Corning Announces Underwriters Have Exercised Option to Purchase Additional Mandatory Convertible Preferred Stock

CORNING, N.Y. -- Corning Incorporated (NYSE:GLW) today announced that the underwriters have exercised their option to purchase an additional $75 million of shares of Series C Mandatory Convertible Preferred Stock, in addition to the $500 million they purchased from the company on July 31, 2002.

Each preferred share has a par value of $100, pays an annual dividend rate of 7.0% and is mandatorily convertible into between 50.813 and 62.5 shares of Corning's common stock on August 16, 2005. These preferred shares were issued under Corning's existing $5 billion universal shelf registration statement. The book-running managers were Salomon Smith Barney, JPMorgan and Goldman, Sachs & Co.

This represents a new financing by Corning. The offering was made by means of a prospectus supplement to a prospectus that is part of Corning's universal shelf registration statement previously filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission and declared effective in March 2001. For a copy of the prospectus and prospectus supplement relating to the offering, contact the prospectus department of Salomon Smith Barney, 388 Greenwich Street, New York, N.Y., 10013; telephone: (718) 765-6732.

This news release shall not constitute an offer to sell, or the solicitation of an offer to buy, nor shall there be any sale of these securities in any jurisdiction in which such offer, solicitation or sale would be unlawful prior to registration or qualification under the securities laws of any such jurisdiction.
