and deemed filed pursuant to Rule 14a-12

Subject Company: Rite Aid Corporation

Commission File No.: 001-05742

The following was provided to certain pharmacy employees of Albertsons Companies, Inc. on February 20, 2018:

Dear Team,

Early today, our company announced Albertsons Companies and Rite Aid have entered into a definitive merger agreement. This is truly an exciting day for our company and especially for our Pharmacy team. Once the transaction closes, we expect to have more than 2,500 standalone drug stores and a pharmacy organization that has over 4,300 counters and 300 in-store clinics, plus a PBM with over 22 million lives.

If you ever wondered how much our company values the work we do and our pharmacy patients, I think this transaction speaks volumes. While this transaction is significant for our company as a whole, it is especially transformative for our Pharmacy team. In combination with Rite Aid's own expertise, the combined company can offer our patients a full suite of health and wellness products and services, including specialty pharmacy offerings and clinics. We will be in a position to drive prescription growth through preferred relationships with EnvisionRx, other PBMs, and regional payors.

The merger is still subject to customary regulatory approvals and approval by Rite Aid shareholders, but you all likely noticed in the release that we would be rebranding most of our pharmacies as Rite Aid after the deal closes, so I want to address the exception: Jewel-Osco. Rite Aid does not operate any stores in Illinois, so we feel that maintaining the Osco brand in that market makes the best sense for the banner. Everywhere else, our stores' pharmacies will be branded as Rite Aid.

The press release also calls out that we will have dual headquarters in Boise, Idaho and Camp Hill, Pennsylvania, where Rite Aid's main offices are. I know this probably created many questions for our office team as well. As with every transaction, remember that we still have a lot of work to do between now and the time the transaction closes not only about our structure and offices, but also signage, in-store branding, systems integration, and a whole host of other things. Our priority as always is to serve our patients. Keep our focus on running great pharmacies and providing excellent patient care.

If you have any questions, feel free to email me or Dain Rusk directly.
