. Accordingly, we believe that senior management and members of the Board may have acted, and may continue to be taking certain actions, in a manner that is not in the best interests of the Company and its stockholders despite their assurances to the contrary.

Importantly, Mr. Housenbold's compensation increased from $13,186,740 in 2013 to $16,184,835 in 2014, representing an increase of approximately 23%, despite assurances from the Board in Shutterfly's 2014 proxy statement that his total compensation for 2014 was targeted to decline by 31%. We find the Board's willingness to disregard its own written assurances on important stockholder topics deeply troubling.

In addition, we believe the compensation changes identified by the Company in the 2014 Proxy Statement fall short of addressing the serious deficiencies in its executive compensation program. ISS agreed noting in its 2014 report that such changes "do not effectively mitigate ongoing concerns."

It is our strong belief that a properly structured compensation program should motivate executives to drive corporate performance, thereby aligning executive and long-term stockholder interests. We believe it is time for Shutterfly stockholders to reap the rewards of their investments through properly structured management incentives.

Accordingly, we believe a portion of the RSUs granted to Shutterfly executives should be earned over multiple years based on incentives that are more aligned with metrics that directly drive stockholder value. Free cash flow, adjusted earnings and GAAP earnings, all on a per share basis, should be emphasized over simple growth in revenues and EBITDA. In our view, long-term executive compensation incentives would ideally be based on a form of earnings per share combined with a return on equity measurement that would incentivize management to grow earnings over time and achieve better returns on existing assets and investments. Unlike Shutterfly's current compensation structure, which we believe has enabled management to achieve the targeted results and be well compensated even while the Company's stock price has underperformed peers and equity indicies during the past four (4) years, we believe our plan would appropriately motivate executives to drive company performance by using metrics that more directly increase stockholder value.

We think it is time for the Board to be held accountable for not better protecting the interests of Shutterfly stockholders. Further, we believe that the Company's poor executive compensation practices have contributed to a management and Board culture that seem indifferent to poor financial and operational results.

We are Also Concerned with the Company's Recently Announced Compensation Program

Shutterfly filed its preliminary proxy statement in connection with the Annual Meeting (the "2015 Proxy Statement") purporting to once again address important stockholder concerns. Given the promises in the 2014 Proxy Statement to lower Mr. Housenbold's target compensation and the subsequent disclosure that his compensation was in fact raised, we believe stockholders should look skeptically upon the 2015 Proxy Statement, including assurances that Mr. Housenbold's 2016 compensation will be reduced from levels that have prevailed over the past few years.

Further, the Company outlined a plan to base a large portion of Mr. Housenbold's compensation on a "free cash flow" per share calculation. We understand the Company intends to define its "free cash flow" calculation as earnings before interest taxes depreciation and amortization or EBITDA less capital expenditures. We are extremely concerned with the type of behavior that such a definition may encourage. Shutterfly has been very acquisitive over the last five years, making over $500 million in acquisitions. By excluding interest costs from its calculation of "free cash flow", management will be incentivized to make acquisitions in order to reach target levels for performance compensation. Management could choose, for example, to borrow funds to make an acquisition that could significantly increase "free cash flow". This is true because interest costs are not deducted from the calculation and therefore the cost of debt is not recognized. In theory, we believe management could even destroy shareholder value by using borrowed funds to overpay for an acquisition that positively contributed to its definition of "free cash flow". Shutterfly's plan, as we currently understand it, actually encourages the kind of behavior that our Nominees would seek to discourage as Board members, if elected. We believe there is no logical reason to exclude interest and other real costs from Shutterfly's "free cash flow" definition, and we are troubled that the Board would even consider this metric to motivate the management team.

In addition, we note that the Company has indicated minimum levels of target growth that would be required to earn the incentive compensation in its 2016 plan, which is purported to be at least 15% above that which occurs in 2015. While we recognize that these are stated minimum levels, we are deeply concerned that the proposed target is so low that the Board will choose levels that are easily attainable. Further, management has publicly stated that it continues to expect organic growth in the business and that capital expenditures will be reduced to 7%-8% of revenues. We believe the combination of these two expectations will lead to a very rapid expansion of Shutterfly's definition of "free cash flow" even under very low revenue growth scenarios. Furthermore, we believe the Company's likely stock repurchases will make hurdles that are at, or even significantly above the levels disclosed in the 2015 Proxy Statement easily achievable and therefore not a strong motivator for Shutterfly management. Moreover, the Board's past behavior gives us little comfort that it has chosen performance metrics that properly align management and stockholder interests.

We also note that a large portion of the 2016 plan is based on stockholder returns over a three year performance period relative to an "appropriate broad index." Consistent with setting easy targets for management, the stock price performance only needs to be in the 60th percentile of an unknown index to achieve 100% of the payout. If the stock price performance is in the 30th percentile, management still receives 50% of the payout. These low return hurdles follow an extended period where shares of Shutterfly have underperformed.

It should also be noted that the 2015 Proxy Statement takes great care in asking that Shutterfly stockholders view Mr. Housenbold's November 2014 grant as part of his 2015 compensation. While we view this as an illogical notion, under this scenario, Mr. Housenbold's compensation for 2014 would have declined as the Board had indicated in the 2014 Proxy Statement. Of course then it would only be fair to add the November 2014 grant to his existing 2015 grants. Under the same scenario, Mr. Housenbold's 2015 compensation would dramatically increase over his 2014 compensation, essentially negating the Board's promise to lower his total compensation in the 2014 Proxy Statement. Under either scenario, however, the result is the same - the Board did not ultimately succeed in lowering his compensation as stated. We are therefore very hesitant to rely on any promises the Board makes concerning Shutterfly's 2016 compensation plans.

We Are Concerned with the Company's Poor Corporate Governance

We are also concerned with the Company's poor corporate governance that we believe severely limits the ability of stockholders to seek effective change at Shutterfly.

The Board is classified into three separate classes, meaning its directors are only subject to re-election by stockholders once every three years. We believe the ability of stockholders to select directors each year is an important check on the performance of the Board and is critical in allowing stockholder input on the direction and state of the Company and the best group of individuals to oversee their investment. To the contrary, the Board's current classified structure, in our view, impedes stockholders' ability to regularly and effectively evaluate the performance of their directors and insulates and entrenches the incumbents despite their apparent lapses in oversight.

Furthermore, stockholders are prohibited from calling special meetings and cannot act by written consent, which likewise serves to disenfranchise stockholders. We believe that the Board should not be able to utilize Shutterfly's corporate machinery to insulate itself and prevent change that would benefit all stockholders.

ISS shares our serious concerns, assigning Shutterfly a Governance QuickScore of 9, the second highest risk rating possible reserved for companies that maintain problematic stockholder unfriendly corporate governance practices. We believe the Board's ineffectiveness at tackling the real stockholder concerns at Shutterfly is in large part a function of a troubling misalignment of interests between the directors and Shutterfly stockholders.

We are Concerned with the Board's Lack of Sufficient Stock Ownership

We believe the Board's collective lack of a substantial vested interest in shares of Shutterfly may compromise the Board's ability to properly evaluate and address the opportunities to enhance stockholder value at the Company with the best interests of stockholders in mind. Based upon our review of the Company's public filings, the entire Board collectively owns approximately 1.3% of the Company's outstanding shares of Common Stock, which includes shares underlying certain options and RSUs granted to such directors in their capacities as directors of the Company. Accordingly, there is no significant stockholder representation on the Board. We believe the stockholders, as the true owners of the Company, need to have a strong voice at the Board level. Such a voice promotes greater accountability and creates an environment that forces other directors to consider new and innovative ways to positively impact stockholder value.

Marathon Partners, on the other hand, owns approximately 5.4% of the Company's outstanding shares of Common Stock. It seems apparent to us that with so little "skin in the game" and not enough confidence in the Company to engage in meaningful stock purchases, the Board does not have the same commitment to stockholder value as we do. We believe a culture focused on long-term value creation and stockholder accountability requires placing stockholder representatives on the Board who have a significant financial commitment to the Company along with relevant experience. This requirement ensures the proper alignment of interests between the Board and stockholders.

We Believe Substantial Opportunities Exist at Shutterfly to Create Value for Stockholders

In addition to our recommendations discussed above, we believe the Company should focus on existing opportunities and pursue a strategy that seeks organic growth, margin expansion and a decrease in capital intensity over the next few years. Our desire for Shutterfly to pursue additional acquisitions has declined, especially as the Company's equity remains significantly undervalued. We believe Shutterfly has numerous acquisitions to fully digest and upcoming platform migrations and internal start-ups to monitor. In addition, we believe the Company needs to continue to focus on its Tiny Prints brand so that its large investment of capital in that transaction is preserved.

Accordingly, we believe Shutterfly should avoid dilutive deals, particularly international acquisitions, which would entail additional risks and complexities, until Shutterfly management demonstrates that it is capable of earning returns on past investments and acquisitions. We also believe smaller transactions would likely serve as a distraction from the larger internal opportunities currently in front of the Company in addition to taking away capital that could otherwise be used to cheaply retire shares.

Further, since the Company has failed to quantify for its stockholders the value realized from assimilating its acquisition targets to date, stockholders have been unable to discern whether such transactions have in fact created any value. In our view, the Company's failure to communicate effectively with its stockholders is one of the reasons for its weak stock price performance. To that end, we believe stockholders would be well-served if Shutterfly disseminated its long-term views and/or expectations for the business so that they can judge the Company's performance over time. In fact, we find it particularly concerning that Shutterfly has never hosted an investor day and/or formally shared its long-term expectations for the business. We believe Shutterfly stockholders, the true owners of the Company, are entitled to transparency and disclosure of information that would allow them to hold management more accountable for performance over time.

If Management Resists a Compensation Plan Based on the Attainment of Significantly Improved Operating Results, Then We Believe the Best Way to Maximize Stockholder Value May Be to Sell the Company to the Highest Bidder

The heavy spending on investments and acquisitions over the past few years has led to an expectation among stockholders that the Company is poised for years of continued growth and improved operational metrics. Public comments from Mr. Housenbold support these expectations of improved results:

- “We did have some inbound offers...And based upon our five-year model where we think the growth of the business is going to come from, the increased profitability as we get leverage from our infrastructure investments as we continue to penetrate the large, untapped off-line market that we're trying to transition to an online personalized world, we looked and then said, that doesn't make sense at this current time.” 10/29/2014
- “But what we have said in the past is, we think EBITDA margins return with a two handle; we think that CapEx drops back down between 7% and 8%, and we think that we can drive top-line growth and increase profitability. So I believe EBITDA and free cash flow will grow at a quicker clip than revenue will over the next three years to four years.” 10/29/2014
- “...but we can make this a mid-20s EBITDA model, if we wanted to cut back on investments. Given our leadership position and the size of these markets and the early days in which most of the transactions are still occurring off-line, we think we have a good balance between returning profits to the bottom line and investing in top-line growth” 4/30/2014

We believe that these public statements and others, have led to current buy and sell side expectations for Shutterfly that are centered around $1.5 billion in revenue, low $300 million in EBITDA and capital expenditures of approximately $100 to $115 million by 2018. We had hoped that management and the Board would be willing to adopt a properly aligned executive compensation plan for Mr. Housenbold that would provide significant incentives and reward him handsomely for achieving a set of operational metrics based off of the above-referenced numbers. We believe such numbers would clearly be attractive to Shutterfly stockholders over time and translate into increased stockholder wealth. We were surprised and disappointed that the Board was not willing to consider such a compensation plan for Mr. Housenbold, which is similar to those adopted by Cimpress N.V. and Discovery Communications. While this was not our only plan, it was one we found very attractive as we believe it would create a strong alignment of interests between stockholders and Mr. Housenbold based upon results that would both generate attractive results for stockholders and still be attainable by management.

While we did view the plan as non-standard, we believed that after a long period of underperformance and heavy investment for the Company, it was necessary to implement a compensation program that created a significant financial reward for strong performance. Further, while our plan was designed primarily for Mr. Housenbold, it could have also been used for other Shutterfly executives for compensation above and beyond their current incentives. We continue to believe a plan such as this for Mr. Housenbold would create a tremendous alignment of interests with stockholders and allay many of the compensation concerns we have outlined in this Proxy Statement. We were willing to work with the Board to make its preferred compensation plan better for Shutterfly stockholders, however, for the reasons set forth above, including the unattractive definition of “free cash flow”, we could not possibly craft the Board’s plan into one that was attractive to stockholders. Accordingly, while Mr. Housenbold correctly stated in a recent public conference call that our group was offered a single Board seat, we could not possibly accept the offer in light of the serious issues we have outlined around compensation and incentives.

In light of this lack of confidence, we believe a sale of the Company may be the best alternative available for maximizing stockholder value. We believe there continues to be a strong interest in Shutterfly from potential buyers and that Shutterfly's current market price is at a steep discount to the price that potential buyers, in our opinion, would be willing to pay in an auction. This dynamic has created a window of opportunity for the Company to realize increased value for its stockholders through a negotiated transaction. We do have some concerns, however, in light of the Company's 2014 evaluation process in which Shutterfly appears to have turned down multiple bids from potential buyers. We note, for example, that interested buyers appeared to have a deadline that came before the all-important holiday season. Potential buyers may have simply wanted confirmation that Shutterfly's holiday season went as expected. Given the Board's inability to properly align its compensation plans with stockholder interests and its low stock ownership, we are concerned that Shutterfly stockholders may not have been properly represented during the evaluation process, which was ultimately unsuccessful.

We Believe the Company's Recently Announced $300 Million Stock Repurchase Program Was in Response to Our Involvement

We believe stockholders have reason to be concerned about capital allocation given Shutterfly's track record of acquisitions. After a multi-year period of heavy investment and acquisition activity, there has been limited stock price appreciation. We believe now is the time to harvest some of these investments and carefully scrutinize current and future spending on projects that we believe have failed to bear fruit.

While we applaud Shutterfly's recent stock repurchase program as a step in the right direction, which we urge the Company to execute as expeditiously as possible, we believe it was largely the result of our engagement and would likely not have been proactively made otherwise. Further, we believe much more must be done, including the pursuit of additional opportunistic, value enhancing stock repurchases.

Our Nominees Have the Experience, Qualifications and Commitment Necessary to Fully Explore Available Opportunities to Unlock Value for Stockholders

For the reasons set forth above, we lack confidence in management's and the Board's ability to unlock value for the benefit of all Shutterfly stockholders. Further, we believe the Company's underperformance and poor corporate governance practices warrant the addition of direct stockholder representatives on the Board, whose interests are closely aligned with those of all stockholders and who will work constructively with the other members of the Board to protect the best interests of Shutterfly stockholders.

We have identified several highly qualified directors with valuable and relevant business and financial experience that we believe will allow them to make informed decisions to explore and identify opportunities to unlock value at Shutterfly.

PROPOSAL NO. 1

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

The Company has a classified Board, which is currently divided into three classes. The directors in each class are elected for terms of three years so that the term of office of one class of directors expires at each annual meeting of stockholders. We believe that the terms of three directors expire at the Annual Meeting. We are seeking your support at the Annual Meeting to elect our Nominees in opposition to the Company's three director nominees for terms ending in 2018. Your vote to elect our Nominees will have the legal effect of replacing three incumbent directors with the Nominees. If elected, our Nominees will represent a minority of the members of the Board, and therefore it is not guaranteed that they can implement the actions that they believe are necessary to enhance stockholder value as described in further detail above.

THE NOMINEES

Fawaz and Hughes agreed to use the after-tax proceeds from such compensation to acquire securities of the Company (the "Nominee Shares") at such time that each of Messrs. Fawaz and Hughes shall determine, but in any event no later than 14 days after receipt of such compensation. If elected or appointed to serve as a director of the Board, each of Messrs. Fawaz and Hughes has agreed not to sell, transfer or otherwise dispose of any Nominee Shares within two (2) years of his election or appointment as a director; provided, however, in the event that the Company enters into a business combination with a third party, each of Messrs. Fawaz and Hughes may sell, transfer or exchange the Nominee Shares in accordance with the terms of such business combination.

Marathon Partners believes each Nominee presently is, and if elected as a director of the Company, each of the Nominees would be, an “independent director” within the meaning of (i) applicable NASDAQ Stock Market (“NASDAQ”) listing standards applicable to board composition, and (ii) Section 301 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. No Nominee is a member of the Company’s compensation, nominating or audit committee that is not independent under any such committee’s applicable independence standards.

Other than as stated herein, and except for compensation received by Mr. Cibelli as an employee of Marathon Partners Management, there are no arrangements or understandings between members of Marathon Partners and any of the Nominees or any other person or persons pursuant to which the nomination of the Nominees described herein is to be made, other than the consent by each of the Nominees to be named in this Proxy Statement and to serve as a director of the Company if elected as such at the Annual Meeting. None of the Nominees is a party adverse to the Company or any of its subsidiaries or has a material interest adverse to the Company or any of its subsidiaries in any material pending legal proceedings.

We do not expect that the Nominees will be unable to stand for election, but, in the event any Nominee is unable to serve or for good cause will not serve, the shares of Common Stock represented by the enclosed BLUE proxy card will be voted for substitute nominee(s), to the extent this is not prohibited under the Company’s Restated Bylaws (the “Bylaws”) and applicable law. In addition, we reserve the right to nominate substitute person(s) if the Company makes or announces any changes to its Bylaws or takes or announces any other action that has, or if consummated would have, the effect of disqualifying any Nominee, to the extent this is not prohibited under the Bylaws and applicable law. In any such case, shares of Common Stock represented by the enclosed BLUE proxy card will be voted for such substitute nominee(s). We reserve the right to nominate additional person(s), to the extent this is not prohibited under the Bylaws and applicable law, if the Company increases the size of the Board above its existing size or increases the number of directors whose terms expire at the Annual Meeting.

WE URGE YOU TO VOTE “FOR” THE ELECTION OF THE NOMINEES ON THE ENCLOSED BLUE PROXY CARD. .

PROPOSAL NO. 2

PROPOSAL TO APPROVE THE AMENDMENT OF SHUTTERFLY'S 2006 EQUITY INCENTIVE PLAN

As discussed in further detail in the Company's proxy statement, the Company is asking stockholders to approve amendments to the Company's 2006 Equity Incentive Plan (the "2006 Plan") to (i) increase the maximum number of shares of common stock that may be issued under the plan by 1,900,000 shares on January 1, 2016, (ii) extend the term of the plan by ten years, (iii) provide additional performance factors pursuant to which performance-based awards may be granted under the 2006 Plan, and (iv) make other clarifying and administrative amendments to the 2006 Plan. According to the Company's proxy statement, the Board adopted the amendments to the 2006 Plan on April 22, 2015 subject to stockholder approval.

WE URGE YOU TO VOTE "AGAINST" THE AMENDMENTS TO THE COMPANY'S 2006 EQUITY INCENTIVE PLAN

PROPOSAL NO. 3

ADVISORY VOTE TO APPROVE THE COMPENSATION OF THE COMPANY'S NAMED EXECUTIVE OFFICERS

As discussed in further detail in the Company's proxy statement, the Company is asking stockholders to approve, on a non-binding, advisory basis, the compensation of the Company's named executive officers, pursuant to the compensation disclosure rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission, including the Compensation Discussion and Analysis and the related compensation tables and other narrative executive compensation disclosure contained in the Company's proxy statement. Accordingly, the Company is asking stockholders to vote for the following resolution:

"RESOLVED, that the stockholders of Shutterfly approve, on an advisory basis, the compensation of Shutterfly's Named Executive Officers, as disclosed in the Compensation Discussion and Analysis, the compensation tables and the related narrative discussion of this Proxy Statement pursuant to the compensation disclosure rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission."

According to the Company's proxy statement, although the advisory vote is non-binding, the Compensation Committee and the Board will review the results of the vote and to the extent there is any significant vote against the Company's executive compensation, it will take such stockholders' concerns into account in future determinations concerning the Company's executive compensation program.

WE URGE YOU TO VOTE "AGAINST" THE COMPANY'S EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

PROPOSAL NO. 4

RATIFICATION OF THE SELECTION OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

As discussed in further detail in the Company's proxy statement, the Audit Committee of the Board has selected PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP to serve as the Company's independent registered public accounting firm for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2015 and is seeking stockholder ratification of such selection.

According to the Company's proxy statement, although stockholder ratification is not required by the Bylaws or otherwise, if stockholders do not ratify the selection PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as the Company's independent registered public accounting firm, the Audit Committee will reconsider whether or not to retain PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP. Further, even if the selection is ratified, the Audit Committee of the Board, in its discretion, may direct the appointment of a different independent registered public accounting firm at any time during the year if it determines that such a change would be in the best interests of Shutterfly and its stockholders.

WE MAKE NO RECOMMENDATION WITH RESPECT TO THE RATIFICATION OF THE SELECTION OF PRICEWATERHOUSECOOPERS LLP AS THE COMPANY'S INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM FOR FISCAL 2015 AND INTEND TO VOTE OUR SHARES "FOR" THIS PROPOSAL.

VOTING AND PROXY PROCEDURES

Only stockholders of record on the Record Date will be entitled to notice of and to vote at the Annual Meeting. Stockholders who sell their shares of Common Stock before the Record Date (or acquire them without voting rights after the Record Date) may not vote such shares of Common Stock. Stockholders of record on the Record Date will retain their voting rights in connection with the Annual Meeting even if they sell such shares of Common Stock after the Record Date. Based on publicly available information, Marathon Partners believes that the only outstanding class of securities of the Company entitled to vote at the Annual Meeting is the shares of Common Stock.

Shares of Common Stock represented by properly executed BLUE proxy cards will be voted at the Annual Meeting as marked and, in the absence of specific instructions, will be voted FOR the election of the Nominees, AGAINST approval of the amendment to the Company's 2006 Equity Incentive Plan, AGAINST the advisory vote on executive compensation, and FOR the ratification of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as the Company's independent registered public accounting firm for the 2015 fiscal year, as described herein.

According to the Company's proxy statement for the Annual Meeting, the current Board intends to nominate three candidates for election as Class III directors at the Annual Meeting. This Proxy Statement is soliciting proxies to elect only our three Nominees. Accordingly, the enclosed BLUE proxy card may only be voted for the Nominees and does not confer voting power with respect to the Company's nominees. Marathon Partners intends to vote all of its Shares in favor of the Nominees.

QUORUM; BROKER NON-VOTES; DISCRETIONARY VOTING

A quorum is the minimum number of shares of Common Stock that must be represented at a duly called meeting in person or by proxy in order to legally conduct business at the meeting. For the Annual Meeting, the presence, in person or by proxy, of the holders of a majority of the shares of Common Stock outstanding as of the Record Date, will be considered a quorum allowing votes to be taken and counted for the matters before the stockholders.

Abstentions are counted as present and entitled to vote for purposes of determining a quorum. Shares represented by "broker non-votes" also are counted as present and entitled to vote for purposes of determining a quorum. However, if you hold your shares in street name and do not provide voting instructions to your broker, your shares will not be voted on any proposal on which your broker does not have discretionary authority to vote (a "broker non-vote"). Under rules of The NASDAQ Stock Market, your broker will not have discretionary authority to vote your shares at the Annual Meeting on any of the proposals.

If you are a stockholder of record, you must deliver your vote by mail, attend the Annual Meeting in person and vote, vote by Internet or vote by telephone in order to be counted in the determination of a quorum.

If you are a beneficial owner, your broker will vote your shares pursuant to your instructions, and those shares will count in the determination of a quorum. Brokers do not have discretionary authority to vote on any of the proposals at the Annual Meeting. Accordingly, unless you vote via proxy card or provide instructions to your broker, your shares of Common Stock will count for purposes of attaining a quorum, but will not be voted on those proposals.

VOTES REQUIRED FOR APPROVAL

Election of Directors The Company has adopted a majority vote standard for non-contested director elections and a plurality vote standard for contested director elections. As a result of our nomination of the Nominees, the director election at the Annual Meeting will be contested, so the three nominees for director receiving the highest vote totals will be elected as directors of the Company. With respect to the election of directors, only votes cast “for” a nominee will be counted. Proxy cards specifying that votes should be withheld with respect to one or more nominees will result in those nominees receiving fewer votes but will not count as a vote against the nominees. Neither an abstention nor a broker non-vote will count as a vote cast “for” or “against” a director nominee. Therefore, abstentions and broker non-votes will have no direct effect on the outcome of the election of directors.

Approval of the Amendment to the Company’s 2006 Equity Incentive Plan According to the Company’s proxy statement, this proposal will be approved if more shares are voted “for” this proposal than are voted “against” it. Abstentions are not counted as votes “for” or “against” this proposal, and, therefore, have no effect on the outcome of the vote on the proposal to amend the 2006 Equity Incentive Plan.

Advisory (nonbinding) Vote on Executive Compensation According to the Company’s proxy statement, although the vote is non-binding, the advisory vote will be approved if more shares are voted “for” this proposal than are voted “against” it. The Company has indicated that abstentions and broker non-votes are not counted as votes “for” or “against” this proposal.

Ratification of the Selection of Accounting Firm According to the Company’s proxy statement, the selection of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP will be deemed to have been ratified if more shares are voted “for” the ratification than are voted against such ratification. The Company has indicated that abstentions are not counted as votes “for” or “against” this proposal.

REVOCAION OF PROXIES

Stockholders of the Company may revoke their proxies at any time prior to exercise by attending the Annual Meeting and voting in person (although attendance at the Annual Meeting will not in and of itself constitute revocation of a proxy) or by delivering a written notice of revocation. The delivery of a subsequently dated proxy which is properly completed will constitute a revocation of any earlier proxy. The revocation may be delivered either to Marathon Partners in care of Okapi Partners at the address set forth on the back cover of this Proxy Statement or to the Company at 2800 Bridge Parkway, Redwood City, California, 94065 or any other address provided by the Company. Although a revocation is effective if delivered to the Company, we request that either the original or photostatic copies of all revocations be mailed to Marathon Partners in care of Okapi Partners at the address set forth on the back cover of this Proxy Statement so that we will be aware of all revocations and can more accurately determine if and when proxies have been received from the holders of record on the Record Date of a majority of the outstanding shares of Common Stock. Additionally, Okapi Partners may use this information to contact stockholders who have revoked their proxies in order to solicit later dated proxies for the election of the Nominees.

IF YOU WISH TO VOTE FOR THE ELECTION OF THE NOMINEES TO THE BOARD, PLEASE SIGN, DATE AND RETURN PROMPTLY THE ENCLOSED BLUE PROXY CARD IN THE POSTAGE-PAID ENVELOPE PROVIDED.
