As previously disclosed, Marc Kotelon resigned as Executive Vice President, Global Sales of KEMET Corporation (the Company), in May, 2013. On August 29, 2013, Mr. Kotelon and the Company entered into a release agreement (the Release Agreement) under which Mr. Kotelon will be entitled to receive a lump-sum payment within 21 days of the date of the Release Agreement. Mr. Kotelon also agreed to, among other things, a general release of the Company and related persons from all claims, including but not limited to, claims arising from his employment with or termination from the Company. On September 3, 2013, Mr. Kotelon and KEMET Electronics SAS (KES), a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company, entered into a settlement agreement (the Settlement Agreement, and together with the Release Agreement, the Agreements). As a result of the Settlement Agreement, Mr. Kotelon is entitled to a lump sum payment; has agreed to a general settlement and release of all claims relating to his employment with or termination from KES; and, is no longer bound by any non-competition covenants in his agreements with the Company and its subsidiaries. In connection with the Agreements, and including aggregate statutory severance payments of approximately $641,877 required under French law based on Mr. Kotelon's position, compensation and years of service with KES, the Company and its subsidiaries expect to pay an aggregate of approximately $1,116,743. After deducting approximately $257,689 relating to statutory employer and employee social contributions, Mr. Kotelon is expected to receive approximately $859,054. Pursuant to the laws of France, and consistent with the understanding of the parties, the Agreements become effective on September 6, 2013. A portion of the amounts payable will be made in EUROS, and those amounts have been converted to US dollars based on the exchange rate in effect on September 4, 2013.
