LCNB CORP. REPORTS EARNINGS FOR 2005

LCNB Corp. today announced earnings of $6,705,000 or $2.03 basic earnings per share for 2005, compared to $6,596,000 or $1.97 basic per share for 2004. Return on average assets for 2005 and 2004 were 1.25% and 1.29%, respectively. Return on average equity for 2005 was 12.80%, compared to 12.56% for 2004.

Comparing December 31, 2005 results with December 31, 2004:

- Total loans grew $23.2 million or 6.9% primarily due to growth in the commercial loan portfolio.
 - The fair value of total trust assets grew approximately $16.3 million or 9.0%, primarily through growth from new business (see Assets Under Management).
 - The fair value of total brokerage accounts, offered through a partnership with UVEST Financial Services, increased approximately $11.4 million or 45.8%, primarily through growth from new business (see Assets Under Management).
- Net interest income for 2005 was $290,000 or 1.6% greater than in 2004, primarily due to growth in the loan portfolio. LCNB's net interest margin (tax-equivalent net interest income divided by average interest-earning assets) for 2005 was 3.99%, slightly lower than the 2004 margin of 4.02%. A flattening yield curve, meaning that long-term market rates were not significantly above short-term rates, continued to put pressure on the margin.
- Non-interest income for 2004 included a $306,000 gain from sales of investment securities and a $403,000 gain from the sale of LCNB's credit card portfolio. Sales of investment securities during 2005 produced a slight loss of $8,000. Excluding the above mentioned gains and losses, non-interest income for 2005 was $983,000 greater than for 2004. The increase was primarily the result of increases in income from bank owned life insurance, brokerage income, insurance agency income, and service charges on deposit accounts.

Non-interest expenses for 2005 were $808,000 or 4.9% greater than for 2004. Much of the increase was in wages and salaries, which were approximately $540,000 greater in 2005 than in 2004. The increase was primarily due to routine salary and wage increases and to additional staffing required by the respective openings of the Fairfield office during the fourth quarter, 2004 and the Lebanon High School Warrior office during the first quarter, 2005.

As a result of LCNB's earnings growth and its stock repurchase program, LCNB's book value per share at December 31, 2005 was $15.87, a 1.0% increase from $15.71 at December 31, 2004. Dividends paid to shareholders during 2005 totaled $1.16 per share, a 4.0% increase from total dividends of $1.115 per share for 2004.
