NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

December 31, 2007

Note 1 Organization and Nature of Operations

GMH/GF II Student Housing Associates II, LLC (the Company) was formed on April 12, 2007, as a Delaware Limited Liability Company, in accordance with the terms and provisions of the operating agreement dated April 12, 2007 (the Operating Agreement). The Company was formed between College Park Investments, LLC (College Park) and GFII/GMH II LLC (Fidelity), (collectively the Members). As of December 31, 2007, Fidelity and College Park maintain a 90% and 10% interest in the Company, respectively.

The Company was formed for the purpose of owning and managing six student housing apartment buildings (collectively, the Properties) in multiple states. Five properties and one property were acquired on April 13, 2007 and June 28, 2007, respectively, in transactions accounted for under the purchase method of accounting.

Note 2 Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Accounting

The accompanying financial statements are prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Real Estate Investments

We carry real estate investments at cost, net of accumulated depreciation. Cost of acquired assets includes the purchase price and related closing costs. We allocate the cost of real estate investments to net tangible and identified intangible assets based on relative fair values in accordance with SFAS No. 141, "Business Combinations" (SFAS 141). We estimate fair value based on information obtained from a number of sources, including our due diligence, marketing and leasing activities, independent appraisals that may be obtained in connection with the acquisition or financing of the respective property, and other market data.

The value of in-place leases is based on the difference between (i) the property valued with existing in-place leases and (ii) the property valued as if vacant. As lease terms typically are 12 months or less, actual rates on in-place leases generally approximate market rental rates. Factors that we consider in the valuation of in-place leases include an estimate of incremental carrying costs during the expected lease-up periods considering current market conditions and nature of the tenancy. Purchase prices of student housing properties to be acquired are not expected to be allocated to tenant relationships considering the terms of the leases and the expected levels of renewals. We amortize the value of in-place leases to expense over the remaining term of the respective leases, which is generally one year or less.

We expense routine repair and maintenance expenditures that do not improve the value of an asset or extend its useful life, including turnover costs. We capitalize expenditures that improve the value and extend the useful life of an asset. We compute depreciation using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets, which is generally 40 years for buildings and three to five years for residential furniture and appliances.

In accordance with SFAS 144, "Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets", long-lived assets, such as real estate investments and purchased intangibles subject to amortization, are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. These circumstances may include, but are not limited to, operational performance, market conditions and competition from other off-campus properties and on-campus housing, legal and environmental concerns, and results of appraisals or other information obtained as part of a financing or disposition strategy. When required, we review recoverability of assets to be held and used through a comparison of the carrying amount of an asset to estimated undiscounted future cash flows expected to be generated by the asset. If the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its estimated undiscounted future cash flows, an impairment charge is recognized in an amount by which the carrying value of the asset exceeds the fair value of the asset determined using customary valuation techniques, such as the present value of expected future cash flows. As of December 31, 2007, none of the Company's properties require an impairment charge.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

All highly-liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less are considered to be cash equivalents. Cash and cash equivalents at December 31, 2007 consist of operating cash of the Company.

Restricted Cash

Restricted cash consists of cash held as escrow for real estate taxes, capital expenditures and other amounts, as required by the terms of various loan agreements.

Accounts Receivable and Bad Debts

Accounts receivable is charged to bad debt expense when they are determined to be uncollectible based upon a periodic review of the accounts by management. Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require that the allowance method be used to recognize bad debts; however, the effect of using the direct write-off method is not materially different from the results that would have been obtained under the allowance method.

Deferred Costs

The Company has capitalized certain expenditures related to the leasing and financing of the Properties. Deferred leasing costs are amortized, on a straight-line basis, over the terms of the related leases which are typically twelve month leases. Costs incurred in connection with obtaining financing are deferred and amortized on a straight-line basis over the term of the related loans, which is not materially different than the effective interest method. Amortization of deferred financing costs is included in interest expense. Accumulated amortization of deferred leasing and financing costs was $15,093 and $159,746 respectively as of December 31, 2007.

Revenue Recognition

Rental revenue is recognized when due over the lease terms, which are generally 12 months or less.

Note 2 Significant Accounting Policies (Continued)

Other property income, including, but not limited to, lease processing fees, move-in fees, utility reimbursements and activity fees is recognized as earned throughout the course of the year. The timing of these fees typically fluctuates in relation to the academic year leasing cycle.

Deferred Revenue

Deferred revenue represents revenue received from tenants prior to their due dates.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect various amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Income Taxes

No provision or benefit for income taxes has been included in these financial statements since taxable income or loss passes through to, and is reportable by, the members individually.

Note 3 Related Party Transactions

College Park Management TRS, Inc., a subsidiary of College Park Management, LLC is under common ownership and control with College Park and provides management services to the Properties and in return receives a management fee equal to 4% of gross receipts. For the period from April 13, 2007 through December 31, 2007 the Company paid $445,010 for these services.

Note 4 Mortgage Notes Payable

The Company obtained separate mortgage notes payable to finance the properties. The mortgage notes all require interest-only payments through their maturity dates. All unpaid principal is due upon maturity. The following table summarizes the mortgage notes for each of the properties:

Property	Lender	Maturity Date	Principal	Fixed Interest Rate
University Heights	Wells Fargo	5/1/2012	$ 18,160,000	5.54%
Uptown	Wells Fargo	5/1/2012	20,160,000	5.51%
University Walk	Wells Fargo	5/1/2012	14,760,000	5.51%
The Ridge	Wells Fargo	5/1/2012	23,120,000	5.53%
The Edge I	Wells Fargo	5/1/2012	11,845,000	5.50%
The Edge II	Wells Fargo	7/1/2010	4,456,000	4.54%
Total Mortgage Notes Payable			$ 92,501,000

Based on the borrowing rates currently available to the Company for bank loans with similar terms and average maturities, the fair value of mortgage notes payable approximates its carrying value.

The future scheduled maturities of long-term debt are as follows:

2008	$
2009
2010	4,456,000
2011
2012	88,045,000
	$ 92,501,000

The mortgage notes payable contain various financial and nonfinancial covenants customarily found in mortgage notes payable of these types. As of December 31, 2007, the Properties are in compliance with such covenants.

Distributions of Cash Flow from Capital Transactions

Distributions of net proceeds from a capital transaction shall be made on the date of the capital transaction in the following order of priority:

- (a) First, to the Members in proportion to the percentage interest, until each Member has received distributions equal to the aggregate amount of deposits forfeited to the Company and which were paid to the Company by a Member or any affiliate of a Member in connection with the proposed purchase of Company assets;
- (b) Next, to the Members in proportion to the percentage interest, until each member has received cumulative distributions of net cash flow from operations and cumulative distributions of net proceeds from capital transactions equal to a 10% cumulative return on its capital contribution;
- (c) Next, 75% to Fidelity and 25% to College Park until the distributions from (b) and (c) to Fidelity have equaled the capital contributions made by Fidelity to provide Fidelity with a 16% cumulative return on its capital contribution; and
- (d) Thereafter, 60% to Fidelity and 40% to College Park.

Note 6 Concentration of Credit Risk

The Company maintains its cash balances in several accounts in one bank. The cash balances are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation up to $100,000.
