Proxy Statement/Prospectus filed pursuant to Rule 424(b)(3)

ZOOM TELEPHONICS, INC., A CANADIAN CORPORATION
PROXY STATEMENT

ZOOM TECHNOLOGIES, INC. (A TO-BE-FORMED DELAWARE CORPORATION)
10,556,812 SHARES OF COMMON STOCK
PROSPECTUS

We are furnishing this proxy statement/prospectus to shareholders of Zoom Telephonics, Inc., a Canadian corporation referred to as Zoom Canada in this proxy statement/prospectus, in connection with our board of directors' solicitation of proxies for use at a special meeting of the shareholders of Zoom Canada.

The meeting will be held on February 15, 2002, at 9:30 a.m., Eastern Standard Time, at our principal executive offices located at 207 South Street, Boston, Massachusetts 02111. The meeting will be simultaneously held (linked by telephone conference call) at Suite 1525, 625 Howe Street, Vancouver, B.C. V6C2TC. You may attend the meeting at either location.

The specific purpose of the special meeting is to obtain shareholder approval to change our jurisdiction of incorporation from Canada to the State of Delaware. The process necessary to accomplish this change is called a continuance in Canada and a domestication in Delaware. This process is described more fully in this proxy statement/prospectus and in the accompanying notice of special meeting of shareholders of Zoom Canada. The specific items to be voted on to complete this continuation are detailed in the form of proxy attached to this proxy statement/prospectus and in Exhibit "C" to the proxy statement/prospectus.

This proxy statement/prospectus is also a prospectus of Zoom Technologies, Inc., a to-be-formed Delaware corporation referred to as Zoom Delaware in this proxy statement/prospectus, relating to the offer and sale of shares of its common stock issuable upon the continuation of Zoom Canada as a Delaware corporation. When we complete the continuation, we will continue our legal existence in Delaware as if we had been originally incorporated under Delaware law. Each outstanding share of common stock of Zoom Canada will automatically convert into a share of common stock of Zoom Delaware.

Our common stock is currently traded on the Nasdaq Stock Market under the symbol "ZOOM". On December 14, 2001, the last reported sale price of our common stock on the Nasdaq National Market was $1.15 per share. Following the continuation, shares of our common stock will continue to trade on the Nasdaq Stock Market.

To be approved, at least two-thirds of the votes cast by our shareholders in person or by proxy at the meeting must vote in favor of the proposed continuation. We plan to complete the proposed continuation as soon as possible following approval by our shareholders. Our board of directors may, however, decide to delay the continuation or not to proceed with the continuation if they determine that the continuation is no longer advisable.

SEE "RISK FACTORS" BEGINNING ON PAGE 7 FOR A DISCUSSION OF RISKS RELATING TO THE CONTINUATION AND THE OWNERSHIP OF SHARES OF COMMON STOCK OF ZOOM DELAWARE.

NEITHER THE SEC NOR ANY STATE SECURITIES COMMISSION HAS APPROVED OR DISAPPROVED OF THESE SECURITIES OR DETERMINED IF THIS PROXY STATEMENT/PROSPECTUS IS TRUTHFUL OR COMPLETE. ANY REPRESENTATION TO THE CONTRARY IS A CRIMINAL OFFENSE.

This proxy statement/prospectus is dated December 28, 2001 and is first being mailed to shareholders on or about December 28, 2001.

SUMMARY

This summary highlights selected information contained in this proxy statement/prospectus and may not contain all of the information that is important to you. We urge you to read this entire proxy statement/prospectus carefully, including the attached exhibits. As used in this proxy statement/prospectus, the terms "we," "our", "us" and "Zoom Canada" refer to Zoom Telephonics, Inc., a Canadian corporation and the term "Zoom Delaware" refers to Zoom Technologies Inc., the Delaware corporation to-be-formed.

o ZOOM CANADA. We design, produce and market dial-up and broadband modems, wireless local area network products, and other communications products. Our primary objective is to build upon our position as a leading supplier of Internet access devices and to take advantage of a number of emerging trends in computer connectivity including Internet access, higher data rates, broadband applications, and alternatives to traditional wired local area networks. We are a Canadian holding company. Our operations are primarily carried out by our wholly owned subsidiary incorporated in Delaware. Our principal executive offices are located at 207 South Street, Boston, MA 02111. Our telephone number is (617) 423-1072.

o ZOOM DELAWARE. Zoom Delaware is a yet to-be-formed Delaware corporation which will continue the operations of Zoom Canada once the continuation is completed. Following the continuation, our principal executive offices and phone number of Zoom Delaware will be the same as those for Zoom Canada.

o THE CONTINUATION. Our board of directors is proposing that we change our jurisdiction of incorporation from Canada to the State of Delaware by means of a process called a "continuation" under Canadian law and a "domestication" under Delaware law. As a result of the continuation we will cease to be a Canadian company governed by the provisions of the Canada Business Corporations

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

Act and will become a Delaware corporation governed by the provisions of the Delaware General Corporation Law as if we had originally been incorporated in that jurisdiction. As used in this proxy statement/prospectus, the terms "continuation" and "continuance" refer to the entire continuation and domestication process we will undertake to change our jurisdiction of incorporation from Canada to Delaware.

o BOARD OF DIRECTORS' RECOMMENDATION. Our board of directors recommends that you vote in favor of the special resolution authorizing the continuation from Canada to Delaware.

o REASONS FOR THE CONTINUATION. Our board of directors believes that continuing into Delaware is in the best interest of Zoom Canada and its shareholders because they believe that the continuation will provide us with a number of benefits including:

- o Increasing our access to United States capital;
- o Reducing tax costs associated with engaging in certain types of transactions;
- o Reducing the cost and burden of complying with securities and corporate laws in both Canada and the U.S.;
- o Allowing us to take advantage of the comprehensive, modern and flexible corporate laws that Delaware and its courts have developed in dealing with corporate issues;
- o Allowing us to better compete with our peers located in the United States;
- o Increasing our ability to effectively structure acquisitions, divestitures and mergers with other United States companies; and
- o Increasing our flexibility with regard to the selection of individuals to serve on our board of directors through the removal of the requirement that a majority of our directors be residents of Canada.

o BOARD DISCRETION TO EFFECT THE CONTINUATION. In the event that the shareholders approve the special resolution, our board of directors may, at its option, elect to delay or abandon the continuation. Reasons that may cause our board of directors not to complete the continuation include:

- o if Zoom Canada were to incur significant tax liabilities;
- o if more than 1% of shareholders elect to exercise their dissenters' rights; or

- o if there arises any other circumstance which, in the discretion of the board of directors, would cause the continuation not to be in the best interests of Zoom Canada and its shareholders.

o EFFECTS OF THE CONTINUATION. The continuation will not result in any change in our business or assets, liabilities, net worth or management, nor will the continuation impair any of our creditors' rights. The continuation itself will not change your ownership percentage in Zoom Canada, although there could be a slight change resulting from shareholders who exercise their dissent rights. The continuation is not, in itself, a corporate reorganization, amalgamation or merger.

o THE SPECIAL MEETING. The meeting of shareholders will be held on February 15, 2002 at 9:30 a.m., Eastern Standard Time, at our principal executive offices located at 207 South Street, Boston, Massachusetts 02111 and simultaneously, linked by telephone conference call, at Suite 1525, 625 Howe Street, Vancouver, B.C. V6C 2TC. You may attend the meeting at either location.

o RECORD DATE; SHARES ENTITLED TO VOTE. The record date for the meeting is December 28, 2001. Shareholders of record at the close of business on the record date or transferees of such shares who produce proper evidence of ownership of such shares before February 5, 2002 and request that their name be included on the list of shareholders entitled to vote are entitled to vote at the meeting. On the record date, there were 7,860,866 outstanding shares of common stock. Each share of common stock is entitled to one vote on each matter to be acted upon or which may properly come before the meeting.

o QUORUM; VOTE REQUIRED. The approval of the continuation will require the affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of the votes represented in person or by proxy and entitled to vote at the meeting. The presence, in person or by proxy, of at least one-third of the outstanding shares of common stock of Zoom Canada is necessary to constitute a quorum at the meeting.

o SHARE OWNERSHIP OF DIRECTORS, EXECUTIVE OFFICERS AND AFFILIATES OF ZOOM CANADA. As of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, directors and executive officers of Zoom Canada owned and were entitled to vote 1,224,744 (about 15.6%) outstanding shares of our common stock. These directors and officers have expressed an intention to vote in favor of the continuation.

o REGULATORY APPROVALS. To complete the continuation, we need approvals from, and we must make filings with, governmental authorities. Specifically, the Director of the Canada Business Corporations Act must issue a letter of satisfaction that the proposed continuance will not adversely affect our creditors or shareholders. We must file a certificate of incorporation and a certificate of domestication with the Secretary of the State of Delaware to complete the continuation. Once the continuance is complete, the Director of the Canada Business Corporations Act will issue a certificate of discontinuance.

o RIGHTS OF DISSENTING SHAREHOLDERS. Under Canadian law, you may dissent with respect to the proposal to change our jurisdiction of incorporation from Canada to Delaware and be paid the fair value of your shares. To dissent and be paid, you must strictly follow the procedures described on pages 41 and 42. A copy of the section of Canadian law relating to dissenters' rights is set forth in full in Exhibit "D" to this proxy statement/prospectus. If you do not strictly follow the proper procedures, you will lose your right to dissent. You can lose your right to dissent, for example, by:

- o Voting in favor of the special resolution;
- o Failing to send in a dissent notice prior to the meeting;
- or
- o Failing to make a demand for payment within a twenty-day period after the meeting.

o CONVERSION OF SHARES. The existing share certificates representing shares of our common stock will represent an equivalent number of shares of common stock of Zoom Delaware without any action on your part. You will not have to exchange any share certificates. We will issue new certificates to you representing shares of common stock of Zoom Delaware upon transfers of shares of common stock or at your request.

o CONVERSION OF OPTIONS. The current outstanding options to purchase shares of our common stock will represent options to purchase an equivalent number of shares of common stock of Zoom Delaware for the equivalent purchase price per share without other action by our option holders. Option holders will not have to exchange their options. Option holders who are not shareholders will not have a right to vote on the special resolution.

o CANADIAN INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES. For Canadian tax purposes, on the date of continuance, we will be treated as though we sold all of our property and received the fair market value for those properties. We will be taxed on any income or gain realized on that "sale." We could be subject to an additional tax if the fair market value of our assets, net of liabilities, exceeds the paid-up capital of our issued and outstanding shares. We believe that we will not owe any Canadian federal income taxes as a result of the continuation. For a more complete discussion of the Canadian Income Tax Consequences, please see "Tax Consequences of the Transaction; Canadian Income Tax Consequences" on page 28.

o U.S. INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES. Neither Zoom Canada nor Zoom Delaware should recognize any gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a result of the continuation. Any U.S. holder whose Zoom Canada stock represents less than 10% of Zoom Canada shares outstanding and has a fair market value of less than $50,000 on the date of the continuation will likewise recognize no gain or loss as a result of the continuation. A U.S. holder whose Zoom Canada stock represents less than 10% of Zoom shares outstanding but has a fair market value of at least $50,000 on the date of the continuation must generally recognize gain (but not loss) on the continuation equal to the difference between the fair market value of the Zoom Delaware stock received at the time of the continuation over the holder's adjusted basis in the Zoom Canada stock exchanged therefor. Such a holder, however, instead of recognizing gain, may elect to include in income the "all earnings and profits amount" attributable to his or her stock in Zoom Canada, within the meaning of Treasury Regulation Section 1.367(b)-2(d). The income so included pursuant to this election generally is treated as dividend income, which in the case of individuals is taxed at the higher rates applicable to ordinary income. A U.S. holder's adjusted basis in the shares of Zoom Delaware received in the exchange will be equal to such holder's adjusted basis in the shares of Zoom Canada surrendered in the exchange, increased by the amount of gain (if any) recognized on the exchange. A U.S. holder's holding period in the shares of Zoom Delaware received in the exchange should include the period of time during which such holder held his or her shares in Zoom Canada. For a more complete discussion of the U.S. Income Tax Consequences, please see "Tax Consequences of the Transaction; United States Federal Income Tax Consequences" on page 24.

o COMPARISON OF ZOOM CANADA SHARES AND ZOOM DELAWARE SHARES. The principal attributes of the capital stock of Zoom Delaware will be similar to those of our existing shares of common stock, other than certain differences in shareholders' rights between the Canada Business Corporations Act and the Delaware General Corporation Law. You should read "Moving the Jurisdiction of Incorporation of Zoom Canada-Effects of the Continuation," on page 21, "Description of Capital Stock" on page 43 and "Comparison of Shareholders' Rights" on page 32.

o DIFFERENCES IN SHAREHOLDER RIGHTS IN CANADA AND DELAWARE. While many rights and privileges of shareholders of a Delaware corporation are similar to those of shareholders of a corporation organized under the Canada Business Corporations Act, there are some material differences between the laws in Canada and the State of Delaware, including:

- o Votes required for extraordinary transactions
- o Amendment to governing documents
- o Dissenters' rights
- o Oppression remedies
- o Derivative actions
- o Shareholder consent in lieu of a meeting
- o Shareholder quorum

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

- o Director qualifications
- o Fiduciary duties of directors
- o Indemnification of officers and directors
- o Director liability

WARNINGS REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

Some of the statements contained in this proxy statement/prospectus under the headings "Summary" and "Risk Factors," and in the documents incorporated by reference, are forward-looking made pursuant to the safe harbor provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. In essence, forward-looking statements are predictions of future events. Although we would not make forward-looking statements unless we believe we have a reasonable basis for doing so, we cannot guarantee their accuracy and actual results may differ materially from those we anticipated due to a number of uncertainties, many of which we are not aware. We urge you to consider the risks and uncertainties discussed under "Risk Factors" and in the other documents filed with the SEC that we have referred you to in evaluating our forward-looking statements.

You should understand that we have no plans to update our forward-looking statements unless otherwise required by law. Our forward-looking statements are accurate only as of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, or in the case of forward-looking statements in documents incorporated by reference, as of the date of those documents.

We identify forward-looking statements with the words "plans," "expects," "anticipates," "estimates," "may," "will," "should" and similar expressions. Examples of our forward-looking statements may include statements related to:

- o our plans, objectives, expectations and intentions;
- o the tax consequence of the continuation to you and Zoom Canada;
- o our ability to reduce the costs and burdens of complying with the laws of multiple jurisdictions as a result of continuation;
- o our ability to access capital from United States resources;
- o our ability to better compete with our peers;
- o the timing of, availability, cost of development and functionality of products under development or recently introduced;
- o our anticipated introduction of advanced cable modems and other broadband access solutions; and
- o our ability to expand our dial-up modem market share.

RISK FACTORS

In addition to the other information in this proxy statement/prospectus or incorporated in this proxy statement/prospectus by reference, you should consider carefully the following factors in evaluating our business before voting on the proposals presented. The first group of risk factors relate to risks specific to the continuation. The second group of risk factors relate to risks relating to our ongoing business operations, both before and after the continuation is completed. If any of the following risks actually occur, our business or results of operations could be seriously harmed. In that case, the trading price of our shares of common stock could decline, and you may lose part or all of your investment. The risks described below are not the only ones we face. Additional risks not presently known to us or that we currently deem immaterial may also impair our business operations.

RISKS RELATING TO THE CONTINUATION

WE MAY OWE TAXES TO CANADIAN TAXING AUTHORITIES AS A RESULT OF THE CONTINUATION IF OUR CONCLUSIONS AND ASSUMPTIONS RELATING TO OUR BUSINESS CHANGE BEFORE THE COMPLETION OF THE CONTINUATION.

For Canadian tax purposes, on the date of continuance, we will be treated as though we sold all of our property and received the fair market value for those properties. We will be taxed on any income or gain realized on that "sale." We could be subject to an additional tax if the fair market value of our assets, net of liabilities, exceeds the paid-up capital of our issued and outstanding shares.

We reviewed our assets, liabilities and paid-up capital and obtained a tax opinion from one of our tax advisors. We believe that we will not owe any Canadian federal income taxes as a result of the continuation. It is possible that the facts on which we based our assumptions and conclusions could change before the continuation is completed. We have not applied to the federal tax authorities for a ruling on this matter and do not intend to do so. We have also made certain assumptions regarding the tax treatment of this transaction in order to reach our conclusions and it may be possible for some of these assumptions to be interpreted in a different manner which would be less favorable to Zoom Canada. You should understand that it is possible that the federal tax authorities will not accept our valuations or positions and claim that we owe taxes as a result of this transaction.

ZOOM CANADA AND OUR SHAREHOLDERS MAY SUFFER ADVERSE TAX CONSEQUENCES IN THE UNITED STATES AS A RESULT OF THE CONTINUATION.

We believe that the continuation will qualify as a tax-free reorganization for Zoom Canada, Zoom Delaware, and our U.S. shareholders who own Zoom Canada shares having a fair market value of less than $50,000 at the time of the continuation. A U.S. shareholder who owns Zoom Canada shares having a fair market value of $50,000 or more at the time of the continuation, but whose stock ownership is less than 10% of Zoom Canada at that time, will recognize gain (but not loss) to the extent the fair market value of the Zoom Delaware stock received at the time of the continuation exceeds such holder's adjusted basis in the Zoom Canada stock exchanged therefor. As an alternative to recognizing such gain, however, a U.S. shareholder may elect to include in income, as a dividend, the portion of the "all earnings and profits amount" attributable to such holder's stock in Zoom Canada. The advisability of making this election will depend upon a holder's individual facts and circumstances. In addition, strict conditions and filing requirements must be satisfied in order to effectively make the election.

A U.S. holder's adjusted basis in the shares of Zoom Delaware received in the exchange will be equal to such holder's adjusted basis in the Zoom Canada shares surrendered in the exchange, increased by the amount of gain (if any) recognized on the exchange. A U.S. holder's holding period in the Zoom Delaware shares received in the exchange should include the period of time during which such holder held its shares in Zoom Canada.

We have not asked, nor do we intend to ask, for a ruling from the Internal Revenue Service that the U.S. Federal income tax consequences will be as described herein. There is always the risk that the IRS may take a contrary position and that such position, if asserted, may be upheld.

THE CONTINUATION INTO THE STATE OF DELAWARE WILL AFFECT YOUR RIGHTS AS A SHAREHOLDER.

After the continuation into Delaware, you will become a shareholder of Zoom Delaware. Currently, we are incorporated in Canada and governed by Canadian law. After the Delaware continuation, we will be incorporated in the State of Delaware and governed by Delaware law. We will have a new certificate of incorporation and bylaws. Your rights as a shareholder of a Delaware corporation will be different than your current rights as a shareholder of a Canadian corporation. You should read the section under the heading "Comparison of Shareholders' Rights" for a description of these differences. The risks of being a shareholder in Zoom Delaware as compared to a shareholder in Zoom Canada, include the following:

- o A SMALLER VOTE WILL BE REQUIRED TO AMEND GOVERNING DOCUMENTS OR TO

APPROVE IMPORTANT TRANSACTIONS IN DELAWARE;

- o YOU WILL NOT HAVE DISSENTERS' RIGHTS THAT ARE AS EXTENSIVE AS PROVIDED UNDER CANADIAN LAW;
- o YOU WILL HAVE LESS FORMAL METHODS FOR RELIEF OF OPPRESSION BY MAJORITY SHAREHOLDERS IN DELAWARE;
- o DELAWARE LAW PROVIDES FOR GREATER INDEMNIFICATION OF DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS;
- o PROVISIONS OF DELAWARE CORPORATE LAW MAY DETER TAKEOVER ATTEMPTS; AND
- o DELAWARE LAW PLACES GREATER LIMITATION ON THE LIABILITY OF DIRECTORS FOR BREACHES OF FIDUCIARY DUTY.

RISKS RELATING TO OUR CONTINUING OPERATIONS

WE ARE INCURRING AND EXPECT TO CONTINUE TO INCUR SIGNIFICANT LOSSES.

We incurred net losses of approximately $13.4 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2001, $3.1 million in fiscal 2000, $1.4 million in fiscal 1999, and $2.2 million in fiscal 1998.

We have taken cost-cutting measures, such as a reduced advertising, reduction in force, temporary wage freezes and controls on discretionary spending. These cost-cutting measures have not significantly reduced our losses. In addition, we anticipate that we will continue to incur significant expenses in the foreseeable future as we:

- o continue to develop our broadband access products, such as cable modems, and our wireless local area network and Internet gateway products; and
- o continue to make efforts to expand our sales channels to include cable service providers.

Because we expect to continue to invest in our business ahead of future revenues, we expect that we will continue to incur operating losses, at least in the near future. We cannot guarantee that our expenditures will significantly increase our revenues, if at all. If we fail to significantly increase our revenues as we implement our strategies, we may not be able to achieve profitability.

OUR OBLIGATIONS UNDER OUR EXISTING AND ANTICIPATED DEBT FACILITIES COULD PREVENT US FROM OBTAINING ADDITIONAL FINANCING AND HARM OUR LIQUIDITY.

In January 2001, we obtained a $6 million, 20 year direct reduction mortgage from a bank, secured by our owned real estate in Boston, Massachusetts. Our outstanding and anticipated indebtedness could adversely affect our ability to obtain additional financing for working capital, acquisitions or other purposes. Our existing indebtedness could also make us more vulnerable to economic downturns and competitive pressures, make it more difficult to obtain additional debt financing, and adversely affect our liquidity. In the event of a cash shortfall, we could be forced to reduce other expenditures to meet our requirements with respect to our outstanding debt. Our ability to meet our obligations will be dependent upon our future performance, which will be subject to financial, business and other factors affecting our operations. Many of these factors are beyond our control. If we are unable to generate sufficient cash flow from operations in the future to service our debt, we may be required to refinance all or a portion of these obligations or obtain additional financing in order to stay in business.

Over the next twelve months, we may require additional financing for our operations or potential acquisitions. We currently do not have a debt facility from which we can borrow. We had a $5 million line of credit that was due to expire on April 1, 2003. We never borrowed under that line of credit. We were recently notified by the lender that it was terminating the line of credit because the lender considered an event of default to have occurred as a result of our operating performance. We have contested the lender's default assertion. An alternative lender with whom we were negotiating a replacement facility notified us that in light of current market conditions and the economic uncertainties following the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks, it was withdrawing its commitment to provide us with financing. We may be unable to replace or reinstate our line of credit. Additional financing may not be available to us on a timely basis if at all, or, on terms acceptable to us. If we fail to obtain acceptable additional financing when needed, we may be required to further reduce planned expenditures or forego acquisition opportunities, which could reduce our revenues, increase our losses, and harm our business. Moreover, additional equity financing could dilute the per share value of our common stock held by current shareholders, while additional debt financing could restrict our ability to make capital expenditures or incur additional indebtedness, all of which would impede our ability to succeed.

THE SEPTEMBER 11, 2001 TERRORIST ATTACKS ON THE UNITED STATES HAD A NEGATIVE IMPACT ON SALES OF OUR PRODUCTS.

The September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks on the United States had a negative effect on the level of demand for our products. The potential near- and long-term impact these attacks may have on our suppliers and customers, markets for our products and the U.S. economy are uncertain. There may be other potential or additional adverse effects on our operating results due to this significant event that we cannot foresee. It is too early to predict the full impact that the terrorist attacks will have on our business and results of operations. We plan to closely monitor our business operations in light of this uncertainty.

OUR FAILURE TO EFFECTIVELY MANAGE OUR INVENTORY LEVELS COULD MATERIALLY AND ADVERSELY AFFECT OUR LIQUIDITY AND HARM OUR BUSINESS.

During fiscal 2000, in anticipation of future sales of our recently introduced broadband access products, particularly cable modems, we significantly increased our inventory for these products. We also built up this inventory in response to shortages of components for these products earlier in that year. Since that time, most of these component shortages have been alleviated. We have also had difficulty in generating significant orders for some of our products, particularly broadband products; and as a result we experienced a significant increase in our inventory, to $21.9 million on December 31, 2000 from $14.3 million on December 31, 1999. During fiscal 2001, we have been able to reduce our inventory levels to $9.5 million as a result of sales and raw material returns to suppliers. We have also had to write down the value of our some of inventory by $3.4 million. Our failure to effectively manage our inventory may adversely affect our liquidity and increases the risk of inventory obsolescence, a decline in market value of the inventory, or losses from theft, fire or other casualty.

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

OUR FAILURE TO MANAGE OUR CHANGING BUSINESS EFFECTIVELY WOULD HARM OUR BUSINESS.

We are managing a changing business as we attempt to grow our customer base and develop and seize market opportunities in the broadband access industry. Our changing business could place a significant strain on our senior management team and on operational and financial resources. To manage our changing business, we may need to:

- o adapt, improve or replace our existing operational and financial systems, procedures and controls;
- o hire, train, retain, motivate and manage the required personnel;
- o maintain close coordination among our sales and marketing, research and development, finance, administrative and operations personnel; and
- o identify, manage, and benefit from existing and potential strategic relationships and market opportunities.

We cannot guarantee that we will be successful in any of these endeavors. If we do not effectively manage the planning and other process control issues presented by our changing business, our business will suffer. Furthermore, if we are unable to undertake new business due to a shortage of staff or technology resources, our growth will be impeded. Therefore, there may be times when our opportunities for revenue growth may be limited by the capacity of our internal resources rather than by the absence of market demand.

CONTINUED FLUCTUATIONS IN OUR OPERATING RESULTS COULD CAUSE THE MARKET PRICE OF OUR COMMON STOCK TO FALL.

Our operating results have fluctuated in the past and are likely to fluctuate in the future. It is possible that our revenues and operating results will be below the expectations of securities analysts and investors in future quarters. If we fail to meet or surpass the expectations of securities analysts or investors, the market price of our common stock will most likely fall. Factors that have affected and may in the future affect our operating results include:

- o the overall demand for dial-up, cable and ADSL modems, wireless local area network products, Internet gateway products, and other communications products;
- o the timing of new product announcements and releases, such as our cable modems, by us and our competitors;
- o successful testing and qualification of our products, such as Cablelabs and @Home qualification of cable modems and telephone company qualification of ADSL modems;
- o variations in the number and mix of products we sell;
- o the timing of customer orders and adjustments of delivery schedules to accommodate our customers' programs;
- o the availability of components, materials and labor necessary to produce our products;
- o the timing and level of expenditures in anticipation of future sales;
- o pricing and other competitive conditions; and
- o seasonality.

OUR CUSTOMER BASE IS CONCENTRATED AND THE LOSS OF ONE OR MORE OF OUR CUSTOMERS COULD HARM OUR BUSINESS.

Relatively few customers have accounted for a significant portion of our net sales. In the nine months ended September 30, 2001, 24% of our net sales were attributable to two customers. In fiscal 2000, 26% of our net sales were attributable to two customers and in fiscal 1999, two customers represented 27% of our net sales. Because our customer base is concentrated, a loss of one or more of these significant customers or a reduction or delay in orders or a default in payment from any of our top customers could significantly reduce our sales which would materially harm our business, results of operations and financial condition.

OUR FAILURE TO MEET CHANGING CUSTOMER REQUIREMENTS AND EMERGING INDUSTRY STANDARDS WOULD ADVERSELY IMPACT OUR ABILITY TO SELL OUR PRODUCTS.

The market for PC communications products and high-speed broadband access products is characterized by rapidly changing customer demands and short product life cycles. Some of our product developments and enhancements have taken longer than planned and have delayed the availability of our products, which adversely affected our sales and profitability in the past. Any significant delays in the future may adversely impact our ability to sell our products, and our results of operations and financial condition may be adversely affected. Our future success will depend in large part upon our ability to:

- o identify and respond to emerging technological trends in the market;
- o develop and maintain competitive products that meet changing customer demands;
- o enhance our products by adding innovative features that differentiate our products from those of our competitors;
- o bring products to market on a timely basis;
- o introduce products that have competitive prices; and
- o respond effectively to new technological changes or new product announcements by others.

OUR FUTURE SUCCESS DEPENDS IN PART ON OUR ABILITY TO ENHANCE OUR EXISTING PRODUCTS AND TO DEVELOP NEW PRODUCTS.

We have developed and marketed a limited number of different product types. To date our product introductions have focused on the development and enhancement of our dial-up, cable and ADSL modems, wireless products, and other communications products. Because of the difficulties we have faced in the ADSL market, we are placing less emphasis on our ADSL products. We believe that our future success will depend in large part on our ability to enhance our existing products and to continue to develop new products, such as cable modems, which meet regulatory and customer requirements. The successful development of new products and product enhancements are subject to numerous risks, both known and unknown, including:

- o unanticipated delays;
- o high entry barriers;
- o budget overruns;
- o technical problems;
- o component shortages;
- o regulatory approval from the Federal Communications Commission and other regulatory authorities;

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

- o successful testing and qualification of our products, such as Cablelabs and @Home qualification of cable modems and telephone company qualification of ADSL modems; and
- o other difficulties that could result in the abandonment or substantial change in the commercialization of these enhancements or new products.

Our failure to introduce new products or to enhance our existing products on a timely basis has in the past and may in the future cause our stock price to fluctuate.

THE SALES CYCLE FOR SOME OF OUR PRODUCTS IS LENGTHY.

The sales cycle associated with our cable and ADSL modems and other broadband access products has been and may in the future be lengthy. In some cases, the sales cycle for our cable modems has lasted for six months to a year. Our customers generally conduct technical evaluations of competing technologies prior to the commitment of capital and other resources. In addition, purchasing decisions may be delayed because of our customers' internal budget approval procedures. Sales may also be subject to customer trials, which could last several months. Because of the lengthy sales cycle and the large size of customers' order, if orders forecasted for a specific customer for a particular quarter do not occur in that quarter, our operating results for that quarter could suffer and our business would be harmed.

OUR PRODUCT CYCLES TEND TO BE SHORT, AND WE MAY INCUR SIGNIFICANT NON-RECOVERABLE EXPENSES OR DEVOTE SIGNIFICANT RESOURCES TO SALES THAT DO NOT OCCUR WHEN ANTICIPATED.

In the rapidly changing technology environment in which we operate, product cycles tend to be short. Therefore, the resources we devote to product development, sales and marketing may not generate material revenues for us. In addition, short product cycles has resulted in and may in the future result in excess and obsolete inventory, which has had and may in the future have an adverse affect on our results of operations. We have incurred and expect in the future to incur substantial development, sales, marketing, and inventory costs. If we are unable to recover these costs, our financial condition and operating results could be adversely affected. In addition, if we sell our products at reduced prices in anticipation of cost reductions and we still have higher cost products in inventory, our business would be harmed and our results of operations and financial condition would be adversely affected.

OUR AVERAGE SELLING PRICES FOR OUR DIAL-UP MODEMS HAVE DECLINED, WHICH HAS HAD AN ADVERSE AFFECT ON OUR OPERATING RESULTS.

The dial-up modem industry has been characterized by declining average selling prices. The decline in average selling prices is due to a number of factors, including technological change and competition. As industry standards for cable and ADSL modems continue to evolve, it is likely that there will be an increased retail distribution of cable and ADSL modems, which could put further price pressure on our dial-up modems and any cable or ADSL modems that we introduce in the future. Decreasing average selling prices could result in decreased revenue even if the number of units sold increase. As a result of decreased average selling prices, we have experienced and we may in the future experience substantial period to period fluctuations in operating results.

OUR OPERATING RESULTS HAVE BEEN ADVERSELY AFFECTED BECAUSE OF PRICE PROTECTION PROGRAMS.

In 1998 and, to a lesser extent in each year since 1998, our operating results have been adversely affected by reductions in average selling prices because we gave credits given to some of our customers as a result of contractual price protection guarantees. Specifically, when we reduce the price for a product, the customer receives a credit for the difference between the customer's original purchase price and our reduced price for the product, for all unsold product at the time of the price reduction. For the nine months ended September 30, 2001, we gave approximately $145,000 in credits as a result of price protection.

WE MAY BE SUBJECT TO PRODUCT RETURNS RESULTING FROM DEFECTS IN OR OVERSTOCKING OF OUR PRODUCTS. PRODUCT RETURNS COULD RESULT IN THE FAILURE TO ATTAIN MARKET ACCEPTANCE OF OUR PRODUCTS, WHICH WOULD HARM OUR BUSINESS.

If our products contain undetected defects, errors or failures, we could face:

- o delays in the development of our products;
- o numerous product returns; and
- o other losses to us or to our customers or end users.

Any of these occurrences could also result in the loss of or delay in market acceptance of our products, either of which would reduce our sales and harm our business. We are also exposed to the risk of product returns from our customers as a result of contractual stock rotation privileges and our practice of assisting some of our customers in balancing their inventories. Overstocking has in the past led and may in the future lead to higher than normal returns.

WE MAY BE UNABLE TO PRODUCE SUFFICIENT QUANTITIES OF OUR PRODUCTS BECAUSE WE DEPEND ON THIRD PARTY MANUFACTURERS. IF THESE THIRD PARTY MANUFACTURERS FAIL TO PRODUCE QUALITY PRODUCTS IN A TIMELY MANNER, OUR ABILITY TO FULFILL OUR CUSTOMER ORDERS WOULD BE ADVERSELY IMPACTED.

We use contract manufacturers to partially manufacture our products. We use these third party manufacturers to help ensure low costs, rapid market entry and reliability. Any manufacturing disruption could impair our ability to fulfill orders. Our failure to fulfill orders would adversely affect our sales. Although we work with more than one third party manufacturer, a significant number of our products are manufactured by only one manufacturer. Since third parties manufacture our products and we expect this to continue in the future, our success will depend, in part, on the ability of third parties to manufacture our products cost effectively and in sufficient quantities to meet our customer demand.

We are subject to the following risks because of our reliance on third party manufacturers:

- o reduced management and control of component purchases;
- o reduced control over delivery schedules;
- o reduced control over quality assurance;
- o reduced control over manufacturing yields;
- o lack of adequate capacity during periods of excess demand;
- o limited warranties on products supplied to us;
- o potential increases in prices;
- o interruption of supplies from assemblers as a result of a fire, natural calamity, strike or other significant event; and
- o misappropriation of our intellectual property.

WE MAY BE UNABLE TO OBTAIN CERTAIN COMPONENTS FOR OUR DIAL-UP AND CABLE MODEMS BECAUSE OF THE HIGH DEMAND AND RELATIVELY LOW AVAILABILITY OF THESE COMPONENTS. IF WE FAIL TO OBTAIN THESE COMPONENTS OUR BUSINESS WOULD BE HARMED BECAUSE WE WOULD BE UNABLE TO MANUFACTURE CERTAIN PRODUCTS.

Periodically, there have been shortages of critical components for our products. In the first half of 2000, there were shortages of components for our cable modems, which has since been alleviated. If, in the future, we are unable to obtain required components in a timely manner or at all, we would be unable to manufacture some of our modem products and our business would be harmed.

WE MAY BE UNABLE TO PRODUCE SUFFICIENT QUANTITIES OF OUR PRODUCTS BECAUSE WE OBTAIN CERTAIN KEY COMPONENTS FROM, AND DEPEND ON, CERTAIN SOLE OR LIMITED SOURCE SUPPLIERS.

We obtain certain key parts, components and equipment from sole or limited sources of supply. For example, we obtain modem chipsets from Conexant Systems (formerly Rockwell) and Agere Systems (formerly Lucent Technologies). In the past, we have experienced delays in receiving shipments of modem chipsets from our sole source suppliers. We may experience similar delays in the future. Any interruption in the operations of our suppliers of sole or limited source parts could affect our ability to meet our scheduled product deliveries to our customers.

Our business would be harmed if any of our sole or limited source suppliers:

- o fail to produce chipset enhancements or new chipsets on a timely basis;
- o stop selling their products or components to us at commercially reasonable prices; or
- o refuse to sell their products or components to us at any price.

IF WE ARE UNABLE TO OBTAIN COMPONENTS FROM OUR SOLE OR LIMITED SOURCE SUPPLIERS, WE WOULD BE UNABLE TO SHIP OUR PRODUCTS IN A TIMELY MANNER AND OUR RELATIONSHIPS WITH OUR CUSTOMERS WOULD BE HARMED.

If we are unable to obtain a sufficient supply of components from our current sources, we could experience difficulties in obtaining alternative sources or in altering product designs to use alternative components. Resulting delays or reductions in product shipments could damage relationships with our customers and our customers could decide to purchase products from our competitors. Inability to meet our customers' demand or a decision by one or more of our customers to purchase products from our competitors could harm our operating results.

SALES OF OUR PRODUCTS DEPEND ON THE WIDESPREAD ADOPTION OF BROADBAND ACCESS PRODUCTS. IF THE DEMAND FOR BROADBAND ACCESS SERVICES DOES NOT DEVELOP, THEN OUR RESULTS OF OPERATIONS AND FINANCIAL CONDITION COULD BE ADVERSELY AFFECTED.

Although we are continuing to enhance our existing dial-up modems, wireless products and other communications products, our growth will be strongly affected by our sale of cable modems and other broadband access products. We have invested, and are continuing to invest, substantial resources to produce and develop our inventory of cable modems and other broadband access products. We may be unable to generate significant revenues from sales of our broadband access products and we will have expended significant resources on products for which we are generating limited or no revenues, if:

- o the market for broadband access products, such as cable modems, does not develop further or develops slower than we expect;
- o we do not market our broadband access products effectively;
- o we are unable to expand our distribution channels for our broadband access products; or
- o our broadband access products do not obtain market acceptance.

Certain critical factors will likely affect our ability to develop a market and obtain market acceptance for our broadband access products. These factors include:

- o quality and reliability of service;

- o availability of cost-effective, high-speed service;
- o ability to integrate business applications on the Internet;
- o interoperability among multiple vendors' network equipment;
- o lack of congestion in service providers' networks;
- o adequate security; and
- o ability to meet growing demands for increasing bandwidth.

WE MAY BE UNABLE TO RECOUP OUR INVESTMENTS IN RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT OF NEW PRODUCTS.

The technical innovations required for us to remain competitive in the broadband access industry are complex, require long development cycles, and entail a significant amount of research and development expenditures. We have invested and will continue in the future to invest in research and development to develop new products and to enhance our existing technologies and products. In fiscal 1998, 1999, and 2000 we incurred $4.4 million, $6.4 million, and $6.2 million in research and development costs. In the nine months ended September 30, 2001, we incurred $4.2 in research and development costs, an 11% decrease from the same period in fiscal 2000. Overall, growth in our research and development activities is primarily related to our initiatives in the broadband, advanced networking and Internet gateway product areas. We will have incurred and expect to continue to incur most of our research and development expenses before the technical feasibility or commercial viability of our enhanced or new products can be ascertained. Revenues from our future or enhanced products may be insufficient to recover our associated research and development costs.

WE MAY BE UNABLE TO MAINTAIN OR INCREASE OUR SALES THROUGH OUR EXISTING OR NEW SALES CHANNELS.

We have primarily sold our dial-up modem products through high-volume retailers, independent distributors, and original equipment manufacturers, also known as OEMs. Sales to each of these distribution channels subject us to the following risks which, if they materialize, would significantly reduce sales of our products.

Retailers:

Our sales to retailers have historically constituted the largest percentage of our net sales. Due to competition for limited shelf space, retailers have the ability to negotiate favorable terms of sale, including price discounts and product return policies. We may be unable to maintain or increase our sales to retailers on favorable terms, if at all.

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

Independent Distributors:

Our independent distributors generally are not contractually committed to future purchases of our products and may carry our competitors' products. One or more of our distributors could discontinue carrying our products at any time.

OEMS:

OEMs may require special distribution arrangements and product pricing. We may be unsuccessful in developing products for sales to OEMs or maintaining or increasing sales to OEMs on favorable terms.

THE MARKET FOR HIGH-SPEED COMMUNICATIONS PRODUCTS AND SERVICES HAS MANY COMPETING TECHNOLOGIES AND, AS A RESULT, THE DEMAND FOR OUR PRODUCTS AND SERVICES IS UNCERTAIN.

The market for high-speed communications products and services has a number of competing technologies. For instance, Internet access can be achieved by:

- o using a standard telephone line and appropriate service for dial-up modems, ISDN modems, or ADSL modems, possibly in combination;
- o using a cable modem with a cable TV line and cable modem service; using a router to service the computers connected to a local area network; or
- o other approaches, including wireless links to the Internet.

Although we currently sell or plan to sell products which include these technologies described the market for high-speed communication products and services is fragmented and still in its development stage. The introduction of new products by competitors, market acceptance of products based on new or alternative technologies, or the emergence of new industry standards could render and have in the past rendered our products less competitive or obsolete. If any of these events occur, we may be unable to sustain or grow our business. In addition, if any of one or more of the alternative technologies gain market share at the expense of another technology, demand for our products may be reduced, and we may be unable to sustain or grow our business.

WE FACE SIGNIFICANT COMPETITION, WHICH COULD RESULT IN DECREASED DEMAND FOR OUR PRODUCTS OR SERVICES.

We may be unable to compete successfully. A number of companies have developed, or are expected to develop, products that compete or will compete with our products. Furthermore, many of our current and potential competitors have significantly greater resources than we do. Intense competition, rapid technological change and evolving industry standards could decrease demand for our products or make our products obsolete.

Our competitors by product group include the following:

- o DIAL-UP MODEM COMPETITORS: U.S. Robotics, Actiontec, Askey, Best Data, Creative Labs, Elsa, GVC, Intel, and SONICblue.
- o CABLE MODEM COMPETITORS: Ericsson, Motorola, Samsung, Scientific Atlanta, Toshiba and Thomson.

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

- o ADSL MODEM COMPETITORS: Siemens (formerly Efficient Networks) and Westell.
- o WIRELESS LOCAL AREA NETWORK COMPETITORS: 3Com, Agere, Cisco, Intel, Linksys, Proxim and D-Link.

The principal competitive factors in our industry include the following:

- o product performance, features and reliability;
- o price;
- o product availability and lead times;
- o size and stability of operations;
- o breadth of product line;
- o sales and distribution capability;
- o ease of use and technical support and service;
- o relationships with providers of broadband access services; and
- o compliance with industry standards.

OUR BUSINESS IS DEPENDENT ON THE INTERNET AND THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE INTERNET INFRASTRUCTURE.

Our success will depend in large part on increased use of the Internet to increase the demand for high-speed communications products. Critical issues concerning the commercial use of the Internet remain largely unresolved and are likely to affect the development of the market for our products. These issues include security, reliability, cost, ease of access and quality of service.

Our success also will depend on the continued growth of the use of the Internet by businesses, particularly for applications that utilize multimedia content and that require high bandwidth. The recent growth in the use of the Internet has caused frequent periods of performance degradation. This has required the upgrade of routers, telecommunications links and other components forming the infrastructure of the Internet by Internet service providers and other organizations with links to the Internet.

Any perceived degradation in the performance of the Internet as a whole could undermine the benefits of our products. Potentially increased performance provided by our products and the products of others ultimately is limited by and reliant upon the speed and reliability of the Internet backbone itself. Consequently, the emergence and growth of the market for our products will depend on improvements being made to the entire Internet infrastructure to alleviate overloading.

The jurisdiction of the Federal Communications Commission, or the FCC, extends to the entire United States communications industry including our customers and their products and services that incorporate our products. Our products are also required to meet the regulatory requirements of Industry Canada and other countries throughout the world where our products are sold. Obtaining government regulatory approvals is time-consuming and very costly. In the past, we have encountered delays in the introduction of our products, such as our cable modems, as a result of government certifications. We may face further delays if we are unable to comply with governmental regulations. Delays caused by the time it takes to comply with regulatory requirements may result in cancellations or postponements of product orders or purchases by our customers, which would harm our business.

OUR INTERNATIONAL OPERATIONS ARE SUBJECT TO A NUMBER OF RISKS INHERENT IN INTERNATIONAL ACTIVITIES.

Our international sales accounted for approximately 29% of our revenues in fiscal 1999, 28% in fiscal 2000 and 35% in the nine months ended September 30, 2001. The revenues we received from international sales were significantly impacted by our Hayes European operation, which we began operating in March 1999. Currently our operations are significantly dependent on our international operations and may be materially and adversely affected by many factors including:

- o international regulatory and communications requirements and policy changes;
- o favoritism towards local suppliers;
- o difficulties in inventory management, accounts receivable collection and the management of distributors or representatives;
- o difficulties in staffing and managing foreign operations;
- o political and economic changes and disruptions;
- o governmental currency controls;
- o shipping costs;
- o currency exchange rate fluctuations; and
- o tariff regulations.

We anticipate that our international sales will continue to account for a significant percentage of our revenues. If foreign markets for our current and future products develop more slowly than currently anticipated or if foreign countries decide not to construct the infrastructure necessary to operate broadband access products, our future results of operations may be harmed.

FLUCTUATIONS IN THE FOREIGN CURRENCY EXCHANGE RATES IN RELATION TO THE U.S. DOLLAR COULD HAVE A MATERIAL ADVERSE EFFECT ON OUR OPERATING RESULTS.

Changes in currency exchange rates that increase the relative value of the U.S. dollar may make it more difficult for us to compete with foreign manufacturers on price or otherwise have a material adverse effect on our sales and operating results. A significant increase in our foreign denominated sales would increase our risk associated with foreign currency fluctuations.

OUR FUTURE SUCCESS WILL DEPEND ON THE CONTINUED SERVICES OF OUR EXECUTIVE OFFICERS AND KEY RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT PERSONNEL WITH EXPERTISE IN HARDWARE AND SOFTWARE DEVELOPMENT.

The loss of any of our executive officers or key research and development personnel, the inability to attract or retain qualified personnel in the future or delays in hiring skilled personnel could harm our business. Competition for personnel, particularly hardware and software engineers and other technical personnel, is extremely intense. We may be unable to attract and retain all the personnel necessary for the development of our business. In addition, the loss of Frank B. Manning, our president and chief executive officer, or Peter Kramer, our executive vice president, some other member of the management team, a key engineer or other key individual contributors, could harm our relations with our customers, our ability to respond to technological change, and our business.

OUR BUSINESS MAY BE HARMED BY ACQUISITIONS WE MAY COMPLETE IN THE FUTURE.

We may pursue acquisitions of related businesses, technologies, product lines or products. Our identification of suitable acquisition candidates involves risk inherent in assessing the values, strengths, weaknesses, risks and profitability of acquisition candidates, including the effects of the possible acquisition on our business, diversion of our management's attention, risk of increased leverage, shareholder dilution, and risk associated with unanticipated problems or latent liabilities.

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

WE HAVE HAD AND MAY IN THE FUTURE HAVE DIFFICULTY PROTECTING OUR INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY.

Our ability to compete is heavily affected by our ability to protect our intellectual property. We rely primarily on trade secret laws, confidentiality procedures, patents, copyrights, trademarks, and licensing arrangements to protect our intellectual property. The steps we take to protect our technology may be inadequate. Existing trade secret, trademark and copyright laws offer only limited protection. Our patents could be invalidated or circumvented. The laws of some foreign countries in which our products are or may be developed, manufactured or sold may not protect our products or intellectual property rights to the same extent as do the laws of the United States. This may make the possibility of piracy of our technology and products more likely. We cannot assure that the steps that we have taken to protect our intellectual property will be adequate to prevent misappropriation of our technology.

WE COULD INFRINGE THE INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS OF OTHERS.

Particular aspects of our technology could be found to infringe on the intellectual property rights or patents of others. Other companies may hold or obtain patents on inventions or may otherwise claim proprietary rights to technology necessary to our business. We cannot predict the extent to which we may be required to seek licenses. We cannot assure that the terms of any licenses we may be required to seek will be reasonable.

OUR EXECUTIVE OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS MAY CONTROL CERTAIN MATTERS TO BE VOTED ON BY THE SHAREHOLDERS. THESE OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS MAY VOTE IN A MANNER THAT IS NOT IN YOUR BEST INTERESTS.

Our executive officers and directors beneficially own, in the aggregate, approximately 22.4% of our outstanding common stock. As a result, in practicality, these shareholders control certain matters to be voted on by the shareholders. These matters include the election of directors, amendments to our articles of continuance and approval of significant corporate transactions, such as the continuation contemplated by this proxy statement/prospectus. These executive officers and directors may vote as shareholders in a manner that is not in your best interests.

THE VOLATILITY OF OUR STOCK PRICE COULD ADVERSELY AFFECT YOUR INVESTMENT IN OUR COMMON STOCK.

The market price of our common stock has been and may continue to be highly volatile. We believe that a variety of factors have caused and could in the future cause the stock price of our common stock to fluctuate, including:

- o announcements of developments related to our business, including announcements of certification by the FCC or other regulatory authorities of our products or our competitors products;
- o quarterly fluctuations in our actual or anticipated operating results and order levels;
- o general conditions in the worldwide economy;
- o announcements of technological innovations;

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

- o new products or product enhancements introduced by us or our competitors;
- o developments in patents or other intellectual property rights and litigation; and
- o developments in our relationships with our customers and suppliers.

In addition, in recent years the stock market in general and the markets for shares of small capitalization and "high-tech" companies in particular, have experienced extreme price fluctuations which have often been unrelated to the operating performance of affected companies. Any fluctuations in the future could adversely affect the market price of our common stock and the market price of our common stock may decline.

BECAUSE WE CURRENTLY ARE A CANADIAN CORPORATION, WE ARE SUBJECT TO LAWS THAT MAY HAVE THE EFFECT OF DELAYING OR PREVENTING A CHANGE IN CONTROL OF OUR COMPANY.

An investment in our common stock that results in a change of control may be subject to the review and approval of the Canadian governmental authorities. If the Canadian governmental authorities have to approve and review an investment that may result in a change of control, the investment will be delayed and possibly prevented.

Generally, under the Canada Business Corporations Act, at least one-third of our directors and any committees of the board of directors must be Canadian residents. If we earn more than five percent of our gross revenues in Canada, then a majority of our directors and any committees of the board of directors must be Canadian residents.

If the continuation is completed, this will no longer be a risk to you or our company.

THE SPECIAL MEETING

GENERAL

This proxy statement/prospectus is being furnished to our shareholders in connection with the solicitation by our board of directors of proxies for use at the special meeting to be held at our principal executive offices located at 207 South Street, Boston, Massachusetts 02111, at 9:30 a.m., Eastern Standard Time, on February 15, 2002. The meeting will be simultaneously held (linked by telephone conference call) at Suite 1525, 625 Howe Street, Vancouver, B.C. V6C 2TC. You may attend the meeting at either location. The approximate date of mailing this proxy statement/prospectus and the accompanying proxy card to our shareholders is December 28, 2001.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS HAS UNANIMOUSLY APPROVED THE CONTINUATION OF

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

ZOOM CANADA FROM CANADA TO DELAWARE. THE BOARD RECOMMENDS THAT YOU VOTE IN FAVOR OF THE SPECIAL RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING ZOOM CANADA TO CHANGE ITS JURISDICTION OF INCORPORATION FROM CANADA TO DELAWARE BY WAY OF A CONTINUATION IN CANADA AND A DOMESTICATION IN DELAWARE.

RECORD DATE

The board has set the close of business on December 28, 2001, as the record date for the special meeting. The only holders entitled to vote at the meeting will be holders of shares of record as of December 28, 2001 or transferees of such shares who produce proper evidence of ownership of such shares before February 5, 2002 and request that their name be included on the list of shareholders entitled to vote at the meeting. If you are included on that list, you may vote your shares at the meeting, but the previous owners may not.

QUORUM AND REQUIRED VOTE

As of December 28, 2001, 7,860,866 shares of common stock of Zoom Canada were issued and outstanding. Each share has the right to one vote on each matter that properly comes before the meeting.

The presence, in person or by proxy, of at least one-third of the outstanding shares of common stock of Zoom Canada is necessary to constitute a quorum at the meeting. If your proxy indicates that you wish to abstain from voting on approval of any matter, your shares will be considered present at the meeting for purposes of determining a quorum, but your votes will not be cast with respect to that matter. An abstention will therefore reduce the number of votes required for approval of the continuation.

To approve the continuation, the special resolution must be approved by at least two-thirds of the votes cast at the meeting by shareholders present in person or by proxy and entitled to vote at the meeting. A copy of the special resolution is attached to this proxy statement/prospectus as Exhibit "C". In the event that the shareholders do not approve the continuation, we will continue to be a corporation governed by the Canada Business Corporation Act. In the event that the shareholders approve the special resolution, the board of directors may, in its discretion, postpone or abandon the continuation. Our board of directors has not considered any alternative action if the continuation is not approved.

SOLICITATION AND REVOCATION OF PROXIES

In order to vote your shares at the meeting, you must attend the meeting or appoint a proxy to vote on your behalf. You will find a form of proxy that accompanies the notice of special meeting and this proxy statement/prospectus. In order for your proxy to be valid and used at the meeting, it must be received by Georgeson Shareholder Communications, Inc., 111 Commerce Road, Carlstadt, NJ 07072, no later than 5:00 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, on the business day prior to the meeting or, if the meeting is adjourned or postponed, no later than 5:00 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, on the second business day prior to the adjourned or postponed meeting.

Proxies will be solicited primarily by mail and may also be solicited by our directors or officers. The cost of such solicitation will be borne by Zoom Canada.

All shares represented at the meeting by properly executed proxies will be voted in accordance with the instructions specified on the proxy card. IF NO SUCH SPECIFICATION IS MADE, AND IF THE PROXY CARD NAMES THE MANAGEMENT DESIGNEES, THEY WILL VOTE IN FAVOR OF THE CONTINUATION. The management designees are our directors and officers and they have indicated their willingness to represent you.

THE ENCLOSED PROXY CARD, WHEN PROPERLY SIGNED, CONFERS DISCRETIONARY AUTHORITY TO THE PERSON NAMED WITH RESPECT TO AMENDMENTS OR VARIATIONS OF MATTERS IDENTIFIED IN THE NOTICE OF MEETING AND ANY OTHER MATTERS WHICH MAY PROPERLY BE BROUGHT BEFORE THE MEETING. AS OF THE DATE HEREOF, WE ARE NOT AWARE THAT ANY AMENDMENTS OR OTHER MATTERS ARE TO BE PRESENTED AT THE MEETING. HOWEVER, IF ANY OTHER MATTERS WHICH ARE NOT CURRENTLY KNOWN TO MANAGEMENT SHOULD PROPERLY COME BEFORE THE MEETING, THEN THE PROXIES NAMED ON THE PROXY CARD INTEND TO VOTE IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE JUDGMENT OF MANAGEMENT.

If your proxy indicates that you wish to abstain from voting on approval of any matter, your shares will be considered present at the meeting for purposes of determining a quorum, but your votes will not be cast with respect to that matter. An abstention will therefore reduce the number of votes required for approval of the continuation.

Each shareholder may vote in person or by proxy. To be valid, a proxy card must be signed by the shareholder or by the shareholder's attorney, duly authorized in writing.

YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO APPOINT A PERSON, WHO DOES NOT NEED TO BE A SHAREHOLDER, TO ATTEND THE MEETING AND ACT ON YOUR BEHALF AT THE MEETING. YOU DO NOT NEED TO APPOINT THE PERSONS DESIGNATED IN THE ENCLOSED FORM OF PROXY WHO ARE OFFICERS OR DIRECTORS OF ZOOM CANADA. You may do so by striking out the names of the persons designated on the enclosed proxy card and by inserting in the blank space provided for that purpose the name of the desired person or by completing another proper form of proxy. A shareholder who has given a proxy may revoke it at any time before its use by:

- o completing, signing, dating and delivering a new form of proxy no later than 5:00 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, on the day before the meeting; or
- o personally attending the meeting and voting in person; or
- o sending an instrument in writing signed by the shareholder or by his duly authorized attorney to Georgeson Shareholder Communications, 111 Commerce Road, Carlstadt, NJ 07072 or the registered office of Zoom Canada, c/o Zoom Telephonics, Inc., Suite 1525, 625 Howe Street, Vancouver, B.C V6C 2TC, prior to the last business day prior to the meeting or, if the meeting is adjourned or postponed, no later than the second business prior to the adjourned or postponed meeting; or
- o giving an instrument in writing signed by the shareholder or his duly authorized attorney to the chairman of the meeting on the day of the meeting or any adjournment thereof.

NON-REGISTERED SHAREHOLDERS

Non-Registered shareholders should follow the directions of their intermediaries with respect to the procedures to be followed for voting. Generally, non-registered shareholders will not receive the same proxy form as distributed by Zoom Canada to registered shareholders but will be provided with either a request for voting instructions or a proxy form executed by the intermediary but otherwise uncompleted. Intermediaries will then submit votes on behalf of the non-registered shareholder. If you are a non-registered shareholder, please submit your voting instructions to your intermediary in sufficient time to ensure that your votes are received by Zoom Canada on or before 5:00 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, on February 14, 2002.

MOVING THE JURISDICTION OF INCORPORATION OF ZOOM CANADA

THE CONTINUATION

We intend to change our jurisdiction of incorporation from Canada to the United States by means of a process called a continuance in Canada and a domestication in the State of Delaware. Domestication is available to non-United States corporations under Section 388 of the Delaware General Corporation Law. Simultaneously with the domestication, we will apply for a certificate of discontinuance under Section 188(7) of the Canada Business Corporations Act, which will end Zoom Canada's existence in Canada. After the special meeting, we will file the appropriate documents with both Delaware and Canada and then Zoom Canada will become a Delaware corporation.

The proposal to be voted on at the meeting relates to the approval of a special resolution which would authorize us to do the following:

- o continue Zoom Canada as Zoom Delaware under Delaware law and simultaneously discontinue Zoom Canada's existence in Canada under Canadian law;
- o approve the certificate of incorporation, which will be filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware along with a certificate of domestication, which are attached as Exhibits "E" and "F" to this proxy statement/prospectus;
- o approve the Bylaws of Zoom Delaware in the form of Exhibit "G" attached to this proxy statement/prospectus;
- o authorize us to apply to the Director of the Canada Business Corporations Act for a letter of satisfaction and certificate of discontinuance; and
- o authorize our directors, in their discretion, to postpone or abandon the continuation, following approval by the shareholders without seeking shareholder consent to such a postponement or abandonment.

A copy of the special resolution is attached to this proxy statement/prospectus as Exhibit "C".

PROCEDURES TO COMPLETE THE CONTINUATION

Under Canadian law, a corporation may apply to another jurisdiction requesting to be continued as if it had been incorporated under the laws of that other jurisdiction. An application for continuance requires approval by at least two-thirds of the votes cast by shareholders present in person or represented by proxy at the meeting and satisfaction of the Director of the Canada Business Corporations Act that the proposed continuance will not adversely affect creditors or shareholders of the corporation. For Zoom Canada to change its jurisdiction of incorporation from Canada to Delaware, it must file in Delaware a certificate of incorporation that complies with Delaware law and a certificate of domestication.

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

Once the Delaware filings have been made, the Director of the Canada Business Corporations Act will be requested to issue a certificate of discontinuance. Upon issuance of the certificate of discontinuance, Canadian law will cease to apply. Upon filing these documents, we become subject to Delaware law, but retain our original incorporation date in Canada as our official incorporation date for purposes of Delaware law. In addition, Delaware law provides explicitly that the change of domicile does not affect any of our liabilities incurred prior to domestication. Simultaneously with the domestication in Delaware, the existence of Zoom Canada will be terminated.

EFFECTS OF THE CONTINUATION

APPLICABLE LAW. As of the effective date of the continuation, our legal jurisdiction of incorporation will be Delaware, and the continuing corporation, Zoom Delaware, will no longer be subject to the corporate governance provisions of the Canada Business Corporations Act. All matters of corporate governance of Zoom Delaware will be determined under the Delaware General Corporation Law. Zoom Delaware will retain the original incorporation date of Zoom Canada in Canada as Zoom Delaware's date of incorporation for purposes of the Delaware General Corporation Law.

ASSETS, LIABILITIES, OBLIGATIONS, ETC. Under Delaware Law, as of the effective date of the continuation, all of our assets, property, rights, liabilities and obligations immediately prior to the continuation will continue to be the assets, property, rights, liabilities and obligations of Zoom Delaware. Canadian law ceases to apply to us on the date shown on the certificate of discontinuance to be issued by the Director of the Canada Business Corporations Act. On the effective date of the continuation:

- o the property of Zoom Canada will continue to be the property of Zoom Delaware;
- o Zoom Delaware will continue to be liable for the obligations of Zoom Canada;
- o an existing cause of action, claim or liability to prosecution against Zoom Canada will be unaffected;
- o a civil, criminal or administrative action or proceeding pending by or against Zoom Canada may be continued to be prosecuted by or against Zoom Delaware; and
- o a ruling, order or judgment in favor of or against Zoom Canada may be enforced by or against Zoom Delaware.

CAPITAL STOCK. Once the change in jurisdiction is completed, holders of shares of Zoom Canada common stock instead will own one share of Zoom Delaware common stock for each share of common stock held before the move. The existing certificates representing Zoom Canada's common stock will not be canceled. Holders of options to purchase Zoom Canada's common stock on the date of the move will continue to hold options to purchase an identical number of shares of Zoom Delaware common stock.

The principal attributes of Zoom Delaware common stock and Zoom Canada common stock are comparable, but there are material differences in shareholder rights. See "Comparison of Shareholders' Rights" and "Description of Capital Stock."

BUSINESS AND OPERATIONS. The continuation, if approved, will effect a change in the legal jurisdiction of incorporation of Zoom Canada as of the effective date thereof, but Zoom Canada will not change its business or operations after the effective date of the continuation as Zoom Delaware.

DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS. The directors and officers of Zoom Delaware immediately following the continuance will be identical to the current directors and officers of Zoom Canada. See "Our Directors and Executive Officers." As of the effective date of the continuation, the election, duties, resignation and removal of Zoom Canada directors and officers shall be governed by the Delaware General Corporation Law, the certificate of incorporation and the bylaws of Zoom Delaware.

NASDAQ LISTING. Zoom Canada's common stock is currently listed and quoted on the Nasdaq National Market under the symbol "ZOOM." We intend to continue to use the same symbol following the continuation.

BACKGROUND TO AND PRINCIPAL REASONS FOR THE CHANGE IN JURISDICTION OF INCORPORATION

Our board of directors believes that it is desirable for us to continue our corporate existence under the laws of the State of Delaware for the following reasons:

IMPROVING MARKET ACCESS. Our primary sources of capital in recent years have been in the United States. We believe that more opportunities and capital would be available to us if we were a United States corporation.

REDUCED TAX COSTS OF CERTAIN TRANSACTIONS. Currently, if we were to issue securities such as convertible debt and preferred stock, there is an additional cost because of a withholding tax on interest and dividend payments that pass between the United States and Canada. Since all of our assets and operations are conducted through our wholly owned U.S. subsidiary, any funding of dividend or interest payments result in the transfer of funds between this U.S. subsidiary and Zoom Canada. Similarly, even though we do not currently intend to pay any dividends, there would be a withholding tax on any dividends declared and paid on our common shares. These costs would be eliminated after the move to Delaware.

BETTER COMPARISON WITH PEERS. Since most of our business is conducted in the United States, the market generally compares us to similarly-sized United States companies. By incorporating in Delaware and no longer being a foreign corporation operating in the United States, we believe we will be able to better compete with our competitors.

LESS RESTRICTIVE GOVERNING LAW. Canadian law requires that at least one-third of our directors be Canadian residents. If we earn more than five percent of our gross revenues in Canada, then a majority of our directors and any committees of the board of directors must be Canadian residents. We have been able to attract qualified Canadian residents to serve on our board, but this requirement reduces our flexibility with regard to our selection of directors. Delaware law does not impose a similar requirement, and thus the continuation will provide us with greater flexibility in the future with respect to the composition of our board of directors.

Furthermore, since over 50% of our stock is held by United States residents and we are listed on the Nasdaq Stock Market, we must abide by most United States securities and stock exchange requirements, as though we were a United States company. We also expect to realize some savings in administrative time and expense by a change of our jurisdiction of incorporation to the United States because we will only have to comply with the laws of the United States and not the laws of both the United States and Canada.

SELECTION OF THE STATE OF DELAWARE. For many years, Delaware has followed a policy of encouraging incorporation in that state and, in furtherance of that policy, has adopted comprehensive, modern and flexible corporate laws which are periodically updated and revised to meet changing business needs. As a result of this deliberate policy to provide a hospitable climate for corporate development, many major corporations have initially chosen Delaware for their domicile, or have subsequently reincorporated in, continued into or domesticated in Delaware. In addition, the Delaware courts have developed considerable expertise in dealing with corporate issues, and a substantial amount of case law has developed construing Delaware law and establishing specific legal principles and policies with respect to Delaware corporations. Not only has this served to provide greater legal predictability with respect to the corporate legal affairs of Delaware corporations, but it has also given Delaware an important role in respect of the corporate laws of the United States generally inasmuch as many of its principles and policies have been adopted by, and become important precedents for the laws of, other states.

Our board of directors has unanimously approved the continuance out of Canada and domestication of Zoom Canada under the provisions of the Canada and Delaware law, and recommends that you vote FOR this proposal.

TAX CONSEQUENCES OF THE CONTINUATION

GENERAL

The following sections summarize material provisions of Canadian and United States federal income tax laws that may affect us and our shareholders. Although this summary discusses the material Canadian and United States federal income tax considerations arising from and relating to the continuance, it does not purport to discuss all of the United States and Canadian tax consequences that may be relevant to our shareholders, nor will it apply to the same extent or in the same way to all shareholders. The summary does not describe the effect of the U.S. federal estate tax laws or the effects of any state, local, or provincial tax law, rule or regulation, nor is any information provided as to the effect of any other U.S. federal or foreign tax law, other than the income tax laws of the United States and Canada to the extent specifically set forth herein.

The tax discussion set forth below is based upon the facts set out in this proxy statement/prospectus and upon additional information possessed by our management and upon representations of our management. The tax discussion is included for general information purposes only. It is not intended to be, nor should it be construed to be, legal or tax advice to any particular shareholder. The following does not address all aspects of taxation that may be relevant to you in light of your individual circumstances and tax situation. OUR SHAREHOLDERS ARE STRONGLY ADVISED AND ARE EXPECTED TO CONSULT WITH THEIR OWN LEGAL AND TAX ADVISOR REGARDING THE U.S. AND CANADIAN INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES OF THE CONTINUATION IN LIGHT OF THEIR PARTICULAR CIRCUMSTANCES.

UNITED STATES FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES.

This portion of the summary applies to U.S. holders who own common shares of Zoom Canada as capital assets. U.S. holders include individual citizens or residents of the United States, and corporations (or entities treated as corporations for U.S. federal income tax purposes) and partnerships organized under the laws of the United States or any State thereof or the

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

District of Columbia. Trusts are U.S. holders if they are subject to the primary supervision of a U.S. court and the control of one or more U.S. persons with respect to substantial trust decisions. An estate is a U.S. holder if the income of the estate is subject to U.S. federal income taxation regardless of the source of the income. U.S. holders who own interests in Zoom Canada indirectly through one or more non-U.S. entities or carry on business outside the United States through a permanent establishment or fixed place of business, or U.S. holders who hold an interest in Zoom Canada other than as a common shareholder, should consult with their tax advisors regarding their particular tax consequences.

This summary also describes certain U.S. federal income tax consequences to Canadian holders following the continuation, who are specifically those persons resident in Canada who own common shares of Zoom Canada as capital assets. The discussion is limited to the U.S. federal income tax consequences to Canadian holders of their ownership and disposition of the common shares of Zoom Canada as a result of the continuation and assumes the Canadian holders have no other U.S. assets or activities.

This discussion is based on the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, adopted and proposed regulations thereunder, Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") rulings and pronouncements, reports of congressional committees, judicial decisions, and current administrative practice, all of which are subject to change, perhaps with retroactive effect. Any such change could alter the tax consequences discussed below. No ruling from the IRS will be requested concerning the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the continuation. The tax consequences set forth in the following discussion are not binding on the IRS or the courts and no assurance can be given that contrary positions will not be successfully asserted by the IRS or adopted by a court.

As indicated above, this discussion does not address all aspects of U.S. federal income taxation that may be relevant to particular U.S. holders in light of their personal circumstances or to U.S. holders subject to special treatment under the U.S. Internal Revenue Code, including, without limitation, banks, financial institutions, insurance companies, tax-exempt organizations, broker-dealers, S corporations, individual retirement and other deferred accounts, application of the alternative minimum tax rules, holders who received Zoom Canada stock as compensation, persons who hold notes or stock as part of a hedge, conversion, or constructive sale transaction, straddle, or other risk-reduction transaction, persons that have a "functional currency" other than the U.S. dollar, and persons subject to taxation as expatriates. Furthermore, this discussion does not address the tax consequences applicable to holders that are treated as partnerships or other pass-through entities for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

This summary does not address the U.S. federal income tax consequences to a U.S. holder of the ownership, exercise or disposition of any warrants or compensatory options. This discussion also does not address the U.S. federal income tax consequences applicable to U.S. holders who own or owned (directly or indirectly) 10% or more, by vote or value, of the stock of Zoom Canada at the time of the Delaware continuation. As of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, we are unaware of any shareholder who owns, directly or indirectly, 10% or more of the stock of Zoom Canada.

U.S. TAX CONSEQUENCES TO ZOOM CANADA

The Delaware continuation of Zoom Canada should be treated as the transfer by Zoom Canada of its assets to Zoom Delaware in exchange for Zoom Delaware stock, followed by Zoom Canada's distribution of such stock to its shareholders, and then the exchange by Zoom Canada's shareholders of their Zoom Canada stock for Zoom Delaware stock. Neither Zoom Canada nor Zoom Delaware should recognize any gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a result of the continuation. Note, however, there may be adverse Canadian tax consequences to Zoom Canada as discussed below under "Canadian Federal Income Tax Considerations - Zoom Canada Consequences."

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

U.S. TAX CONSEQUENCES TO U.S. SHAREHOLDERS

U.S. HOLDERS WHOSE STOCK HAS A FAIR MARKET VALUE OF LESS THAN $50,000. A U.S. holder whose Zoom Canada stock has a fair market value of less than $50,000 on the date of the exchange or continuance does not recognize any gain or loss and is not required to include any part of the "all earnings and profits amount" (as described below) in income and no election (as described below) is required. Each such U.S. holder's adjusted basis in the shares of Zoom Delaware received in the exchange will be equal to such holder's adjusted basis in the shares of Zoom Canada surrendered in the exchange, and such holder's holding period in the shares of Zoom Delaware received in the exchange will include the period of time during which such holder held its shares in Zoom Canada.

U.S. HOLDERS WHOSE STOCK HAS A FAIR MARKET VALUE OF $50,000 OR MORE. A U.S. holder whose Zoom Canada stock has a fair market value of $50,000 or more on the date of the exchange or continuance must generally recognize gain (but not loss) with respect to the stock of Zoom Delaware received in the exchange. Any such gain should be equal to the excess of the fair market value of the Zoom Delaware stock received at the time of the continuation over the holder's adjusted basis in the Zoom Canada stock exchanged therefor. Any such gain should be capital gain if the holder held the Zoom Canada stock as a capital asset, and should be long-term capital gain if the holder held the Zoom Canada stock for longer than twelve months. Long-term capital gains of individual taxpayers generally are currently subject to a maximum U.S. federal income tax rate of 20%.

A U.S. holder, however, as an alternative to recognizing gain, may elect to include in income the "all earnings and profits amount" attributable to his or her stock in Zoom Canada, within the meaning of Treasury Regulation Section 1.367(b)-2(d). The income so included pursuant to this election generally is treated as dividend income, which in the case of individuals is taxed at the higher rates applicable to ordinary income. Corporations that hold stock, however, are entitled to a dividends received deduction of 70% (if the corporate holder owns less than 20% of the voting power and value of shares of Zoom Canada), 80% (if the corporate holder owns at least 20% but less than 80% of the voting power and value of shares of Zoom Canada), or 100% (if the corporate holder owns at least 80% of the voting power and value of shares of Zoom Canada).

There are, however, strict conditions to making this election. The election must comply with the requirements of Treasury Regulation Sections 1.367(b)-1(c) and 1.367(b)-3(c)(3) and must include, among other things: (i) a copy of the information that you receive from us substantiating the "all earnings and profits amount", if any, attributable to your Zoom Canada stock, (ii) a statement that the U.S. holder is making the election, (iii) a statement that the exchange is an Internal Revenue Code Section 367(b) exchange, (iv) a complete description of the exchange, (v) a description of any stock, securities or other consideration transferred or received in the exchange, (vi) a statement describing the amounts required to be taken into account for tax purposes, (vii) a representation that the U.S. holder has notified us that it is making the election, and (viii) certain other information required to be furnished with the U.S. holder's tax return or otherwise furnished pursuant to the Internal Revenue Code or the regulations thereunder. Additionally, the notice/election must be attached by the U.S. holder to his or her timely filed U.S. federal income tax return for the year of the exchange, and the U.S. holder must send notice to us of the election no later than the date it is filed. U.S. holders should consult with their own tax advisors regarding whether to make this election and, if the election is determined to be advisable, the appropriate filing requirements with respect to this notice/election.

Management expects that Zoom Canada's cumulative "all earnings and profits amount", as the term is defined in Treasury Regulation Section 1.367(b)-2(d), will be in the aggregate less than $100,000 at the time of the continuation. Following the continuation, upon the request of any U.S. holder, management will furnish each such requesting U.S. holder with information to substantiate such holder's "all earnings and profits amount" with respect to his, her, or its Zoom Canada stock.

A U.S. holder's adjusted basis in the shares of Zoom Delaware received in the exchange will be equal to the U.S. holder's adjusted basis in the shares of Zoom Canada surrendered in the exchange, increased by the amount of gain (if any) recognized on the exchange. A U.S. holder's holding period in the shares of Zoom Delaware received in the exchange should include the period of time during which such holder held its shares in Zoom Canada. However, the determination of holding period is not free from doubt and you are urged to consult your own tax advisors.

DISSENTING U.S. SHAREHOLDERS

A U.S. holder who dissents from the continuation will generally recognize capital gain (or loss) equal to the amount by which the cash received pursuant to the exercise of dissenters' rights exceeds (or is exceeded by) such holder's adjusted basis in the shares surrendered.

CONTROLLED FOREIGN CORPORATION CONSIDERATIONS

If more than 50% of the stock of Zoom Canada is owned, directly, indirectly, or constructively, by one or more U.S. holders that each owns, directly or indirectly, 10% or more of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock of Zoom Canada entitled to vote ("U.S. Shareholders"), Zoom Canada will be treated as a controlled foreign corporation under Subpart F of the Internal Revenue Code. This classification would have many complex results, including the U.S. Shareholders' required inclusion in income of their pro rata shares of the "Subpart F income," of Zoom Canada, as specifically defined by the Internal Revenue Code. Further, if Zoom Canada is treated as a controlled foreign corporation, U.S. Shareholders may be subject to U.S. income tax on their pro rata shares of any increase in the average amounts of U.S. property held by Zoom Canada.

In addition, under Section 1248 of the Internal Revenue Code, gain from the sale or exchange of shares of Zoom Canada by a holder who is or was a U.S. Shareholder at any time during the five-year period ending with such sale or exchange would be treated as dividend income and taxed at ordinary income rates to the extent of earnings and profits of Zoom Canada attributable to the stock sold or exchanged.

If Zoom Canada is both a passive foreign investment company (as defined below) and a controlled foreign corporation, Zoom Canada will not be treated as a passive foreign investment company with respect to the U.S. Shareholders.

Management does not believe that Zoom Canada is a controlled foreign corporation.

PASSIVE FOREIGN INVESTMENT COMPANY CONSIDERATIONS

Zoom Canada will be classified as a passive foreign investment company for any taxable year during which either 75% or more of our gross income is passive income or the average fair market value of Zoom Canada's assets that produce or are held for the production of passive income for such taxable year equals or exceeds 50% of the average value of our total assets for the year. Classification of Zoom Canada as a passive foreign investment company at any time during a particular U.S. holder's holding period may result in a number of unfavorable U.S. income tax consequences including, among other things, recognition of gain on the sale, exchange, disposition, pledge, or hypothecation of Zoom Canada shares, recognition of gain on the continuation of Zoom Canada to the United States, taxation of that gain at rates applicable to ordinary income, and an imposition of an interest charge on taxes apportioned to prior years in the U.S. holder's holding period for his Zoom Canada shares.

Management does not believe that Zoom Canada is a passive foreign investment company, or that it was a passive foreign investment company in any previous year.

FOREIGN PERSONAL HOLDING COMPANY CONSIDERATIONS

Zoom Canada will be classified as a foreign personal holding company for U.S. federal income tax purposes if both of the following tests are satisfied: (i) more than 50% of either the total combined voting power of all classes of our voting stock or the total value of our outstanding stock is owned, directly or indirectly (pursuant to the rules of attribution), by five or fewer U.S. holders at any time during Zoom Canada's taxable year, and (ii) Zoom Canada receives at least 60% (in certain cases 50%) of its gross income (regardless of source), as specifically adjusted, from passive sources.

If Zoom Canada were to be classified as a foreign personal holding company, a portion of our "undistributed foreign personal holding company income" (as defined for U.S. federal income tax purposes) would be allocated to each of our U.S. holders on the last day on which Zoom Canada is classified as a foreign personal holding company or the last day of Zoom Canada's taxable year if earlier. This income would be includible in a U.S. holder's gross income as a dividend for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Management does not believe that Zoom Canada is a foreign personal holding company.

POST-CONTINUATION U.S. TAXATION OF INCOME, GAINS AND LOSSES

After the continuation/domestication, distributions made by Zoom Delaware to U.S. holders of Zoom Delaware shares will be treated as dividends, taxable to U.S. holders as ordinary income, to the extent such distributions are paid from Zoom Delaware's current or accumulated earnings and profits. To the extent a distribution were to exceed Zoom Delaware's current and accumulated earnings and profits, the excess would be treated first as a tax-free return of the U.S. holder's adjusted basis in their Zoom Delaware shares and would reduce the adjusted basis by such amount. Any remaining excess would be treated as capital gain.

A corporate U.S. holder who receives a dividend from Zoom Delaware will generally be allowed a dividends received deduction from its taxable income in an amount equal to 70% of the dividend received if the corporate U.S. holder owns less than 20% of the voting power and the value of the shares of Zoom Delaware. A corporate U.S. holder who has an ownership percentage of at least 20% but less than 80% of the voting power and value of shares of Zoom Delaware will generally receive a dividends received deduction in the amount of 80% of the dividends received. A corporate U.S. holder that owns 80% or more of the voting power and value of the shares of Zoom Delaware will generally be allowed a dividends received deduction equal to 100% of the dividend received from Zoom Delaware.

U.S. holder will generally recognize capital gain or loss on a sale or exchange of their Zoom Delaware shares. A U.S. holder's gain (or loss) will be equal to the amount by which the holder's amount realized for the shares exceeds (or is exceeded by) such holder's adjusted basis in the shares sold or exchanged. The gain or loss recognized by a U.S. holder on a sale or exchange of stock will be long-term capital gain or loss if they held the stock for more than one year. In the case of individuals, long-term capital gains generally are currently taxed at a maximum rate of 20 percent. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations. In the case of corporations, long-term capital gains and ordinary income are taxed at the same maximum federal income tax rate.

POST-CONTINUATION SALE OF ZOOM DELAWARE SHARES

A Canadian holder will not be subject to United States federal income tax on gain recognized on a subsequent sale or other disposition of Zoom Delaware shares, unless the Zoom Delaware shares constitute a United States real property interest at the time of disposition and the Canadian holder is a "5% shareholder." A Canadian holder who beneficially owns or owned more than 5% of the common stock of Zoom Delaware, either at the time of disposition or at any time in the five-year period ending on the disposition date, will be a 5% shareholder. Gain recognized by such a 5% shareholder would be subject to United States tax unless the Canadian 5% shareholder were to establish in a prescribed manner that his or her stock in Zoom Delaware is not a United States real property interest. Specifically, the Canadian 5% shareholder must establish that the fair market value of Zoom Delaware's United States real property interests is and was less than 50% of the fair market value of the sum of all of its trade or business assets, its real properties located outside the United States and its United States real property interests, both at the time of disposition and at any time in the five year period ending on the disposition date.

Management does not believe that the stock in Zoom Delaware is or will be a U.S. real property interest.

POST-CONTINUATION DIVIDENDS ON ZOOM DELAWARE SHARES

Distributions made by Zoom Delaware to Canadian holders of Zoom Delaware shares will be treated as U.S. source dividends to the extent of Zoom Delaware's current or accumulated earnings and profits.

Canadian holders will generally be subject to 15% U.S. non-resident withholding tax, with no allowance for deductions. This withholding tax rate is reduced to 5% in the case of a Canadian corporation that owns at least 10% of the Zoom Delaware voting shares.

Distributions in excess of Zoom Delaware's current and accumulated earnings and profits will be tax-free to the extent of the Canadian holders' adjusted basis in their Zoom Delaware shares, but will reduce their adjusted basis in the shares by the same amount. Distributions in excess of Zoom

Delaware's earnings and profits and the Canadian holders' adjusted basis will give rise to capital gain, treated in the manner described in "Post-Continuation Sale of Zoom Delaware Shares," above.

BACKUP WITHHOLDING AND INFORMATION REPORTING

The Internal Revenue Code and the Treasury regulations require those who make certain specified payments to report the payments to the IRS. Among the specified payments are dividends and proceeds paid by brokers to their customers. The required information returns enable the IRS to determine whether the recipient properly included the payments in income. This reporting regime is reinforced by "backup withholding" rules. These rules require payors to withhold tax at a 31 percent rate from payments subject to information reporting if the recipient fails to cooperate with the reporting regime, fails to provide a correct taxpayer identification number to the payor, or if the IRS or a broker informs the payor that withholding is required. The information and backup withholding rules do not apply to payments to corporations, whether domestic or foreign.

Payments of dividends to a U.S. holder generally will be subject to information reporting, and will be subject to backup withholding unless we are provided with a correct taxpayer identification number of the holder and neither the IRS nor a broker informs us that withholding is required.

The backup withholding rules do not apply to payments that are subject to the 30 percent (or reduced 15 percent or 5 percent) withholding tax on dividends paid to non-U.S. holders, or to payments that are exempt from tax by application of a tax treaty or special exception. Accordingly, payments of dividends to Canadian holders generally will not be subject to backup withholding. To avoid backup withholding on dividends, Canadian holders will have to certify their nonresident status. Even if certification is provided, information reporting may still apply to payments of dividends.

Payments made to a U.S. holder upon a sale of stock generally will be subject to information reporting and possible backup withholding. Payments made to a Canadian holder upon a sale of stock will not be subject to information reporting or backup withholding, provided the Canadian holder certifies its foreign status.

Any amounts withheld from a payment to a holder under the backup withholding rules can be credited against any U.S. federal income tax liability of the holder.

CANADIAN INCOME TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Thomas Rondeau, Canadian counsel to Zoom Canada, has advised that the following general summary fairly describes the principal Canadian federal income tax consequences of the proposed continuation of Zoom Canada to Delaware to Canadian holders who are, specifically, those shareholders of Zoom Canada who are resident in Canada who own, either alone or together with related persons, less than 10% of the shares of Zoom Canada, and to whom shares and warrants of Zoom Canada constitute "capital property" for the purposes of the Income Tax Act (Canada) (the "ITA"). This summary also describes the principal Canadian federal income tax consequences of the proposed continuation of Zoom Canada to Delaware to non-resident holders who, specifically, are non-residents of Canada, and do not carry on business in Canada. Other holders of shares of Zoom Canada should consult their own tax advisors as the tax consequences to them of the proposed continuation are beyond the scope of this summary.

This summary is based upon the current provisions of the ITA, the regulations thereunder in force on the date hereof (the "Regulations"), any proposed amendments (the "Proposed Amendments") to the ITA or Regulations previously announced by the Federal Minister of Finance and counsel's understanding of the current administrative and assessing policies of the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency. This description is not exhaustive of all possible Canadian federal income tax consequences and does not take into account or anticipate any changes in law, whether by legislative, governmental or judicial action other than the Proposed Amendments, nor does it take into account provincial or foreign tax considerations which may differ significantly from those discussed herein.

THIS SUMMARY IS OF A GENERAL NATURE ONLY AND IT IS NOT INTENDED TO BE, NOR SHOULD IT BE CONSTRUED TO BE, LEGAL OR TAX ADVICE TO ANY PARTICULAR HOLDER. ACCORDINGLY, HOLDERS SHOULD CONSULT THEIR OWN TAX ADVISORS FOR ADVICE WITH RESPECT TO THE CANADIAN INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES TO THEM OF THE PROPOSED CONTINUATION.

NATURE OF SHARES HELD BY CANADIAN SHAREHOLDERS

The shares of Zoom Canada will generally constitute "capital property" to a Canadian holder, unless the Canadian holder is a trader or dealer in securities or is engaged in an adventure in the nature of trade with respect to the shares. Certain individual Canadian holders whose shares of Zoom Canada might not otherwise qualify as "capital property" may be entitled to obtain such qualification by disposing of their shares before the continuation of the company and by making an irrevocable election under subsection 39(4) of the ITA. AFTER THE CONTINUATION, THE SHARES OF ZOOM DELAWARE WILL NO LONGER QUALIFY FOR THE SUBSECTION 39(4) ELECTION. ANY INDIVIDUALS CONTEMPLATING MAKING AN ELECTION UNDER SUBSECTION 39(4) OF THE ITA SHOULD CONSULT THEIR TAX ADVISORS AS THE ELECTION WILL AFFECT THE CANADIAN INCOME TAX TREATMENT OF THE DISPOSITION OF THE SHAREHOLDER'S OTHER CANADIAN SECURITIES.

CONSEQUENCES OF CONTINUATION TO CANADIAN SHAREHOLDERS

The continuation of Zoom Canada into Delaware will not constitute a taxable event for our Canadian holders. Canadian holders will continue to hold their shares at the same adjusted cost basis as before the continuation.

Following the continuance, dividends paid by Zoom Delaware to Canadian holders will be treated differently under the ITA than dividends those holders might have previously received from Zoom Canada. By way of summary, a Canadian holder will be required to include the gross amount of any dividend received from Zoom Delaware in the holder's income for the year of receipt. The Canadian holder who is an individual, will not be entitled to claim the federal dividend tax credit in respect of such dividend. A foreign tax credit will be available under the ITA to the Canadian holder to the extent of the lesser of:

- (a) the withholding taxes paid and not deducted by the holder when computing income (under the Canada-U.S. Income Tax Convention (the "Canada/U.S. Treaty") U.S. withholding tax on dividends paid to a Canadian holder will be limited to a maximum rate of 15%), and
- (b) the Canadian taxes otherwise payable in respect of that foreign income.

Alternatively, the individual Canadian holder can claim the foreign withholding taxes paid as a deduction when computing his income for tax purposes. If the withholding taxes paid exceed 15% of the foreign income from property, such excess may be deducted in computing net income.

FOREIGN REPORTING

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

A Canadian resident is required under the ITA to report his or her foreign property holdings if the aggregate cost amount of such holdings exceeds $100,000. Following the continuation, the shares of Zoom Delaware will constitute foreign property for the purposes of this rule and their "cost amount" will be included in the $100,000 threshold.

FOREIGN INVESTMENT ENTITY

The Federal Minister of Finance has proposed amendments to the ITA which, generally, may require a Canadian resident shareholder to include in income the annual growth in value of an interest in a "foreign investment entity" (an "FIE") on an accrual or mark-to-market basis. The most recent draft of the proposed amendments was released on August 2, 2001 (the "Draft Legislation"). Under the Draft Legislation the proposed amendments would apply to taxation years beginning after 2001.

While a share of Zoom Delaware would be a FIE under the Draft Legislation, it would also be an "exempt interest". As a consequence, a Canadian resident shareholder of Zoom Delaware would not be required to include any amount in income in respect of that share if the Draft Legislation is enacted as proposed.

DISSENT PROCEEDINGS

Should a stockholder initiate formal dissent proceedings in respect of the proposed continuation, and if Zoom Canada carries out the continuation, Zoom Canada will be required to purchase the dissenting stockholder's shares for a cash payment (the "redemption proceeds") equal to the fair value of the purchased shares. The dissenting stockholder's receipt of the redemption proceeds will be treated as a dividend to the extent that such proceeds exceed the paid-up capital of the purchased shares. The balance of the redemption proceeds (i.e., the amount equal to the paid-up capital of the purchased shares) will be treated as proceeds of disposition of the shares for the purpose of computing the stockholder's capital gain or loss. Consequently, the dissenting stockholder will realize a capital gain or loss to the extent that the paid-up capital of the purchased shares exceeds or is exceeded by the stockholder's adjusted cost base of the shares. If the dissenting stockholder is a corporation resident in Canada, the full amount of the redemption proceeds may be treated as proceeds of disposition with the result that no dividend will be deemed to have been paid to the stockholder and any gain or loss realized by the dissenting stockholder will be determined by reference to the full amount of the redemption proceeds.

Any capital loss arising on the exercise of dissent rights by a corporate shareholder of Zoom Canada will be reduced by the amount of dividends received or deemed to have been received, including any deemed dividend arising from the exercise of dissent rights, on the purchased shares where the period of ownership of such shares was less than 365 days or where the corporate holder (together with persons with whom it did not deal at arm's length) held more than 5% of the issued shares of any class of Zoom Canada at the time the dividends were received or deemed to have been received.

A dissenting stockholder that is a private corporation or a subject corporation, as those expressions are defined in the ITA, will be liable to pay a 33 1/3% refundable tax under Part IV of the ITA on the redemption proceeds to the extent that they are treated as a dividend. Generally, a private corporation is one that is not public and is not controlled by one or more public companies and a subject corporation is one that is not private and is controlled by or for the benefit of one individual or a related group of individuals.

IN THE EVENT THE CANADIAN HOLDER'S DISPOSITION OF SHARES ON DISSENT IS, FOR CANADIAN TAX PURPOSES, DEEMED TO OCCUR AFTER ZOOM CANADA CONTINUES INTO ZOOM DELAWARE AND CONSEQUENTLY CEASES TO BE A CORPORATION RESIDENT IN CANADA, THE CANADIAN HOLDER WILL REALIZE A CAPITAL GAIN OR LOSS ON THAT DISPOSITION TO THE EXTENT THAT THE REDEMPTION PROCEEDS EXCEED OR ARE EXCEEDED BY THE HOLDER'S ADJUSTED COST BASE IN THE PURCHASED SHARES.

INTEREST EXPENSE

Zoom Canada's continuance to Delaware will not affect the deductibility of interest incurred on money borrowed to purchase shares of Zoom Canada. Generally, interest that is currently deductible will continue to be deductible by the stockholder after the continuation to Delaware, as long as the stockholder continues to own the shares of Zoom Delaware or uses the borrowed funds to earn income from a business or property.

ZOOM CANADA CONSEQUENCES

Once we file our certificate of domestication with the Delaware Secretary of State, Zoom Canada will be deemed to have been incorporated in Delaware at that time for purposes of the ITA and will cease to be a resident of Canada.

The "corporate emigration" rules under the ITA will apply upon the continuation of Zoom Canada to Delaware. Accordingly, Zoom Canada will be deemed to have its taxation year end immediately before being granted a certificate of continuation in Delaware. Each property owned by Zoom Canada immediately before the deemed year end will be deemed to have been disposed of for proceeds of disposition equal to that property's fair market value. Any gains or losses derived from this deemed disposition of property will be taken into account when determining the amount of Zoom Canada's taxable income for the fiscal period which ends immediately before its continuation into Delaware. Any available non-capital loss carry-forwards of Zoom Canada from previous years can be used to offset this taxable income. Any balance of taxable income so determined will be subject to tax in accordance with the provisions of the ITA.

In view of the fair market value and tax cost of each property owned by Zoom Canada, as of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, management of Zoom Canada does not believe that Canadian income tax will be payable as a result of the deemed disposition of each of its properties.

Zoom Canada will also be required to pay a special branch tax equal to 5% of the amount by which the fair market value of its assets (calculated immediately before continuance) exceeds the aggregate of its liabilities, including any liabilities under the ITA, and the paid-up capital of its issued and outstanding shares at the time of continuation into Delaware.

In view of the fair market value of our assets, liabilities and the paid-up capital of its issued and outstanding shares, as of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, management of Zoom Canada does not believe that it will be liable to pay the special branch tax.

After continuation into Delaware, Zoom Delaware will only be taxable in Canada to the extent it carries on business through a permanent establishment located in Canada, as that expression is defined in the Canada/U.S. Treaty or realizes a gain from the sale of taxable Canadian property which is not otherwise exempt from Canadian tax by virtue of certain relieving provisions in the Canada/U.S. Treaty. We have no current plans to maintain a permanent establishment located in Canada.

TAX-EXEMPT SHAREHOLDERS

Following the continuation, the shares of Zoom Delaware will remain listed on the Nasdaq Stock Market which is a prescribed stock exchange for purposes of the ITA. Consequently, the shares will continue to be qualified investments for a trust governed by a registered retirement savings plan, deferred profit sharing plan, registered retirement income fund or registered pension plan, and certain other entities. However, a Zoom Delaware share will continue to be "foreign property" to these trusts and entities for the purposes of the ITA.

HOLDERS THAT ARE ONE OF THE TYPES OF ENTITIES DESCRIBED ABOVE SHOULD CONSULT THEIR OWN TAX ADVISORS REGARDING THE CONSEQUENCES OF HOLDING SHARES OF ZOOM DELAWARE.

NON-RESIDENT CANADIAN SHAREHOLDERS

The continuation of Zoom Canada into Delaware will not constitute a taxable event for federal Canadian income tax purposes for holders who are not resident of Canada for Canadian income tax purposes.

Dividends paid by Zoom Delaware to these non-resident holders after the continuation into Delaware will no longer be subject to Canadian withholding tax.

COMPARISON OF SHAREHOLDERS' RIGHTS

Upon the effective date of the continuance, all shareholders of Zoom Canada will become shareholders of Zoom Delaware. Zoom Canada is a corporation organized under and corporately governed by Canadian law, the articles of continuance of Zoom Canada and the by-laws of Zoom Canada. Zoom Delaware will be a corporation organized under and governed by Delaware law, the certificate of incorporation and the by-laws of Zoom Delaware. The principle attributes of Zoom Delaware common stock and Zoom Canada's common stock are comparable, but there are material differences in shareholders rights.

The following is a summary of these material differences which arise from differences between United States and Canadian securities laws, between the Canada Business Corporations Act, the Delaware General Corporation Law, and between Zoom Canada's present charter and by-laws and the proposed certificate of incorporation and by-laws of Zoom Delaware. The proposed Delaware certificate of incorporation and by-laws are attached to this document as Exhibits "E" and "G", respectively.

This summary is qualified in its entirety by the terms of the present charter and by-laws of Zoom Canada and the proposed certificate of incorporation and by-laws of Zoom Delaware.

VOTE REQUIRED FOR EXTRAORDINARY TRANSACTIONS

CANADA

Under the Canada Business Corporations Act, extraordinary corporate actions are required to be approved by special resolution. These include:

- o certain amalgamations;
- o continuances;
- o liquidations;
- o dissolutions; and
- o sales, leases or exchanges of all or substantially all the assets of a corporation other than in the ordinary course of business.

A special resolution is a resolution passed by not less than 2/3 of the votes cast by the shareholders entitled to vote on the resolution. In certain cases, a special resolution to approve an extraordinary corporate action is also required to be approved separately by the holders of a class or series of shares.

DELAWARE

Delaware General Corporation Law requires an affirmative vote of a majority of the shareholders entitled to vote thereon to authorize a merger, consolidation, dissolution or sale of all or substantially all of the assets of a corporation. However, a vote is not required by its certificate of incorporation if the certificate authorizing shareholder vote is required by the Delaware corporation surviving a merger if:

- o such corporation's certificate of incorporation is not amended by the merger;
- o each share of stock of such corporation outstanding immediately prior to the date of the merger will be common stock outstanding or treasury shares of the corporation after the effective date of the merger; and
- o either no shares of common stock or securities convertible into common stock will be issued in the merger or the number of shares of common stock to be issued in the merger does not exceed 20% of the corporation's outstanding common stock immediately prior to the effective date of the merger.

The proposed certificate of incorporation for Zoom Delaware will not require such a vote.

forms, are common to many corporations in the United States. They give a corporation's directors the opportunity to withstand a takeover attempt while providing the sufficient time to evaluate the offer and to consider alternative measures that may be appropriate in responding to the offer. General Corporation Law permits shareholders to adopt plans in general and permits the adoption of rights plans by a board of directors without shareholder approval.

AMENDMENT TO GOVERNING DOCUMENTS

CANADA

Under the Canada Business Corporations Act, amendments to the articles of incorporation generally require the approval of not less than two-thirds of the votes cast by shareholders entitled to vote on the resolution. The directors may amend or repeal any by-law unless the articles of incorporation or by-laws provide otherwise. When the directors amend or repeal a by-law, they are required under the Canada Business Corporations Act to submit the change to the shareholders at the next meeting of shareholders. Shareholders may confirm, reject, amend or repeal the by-law amendment by a majority of the votes cast by shareholders present and entitled to vote on the resolution.

DELAWARE

Delaware General Corporation Law requires that the corporation's certificate of incorporation be approved by the holders of a majority of the outstanding stock entitled to vote. The proposed certificate of incorporation can require a greater approval than Delaware will not require a greater approval.

If an amendment adversely affects the preferences of a particular class or series, that class or series must approve the amendment even if the certificate of incorporation provides that right.

Delaware General Corporation Law also gives the power of the shareholders to adopt, amend or repeal by-laws of a corporation unless the certificate of incorporation confers such power on the directors in addition to the shareholders. The certificate of incorporation of Zoom Delaware authorizes the board of directors to adopt, amend or repeal Zoom Delaware's by-laws.

DISSENT RIGHTS

CANADA

The Canada Business Corporations Act provides that shareholders of a corporation entitled to vote on certain matters are entitled to exercise dissent rights and the fair value of such shares. Fair value is determined by a court in an action timely brought. In determining fair value, the court

Dissent rights exist when there is a vote upon matters such as:

- o any amalgamation with another corporation (other than with certain affiliated corporations);
- o an amendment to the corporation's articles of incorporation to add, change or remove any provisions restricting the issue, transfer or ownership of shares;
- o an amendment to the corporation's articles of incorporation to add, change or remove any restriction upon the business or businesses that the corporation may carry on;
- o a continuance under the laws of another jurisdiction;
- o a sale, lease or exchange of all or substantially all the property of the corporation other than in the ordinary course of business; and
- o a court order permitting a shareholder to dissent in connection with an application to the court for an order approving an arrangement proposed by the corporation.

However, a shareholder is not entitled to dissent if an amendment to the articles of incorporation is effected by a court order approving a reorganization or by a court order made in connection with an action for an oppression remedy. Under the Canada Business Corporations Act, a shareholder may, in addition to exercising dissent rights, seek an oppression remedy for any act or omission of a corporation which is oppressive or unfairly prejudicial to or that unfairly disregards a shareholder's interest.

OPPRESSION REMEDY

CANADA

Section 241 of the Canada Business Corporations Act provides an oppression remedy. A court may make any order, both interim and final, to rectify the matters complained of, if satisfied that:

- o any act or omission of the corporation or any of its affiliates effects a result,
- o the business or affairs of the corporation or any of its affiliates are, have been carried on or conducted in a manner, or
- o the powers of the directors of the corporation or any of its affiliates are or have been exercised in a manner,

DELAWARE

Delaware General Corporation Law does not provide a similar remedy. However, Delaware General Corporation Law provides a variety of equitable remedies to a corporation' improper acts or omissions of a corp and directors. Under Delaware General Corporation Law only shareholders can bring an action to enforce a duty of fiduciary duty by the directors or to order to be successful, the shareholder must show the "business judgment rule," which states that absent a showing of intentional negligence or a conflict of interest the directors' decisions are presumed by the law to have been made in good faith and in the b that is oppressive or unfairly prejudicial to, or that unfairly disregards the interests of, any security holder, creditor, director or officer of the corporation.

A complainant includes a present or former shareholder, officer or director of the corporation or any of its affiliates, or the Director of the Canada Business Corporations Act and any other person who in the discretion of the court is a proper person to make such application.

Because of the breadth of the conduct covered by the oppression remedy and the wide scope of the court's remedial powers, the oppression remedy is very flexible. It is frequently relied upon to safeguard the interest of shareholders and other complainants with a substantial interest in the corporation. Under the Canada Business Corporations Act, it is not necessary to prove that the directors of a corporation acted in bad faith in order to seek an oppression remedy. It is sufficient to prove that that their actions were oppressive, unfairly prejudiced to or unfairly disregarded the interests of any security holder, director, officer or creditor. Although the court may order the corporation to pay the interim expenses (including legal fees) of a complainant seeking an oppression remedy, ultimately the complainant may be held accountable for such interim costs.

DERIVATIVE ACTION

CANADA

Under the Canada Business Corporations Act, a complainant may apply to the court for leave to bring an action in the name of and on behalf of a corporation or any of its subsidiaries, or to intervene in an existing action to which they are a party. SHAREHOLDER CONSENT IN LIEU OF MEETING

CANADA

Under the Canada Business Corporations Act, shareholders can take action by written resolution and without a meeting only if all shareholders sign the written resolution.

DELAWARE

Under Delaware General Corporation Law, unless otherwise provided in the certificate of incorporation, any action required to be taken or withheld at an annual or special meeting of shareholders may be taken without a meeting if a consent in writing by the holders of outstanding stock represents the minimum number of votes that would be required to authorize such action at a meeting. The persons entitled to vote were present and voted at the certificate of incorporation for Zoo. The certificate prohibits the use of such a consent.

SHAREHOLDER QUORUM

CANADA

Under the Canada Business Corporations Act, unless a corporation's by-laws provide otherwise, a quorum is present at a meeting of the shareholders, irrespective of the number of shareholders actually present at the meeting, if the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote at the meeting are present in person or represented by proxy. Zoom Canada's by-laws provide that a quorum shall be one person holding not less than one-twentieth of the total number of issued shares entitling the holders thereof to vote at the meeting. The Nasdaq Stock Market marketplace rules require a quorum to be at least 1/3 of the shares entitled to vote at the meeting unless an exemption is granted by Nasdaq from this requirement.

DELAWARE

Under Delaware General Corporation Law, a majority of the shares entitled to vote at a meeting of the shareholders, in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at any meeting of the shareholders. For the purpose of determining the number of shares entitled to vote at the meeting, the bylaws of Zoom Delaware provides for the following: (i) if the meeting is to be held in person, a majority of the shares entitled to vote at the meeting shall constitute a quorum; and (ii) if the meeting is to be held by proxy, a majority of the shares entitled to vote at the meeting shall constitute a quorum.

In addition, because the securities of Zoom Canada are publicly traded, Zoom Canada is required to have not fewer than three directors. At least two of these directors must not be officers or employees of Zoom Canada or its affiliates.

A director of Zoom Canada must not be:

- o under eighteen years of age;
- o adjudicated as mentally unsound;
- o a person that is not an individual; or
- o a person who has the status of a bankrupt.

Section 122 of the Canada Business Corporations Act, requires directors of a Canadian corporation to act honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of the corporation. The duty of care requires that the directors exercise the care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent person would exercise in comparable circumstances.

DELAWARE

Under Delaware common law, the duty of care requires that the directors act in an informed and businesslike manner and to inform themselves, prior to making a business decision, of all material information reasonably available to them. The duty of care is summarized as the duty to act in good faith, in the best self-interest, and in a manner which the directors reasonably believe to be in the best interests of the shareholders pursuant to the "business

INDEMNIFICATION OF OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS

CANADA

Under the Canada Business Corporations Act and pursuant to Zoom Canada's by-laws, Zoom Canada may indemnify present or former directors or officers against all expenses and settlement amounts or judgments arising out of actions against such individuals because of their service as directors or officers.

In order to qualify for indemnification such director or officers must:

DELAWARE

Delaware General Corporation Law permits a corporation to indemnify its present or former directors or officers made a party, or threatened to be made a party to any third party proceeding in which that such person is or was a director or officer of the corporation, against expenses (including attorneys' fees), judgments, fines and amounts actually and reasonably incurred by such person in connection with such action, suit or proceeding in which such person:

o acted honestly and in good faith with a view to o acted in good faith and in

- o the best interests of the company; and
- o in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding enforced by a monetary penalty, have had reasonable grounds for believing that his or her conduct was lawful.

- o person reasonably believed opposed to the best interest of the corporation; and,
- o with respect to any criminal or administrative proceeding, had no reason to believe that his or her conduct was unlawful.

Indemnification will be provided to an eligible director or officer who meets both these tests or was entitled to such indemnity or was substantially successful on the merits in the action.

A corporation may, if the person meets the conditions above and it is approved by a court, also indemnify an eligible director or officer in an action by or on behalf of the corporation.

Some of the officers and director of Zoom Canada currently have indemnification agreements which survive the termination of their service as officers or directors. These agreements will continue after the termination.

In a derivative action, or an action brought by or on behalf of the corporation, the corporation shall not indemnify directors and officers against the costs and expenses actually and reasonably incurred by them in connection with the defense or settlement of an action if they acted in good faith and in a manner which they reasonably believed to be in or not in the best interests of the corporation. However, no indemnification shall be made if the person is adjudged liable to the corporation, the extent that the court in which the action was brought shall determine upon application of the defendant directors or officers are not reasonably entitled to indemnity for the costs and expenses despite such adjudication of liability.

Delaware General Corporation Law allows a corporation to advance expenses before or after the institution of an action, if the person agrees to reimburse the corporation if they are later determined not to be entitled to indemnification. The Canada Business Corporations Act does not expressly provide for such advance payment.

DIRECTOR LIABILITY

CANADA

The Canada Business Corporations Act limits or eliminates the liability of directors to the corporation or its shareholders for malfeasance or nonfeasance. In some circumstances, a director proves that he did not know and could not have known of the unlawful act, he will not be liable. Also, most actions to enforce a liability imposed by the Canada Business Corporations Act must be brought within two years from the date of the act. Further, a director will not be liable under certain sections of the Canada Business Corporations Act if he relied in good faith on

- o financial statements fairly represented to him by an officer or in a written report of the auditor to reflect the financial condition of the corporation, or
- o a report of a lawyer, accountant, engineer, appraiser or other person whose profession lends credibility to a statement made by him.

DELAWARE

Delaware General Corporation Law provides that a corporation's certificate of incorporation may, but is not required to, eliminate the liability of directors or its shareholders for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director. However, such elimination cannot arise from certain proscribed

- o acts or omissions not in good faith
- o acts which involve intentional misconduct
- o acts which involve a knowing breach of the duty of loyalty
- o payment of unlawful dividends
- o expenditure of funds for unauthorized purposes; or

ANTI-TAKEOVER PROVISIONS AND INTERESTED STOCKHOLDER TRANSACTIONS

CANADA

Policies of certain Canadian securities regulatory authorities, including Ontario Securities Commission Rule 61-501 "Insider Bids, Issuer Bids Going Private Transactions and Related Party Transactions" contain requirements for related party transactions. A related party transaction includes any transaction in which a corporation acquires or transfers an asset or securities or liability from or to directors, senior officers or holders of at least 10% of the voting securities of the corporation.

Rule 61-501 requires:

- o preparation of a formal valuation of the transaction; and

DELAWARE

Delaware General Corporation Law provides that, in certain circumstances, a "business combination" of a corporation and an "interested shareholder" within three years of the shareholder becoming an interested shareholder. An "interested shareholder" is one who, directly or indirectly,

- o controls 15% or more of the corporation's stock, or
- o is an affiliate of the corporation or the owner of 15% or more of the corporation's voting stock at any time within the preceding three-year period.

A "business combination" includes a consolidation, a sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of the corporation's assets having an aggregate market value of 10% or more of the consolidated assets of the corporation, a change of control, a merger, and certain transactions that would result in an interested shareholder's proportionate ownership in the corporation.

This provision does not apply where:

- o either the business combination is a transaction making the shareholder an interested shareholder or the interested shareholder is a director of the corporation's board of directors and the interested shareholder has a 15% interest;
- o after the transaction making the shareholder an interested shareholder, the shareholder owned at least 1% of the corporation's outstanding voting stock of record;
- o the business combination is approved by a majority of the board of directors consisting of disinterested shareholders.

- o the outstanding votes entitled to be cast by the corporation is not a public company because of stock exchange listing requirements, inter-dealer quotations and trading volume of 2,000 shareholders; or
- o the corporation has opted out of the provision.

FORM OF PROXY AND INFORMATION CIRCULAR

CANADA

The Canada Business Corporations Act requires management of a corporation with more than 15 shareholders to solicit proxies in connection with each shareholders' meeting. Concurrently with giving notice of a meeting of the

DELAWARE

Delaware General Corporation Law permits a shareholder to vote by proxy, but does not require a shareholder to send to stockholders or that any proxy information statements be sent to the shareholders, management must send to each shareholder a form of proxy for use by every shareholder entitled to vote at such meeting, as well as an information circular containing prescribed information regarding the matter to be dealt with at and conduct of the meeting. In addition, Canadian securities laws impose additional requirements respecting the soliciting of proxies and shareholder meetings.

However, the SEC will continue to require compliance with its requirements with respect to the preparation of proxy statements and proxies and preparation of proxy statements.

DISSENTING SHAREHOLDERS' RIGHTS

Section 190 of the Canada Business Corporations Act is reprinted in its entirety as Exhibit "D" to this proxy statement/prospectus. Shareholders may dissent from the proposal to change our jurisdiction of incorporation from Canada to Delaware. THE FOLLOWING SUMMARY IS QUALIFIED IN ITS ENTIRETY BY THE PROVISIONS OF SECTION 190 OF THE CANADA BUSINESS CORPORATIONS ACT.

If you wish to dissent and do so in compliance with Section 190, you will be entitled to be paid the fair value of the shares you hold. Fair value is determined as of the day before the continuation is approved by shareholders.

If you wish to dissent, you must send written objection to the continuation to us before the special meeting. If you vote in favor of the continuation, you lose your rights to dissent. If you abstain or vote against the continuation, you preserve your dissent rights. However, it is not sufficient to vote against the continuation or abstain. You must also provide a separate dissent notice. If you grant a proxy and intend to dissent, the proxy must instruct the proxy holder to vote against the continuation in order to prevent the proxy holder from voting such shares in favor of the continuation and thereby voiding your right to dissent. Under the Canada Business Corporations Act, you have no right of partial dissent. Accordingly, you may only dissent as to all your shares.

Under Section 190, you may dissent only for shares that are registered in your name. In many cases, people beneficially own shares that are registered either:

- o in the name of an intermediary, such as a bank, trust company, securities dealer, broker, trustee, administrator of self administered registered retirement savings plans, registered retirement income funds, registered educational savings plans and similar plans and their nominees; or

- o in the name of a clearing agency in which the intermediary participates, such as The Canadian Depositary for Securities Limited or The Depositary Trust Company.

If you want to dissent and your shares are registered in someone else's name, you must contact your intermediary and either:

- o instruct your intermediary to exercise the dissenters' rights on your behalf (which, if the shares are registered in the name of a clearing agency, will require that the shares first be re-registered in your intermediary's name); or
- o instruct your intermediary to re-register the shares in your name, in which case you will have to exercise your dissenters' rights directly.

In other words, if your shares are registered in someone else's name, you will not be able to exercise your dissenters' rights directly unless the shares are re-registered in your name. We are required to notify each shareholder who has filed a dissent notice when and if the continuation has been approved. This must be sent within 10 days after shareholders approve the continuation. We will not send a notice to any shareholder who voted to approve the continuation or who has withdrawn their dissent notice.

Within 20 days after receiving the above notice from us, or if you do not receive such notice within 20 days after learning that the continuation has been approved, you must send us a payment demand containing:

- o your name and address;
- o the number of shares you own; and
- o a demand for payment of the fair value of your shares.

Within 30 days after sending a payment demand, you must send to us via our transfer agent, CIBC Mellon Trust Company, Corporate Trust Department, Suite 1600, 1066 West Hastings Street, Vancouver, B.C. V6E 3X1, the certificates representing your shares. If you fail to send us a dissent notice, a payment demand or your share certificates within the appropriate time frame, you forfeit your right to dissent and your right to be paid the fair value of your shares. Our transfer agent will endorse on your share certificates a notice that you are a dissenting shareholder and will return the share certificates to you.

Once you send a payment demand to us, you cease to have any rights as a shareholder. Your only remaining right is the right to be paid the fair value of your shares. Your rights as a shareholder will be reinstated if:

- o you withdraw your payment demand;
- o we fail to make you an offer of payment; or
- o if the continuation does not happen.

Within seven days of the effective date of the continuation or the date we receive your payment demand, we must send you a written offer to pay for your shares. This offer must include a written offer to pay you an amount considered by the board of directors to be the fair value of your shares. The offer must include a statement showing the manner used to calculate the fair value. Every offer to pay any shareholder must be on the same terms. We must pay you for your shares within 10 days after you accept our offer. Any such offer lapses if we do not receive your acceptance within 30 days after the offer to pay has been made to you.

If we fail to make an offer to pay for your shares, or if you fail to accept the offer within 50 days after the date of the move, we may apply to a court to fix a fair value for your shares. If we fail to apply to a court, you may apply to a court for the same purpose within a further period of 20 days. You are not required to give security for costs in such a case.

All dissenting shareholders whose shares have not been purchased will be joined as parties and bound by the decision of the court. We are required to notify each affected dissenting shareholder of the date, place and consequences of the application and of their right to appear and be heard in person or by counsel. The court may determine whether any person who is a dissenting shareholder should be joined as a party. The court will then fix a fair value for the shares of all dissenting shareholders who have not accepted a payment offer from us. The final order of a court will be rendered against us for the amount of the fair value of the shares of all dissenting shareholders. The court may, in its discretion, allow a reasonable rate of interest on the amount payable to each dissenting shareholder.

INTEREST OF MANAGEMENT IN THE CONTINUATION

No director or senior officer of Zoom Canada at any time since the beginning of our most recently completed financial year and no associate or affiliate of any such person has any material interest, direct or indirect, by way of beneficial ownership of securities or otherwise, in the continuation, except for any interest arising from the ownership of shares of Zoom Canada where the shareholder will receive no extra or special benefit or advantage not shared on a pro-rata basis by all holders of shares in the capital of Zoom Canada.

DESCRIPTION OF CAPITAL STOCK

Zoom Canada's authorized capital consists of 25,000,000 shares of common stock, without par value. The authorized capital of Zoom Delaware under the proposed certificate of incorporation will be 25,000,000 shares of common stock, $0.01 par value per share. As of November 27, 2001, there were 7,860,866 shares of common stock of Zoom Canada outstanding.

The principal attributes of Zoom Delaware common stock and Zoom Canada common stock are comparable, but there are material differences in shareholder rights. The summary of these material differences are described under "Comparison of Shareholders' Rights." The holders of Zoom Delaware common stock will be entitled to vote at all meetings of shareholders, except meetings at which only holders of a specified class of shares are entitled to vote, to receive any dividend declared thereon, and, subject to the rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions attaching to any other class of shares of Zoom Delaware, to receive the remaining property of Zoom Delaware upon dissolution. Zoom Delaware common stock will have no preemptive or other subscription rights, and there will be no conversion rights or redemption or sinking fund provisions with respect to such shares.

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

ACCOUNTING TREATMENT OF CONTINUATION

The continuation of Zoom Canada and its domestication as a Delaware corporation represents a transaction between entities under common control. Assets and liabilities transferred between entities under common control are accounted for at historical cost in a manner similar to a pooling-of-interests ("as if pooling-of-interests accounting"). Accordingly, the assets and liabilities of Zoom Delaware, the continuing entity, will be reflected at their historical cost to Zoom Canada.

Any shares of Zoom Canada that we acquire from dissenting shareholders will be treated as an acquisition of treasury stock at the amount paid for such shares.

Options to purchase our common stock have been granted to our executive officers and other employees under our 1990 Stock Option Plan. Options to purchase our common stock may also be granted to our employees who are neither officers nor directors under our 1998 Employee Equity Incentive Plan (the "1998 Equity Incentive Plan"). The 1990 Stock Option Plan and the 1998 Equity Incentive Plan are each administered by the stock option committee of the board of directors. In addition, the board of directors has authorized Mr. Manning to award a limited number of options under the 1998 Equity Incentive Plan throughout the fiscal year.

During the fiscal year ending December 31, 2000, our executive officers as a group (7 persons) were granted in the aggregate options to purchase a total of 362,000 shares of our common stock, net of cancellations, at an average exercise price per share of $7.5781. During the year, executive officers exercised an aggregate of 56,000 options.

INSIDER PARTICIPATION IN COMPENSATION DECISIONS

Decisions regarding executive compensation, exclusive of the administration of the 1990 Stock Option Plan, are made by the entire board of directors. The board of directors has no compensation committee. The stock option committee, consisting of Messrs. Furman and Woods, is responsible for administering the 1990 Stock Option Plan, including determining the individuals to whom stock options are awarded, certain of the terms upon which option grants are made, and the number of shares subject to each option granted under the 1990 Stock Option Plan. No member of the stock option committee is a former or current officer or employee of Zoom Canada. Mr. Manning and Mr. Kramer, who are executive officers and directors of Zoom Canada, made recommendations to the stock option committee regarding the granting of stock options and participated in deliberations of the board of directors concerning executive officer compensation. Neither Mr. Manning nor Mr. Kramer participated in any vote establishing their compensation.

PART I

ITEM 1 - BUSINESS

Overview

We design, produce and market dial-up and broadband modems, wireless local area network products, and other communications products.

Our primary objective is to build upon our position as a leading supplier of Internet access devices and to take advantage of a number of current and emerging trends in computer connectivity including Internet access, higher data rates, broadband applications, and alternatives to traditional wired local area networks. We intend to achieve our objective by:

- o building upon and exploiting our Zoom, Hayes and Global Village brands;
- o continuing to produce dial-up, cable and ADSL modems, wireless networking and gateway products;
- o expanding our current distribution channels of high-volume retailers, value-added resellers, Internet service providers, distributors, and original equipment manufacturers ("OEM");
to also include cable service providers and telephone companies;
- o expanding our international product line and distribution network;
- o maintaining low costs through cost-effective product designs, careful sourcing of components, and outsourced manufacturing; and
- o exploring strategic acquisitions.

Our current products and products under development are as follows:

Dial-up Modems.

To date our revenues have come primarily from sales of our dial-up modems. Our dial-up modems connect personal computers and other devices to the local telephone line for transmission of data, fax, voice, and video. Our dial-up modems enable personal computers and other devices to connect to other computers and networks, including the Internet and local area networks, at top data speeds of 56,000 bits per second. Our broad line of dial-up modems is available in internal, external and PCMCIA models. PCMCIA models plug into a PCMCIA slot, which is a standard slot typically found in a notebook or laptop computer. Most of our modems connect to a single telephone line, but we also make the Zoom/MultiLine modem which can connect to eight telephone lines.

In March and April of 1999, we acquired substantially all of the modem assets of Hayes Microcomputer Products, Inc., a former leader in the modem industry. In July, 2000, we acquired the trademark and product rights to Global Village products. Global Village is a leading modem brand for MacIntosh computers. We now sell and market dial-up modems under the Zoom, Hayes and Global Village names, as well as under various other private-label brands developed for some of our large accounts.

We also have a line of integrated services digital network products, which can transmit and receive data simultaneously at up to 128,000 bits per second. In late 2000, we introduced the following three integrated services digital network products, commonly referred to as ISDN products:

- o a PCI model that plugs into the PCI slot of a Windows PC;
- o a USB model that plugs into the USB port of a PC; and
- o a serial port model that plugs into the serial port of a PC.

While we continue to believe there are opportunities to expand our dial-up modem business in the United States and worldwide, we are also developing new broadband, home gateway, and networking products, all of which provide faster connection speeds than dial-up modems.

Wireless Local Area Network Products.

Wireless local area network products enable the connection of a notebook or desktop computer to another computer or an existing local area network using a wireless data communication standard. We currently ship a variety of "ZoomAir" models of wireless products. We continue to develop and introduce a broad line of ZoomAir products, with the near-term focus on products with an 11 megabits per second ("Mbps") data rate using IEEE 802.11b, a wireless data communications standard.

Our ZoomAir line currently includes network interface cards that plug into either a PCMCIA or PCI slot. Another product, ZoomAir Access Point Software, connects wireless and wired networks together, provides network ID security, and allows wired and wireless network users to concurrently share a single Internet connection. We also recently began shipping building-to-building wireless bridges and an access point for connecting wireless network devices to a wired local area network. In 2001 we expect to introduce USB wireless network interface devices and a wireless gateway that enables wireless devices to share a broadband link to the Internet such as a cable modem or ADSL modem.

Cable Modems.

Cable modems provide a high-bandwidth connection to the Internet through a cable-TV cable that connects to compatible equipment at or near the cable service provider. In 2000 we received CableLabs certification for the following three cable modems:

- o a PCI model that plugs into the PCI slot of a PC, set-top box, or other electronic device;
- o an Ethernet model that plugs into the Ethernet port of a PC, router, or other electronic device; and
- o a Universal Serial Bus, or USB, model that plugs into the USB port of a Windows PC.

We began shipping a limited number of cable modems during 2000. We have also provided samples of our cable modem models to a number of cable service providers, PC manufacturers, original equipment manufacturers and retailers. We believe we are positioned to ship high volumes of cable modems if and when substantial orders are received.

ADSL Modems.

Asymmetric Digital Subscriber Line modems, known as ADSL modems, provide a high-bandwidth connection to the Internet through a standard telephone line that connects to compatible ADSL equipment in or near the central telephone office. In 2000 we completed the design of two ADSL modems, including a PCI model and a USB model. We began shipping a limited number of ADSL modem models during 2000. We have also provided samples of our ADSL modem models to telephone companies, Internet service providers, and retailers. We believe we are positioned to ship high volumes of ADSL modems if and when substantial orders are received.

Other Products.

In the early eighties we designed and produced dialers including the Demon Dialer(tm) and Hotshot(tm). We have a new generation of dialers incorporating proprietary technology, including patented technology that enables a single dialer to plug into a standard telephone jack and provide its capabilities to all the telephones on the same line. This type of dialer has a wide range of uses, including the ability to speed up and simplify access to low-cost long-distance networks.

Legal Status

We are a Canadian holding company. Our operations are carried out by our wholly-owned subsidiary, Zoom Telephonics, Inc., a Delaware corporation. Our principal executive offices are located at 207 South Street, Boston, MA 02111. We also have a sales and support office in the United Kingdom, and a support office in Boca Raton, Florida.

Industry Background

Demand for modems has grown significantly. We believe that this growth has been driven by a variety of factors including:

- o the increasing popularity of the Internet and on-line services such as America Online, Microsoft Network, and Earthlink;
- o the growing installed base of PCs and other portable information devices;
- o a significant increase in the percentage of PCs and portable information devices used for remote access to the Internet and corporate networks;
- o the growing use of PCs outside the traditional office setting; and
- o advances in technology, which have improved the ability of PCs and portable information devices to create, capture, transfer, and manipulate data-intensive information, including graphic images and sound.

These trends have resulted in substantial dial-up modem unit sales, both for new PCs as bundled peripherals and for the installed base of PCs, as upgrades and first-time purchases. Substantially all dial-up modems sold for PCs are now faxmodems that have the ability to send and receive faxes, and many dial-up modems have enhanced voice capabilities and other enhanced extra features.

The rapid expansion of on-line services and the Internet has greatly increased the utility of PCs by making a multitude of information resources available to PC users. Dial-up modems are commonly used to remotely access these resources. As the transfer of large text files and data-intensive images like those on the World Wide Web become more pervasive, high data transmission speeds and other advanced modem features also become increasingly important to PC users.

Worldwide PC shipments continue to grow, and industry sources estimate that over 300 million PCs are installed worldwide. 56K dial-up modems are often bundled with a new PC, particularly in North America. However, some of the installed PCs have no dial-up modem, have a dial-up modem with a speed less than 56K, or have a 56K V.90 dial-up modem with inadequate performance or features. We believe there should continue to be substantial demand for after-market dial-up modems because:

- o there is a trend toward bundling very basic modems into PCs, and the data throughput and multi-tasking capabilities of the PC can be improved by buying a higher quality dial-up modem in the after-market; and
- o the new V.92 and companion V.44 standards should increase the percentage of people upgrading their dial-up modem.

V.92 will increase upstream data rates, lower the connection time at the beginning of the call, and allow people with call waiting to answer an incoming phone call while on-line, suspend their Internet session without closing it, participate in their phone call, and then re-activate their Internet session when the phone call is complete. V.44 compression can significantly speed up web browsing and other Internet applications. We believe that these advantages should cause a significant number of V.90 56K dial-up modem owners to upgrade to a V.92 dial-up modem in the after-market.

Advances in dial-up modem technology and lower dial-up modem prices have created rapid growth in the installed base of dial-up modems. As a result, the high-volume segment of the market has shifted from dial-up modems with a maximum speed of 2400 bps in 1987, to 33,600 bps in 1996 and 1997, to 56,000 bps today. Dial-up modems with high data speeds require less time to transmit text files and graphics, thereby reducing phone call costs and easing the use of data-intensive applications like World Wide Web browsing and remote access to corporate networks.

Other technological advances that are increasing the use of dial-up modems in personal computing include new voice-related capabilities, video telephony, and electronic mail. For example, voice modems can provide answering machine, voice mail and other voice-related functions by digitizing incoming voice signals for storage in a computer and by retrieving stored voice and sending it through the telephone network to a remote person or computer. As another example, video telephony enables the transmission of still or moving color images, either exclusively through the dial-up telephone network or through the Internet. Advances in computer software are also stimulating demand for dial-up modems with faster speeds and greater functionality and many popular versions of Windows include remote access, faxing and Internet access capabilities that can only be used with some type of dial-up modem.

We expect the demand for faster speeds and increased modem functionality will drive sales of new generations of "broadband" modems in the future, including cable modems and ADSL modems, particularly as after-market upgrades or as options for a new PC. In 2000 there were significant sales of dial-up, cable, and ADSL modems in the industry; and all three types of modems are expected by industry analysts to ship in high volume throughout this decade.

Zoom Strategy

We believe that the Zoom trade name is associated with high performance per dollar, breadth of product line, broad distribution, and product innovation. Our primary objective is to build upon our position as a leading supplier of modems and to take advantage of a number of current and emerging trends in computer connectivity, including Internet access, higher data rates, video telephony, and alternatives to traditional wired local area networks. Our strategy includes the following key elements:

Build Upon and Exploit Brand Equity.

Our Zoom, Hayes, and Global Village brands are widely recognized and respected. In addition, our marketing channels are extensive.

We believe that our success has been due in part to:

- o offering our customers a broad range of products that provide high performance per dollar,
- o supporting the installed base of our dial-up modems with multiple technical support options,
- o promoting our products through cooperative advertising with our retailer customers, and
- o designing attractive and informative packaging for our products.

In December 2000 our dial-up modems had the second highest share of dial-up modem revenues in stores surveyed by PC Data. We intend to continue to enhance our brand equity by continuing to expand our marketing channels, advertising and promoting our products, and broadening our product offerings through our established sales channels.

Introduce Innovative PC Communications Products.

We attempt to identify new high-volume opportunities for PC communications, to develop competitively priced leading-edge products to address these opportunities, and to build upon and exploit our brand equity by delivering these products quickly and effectively through our sales channels. We were one of the first high-volume producers of dial-up faxmodems, voice dial-up faxmodems, video-capture-enabled dial-up faxmodems, and V.92 dial-up modems. One of our major initiatives is to provide broadband Internet access, and advanced local area networking products to allow people to share that bandwidth. This is an over all theme for our development plans for cable and ADSL modems, wireless networking, and Internet gateway products.

Expand Distribution Channels.

Our existing marketing and distribution channels are strong. We expect our marketing and distribution channels to continue to be an asset as we expand our product line. We recognize, however, that we will need to expand our channels to fit our new products. We are placing an increased emphasis on establishing relationships with cable companies, telephone companies, Internet Service Providers, and OEMs.

Expand International Sales.

We introduced our first dial-up modems in selected Western European countries in 1993. We now sell our products in approximately 50 countries. Our international sales (excluding sales to OEMs) have increased from 8% of net sales in 1994 to 25% of net sales in 2000. We hope to continue to expand our international product lines and distribution network.

Outsource Chipset Technology.

We outsource rather than internally develop our chipsets. Chipsets are application-specific integrated circuits that form the technology base for our modems and certain other products. By outsourcing the chipset technology, we are able to concentrate our research and development resources on system design, leverage the extensive research and development capabilities of our chipset suppliers, and reduce our development time and associated costs and risks. We currently buy dial-up modem chipsets exclusively from the two highest-volume dial-up modem chipset manufacturers, Agere Systems (formerly Lucent) and Conexant Systems (formerly Rockwell). Agere Systems and Conexant Systems have significant resources for semiconductor design and fabrication, analog and digital signal processing, and communications firmware development. Integrated circuit product areas covered by one or both companies include dial-up modems, ADSL modems, cable modems, wireless networking, home phone line networking, routers, and gateways. We also buy chipsets from Globespan for some of our ADSL modems, and from Intersil for our ZoomAir wireless network interface cards.

Maintain Low Costs.

We continually seek ways to improve our product designs and manufacturing approach to reduce our costs. We outsource to contract manufacturers, primarily in Mainland China and Mexico, aspects of our manufacturing processes including board stuffing, wave soldering, in-circuit test, and for some products component purchasing. By outsourcing, we are able to reduce our labor costs and capital expenditures, and we have greater flexibility in our capacity planning.

Explore Acquisitions.

We believe that appropriate acquisitions can reduce the development risk associated with new product offerings, and that we can leverage our brand equity and existing sales channels to enhance the value of these acquisitions. Over the last five years we have been successful in acquiring products and assets from other entities. For example, in mid-1996, we acquired the products and certain other assets of Tribe Computer Works. In 1999 we acquired trademarks and substantially all of the dial-up modem product lines from Hayes Microcomputers Products, Inc. In 2000 we acquired trademarks and product rights for Global Village from Boca Research and Boca Global. We plan to continue to consider acquisitions of businesses, products or technologies complementary to our business.

Products

General

The vast majority of our products facilitate communication of data through the Internet. Our dial-up modems and integrated services digital network, or ISDN, modems link PCs and portable information devices through the telephone network and connected networks, including the Internet and local area networks. Similarly, our cable modems use the cable-TV cable and our ADSL modems use the local telephone line, to provide a high-speed link to the Internet. Our video cameras are used primarily to communicate videos through the Internet. Our advanced networking products, including wireless local area network, or LAN, products, help to link PCs and other computing devices to each other and to the Internet. Starting with our acquisition of Tribe Computer Works in 1996, we began shipping business products that provide remote users shared access to the resources of a LAN, and connect users of the LAN to the Internet and to remote LANs and computers.

We have a broad line of dial-up modems with top data speeds of 56,000 bps, available in internal, external and PCMCIA models. PC-oriented internal modems are designed primarily for installation in the PCI or ISA slot of IBM PC-compatibles. Embedded internal modems are designed to be embedded in non-PC equipment such as point-of-purchase terminals, kiosks, and set-top boxes. Many of our external modems are designed to work with any terminal or computer, including IBM PC-compatibles, the Macintosh and other computers. Our external models include desktop and multi-line modems that have up to eight modems in a compact enclosure. Our PCMCIA modems are designed for use with notebook and sub-notebook computers as well as PDAs (personal digital assistants) equipped with standard PCMCIA slots. When sold as packaged retail products, our modems are shipped complete with third-party software that supports the hardware capabilities of the modem.

56K modems allow users connected to standard phone lines to download data at speeds up to 56,000 bps when communicating with compatible central sites connected to digital lines such as ISDN or T1 lines. Those central sites are typically online services, Internet Service Providers, or remote LAN access equipment. We began shipping pre-standard K56flex(tm) 56K modems in the second quarter of 1997. In February 1998, a committee of the International Telecommunications Union ("ITU") agreed upon the V.90 standard for 56K. V.90 is now widely deployed in equipment made by central site manufacturers, and most of our dial-up modem sales include V.90. We are now also shipping V.92 modems. We expect V.92 modems to take an increasing and ultimately large share of the dial-up modem market.

In March and April of 1999, we acquired substantially all of the modem assets of Hayes Microcomputer Products, Inc., a former leader in the modem industry. In July, 2000, we acquired the trademark and product rights to Global Village products. Global Village is a leading modem brand for MacIntosh computers. We now sell and market dial-up modems under the Zoom, Hayes and Global Village names, as well as under various other private-label brands developed for some of our large accounts.

The following sets forth some of the key features incorporated in one or more of our dial-up modems:

- o ZoomGuard(tm). ZoomGuard represents the protective circuitry added to our modems to improve their ability to withstand the effects of lightning striking a phone line to which the modem is connected. For most modem manufacturers, lightning is the number one cause of field failures.
- o PC Card Guard(tm). PC Card Guard represents the protective circuitry added to our PCMCIA modems to protect against destruction caused by plugging the modem into a digital PBX phone jack. We were one of the first companies to develop this useful feature.
- o Voice Mail. Voice mail capability allows a PC to serve as an answering machine with message storage and local or remote message retrieval.
- o Channel 2(tm). Channel 2 is our trademark for a feature that works with the optional Call Waiting feature available from some phone companies. Channel 2 permits the modem to recognize an incoming call when the modem is on-line, so that the user can determine how to handle the call.
- o Distinctive Ring. Distinctive Ring is a service offered by telephone companies that assigns more than one phone number to a single phone line, with each number ringing differently. This service along with appropriate modem functionality allows someone to arrange for one phone number to be answered as a phone line, a second number to be answered as a fax line, and a third number to be answered as a data line. We have been issued a United States patent related to our distinctive ring technology.

- o Plug & Play. Microsoft's Windows software supports Plug & Play, a standard that is intended to allow the installation of Plug & Play-compatible peripherals like modems with limited hardware configuration by the end-user.

International Modems.

Most foreign countries have their own telecommunications standards and regulatory approval requirements for sales of communications products such as those we offer. As a result, the introduction of new products into international markets can be costly and time-consuming. In 1993, we introduced our first dial-up modem approved for selected Western European countries. Since then we have continued to expand our product offerings internationally. We have received regulatory approvals for, and are currently selling dial-up modems in a number of countries, including Australia, Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Finland, Germany, Hungary, India, Ireland, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands, Poland, Portugal, Russia, Slovenia, South Africa, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, and the United Kingdom. We intend to continue to expand and enhance our product line for our existing markets and to seek approvals for the sale of our products in new countries throughout the world.

Multi-line Modems.

In 1996 we began shipping a family of multi-line dial-up modems targeted for local area network fax and data server applications, computer bulletin boards, multi-line voice mail, and other applications. The Zoom/MultiLine products hold up to eight voice dial-up faxmodems in one small external case that includes status indicators for each dial-up modem. The Hayes Century product line provides up to 16 dial-up modems in a single enclosure.

ISDN Products.

We have a family of modems for Integrated Service Digital Network, or ISDN, communications. ISDN is a telephone service that allows existing phone lines to be used to transmit data digitally. ISDN service permits much higher data transmission rates than conventional analog telephone service. Basic ISDN service provides two 64,000 bps channels and one 16,000 bps channel. The higher rates of data transmission achievable with ISDN can be particularly attractive for data-intensive applications such as the transmission of graphics and video images, World Wide Web browsing, or video telephony. In February 1997 we shipped our first ISDN product. We continue to expand our ISDN product line, particularly for Europe. In addition, we have integrated ISDN capability into some of our LAN-oriented business products, including the ZoomAir AP128 wireless access point.

We have a line of ISDN products, which can transmit and receive data simultaneously at up to 128,000 bits per second. In addition, in late 2000 we introduced the following ISDN products:

- o a PCI model that plugs into the PCI slot of a Windows PC,
- o a USB model that plugs into the USB port of a PC, and
- o a serial port model that plugs into the serial port of a PC.

ADSL Modems.

Our ADSL modems incorporate the standards that are most popular with U.S. telephone companies and Internet Service providers, including G.DMT and G.Lite. In 2000, we designed and shipped our first ADSL modems, an external USB model and an internal PCI model. In 2001, we will seek to sell ADSL modems in high volume and to continue to extend our product line. In 2001, we also plan to introduce an Ethernet model.

Cable Modems.

In 2000, we were successful in obtaining CableLabs certification for three of our DOCSIS-standard cable modems - PCI, USB, and Ethernet models. This certification is important, particularly in the United States. The certification is time consuming, costly and very difficult to obtain. We now have one of the broadest lines of CableLabs-certified cable modems. In 2001 we will seek to sell cable modems in high volume and to continue to extend our product line.

Wireless LAN Products.

In December 1998 we began shipping the first models in our ZoomAir(tm) line of wireless local area network products. These products connect a notebook or desktop computer to another computer or an existing local area network using a wireless communication standard. Our most recent wireless LAN products provides an 11 Mbps data rate using the IEEE 802.11b standard. We currently ship network interface cards that plug into either a PCMCIA or PCI slot. Another product, ZoomAir Access Point Software, connects wireless and wired networks together, provides network ID security, and allows wired and wireless network users to concurrently share a single Internet connection. We recently began shipping building-to-building wireless bridges and an access point for connecting wireless network devices to a wired local area network. In 2001 we expect to introduce USB wireless network interface devices and a wireless gateway that enables wireless devices to share a broadband link to the Internet such as a cable modem or ADSL modem.

Full-Color Live-Motion Cameras and Other Video Products.

In late 1997, we shipped the Zoom/Video Cam, a full-color live-motion camera. The Zoom/Video Cam can be used for video phone calls, video conferences, video mail, and still image capture. We have limited product development in the video area, and our primary sales come from cameras that connect to a USB port. We expect the demand for video products will grow due to a number of factors including improved video technology, higher data communications bandwidth, faster PCs, and improved video-related software. We expect to introduce new camera products, but not to make a significant product development effort in this area.

Dialers.

Our dialers simplify the placing of a phone call by dialing digits automatically. We shipped our first telephone dialer, the Demon Dialer-(tm), in 1981; and, in 1983, began shipping the Hotshot-(tm) dialer. As the dialer market decreased due to equal access, we focused on modems and other peripherals for the personal computer market. We have commenced shipping a new generation of dialers incorporating proprietary technology, and have one patent and another patent pending. Dialer products currently represent under 1% of Zoom's sales, but may become more important in the future.

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

Sales Channels

General

We sell our products primarily through high-volume retailers and distributors, and to PC manufacturers and other OEMs. We support our major accounts in their efforts to discern strategic directions in the market, to maintain appropriate inventory levels, and to offer a balanced selection of products. As we expand our product offerings, particularly in cable, ADSL and other broadband modems, we plan to expand and strengthen our market channels to include cable service providers, phone companies, and Internet Service Providers.

During 2000, Best Buy Co., Inc. accounted for 15% of our net sales and Staples, Inc. accounted for 11% of our net sales. A significant reduction in sales to these customers could have a material adverse effect on our business.

High-volume Retailers.

In the United States, we reach the PC retail market primarily through high-volume retailers. Our extensive United States retail distribution network includes Best Buy, Office Depot, PC Connection, Staples and many others. Personal Technology Research reported that in February 2001 Zoom brands had the second greatest amount of retail shelf space for dial-up modems in North America, and had gained share overall and relative to the leading brand in the prior year.

Distributors.

We sell significant quantities of dial-up modems through distributors, who often sell to corporate accounts, value-added resellers and other channels that are generally not served by our high-volume retailers. Our North American distributors include D&H Distributing, Gates-Arrow, Ingram Micro, Merisel, and Tech Data.

Original Equipment Manufacturers; OEMs.

Our OEM customers sell our products under their own name or incorporate our products as a component of their pre-packaged systems. In addition, our packaging design capability enables us to respond to an OEM's need for customized or generic products and packaging. We are responsive to the needs of personal computer manufacturers including on-time delivery of high-quality cost-effective products that are supported by strong documentation of the products and the products' quality.

International Channels.

In international markets, we sell our products primarily through independent distributors and retailers. Our international distributors include Actebis, Computer 2000, Criterium, Infotide International, Northamber, and others. Our major European high-volume retailers include Business Logic, Centromail, Dixons/PC World, and others. Our international net sales (including sales to OEMs located outside the United States) have grown from 8% in 1994 to 28% in 2000. Our revenues from international sales were $16.8 million in 2000, $18.5 million in 1999, and $13.5 million in 1998. We believe that our continued sales growth outside of the United States will require substantial additional investments of resources for product design and testing, regulatory approvals, production, marketing and tailoring of instruction manuals, packaging, and software development for various foreign languages.

Sales, Marketing and Support

Our sales, support, and marketing are primarily managed from our headquarters in Boston, Massachusetts. In North America we sell our Zoom, Hayes, Global Village, and private-label products primarily through commissioned independent sales representatives managed and supported by our own staff. North American technical support is primarily handled from our Boston headquarters location and from our technical support offices in Boca Raton, Florida. We also maintain a sales, support, and logistics office in the United Kingdom. Warehousing, customs clearance, shipping, and invoicing for the United Kingdom and some other European countries are primarily handled by contract with an unaffiliated specialist in these services located in England. For countries outside North America and Europe, our in-house staff typically works directly with country-specific distributors. Our worldwide OEM sales are primarily handled by our staff in the United States and United Kingdom, who are at times assisted by our sales staff or commissioned sales representatives.

We believe that Zoom, Hayes, and Global Village are widely recognized brand names. We build upon our brand equity in a variety of ways, including cooperative advertising, product packaging, trade shows and public relations. We generally provide our high-volume retailers with funds to advertise our products in conjunction with the customers' general advertising. We believe that this type of advertising efficiently and effectively targets the end-user market for our products.

We attempt to develop quality products that are user-friendly and require minimal support. We support our claims of quality with product warranties of one to seven years, depending upon the product. To address the needs of those end-users of our products who require assistance, we have our own staff of technical specialists who provide telephone support six days per week. We also employ an independent technical support team in the United Kingdom to support our European products five day per week. Our technical support specialists also maintain a significant World Wide Web support facility that includes email, firmware and software downloads, and the SmartFacts(tm) Q&A search engine. In 2001, we expect to expand our European technical support to enable users in other countries to access support in their own language. This support will be provided by our support staff in Boston, Florida, and the United Kingdom.

Research and Development

Our research and development efforts are focused on developing new products for PC communications markets, further enhancing the capabilities of existing products, and reducing production costs. We have developed close collaborative relationships with certain of our OEM customers and component suppliers, who work with us to identify and respond to emerging technologies and market trends by developing products that address these trends. In addition, we purchase modem and other chipsets that incorporate sophisticated technology, thereby eliminating the need for us to develop this technology in-house. As of March 23, 2001, we had 46 employees engaged primarily in research and development. Our research and development team performs electronics hardware design and layout, mechanical design, prototype construction and testing, component specification, firmware development, product testing, foreign and domestic regulatory approval efforts, end-user and internal documentation, and third-party software selection and testing.

During 1998, 1999, and 2000, we expended $4.4 million, $6.4 million and $6.2 million, respectively, on research and development activities. The increase in costs expended on research and development in 1999 and 2000 is primarily due to our initiatives in the broadband, advanced networking, and gateway product areas, including the costs associated with obtaining industry and governmental approvals for our new products.

Manufacturing and Suppliers

Our products are currently designed for high-volume automated assembly in China, Mexico, and the United States to help assure reduced costs, rapid market entry, short lead times, and reliability. In North America, we supply large kits of parts to one of several automated contract manufacturers. In China, our contract manufacturers will also obtain certain material required to assemble the products based upon a Zoom Telephonics Approved Vendor List and Parts List. The contract manufacturers insert parts onto the printed circuit board, with most parts automatically inserted by machine, solder the circuit board, and in-circuit test the completed assemblies. Functional test and packaging are sometimes performed by the contract manufacturer. For the United States and many other markets, functional test and packaging are more commonly performed at our facilities in Boston, allowing us to tailor the packaging and its contents for our customers immediately before shipping. We also perform circuit design, circuit board layout, and strategic component sourcing in our Boston office.

We usually use one primary contract manufacturer for a given design. We sometimes maintain back-up production tooling at a second assembler for our highest-volume products. Our contract manufacturers are normally adequate to meet reasonable and properly planned production needs; but a fire, natural calamity, strike, or other significant event at an assembler's facility could adversely affect our shipments and revenues.

Our products include a large number of parts, most of which are available from multiple sources with varying lead times. However, most of our products include a sole-sourced chipset as the most critical component of the product. Currently Agere and Conexant are our only dial-up modem chipset suppliers, and Intersil is our only wireless chipset supplier. Due to capacity constraints, we have experienced delays in receiving shipments of modem chipsets in the past, and we may experience such delays in the future. Moreover, there can be no assurance that a chipset supplier will, in the future, sell chipsets to us in quantities sufficient to meet our needs. An interruption in a chipset supplier's ability to deliver chipsets, a failure of our suppliers to produce chipset enhancements or new chipsets on a timely basis and at competitive prices, a material increase in the price of the chipsets, or any other adverse change in our relationship with modem chipset suppliers could have a material adverse effect on our results of operations.

A substantial percentage of our manufacturing is done by Vtech Communication LTD. ("Vtech"). The loss of Vtech's services or a material adverse change in Vtech's business or in our relationship with Vtech could materially and adversely harm our business.

Competition

The PC communication products industry is intensely competitive and characterized by rapid technological advances and emerging industry standards, resulting in constant pricing pressures. These changes result in frequent introductions of new products with added capabilities and features, and continuous improvements in the relative functionality and price of modems and other PC communications products. Our failure to keep pace with technological advances would adversely affect our competitive position and results of operations.

Our primary competitors by product group include the following:

- o Dial-up modem competitors: US Robotics (a spin-off of 3Com), Actiontec, Askey, Best Data, Creative Labs, Elsa, GVC, and SONICblue.
- o Cable modem competitors: 3Com, Com21, Motorola and Toshiba.
- o DSL modem competitors: 3Com, Efficient Networks and Westell.
- o Wireless Local Area Network competitors: 3Com, Agere, Cisco Systems, Intel, Lucent, Linksys, and Proxim.

Many of our competitors and potential competitors have more extensive financial, engineering, product development, manufacturing, and marketing resources than we do.

The principal competitive factors in our industry include the following:

- o product performance, features and reliability;
- o price;
- o product availability and lead times;
- o size and stability of operations;

- o breadth of product line and shelf space;
- o sales and distribution capability;
- o technical support and service;
- o product documentation and product warranties;
- o relationships with providers of broadband access services; and
- o compliance with industry standards.

We believe we are competitive in each of these areas.

Cable and ADSL modems transmit data at significantly faster speeds than dial-up modems, which still account for the vast majority of our revenues. Cable and ADSL modems, however, are generally more expensive than dial-up modems and cannot be used with conventional telephone service. In addition, the use of cable and ADSL modems is currently impeded by a number of technical and infrastructure limitations. We began shipping both cable and ADSL modems in the year 2000. In the year 2000, our competitors' cable and ADSL modem products were sold in the greatest number through cable service operators, phone companies, and Internet Service Providers. Large quantities of cable modems and ADSL modems are still not sold through retailers and distributors, our strongest market channels. We are attempting to sell our broadband products through these new sales channels, as well as our traditional sales channels. There can be no assurance that we will compete effectively, particularly in new market channels.

Intellectual Property Rights

We rely primarily on a combination of copyrights, trademarks, trade secrets and patents to protect our proprietary rights. We have trademarks and copyrights for our firmware (software on a chip), printed circuit board artwork, instructions, packaging, and literature. We also have four patents and one pending patent application in the United States. There can be no assurance that any patent application will be granted or that any patent obtained will provide protection or be of commercial benefit to us, or that the validity of a patent will not be challenged. Moreover, there can be no assurance that our means of protecting our proprietary rights will be adequate or that our competitors will not independently develop comparable or superior technologies.

We license certain technologies used in our products, typically bundled software, on a non-exclusive basis. In addition we purchase chipsets that incorporate sophisticated technology. We have received, and may receive in the future, infringement claims from third parties relating to our products and technologies. We investigate the validity of these claims and, if we believe the claims have merit, we respond through licensing or other appropriate actions. Certain of these past claims have related to technology included in modem chipsets. We forwarded these claims to the appropriate vendor. If we or our component manufacturers were unable to license necessary technology on a cost-effective basis, we could be prohibited from marketing products containing that technology, incur substantial costs in redesigning products incorporating that technology, or incur substantial costs defending any legal action taken against it.

Government Regulation

All of our North American products are required to meet United States and Canadian government regulations, including regulations of the United States Federal Communication Commission, known as the FCC, and Industry Canada, which regulate equipment, such as modems, that connects to the public telephone network. The FCC also regulates electromagnetic radiation emissions. For each of our products sold in most foreign countries, specific regulatory approvals must be obtained for matters such as electrical safety, manufacturing standards, country-specific telecommunications equipment requirements and electromagnetic radiation and susceptibility requirements. We have received regulatory approvals for certain modems in Australia, Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, China, Cypress, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Iceland, India, Ireland, Israel, Italy, Japan, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Portugal, Russia, Slovenia, South Africa, South Korea, Spain, Srilanka, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, and the United Kingdom. We expect to continue to seek and receive approvals for new products in a large number of countries throughout the world. The regulatory process can be time-consuming and can require the expenditure of substantial resources. In many foreign countries, obtaining required regulatory approvals may take significantly longer than in the United States. There can be no assurance that the FCC or foreign regulatory agencies will grant the requisite approvals for any of our products on a timely basis, if at all. United States and foreign regulations regarding the manufacture and sale of telecommunications devices are subject to future change. We cannot predict what impact, if any, such changes may have upon its business.

Seasonality

We believe our sales are somewhat seasonal, with increased sales generally occurring in mid-August through November. We expect that our quarterly results will continue to fluctuate in the future as a result of seasonality and other factors.

Backlog

Our backlog as of March 21, 2001 was $3.1 million, and on March 25, 2000 was $3.1 million. Our backlog for delivery of products within 120 days or less was $3.0 million as of March 21, 2001 and was $2.3 million on March 25, 2000. Orders included in backlog generally may be canceled or rescheduled by customers without significant penalty. Backlog as of any particular date should not be relied upon as indicative of our net sales for any future period.

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

ITEM 2 - PROPERTIES

Our corporate headquarters occupies approximately 59,000 square feet out of approximately 72,000 square feet in adjacent, connected buildings at 201 and 207 South Street, Boston, Massachusetts. Approximately 13,000 square feet of this property is leased to third parties. We purchased these buildings in April 1993. In January 2001, we received $6.0 million in financing by securing a mortgage on this property. This is a 20 year direct reduction mortgage. The interest rate is fixed for one year, based on the one year Federal Home Loan Bank rate plus 2.5 % per annum. The rate is adjusted on January 10th of each calendar year commencing on January 10, 2002. As of January 10, 2001, the rate of interest is 7.76%.

In August 1996, we entered into a five year lease for a 77,428 square foot manufacturing and warehousing facility at 645 Summer Street, Boston, MA. On February 28, 2001, we exercised our option to extend this lease for an additional five years at the current market price. We are currently negotiating the price for this space for the new term. We believe that this space provides us with adequate and suitable manufacturing space for our current operations. We also believe that if we did not use all of this space, we would be able to sublet any unused space at this facility at or near our cost.

In March 1999, we assumed an office lease from Hayes Microcomputer Products, Inc. at 430 Frimley Business Park, Camberly Surrey, UK. This ten-year lease expires in February 2008. Our monthly rent is $11,717.

In July, 2000, we entered into a sublease as a tenant at will for approximately 4,500 square feet at 1601 Clint Moore Road, Boca Raton, Florida. We primarily use this facility as a technical support facility. Our monthly rent is $2,344. We entered into this sublease when we acquired the modem assets of Global Village and Boca Global.

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

Limitations Affecting Holders of Common Stock

An investment in our common stock which results in a change in control of Zoom may be subject to review and approval under the Investment Canada Act (Canada), if the person acquiring control is not a Canadian person; provided, however, that if the person acquiring control is a national of a World Trade Organization member country (which includes the United States), then the investment will not be subject to review under the Investment Canada Act so long as our gross assets have an aggregate value of less than $160 million Canadian. This process may have the effect of delaying or preventing the change in control of our business.

Under the Canada Business Corporations Act, at least one-third of the members of the board of directors and any committees of the board of directors must be resident Canadians. If our gross revenues generated in Canada were greater than 5% of our total gross revenues, then one-half of our board and committee members would have to be resident Canadians.

Certain Income Tax Considerations

The following summary is based on the tax laws of the United States and Canada in effect on the date of this report, and is subject to changes in United States and Canadian law, including changes that could have retroactive effect. The summary is further based on the Convention between Canada and the United States of America with respect to Taxes on Income and on Capital, as amended (the "Convention"), the published administrative practices of Canada Customs and Revenue Agency, Taxation and the Internal Revenue Service and judicial decisions, all of which are subject to change. The discussion summarizes some tax considerations relevant to individual and corporate holders of common stock who, for income tax purposes, are resident in the United States and not in Canada, hold common stock as capital assets, and do not use or hold the common stock in carrying on business through a permanent establishment or in connection with a fixed base in Canada. These shareholders are referred to in this section as US shareholders. The tax consequences of holding the common stock by individuals or corporations who are not US shareholders may differ substantially from the tax consequences discussed herein. The summary does not take into account the tax laws of the various provinces or territories of Canada or the tax laws of the various state and local jurisdictions in the United States.

The summary is intended to be a general description of the Canadian and United States tax considerations. It does not take into account the individual circumstances of any particular holder of common stock. Therefore, shareholders should consult their own tax advisors with respect to the tax consequences of holding our common stock.

Canadian Federal Income Tax Considerations

Any dividends on our common stock paid or credited, or deemed to be paid or credited to US shareholders generally will be subject to Canadian withholding tax. Under the Convention, the rate of withholding tax generally applicable to US shareholders is 15%. In the case of a United States corporate shareholder owning 10% or more of our voting shares, the applicable withholding tax is 5% for dividends paid or credited.

Capital gains realized on the disposition of common stock by US shareholders will not be subject to tax under the Income Tax Act (Canada) (the "Tax Act") unless the common stock is taxable Canadian property (other than treaty-protected property) within the meaning of the Tax Act. Common stock will generally not be taxable Canadian property to a holder unless, at any time during the 60 month period immediately preceding a disposition, the holder, or persons with whom the holder did not deal at arm's length, or any combination thereof, owned 25% or more of the issued shares of any class or series of Zoom. If the common stock is considered taxable Canadian property to a holder, the Convention will generally exempt US shareholders from tax under the Tax Act in respect of a disposition of common stock provided the value of our shares is not derived principally from real property situated in Canada. Neither Canada nor any province thereof currently imposes any estate taxes or succession duties.

United States Federal Income Tax Considerations

US shareholders generally will treat the gross amount of any cash dividends we pay, without reduction for the Canadian withholding tax, as dividend income for United States federal income tax purposes to the extent of our current or accumulated earnings and profits. If the dividend distribution is paid in Canadian dollars, the dividend will be includable in income when received in an amount equal to the United States dollar value, on the date of distribution, of the amount so distributed; any gain or loss on the conversion of the distribution into US dollars will be ordinary in nature. Subject to the limitations set forth in Section 904 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code") (which limits the extent to which a United States taxpayer may credit against its United States federal income tax liability any taxes paid by it to a foreign country), the Canadian tax withheld or paid with respect to distributions on our common stock generally may be credited against the United States federal income tax liability of a US shareholder if such holder makes an appropriate election for the taxable year in which such taxes are paid or accrued; alternatively, a shareholder who does not elect to credit any foreign taxes paid during the taxable year may deduct such taxes in such taxable year. In addition, a US shareholder that is a domestic corporation that owns 10% or more of our common stock and receives a dividend and elects to credit foreign taxes is deemed to have received (and to have paid as a foreign tax eligible for the foreign tax credit, subject to the limitations of Section 904) a portion of the foreign taxes we paid. Because the foreign tax credit provisions of the Code are complex, shareholders should consult their own tax advisors when claiming foreign tax credits. Dividends paid on our common stock will generally not be eligible for the dividends received deduction otherwise allowed to United States corporate shareholders.

The sale of common stock generally will result in the recognition of gain or loss to a US shareholder in an amount equal to the difference between the amount realized and the holder's adjusted basis in the common stock. Gain or loss upon the sale of common stock will be short-term or long-term capital gain or loss, depending on whether the shares have been held for more than one year.

ITEM 7 - MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The following discussion and analysis should be read in conjunction with the "Selected Financial Data" and the consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this report and the information described under the caption "Risk Factors" below.

Overview

We were established in 1977, and initially produced and marketed speed dialers and other specialty telephone accessories. We shipped our first dial-up modem in 1983 and our first dial-up faxmodem in 1990. Sales of dial-up faxmodems and related products now comprise substantially all of our revenues. We sell our dial-up modems and related products both domestically and internationally through high-volume retailers and distributors, and to PC manufacturers and other OEMs. In 2000, we began shipping samples of our cable and ADSL modems, predominately to cable operators and telecommunications companies worldwide.

Our results of operations have been and may continue to be subject to significant fluctuations. The results for a particular period may vary due to a number of factors, including the overall state of the PC and PC communications markets, pricing and other competitive conditions, the timing of orders, market acceptance of our or our OEM customers' products, the timing of the announcement and introduction of new products by us and our competitors, variations in our product mix and component costs, variations in the proportion of sales made to retailers, distributors and OEMs, the financial health and inventory levels of our customers, seasonal promotions by us, our customers and competitors, the timing of expenditures in anticipation of future sales, the timing of product development costs, the availability of materials and labor necessary to produce our products and general economic conditions. We also believe that our sales are seasonal, with increased sales generally occurring in the fourth quarter reflecting holiday sales. We expect that our quarterly operating results will continue to fluctuate in the future as a result of these and other factors.

We continually seek to improve our product designs and manufacturing approach in order to reduce our costs. We pursue a strategy of outsourcing rather than internally developing our faxmodem chipsets, which are application-specific integrated circuits that form the technology base for our modems. By outsourcing the chipset technology, we are able to concentrate our research and development resources on modem system design, leverage the extensive research and development capabilities of our chipset suppliers, and reduce our development time and associated costs and risks. As a result of this approach, we are able to quickly develop new and innovative products while maintaining a relatively low level of research and development expense as a percentage of sales. We also outsource aspects of our manufacturing to contract manufacturers as a means of reducing our fixed labor costs and capital expenditures, and to provide us with greater flexibility in its capacity planning.

Our gross margins are typically significantly higher for our branded product sales to retailers and distributors, both in the United States and internationally, than for sales to OEMs. However, the increased margins for sales to retailers and distributors are generally offset by higher operating expenses associated with those sales than for sales to OEMs. These increased operating expenses typically include costs for cooperative advertising, technical support, and sales commissions.

The market for dial-up faxmodems has been characterized by rapid technological change, frequent product introductions, evolving industry requirements and short product life cycles. When component costs drop and competitive and enhanced products become available, our products are susceptible to price decreases. We have a policy of offering price protection to certain of our retailer and distributor customers for some or all of their on-hand inventory, whereby when we reduces our prices for a product, the customer receives a credit for the difference between the original purchase price and our reduced price. In 1997, 1998 and to a lesser extent in 1999 and 2000, our results of operations were adversely affected by reductions in prices which resulted in relatively high charges for price protection. The impact of price reductions is mitigated by our introduction of new products, the adoption of lower-cost technologies and product designs, and the implementation of other measures to reduce our manufacturing and other costs.

Our statement of operations data for the years ending December 31, 1998 and 1999 have been reclassified to reflect a change in our accounting for sales returns in accordance with the guidance in the Securities and Exchange Commission issued Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 101, "Revenue Recognition in Financial Statements". There was no net impact on our previously reported gross margins or net income (loss).

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

Year Ending December 31, 2000 Compared to Year Ending December 31, 1999

Net Sales. Our net sales decreased 6.8% to $59.8 million in 2000 from $64.1 million in 1999. Our sales decline resulted from overall lower average selling prices for our products, which offset an approximate 7% increase in unit sales in 2000 compared to 1999. In both 2000 and 1999, more than 90% of our sales were dial-up modem products.

Our net sales to retailers and distributors in the United States decreased by 5.9% to $40.2 million in 2000. Our sales decline was considerably less than the total retail market sales decline of dial-up modems in the USA. According to PC Data, a point-of-sale market tracking organization for the computer industry, our market share of dial-up modems at surveyed USA retailers increased in 2000 versus 1999 both in dollars and in unit sales.

Our worldwide net sales to OEM customers increased by 84.7% to $4.5 million in 2000, reflecting our first significant sale in the OEM embedded modem market.

Our international sales to retailers and distributors decreased by 21.0% to $15.0 million in 2000.

Gross Profit. Gross profit as a percentage of net sales decreased to 34.1% in 2000 from 36.7% in 1999. Our average selling prices declined year over year by more than 10%. Materials cost and manufacturing cost were also reduced but they could not be reduced to the same extent, yielding a gross profit reduction.

Selling Expenses. Selling expenses decreased 6.3% to $12.7 million in 2000 from $13.6 million in 1999. Selling expenses as a percent of net sales increased slightly to 21.3% in 2000 from 21.2% in 1999. The dollar decrease was primarily the result of reduced selling expenses in our United Kingdom office and reduced commissions.

General and Administrative Expenses. General and administrative expenses decreased .8% to $6.2 million in 2000 from $6.3 million in 1999. General and administrative expenses as a percent of net sales increased to 10.4% in 2000 from 9.8% in 1999. The dollar decrease was primarily due to the result of reduced legal expenses, administrative support costs in our office in the United Kingdom, and bad debt expense, which were partially offset by increases in depreciation and amortization expenses and employee health insurance.

Research and Development Expenses. Research and development expenses decreased 2.8% to $6.2 million in 2000 from $6.4 million in 1999. Research and development expenses as a percent of net sales increased to 10.5% in 2000 from 10.0% in 1999. The dollar decrease in research and development expenses was primarily due to reduced expenses in our United Kingdom office and lower spending for preproduction materials, consultants, and recruiting which was partially offset by increases in spending for industry and government approvals.

Interest Income. Net interest income decreased to $447,148 in 2000 from $546,329 in 1999. The decrease was the result of our lower average cash balances during 2000 compared to 1999. The interest income impact of lower average cash balances was partially offset by higher interest rates. The interest rate earned in 2000 was approximately 90 basis points higher than earned in 1999.

Equity losses of Affiliate. Our affiliate equity losses were $215,834 in 2000 compared to $24,000 in 1999. Our original investment in the affiliate was $300,000. Our investment balance has been reduced to $60,166 at December 31, 2000, which, should the affiliate continue to record losses, represents our maximum potential future loss, based on our investment as of December 31, 2000.

Other Income Net. Other income and non-interest income increased to $237,820 in 2000 from $214,999 in 1999. The increase was primarily the result of higher rental income in 2000 compared to 1999.

Income Tax Benefit. Our tax benefit of $1,298,916 in 2000 represents an effective tax rate of 29.7% compared to a 29.5% rate in 1999. In both 1999 and 2000, we determined that it was more likely than not that certain state tax benefits would not be realized. In assessing the realizability of deferred tax assets, we consider whether it is more likely than not that some or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. The ultimate realization of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable income during periods in which those temporary differences become deductible. We consider the scheduled reversal of deferred tax liabilities, projected future taxable income, and other matters in making this assessment. As a result of our evaluation of these factors, we recorded an additional valuation allowance of $396,884 against our deferred tax asset. The additional valuation allowance was the result of our assessment that some portion of the benefits from the net operating losses for state tax purposes incurred by us might not be realized in future periods. If we do not meet projections in the near term, it may be necessary to record additional valuation allowance.

Net Sales. Our net sales increased 3.5% to $64.1 million in 1999 from $61.9 million in 1998. Our net sales to retailers and distributors in the United States were unchanged at $42.7 million in both 1998 and 1999. Our worldwide net sales to OEM customers decreased by 53.9% to $2.4 million. Our international sales to retailers and distributors increased by 36.6% to $18.5 million in 1999. The significant increase in international sales was primarily due to the purchase of the Hayes European modem business in March 1999.

Gross Profit. Gross profit as a percentage of net sales increased to 36.7% in 1999 from 27.0% in 1998. Although average selling prices for dial-up modems declined year over year, the cost of materials and manufacturing costs, including product obsolescence, scrap expense, and manufacturing overhead, declined to a greater extent, yielding increased gross margin. In addition, channel price protection and consumer rebates were less of a negative impact on gross profit in 1999 than in 1998. Gross margin for all of 1999 and part of 1998 included the favorable impact of advantageously negotiated purchases of modem materials. The impact of the favorable purchases is realized as units are sold.

Selling Expenses. Selling expenses increased 15.0% to $13.6 million or 21.2% of net sales in 1999 from $11.8 million or 19.1% of net sales in 1998. The dollar increase was primarily the result of the selling expenses in our new office in the United Kingdom, acquired from Hayes Corporation, and increased advertising and promotion expense, primarily in the form of cooperative advertising programs with the resellers of our modems.

General and Administrative Expenses. General and administrative expenses increased 26.1% to $6.3 million or 9.8% of net sales in 1999 from $5.0 million or 8.0% of net sales in 1998. The added expense was primarily due to the general and administrative expenses in our new office in the United Kingdom, increased legal expenses, Hayes goodwill amortization, and higher personnel costs.

Research and Development Expenses. Research and development expenses increased 44.4% to $6.4 million or 10.0% of net sales in 1999 from $4.5 million or 7.2% of net sales in 1998. The increase in expenses was primarily due to additional personnel and related expenses consistent with development of our new and planned wireless and broadband product lines.

Interest Income. Net interest income decreased to $546,329 in 1999 from $840,044 in 1998. The decrease was the result of our lower average cash balances during 1999 compared to 1998.

Other Income Net. Other income and non-interest income decreased to $190,999 in 1999 from $233,979 in 1998.

Income Tax Benefit. Our tax benefit of $587,935 in 1999 represents an effective tax rate of 29.4% compared to the 37.4% rate in 1998. The tax benefit rate decreased because we determined that it is more likely than not that certain state tax benefits will not be realized. In assessing the realizability of deferred tax assets, we consider whether it is more likely than not that some or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. The ultimate realization of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable income during periods in which those temporary differences become deductible. We consider the scheduled reversal of deferred tax liabilities, projected future taxable income, and other matters in making this assessment. As a result of its evaluation of these factors we recorded a valuation allowance against our deferred tax asset of $770,116. The valuation allowance was the result of our assessment that some portion of the benefits from the net operating losses for state tax purposes incurred by us might not be realized in future periods. If we do not meet projections in the near term, it may be necessary to record additional valuation allowance.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

On December 31, 2000 we had working capital of $29.4 million, including $2.9 million in cash and investment securities. We have a $5 million (maximum) line of credit that expires on April 1, 2003. The line of credit bears interest at the bank's prime rate. The line of credit is secured and contains certain financial and other covenants. We are in full compliance with all covenants. On December 31, 2000 the dollar amount that could be borrowed under our $5 million line, which is based on United States accounts receivables, was $3.5 million. No amounts were outstanding under any lines of credit at December 31, 2000.

In 2000 our net cash used in operating activities was approximately $ 8.2 million. Sources of cash were an increase of $4.8 million of accounts payable and accrued expenses, depreciation and amortization of $1.7 million, and the tax benefit from the exercise of stock options of $.5 million. The increase in accounts payable was primarily the result of a build-up of inventory in the latter part of 2000. These sources of cash were offset by the increase of inventories of $ 9.5 million, the net loss of $3.1 million, the increase of net deferred income taxes of $1.8 million, and other current assets of $.7 million. The significant increase in inventories resulted from our decision to initiate an aggressive production plan for new broadband cable and ADSL modem products. This was done in part because of a severe electronics parts shortage during the third and fourth quarters of 2000 and also because a quick delivery ramp to high volume production was our perceived requirement to be able to compete for large orders from the major cable service operators and telecommunications companies.

Our capital expenditures in 2000 of approximately $1.3 million consisted primarily of purchases of computer hardware and software, purchases of other equipment and tooling, and continued renovations to our headquarters.

In January 2001, we obtained a mortgage from a bank, secured by our owned real estate in Boston, Massachusetts, for $6 million. This is a 20-year direct reduction mortgage. The interest rate is fixed for one year, based on the one-year Federal Home Loan Bank rate plus 2.5% per annum. The current rate of interest as of December 31, 2000 was 7.76%. We are also currently negotiating to substantially increase our current $5 million line of credit. We can provide no assurance that we will be able to increase our current line of credit or other financing at favorable terms, or at all. We believe that the existing cash, the cash from the $6 million mortgage, the potential borrowing availability from our $5 million line of credit, and the expected cash from the reduction of our inventory to normal levels will be sufficient to fund our normal working capital requirements for next 12 months. (See RISK FACTORS).

Euro Conversion

On January 1, 1999, 11 of the 15 member countries of the European Union established a fixed conversion rates between their existing sovereign currencies and the euro. As of January 1, 2002, the transition to the euro will be complete. We have significant operations within the European Union and is currently preparing for the euro conversion. The euro may impact general economic conditions such as interest and foreign exchange rates within the participating countries or in other areas where the Company operates. We are in the process of analyzing the impact of the euro with a view to minimizing the effects on the Company's operations. We do not expect the costs of upgrading its systems to be material.

A portion of our revenues are subject to the risks associated with international sales. Although most of our product prices are denominated in the United States currency, customers in foreign countries generally evaluate purchases of products such as those sold by us on the purchase price expressed in the customer's currency. As a result, the impact of and economic conditions relating to the euro (including fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates, particularly with respect to the U.S. dollar) may have a material adverse affect on the demand for our products as well as on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Recently Issued Accounting Standards

In June 1998, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued SFAS No. 133, "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities" ("SFAS 133 "). This statement was amended by the issuance of SFAS 137, "Deferral of the Effective Date of FASB Statement No. 133", which changed the effective date of SFAS 133 to all fiscal years beginning after June 15, 2000 (fiscal 2001 for us) and requires that all derivative instruments be recorded on the balance sheet at their fair value. Changes in the fair value of derivatives are recorded each period in current earnings or other comprehensive income, depending on whether a derivative is designated as part of a hedge transaction and, if so, the type of hedge transaction. We anticipate that the adoption of SFAS 133 will not have a material impact on our financial position or results of operations.

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

In December 1999, the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") issued Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 101, "Revenue Recognition in Financial Statements" ("SAB 101"). SAB 101 expresses the view of the SEC staff in applying generally accepted accounting principles to certain revenue recognition issues. We adopted SAB 101 in the fourth quarter of 2000, and have adjusted previously reported revenue, cost of revenue, accounts receivable and inventory balances related to the manner in which we had historically recorded and reported sales returns reserves. There was no net impact on our previously reported gross margins or net income (loss). We have reclassified the balance sheet at December 31, 1999 and the statements of operations for each of the years in the two-year period ended December 31, 1999 to reflect this change (See Note 3 of the Consolidated Financial Statements).

In September 2000 the FASB Emerging Issues Task Force discussed Issue No. 00-22 "Accounting for Points and Certain Other Time-Based or Volume-Based Sales Incentive Offers, and Offers for Free Products or Services to Be Delivered in the Future", and Issue No. 00-25 "Accounting for Consideration from a Vendor to a Retailer in Connection with the Purchase or Promotion of the Vendor's Products". A consensus has not yet been reached on either matter. Issue No. 00-22 addresses the accounting for future offers to customers of free product, discounts or rebates which will be awarded only if the customer completes a specified cumulative level of revenue transactions or remains a customer for a specified time period. Issue No. 00-25 addresses whether certain consideration offered by a vendor to a distributor, including slotting fees, cooperative advertising arrangements and "buy-down" programs, should be characterized as operating expenses or reductions of revenue. These pronouncements may result in a reclassification of certain costs within our income statement, but are not expected to have a material impact on our financial condition or results of operations.

FASB Emerging Issues Task Force Issue No. 00-14 "Accounting for Certain Sales Incentives" addresses the recognition, measurement, and income statement classification for certain types of sales incentives. The application of the guidance in Issue No. 00-14 will result in a change in the manner in which we record certain types of discounts and sales and marketing incentives that are provided to its customers. We have historically recorded certain types of these incentives as marketing expenses. Under Issue No. 00-14, the Company will record these incentives as reductions of revenue. We are required to and will adopt the guidance outlined in Issue No. 00-14 for the second fiscal quarter of 2001, at which time prior period reported amounts will be reclassified to conform to the new presentation.

RISK FACTORS

This report contains forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties, such as statements of our objectives, expectations and intentions. The cautionary statements made in this report should be read as applicable to all forward-looking statements wherever they appear in this report. Our actual results could differ materially from those discussed herein. Factors that could cause or contribute to such differences include those discussed below, as well as those discussed elsewhere in this report.

We are incurring and expect to continue to incur significant losses.

We incurred net losses of approximately $3.1 million in fiscal 2000, $1.4 million in fiscal 1999, and $2.2 million in fiscal 1998. Although we have developed a strategic business plan under which we expect to become profitable, we cannot be sure that we will become profitable.

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

We anticipate that we will continue to incur significant expenses in the foreseeable future as we:

- o continue to develop our broadband access products, such as cable and ADSL modems, and our wireless local area network and Internet gateway products; and
- o continue to make efforts to expand our sales channels to include cable service providers and telephone companies.

Because we expect to continue to invest in our business ahead of future revenues, we expect that we will continue to incur operating losses, at least in the near future. We cannot guarantee that our expenditures will significantly increase our revenues, if at all. If we fail to significantly increase our revenues as we implement our strategies, we may not be able to achieve profitability.

Our Obligations Under Our Existing and Anticipated Debt Facilities Could Prevent Us From Obtaining Additional Financing and Harm Our Liquidity.

We have a $5 million line of credit that expires on April 1, 2003. Our line of credit bears interest at the bank's prime rate. The line of credit is secured, and contains certain financial and other covenants. We are in full compliance with all covenants. On December 31, 2000 the dollar amount that could be borrowed under our $5 million line, which is based on U. S. accounts receivables, was $3.5 million. No amounts were outstanding under any lines of credit at December 31, 2000. The Company is also currently negotiating to substantially increase its current $5 million line of credit. In January 2001, the Company obtained a $6 million mortgage from a bank, secured by the Company's owed real estate in Boston, Massachusetts.

Our outstanding and anticipated indebtedness could adversely affect our ability to obtain additional financing for working capital, acquisitions or other purposes. They could also make us more vulnerable to economic downturns and competitive pressures, and adversely affect our liquidity. In the event of a cash shortfall, we could be forced to reduce other expenditures to meet our requirements with respect to our outstanding debt. Our ability to meet these obligations will be dependent upon our future performance, which will be subject to financial, business and other factors affecting our operations. Many of these factors are beyond our control. If we are unable to generate sufficient cash flow from operations in the future to service our debt, we may be required to refinance all or a portion of these obligations or obtain additional financing in order to stay in business.

To stay in business we may require future additional funding which we may be unable to obtain on favorable terms, if at all.

Over time, we may require additional financing for our operations or potential acquisitions. This additional financing may not be available to us on a timely basis if at all, or, on terms acceptable to us. If we fail to obtain acceptable additional financing when needed, we may be required to reduce our planned expenditures or forego acquisition opportunities, which could reduce our revenues, increase our losses, and harm our business. Moreover, additional equity financing could dilute the per share value of our common stock held by current stockholders, while additional debt financing could restrict our ability to make capital expenditures or incur additional indebtedness, all of which would impede our ability to succeed.

Our failure to effectively manage our increased inventory levels could materially and adversely affect or liquidity and harm our business.

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

During 2000, in anticipation of future sales of our recently introduced broadband access products, particularly cable modems, we significantly increased our inventory for these products. We also built up this inventory in response to shortages of components for these products earlier in the year, and since then most of these shortages have been alleviated. We have also had difficulty in generating significant orders for some of our products, particularly broadband products; and as a result we experienced a significant increase in our inventory, to $21.9 million on December 31, 2000 from $14.3 million on December 31, 1999. Our increased levels of inventory may adversely affect our liquidity and increases the risk of inventory obsolescence, a decline in market value of the inventory, or losses from theft, fire or other casualty.

Our failure to manage our changing business effectively would harm our business.

We are managing a changing business as we attempt to grow our customer base and develop and seize market opportunities in the broadband access industry. Our changing business could place a significant strain on our senior management team and on operational and financial resources. To manage our changing business, we may need to:

- o adapt, improve or replace our existing operational and financial systems, procedures and controls;
- o hire, train, retain, motivate and manage the required personnel;
- o maintain close coordination among our sales and marketing, research and development, finance, administrative and operations personnel; and
- o identify, manage, and benefit from existing and potential strategic relationships and market opportunities.

We cannot guarantee that we will be successful in any of these endeavors. If we do not effectively manage the planning and other process control issues presented by our changing business, our business will suffer. Furthermore, if we are unable to undertake new business due to a shortage of staff or technology resources, our growth will be impeded. Therefore, there may be times when our opportunities for revenue growth may be limited by the capacity of our internal resources rather than by the absence of market demand.

Continued fluctuations in our operating results could cause the market price of our common stock to fall.

Our operating results have fluctuated in the past and are likely to fluctuate in the future. It is possible that our revenues and operating results will be below the expectations of securities analysts and investors in future quarters. If we fail to meet or surpass the expectations of securities analysts or investors, the market price of our common stock will most likely fall. Factors that have affected and may in the future affect our operating results include:

- o the overall demand for dial-up, cable and ADSL modems, wireless local area network products, Internet gateway products, and other products;
- o the timing of new product announcements and releases, such as our cable and ADSL modems, by us and our competitors; of successful testing and qualification of our products, such as Cablelabs and @Home qualification of cable modems and telephone company qualification of ADSL modems;
- o variations in the number and mix of products we sell;
- o the timing of customer orders and adjustments of delivery schedules to accommodate our customers' programs;

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

- o the availability of components, materials and labor necessary to produce our products;
- o the timing and level of expenditures in anticipation of future sales;
- o pricing and other competitive conditions; and
- o seasonality.

Our customer base is concentrated and the loss of one or more of our customers could harm our business.

Relatively few customers have accounted for a significant portion of our net sales. In fiscal 2000, 26% of our net sales were attributable to two customers and in fiscal 1999, two customers represented 27% of our net sales. Because our customer base is concentrated, a loss of one or more of these significant customers or a reduction or delay in orders or a default in payment from any of our top customers could significantly reduce our sales which would materially harm our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our failure to meet changing customer requirements and emerging industry standards would adversely impact our ability to sell our products.

The market for PC communications products and high-speed broadband access products is characterized by rapidly changing customer demands and short product life cycles. Some of our product developments and enhancements have taken longer than planned and have delayed the availability of our products, which adversely affected our sales and profitability in the past. Any significant delays in the future may adversely impact our ability to sell our products, and our results of operations and financial condition may be adversely affected. Our future success will depend in large part upon our ability to:

- o identify and respond to emerging technological trends in the market;
- o develop and maintain competitive products that meet changing customer demands;
- o enhance our products by adding innovative features that differentiate our products from those of our competitors;
- o bring products to market on a timely basis;
- o introduce products that have competitive prices; and
- o respond effectively to new technological changes or new product announcements by others.

Our future success depends in part on our ability to enhance our existing products and to develop new products.

We have developed and marketed a limited number of different product types. To date our product introductions have focused on the development and enhancement of our dial-up, cable and ADSL modems, wireless products, and other communications products. We believe that our future success will depend in large part on our ability to enhance our existing products and to continue to develop new products, such as cable and ADSL modems, which meet regulatory and customer requirements. The successful development of new products and product enhancements are subject to numerous risks, both known and unknown, including:

- o unanticipated delays;
- o budget overruns;
- o technical problems;
- o component shortages;
- o regulatory approval from the Federal Communications Commission and other regulatory authorities;

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

- o successful testing and qualification of our products, such as Cablelabs and @Home qualification of cable modems and telephone company qualification of ADSL modems; and
- o other difficulties that could result in the abandonment or substantial change in the commercialization of these enhancements or new products.

Our failure to introduce new products or to enhance our existing products on a timely basis has in the past and may in the future cause our stock price to fluctuate.

The Sales Cycle for Some of Our Products is Lengthy.

The sales cycle associated with our cable and ADSL modems and other broadband access products may be lengthy, potentially lasting six months to a year. Our customers generally conduct technical evaluations of competing technologies prior to the commitment of capital and other resources. In addition, purchasing decisions may be delayed because of our customers' internal budget approval procedures. Sales may also be subject to customer trials, which could last several months. Because of the lengthy sales cycle and the large size of customers' order, if orders forecasted for a specific customer for a particular quarter do not occur in that quarter, our operating results for that quarter could suffer and our business would be harmed.

Our Product Cycles Tend to be Short, and We May Incur Significant Non-Recoverable Expenses or Devote Significant Resources to Sales that Do Not Occur When Anticipated.

In the rapidly changing technology environment in which we operate, product cycles tend to be short. Therefore, the resources we devote to product development, sales and marketing may not generate material revenues for us. In addition, short product cycles can result in excess and obsolete inventory. We have incurred and expect in the future to incur substantial development, sales, marketing, and inventory costs. If we are unable to recover these costs, our financial condition and operating results could be adversely affected. In addition, if we sell our products at reduced prices in anticipation of cost reductions and we still have higher cost products in inventory, our business would be harmed and our results of operations and financial condition would be adversely affected.

Our average selling prices for our dial-up modems have declined, which has had an adverse affect on our operating results.

The dial-up modem industry has been characterized by declining average selling prices. The decline in average selling prices is due to a number of factors, including technological change and competition. As industry standards for cable and ADSL modems continue to evolve, it is likely that there will be an increased retail distribution of cable and ADSL modems, which could put further price pressure on our dial-up modems and any cable or ADSL modems that we introduce in the future. Decreasing average selling prices could result in decreased revenue even if the number of units sold increase. As a result of decreased average selling prices, we have experienced and we may in the future experience substantial period to period fluctuations in operating results.

Our operating results have been adversely affected because of price protection programs.

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

In 1998 and, to a lesser extent, in 1999 and 2000, our operating results were adversely affected by reductions in average selling prices because we gave credits to some of our customers as a result of price protection. Specifically, when we reduce the price for a product, the customer receives a credit for the difference between the customer's original purchase price and our reduced price for the product, for all unsold product at the time of the price reduction.

We may be subject to product returns resulting from defects in or overstocking of our products. Product returns could result in the failure to attain market acceptance of our products, which would harm our business.

If our products contain undetected defects, errors or failures, we could face:

- o delays in the development of our products;
- o numerous product returns; and
- o other losses to us or to our customers or end users.

Any of these occurrences could also result in the loss of or delay in market acceptance of our products, either of which would reduce our sales and harm our business. We are also exposed to the risk of product returns from our customers as a result of contractual stock rotation privileges and our practice of assisting some of our customers in balancing their inventories. Overstocking has in the past led and may in the future lead to higher than normal returns.

We may be unable to produce sufficient quantities of our products because we depend on third party manufacturers. If these third party manufacturers fail to produce quality products in a timely manner, our ability to fulfill our customer orders would be adversely impacted.

We use contract manufacturers, primarily a single manufacturer in China to partially manufacture our products. We use these third party manufacturers to help ensure low costs, rapid market entry and reliability. Any manufacturing disruption could impair our ability to fulfill orders. Our failure to fulfill orders would adversely affect our sales. Although we work with more than one third party manufacturer, a significant number of our products are manufactured by only one manufacturer. Since third parties manufacture our products and we expect this to continue in the future, our success will depend, in part, on the ability of third parties to manufacture our products cost effectively and in sufficient quantities to meet our customer demand.

We are subject to the following risks because of our reliance on third party manufacturers:

- o reduced management and control of component purchases;
- o reduced control over delivery schedules;
- o reduced control over quality assurance;
- o reduced control over manufacturing yields;
- o lack of adequate capacity during periods of excess demand;
- o limited warranties on products supplied to us;
- o potential increases in prices;
- o interruption of supplies from assemblers as a result of a fire, natural calamity, strike or other significant event; and
- o misappropriation of our intellectual property.

We may be unable to obtain certain components for our dial-up, cable and ADSL modems because of the high demand and relatively low availability of these components. If we fail to obtain these components our business would be harmed because we would be unable to manufacture certain products.

Periodically, there have been shortages of critical components for our products. In the first half of 2000, there were shortages of components for our cable modems, which has since been alleviated. If, in the future, we are unable to obtain required components in a timely manner or at all, we would be unable to manufacture some of our modem products and our business would be harmed.

We may be unable to produce sufficient quantities of our products because we obtain certain key components from, and depend on, certain sole or limited source suppliers.

We obtain certain key parts, components and equipment from sole or limited sources of supply. For example, we obtain modem chipsets from Agere Systems (formerly Lucent Technologies) and Conexant Systems (formerly Rockwell). In addition, Intersil is our only wireless chipset supplier. In the past, we have experienced delays in receiving shipments of modem chipsets from our sole source suppliers. We may experience similar delays in the future. Any interruption in the operations of our suppliers of sole or limited source parts could affect our ability to meet our scheduled product deliveries to our customers.

Our business would be harmed if any of our sole or limited source suppliers:

- o fail to produce chipset enhancements or new chipsets on a timely basis;
- o stop selling their products or components to us at commercially reasonable prices; or
- o refuse to sell their products or components to us at any price.

If we are unable to obtain components from our sole or limited source suppliers, we would be unable to ship our products in a timely manner and our relationships with our customers would be harmed.

If we are unable to obtain a sufficient supply of components from our current sources, we could experience difficulties in obtaining alternative sources or in altering product designs to use alternative components. Resulting delays or reductions in product shipments could damage relationships with our customers and our customers could decide to purchase products from our competitors. Inability to meet our customers' demand or a decision by one or more of our customers to purchase products from our competitors could harm our operating results.

Sales of our products depend on the widespread adoption of broadband access products. If the demand for broadband access services does not develop, then our results of operations and financial condition could be adversely affected.

Although we are continuing to enhance our existing dial-up modems, wireless products and other communications products, our growth will be strongly affected by our sale of cable and ADSL modems and other broadband access products. We have invested, and are continuing to invest, substantial resources to produce and develop our inventory of cable and ADSL modems and other broadband access products. We may be unable to generate significant revenues from sales of our broadband access products and we will have expended significant resources on products for which we are generating limited or no revenues, if:

- o the market for broadband access products, such as cable and ADSL modems, does not develop further or develops slower than we expect;
- o we do not market our broadband access products effectively;
- o we are unable to expand our distribution channels for our broadband access products; or
- o our broadband access products do not obtain market acceptance.

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

Certain critical factors will likely affect our ability to develop a market and obtain market acceptance for our broadband access products. These factors include:

- o quality and reliability of service;
- o availability of cost-effective, high-speed service;
- o ability to integrate business applications on the Internet;
- o interoperability among multiple vendors' network equipment;
- o lack of congestion in service providers' networks;
- o adequate security; and
- o ability to meet growing demands for increasing bandwidth.

We may be unable to recoup our investments in research and development of new products.

The technical innovations required for us to remain competitive in the broadband access industry are complex, require long development cycles, and entail a significant amount of research and development expenditures. We have invested and will continue in the future to invest in research and development to develop new products and to enhance our existing technologies and products. In fiscal 1998, 1999, and 2000 we incurred $4.4 million, $6.4 million, and $6.2

million in research and development costs. Growth in our research and development activities is primarily related to our initiatives in the broadband, advanced networking and Internet gateway product areas. We will have incurred and expect to continue to incur most of our research and development expenses before the technical feasibility or commercial viability of our enhanced or new products can be ascertained. Revenues from our future or enhanced products may be insufficient to recover our associated research and development costs.

We may be unable to maintain or increase our sales through our existing or new sales channels.

We have primarily sold our dial-up modem products through high-volume retailers, independent distributors, and original equipment manufacturers, also known as OEMs. Sales to each of these distribution channels subject us to the following risks which, if they materialize, would significantly reduce sales of our products.

Retailers:

Our sales to retailers have historically constituted the largest percentage of our net sales. Due to competition for limited shelf space, retailers have the ability to negotiate favorable terms of sale, including price discounts and product return policies. We may be unable to maintain or increase our sales to retailers on favorable terms, if at all.

Independent Distributors:

Our independent distributors generally are not contractually committed to future purchases of our products and may carry our competitors' products. One or more of our distributors could discontinue carrying our products at any time.

OEMs:

OEMs may require special distribution arrangements and product pricing. We may be unsuccessful in developing products for sales to OEMs or maintaining or increasing sales to OEMs on favorable terms.

The market for high-speed communications products and services has many competing technologies and, as a result, the demand for our products and services is uncertain.

The market for high-speed communications products and services has a number of competing technologies. For instance, Internet access can be achieved by:

- o using a standard telephone line and appropriate service for dial-up modems, ISDN modems, or ADSL modems, possibly in combination;
- o using a cable modem with a cable TV line and cable modem service; using a router to service the computers connected to a local area network; or
- o other approaches, including wireless links to the Internet.

Although we currently sell or plan to sell products which include the technologies described in the first three bullet points above, the market for high-speed communication products and services is fragmented and still in its development stage. The introduction of new products by competitors, market acceptance of products based on new or alternative technologies, or the emergence of new industry standards could render our products less competitive or obsolete. If any of these events occur, we may be unable to sustain or grow our business. In addition, if any of one or more of the alternative technologies gain market share at the expense of another technology, demand for our products may be reduced, and we may be unable to sustain or grow our business.

We face significant competition, which could result in decreased demand for our products or services.

We may be unable to compete successfully. A number of companies have developed, or are expected to develop, products that compete or will compete with our products. Furthermore, many of our current and potential competitors have significantly greater resources than we do. Intense competition, rapid technological change and evolving industry standards could decrease demand for our products or make our products obsolete.

Our competitors by product group include the following:

- o Dial-up modem competitors: U.S. Robotics, Actiontec, Askey, Best Data, Creative Labs, Elsa, GVC, Intel, and SONICblue.

28

- o Cable modem competitors: 3Com, Com21, Motorola, and Toshiba.
- o ADSL modem competitors: 3Com, Efficient Networks and Westell.
- o Wireless Local Area Network competitors: 3Com, Agere, Cisco, Intel, Linksys, and Proxim.

The principal competitive factors in our industry include the following:

- o product performance, features and reliability;
- o price;
- o product availability and lead times;
- o size and stability of operations;
- o breadth of product line;
- o sales and distribution capability;
- o technical support and service;
- o relationships with providers of broadband access services; and

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

- o compliance with industry standards.

Our business is dependent on the Internet and the development of the Internet infrastructure.

Our success will depend in large part on increased use of the Internet to increase the demand for high-speed communications products. Critical issues concerning the commercial use of the Internet remain largely unresolved and are likely to affect the development of the market for our products. These issues include security, reliability, cost, ease of access and quality of service.

Our success also will depend on the growth of the use of the Internet by businesses, particularly for applications that utilize multimedia content and that require high bandwidth. The recent growth in the use of the Internet has caused frequent periods of performance degradation. This has required the upgrade of routers, telecommunications links and other components forming the infrastructure of the Internet by Internet service providers and other organizations with links to the Internet.

Any perceived degradation in the performance of the Internet as a whole could undermine the benefits of our products. Potentially increased performance provided by our products and the products of others ultimately is limited by and reliant upon the speed and reliability of the Internet backbone itself. Consequently, the emergence and growth of the market for our products will depend on improvements being made to the entire Internet infrastructure to alleviate overloading.

Changes in current or future laws or governmental regulations that negatively impact our products and technologies could harm our business.

The jurisdiction of the Federal Communications Commission, or the FCC, extends to the entire United States communications industry including our customers and their products and services that incorporate our products. Our products are also required to meet the regulatory requirements of Industry Canada and other countries throughout the world where our products are sold. Obtaining government regulatory approvals is time-consuming and very costly. In the past, we have encountered delays in the introduction of our cable modems as a result of government certifications. We may face further delays if we are unable to comply with governmental regulations. Delays caused by the time it takes to comply with regulatory requirements may result in cancellations or postponements of product orders or purchases by our customers, which would harm our business.

Our international operations are subject to a number of risks inherent in international activities.

Our international sales accounted for approximately 29% of our revenues in fiscal 1999 and 28% in fiscal 2000. The revenues we received from international sales were significantly impacted by our Hayes European operation, which we began operating in March 1999. Currently our operations are significantly dependent on our international operations and may be materially and adversely affected by many factors including:

- o international regulatory and communications requirements and policy changes;
- o favoritism towards local suppliers;
- o difficulties in inventory management, accounts receivable collection and the management of distributors or representatives;
- o difficulties in staffing and managing foreign operations;

- o political and economic changes and disruptions;
- o governmental currency controls;
- o shipping costs;
- o currency exchange rate fluctuations; and
- o tariff regulations.

We anticipate that our international sales will continue to account for a significant percentage of our revenues. If foreign markets for our current and future products develop more slowly than currently anticipated or if foreign countries decide not to construct the infrastructure necessary to operate broadband access products, our future results of operations may be harmed.

Fluctuations in the foreign currency exchange rates in relation to the U.S. dollar could have a material adverse effect on our operating results.

Changes in currency exchange rates that increase the relative value of the U.S. dollar may make it more difficult for us to compete with foreign manufacturers on price or otherwise have a material adverse effect on our sales and operating results. A significant increase in our foreign denominated sales would increase our risk associated with foreign currency fluctuations.

Our future success will depend on the continued services of our executive officers and key research and development personnel with expertise in hardware and software development.

The loss of any of our executive officers or key research and development personnel, the inability to attract or retain qualified personnel in the future or delays in hiring skilled personnel could harm our business. Competition for personnel, particularly hardware and software engineers and other technical personnel, is extremely intense. We may be unable to attract and retain all the personnel necessary for the development of our business. In addition, the loss of Frank B. Manning, our president and chief executive officer, or Peter Kramer, our executive vice president, some other member of the management team, a key engineer or other key individual contributors, could harm our relations with our customers, our ability to respond to technological change, and our business.

Our business may be harmed by acquisitions we may complete in the future.

We may pursue acquisitions of related businesses, technologies, product lines or products. Our identification of suitable acquisition candidates involves risk inherent in assessing the values, strengths, weaknesses, risks and profitability of acquisition candidates, including the effects of the possible acquisition on our business, diversion of our management's attention, risk of increased leverage, stockholder dilution, and risk associated with unanticipated problems or latent liabilities.

We have had and may in the future have difficulty protecting our intellectual property.

Our ability to compete is heavily affected by our ability to protect our intellectual property. We rely primarily on trade secret laws, confidentiality procedures, patents, copyrights, trademarks, and licensing arrangements to protect our intellectual property. The steps we take to protect our technology may be inadequate. Existing trade secret, trademark and copyright laws offer only limited protection. Our patents could be invalidated or circumvented. The laws of some foreign countries in which our products are or may be developed, manufactured or sold may not protect our products or intellectual property rights to the same extent as do the laws of the United States. This may make the possibility of piracy of our technology and products more likely. We cannot assure that the steps that we have taken to protect our intellectual property will be adequate to prevent misappropriation of our technology.

We could infringe the intellectual property rights of others.

Particular aspects of our technology could be found to infringe on the intellectual property rights or patents of others. Other companies may hold or obtain patents on inventions or may otherwise claim proprietary rights to technology necessary to our business. We cannot predict the extent to which we may be required to seek licenses. We cannot assure that the terms of any licenses we may be required to seek will be reasonable.

Our executive officers and directors may control certain matters to be voted on by the stockholders. These officers and directors may vote in a manner that is not in your best interests.

Our executive officers and directors beneficially own, in the aggregate, approximately 21.6% of our outstanding common stock. As a result, in practicality, these stockholders control certain matters to be voted on by the stockholders. These matters include the election of directors, amendments to our articles of continuance and approval of significant corporate transactions. These executive officers and directors may vote as stockholders in a manner that is not in the best interests of the other stockholders of the company.

The volatility of our stock price could adversely affect your investment in our common stock.

The market price of our common stock has been and may continue to be highly volatile. We believe that a variety of factors have caused and could in the future cause the stock price of our common stock to fluctuate, including:

- o announcements of developments related to our business, including announcements of certification by the FCC or other regulatory authorities of our products or our competitors products;
- o quarterly fluctuations in our actual or anticipated operating results and order levels;
- o general conditions in the worldwide economy;
- o announcements of technological innovations;
- o new products or product enhancements introduced by us or our competitors;
- o developments in patents or other intellectual property rights and litigation; and
- o developments in our relationships with our customers and suppliers.

In addition, in recent years the stock market in general and the markets for shares of small capitalization and "high-tech" companies in particular, have experienced extreme price fluctuations which have often been unrelated to the operating performance of affected companies. Any fluctuations in the future could adversely affect the market price of our common stock and the market price of our common stock may decline.

Because we are a Canadian corporation, we are subject to laws that may have the effect of delaying or preventing a change in control of our company.

An investment in our common stock that results in a change of control may be subject to the review and approval of the Canadian governmental authorities. If the Canadian governmental authorities have to approve and review an investment that may result in a change of control, the investment will be delayed and possibly prevented.

Generally, under the Canada Business Corporations Act, at least one-third of our directors and any committees of the board of directors must be Canadian residents. If our sales in Canada exceed five percent of our net sales, then one-half of our directors and any committees of the board of directors must be Canadian residents.

We own financial instruments that are sensitive to market risks as part of our investment portfolio. The investment portfolio is used to preserve our capital until we are required to fund operations, including our research and development activities. None of these market-risk sensitive instruments are held for trading purposes. We do not own derivative financial instruments in our investment portfolio. The investment portfolio contains instruments that are subject to the risk of a decline in interest rates.

Investment Rate Risk - Our investment portfolio includes debt instruments that are primarily United States government bonds and high grade corporate bonds of less than three years in duration. These bonds are subject to interest risk, and could decline in value if interest rates fluctuate. Our investment portfolio also consists of certain commercial paper, which is also subject to interest rate risk. Due to the short duration and conservative nature of these instruments, we do not believe that we have a material exposure to interest rate risk.

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

(1) Incorporation and Nature of Operations

Zoom Telephonics, Inc. (the "Company") is incorporated under the federal laws of Canada (Canada Business Corporations Act). Its principal business activity, the design, production, and marketing of faxmodems and other communication peripherals, is conducted through its wholly-owned subsidiary, Zoom Telephonics, Inc. ("Zoom US"), a Delaware corporation based in Boston, Massachusetts.

(2) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

(a) Basis of Presentation

The consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and are stated in US dollars. Any differences between US and Canadian generally accepted accounting principles have an insignificant impact on the consolidated financial statements.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results may differ from those estimates.

(b) Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its wholly-owned subsidiary, Zoom US, and all of its wholly-owned subsidiaries. All intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

(c) Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all investments with original maturities of less than 90 days to be cash equivalents.

(d) Investment Securities

The Company's investment securities are classified as available-for-sale. Available-for-sale securities are stated at fair value and unrealized gains and losses are excluded from earnings, and are reported as a separate component of other comprehensive income until realized. The cost of securities sold is based on the specific identification method and interest earned is included in Other Income.

(e) Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost or market, cost being determined using the first-in, first-out (FIFO) method.

(f) Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment is stated and recorded at cost. Depreciation of property, plant and equipment is provided by using the straight-line method at rates sufficient to amortize the costs of the fixed assets over their estimated useful lives

(g) Goodwill and Impairment of Long-lived Assets

Goodwill resulted from the excess of cost over fair value of net assets acquired in purchase business combinations and is being amortized on a straight-line basis over periods of 5 to 10 years. In accordance with Financial Accounting Standards Board Statement No. 121, "Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to be Disposed Of," the Company reviews its long-lived assets for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Management performs ongoing business reviews and evaluates impairment indicators based on qualitative and quantitative factors. If it is determined that the carrying amount of an asset cannot be fully recovered, an impairment loss is recognized. The Company periodically evaluates the recoverability and remaining life of its goodwill and determines whether the goodwill should be completely or partially written off or the amortization period accelerated. The Company will recognize an impairment of goodwill if undiscounted estimated future operating cash flows of the acquired product line are determined to be less than the carrying amount of goodwill. If the Company determines that the goodwill has been impaired, the measurement of the impairment will be equal to the excess of the carrying amount of the goodwill over the amount of discounted estimated future cash flows. An appropriate discount rate, determined through an analysis of the risks associated with the goodwill, would be applied to the estimated future cash flows. If an impairment of goodwill were to occur, the Company would reflect the impairment through a reduction in the carrying value of goodwill. The assessment of recoverability of goodwill will be impacted if estimated future operating cash flows are not achieved.

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

ZOOM TELEPHONICS, INC. AND SUBSIDIARY Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

(h) Income Taxes

The Company accounts for income taxes under the asset and liability method. Under this method, deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax basis and operating loss and tax credit carry forwards. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date.

(i) Earnings (Loss) Per Common Share

Basic earnings (loss) per share is computed by dividing net income (loss) by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Diluted loss per share is computed by dividing net income by the weighted average number of common shares and dilutive potential common shares outstanding during the period. Under the treasury stock method, the unexercised options are assumed to be exercised at the beginning of the period or at issuance, if later. The assumed proceeds are then used to purchase common shares at the average market price during the period.

Potential common shares for which inclusion would have the effect of increasing diluted earnings per share (i.e., antidilutive) are excluded from the computation. Options to purchase 744,111, 661,355 and 419,039 shares of common stock at December 31, 1998, 1999, and 2000, respectively, were outstanding, but not included in the computation of diluted earnings per share as their effect would be antidilutive.

(j) Revenue Recognition

Sales are recognized upon shipment of products or receipt by customers, depending on the selling terms with the customer, after persuasive evidence of the arrangement exists, the selling price is fixed or determinable, and collectibility is reasonably assured. The Company records provisions for returns, warranty, and price protection, when the corresponding revenue is recognized.

(k) Financial Instruments

Financial instruments of the Company consist of cash and cash equivalents, investment securities, accounts receivable, accounts payable and accrued expenses. Due to the short term nature of these instruments, the carrying amount of these financial instruments approximates fair value.

(l) Stock-Based Compensation

The Company accounts for stock based compensation under SFAS No. 123, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation." As permitted by SFAS No. 123, the Company measures compensation cost in accordance with Accounting Principles Board Opinion (APB) No. 25 (APB 25), "Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees," and FASB interpretation No. 44 (FIN 44). Accordingly, no accounting recognition is given to stock options granted at fair market value until they are exercised. Upon exercise, net proceeds, including tax benefits realized, if any, are credited to equity.

(m) Advertising Costs

Advertising costs are expensed as incurred and reported in selling, general, and administrative expenses in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations and include costs of advertising, production, trade shows, and other activities designed to enhance demand for the Company's products. There are no deferred advertising costs in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets.

(n) Use of Estimates

Management of the Company has made a number of estimates and assumptions relating to the reporting of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingents assets and liabilities to prepare these financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(o) Investments in Affiliates

Investments in which the Company has no significant influence over the investee are accounted for under the cost method of accounting. Investments in which the Company exercises significant influence but which the Company does not control are accounted for under the equity method of accounting. Under the equity method, investments are stated at cost and are adjusted for the Company's share of earnings and losses, contributions and distributions.

(p) Foreign Currencies

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

The Company generates a portion of its revenues in international markets and denominated in foreign currencies, which subjects its operations to exposure to foreign currency fluctuations. The impact of currency fluctuations can be positive or negative in any given period. Realized and unrealized foreign exchange gains and losses are recognized in operating income and offset foreign gains and losses on the underlying exposures. During the years ending December 31, 1998, 1999 and 2000 foreign currency gains and losses were not material. At December 31, 2000, the Company's foreign currency-denominated net assets were not material. The Company has no involvement with derivative financial instruments.

(3) New Accounting Pronouncements

In December 1999, the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") issued Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 101, "Revenue Recognition in Financial Statements" ("SAB 101"). SAB 101 expresses the view of the SEC staff in applying generally accepted accounting principles to certain revenue recognition issues. The Company adopted SAB 101 in the fourth quarter of 2000, and has adjusted previously reported revenue, cost of revenue, accounts receivable and inventory balances related to the manner in which the Company had previously accounted for reserves for sales returns. There was no net impact on the Company's previously reported gross margins or net income (loss). The Company has reclassified the balance sheet at December 31, 1999 and the statements of operations for each of the years in the two-year period ended December 31, 1999. The impact on the Company's balance sheets and statements of operations is as follows:

In June 1998, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued SFAS No. 133, "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities" ("SFAS 133"). This statement was amended by the issuance of SFAS 137, "Deferral of the Effective Date of FASB Statement No. 133", which changed the effective date of SFAS 133 to all fiscal years beginning after June 15, 2000 (fiscal 2001 for the Company) and requires that all derivative instruments be recorded on the balance sheet at their fair value. Changes in the fair value of derivatives are recorded each period in current earnings or other comprehensive income, depending on whether a derivative is designated as part of a hedge transaction and, if so, the type of hedge transaction. We anticipate that the adoption of SFAS 133 will not have a material impact on our financial position or results of operations.

FASB Emerging Issues Task Force Issue No. 00-14 "Accounting for Certain Sales Incentives" addresses the recognition, measurement, and income statement classification for certain types of sales incentives. The application of the guidance in Issue No. 00-14 will result in a change in the manner in which the Company records certain types of discounts and sales and marketing incentives that are provided to its customers. The Company has historically recorded certain types of these incentives as marketing expenses. Under Issue No. 00-14, the Company will record these incentives as reductions of revenue. The Company is required to and will adopt the guidance outlined in Issue No. 00-14 for the second fiscal quarter of 2001, at which time prior period reported amounts will be reclassified to conform to the new presentation. The pro forma disclosures below reflect the reclassification of both previously reported as well as current year reported revenues and sales and marketing expenses based on the application of the guidance in Issue No. 00-14. There is no current year or historical impact on the Company's balance sheets.

(6) Lease Commitments

In August 1996 the Company entered into a five-year lease for a manufacturing and warehousing facility in Boston, Massachusetts. The Company recently extended the lease for an additional five years at a market value to be negotiated or if that is unsuccessful, determined by appraisal. In March of 1999, the Company assumed a ten-year lease for an office facility in Camberley, United Kingdom. This is a non-cancelable ten-year lease that commenced in February 1998. The Company also subleases 4,500 square feet as a tenant-at-will, which it uses primarily as a technical support facility, in a building located in Boca Raton, Florida. Total rent expense, under non-cancelable operating leases, was $334,469, $420,086, and $463,693 for the years ending December 31, 1998, 1999, and 2000, respectively. Future minimum rental payments, excluding executory costs, required or estimated under these operating leases are as follows:

government, and consumers worldwide. On October 9, 1998 Hayes filed for reorganization under Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code, Case No. 98-2276 through 98-2281, in the United States Bankruptcy Court ("the Court") for the District of Delaware.

In March 1999 Zoom Telephonics acquired most of the modem assets of Hayes Corporation for $5.0 million in cash. The purchase included the Hayes, Practical Peripherals, Accura, Optima, Century 2, and Cardinal brands and product rights for the USA, Canada, South & Central America, Europe, and the Middle East. In July 1999 the Company finalized the purchase of Hayes Asia Pacific for $1.1 million in cash. The acquisitions were accounted for as purchases. The excess of cost over fair value of net assets acquired is being amortized on a straight-line method over five years.

The following summarizes the assets acquired and liabilities assumed in the series of transactions:

Assets acquired:
Cash		$ 1,216,221
Accounts receivable		1,530,589
Inventory		865,885
Property and equipment		278,479
Goodwill (excess of cost over fair value of assets)		3,268,770
Other assets		388,626

		$ 7,548,570

Liabilities assumed:
Cash paid		6,128,479
Accounts payable		554,861
Accrued expenses		297,429
Negative Goodwill - other non-current liabilities		567,801

The negative goodwill resulted from the purchase of the Hayes U.K. business, where the value of the net assets acquired exceeded the cost. This transaction was independent of other Hayes purchases. The negative goodwill is reflected on the Consolidated Balance Sheet as a non-current liability. The negative goodwill is being amortized on a straight-line method over five years.

ZOOM TELEPHONICS, INC. AND SUBSIDIARY
Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

On December 31, 2000 the Company has federal and state net operating loss carryforwards of approximately $5,597,447 and $17,564,732, respectively. These federal and state net operating losses are available to offset future taxable income, and are due to expire beginning 2018 and 2002, respectively. The Company recorded a deferred tax asset valuation allowance against a portion of the deferred tax assets related to state net operating loss carryforwards which management believes may expire unused. The valuation allowance reduces deferred tax assets to reflect the estimated amount of deferred tax assets, which will more likely not be realized. Realization of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable income. The Company has recorded a valuation allowance against its deferred tax assets because management believes that, after considering all the available objective evidence, historical and prospective, with greater weight given to historical evidence, it is more likely than not that a portion of the asset will not be realized.

(12) Significant Customers

Two customers accounted for approximately 20% and 14% of net sales for the year ending December 31, 1998. Two customers accounted for approximately 17% and 10% of net sales for the year ending December 31, 1999. Two customers accounted for approximately 15% and 11% of net sales for the year ending December 31, 2000. On December 31, 1999, two customers comprised approximately 29% of net accounts receivable. On December 31, 2000, two customers comprised approximately 48% of net accounts receivable.

(13) Investment in Affiliates

In September 1999, the Company made an investment in a limited liability company ("LLC"). The Company granted the LLC the rights to a software license in exchange for 300,000 Class A shares of the LLC, which were valued by the Company at $300,000. The value at which the outside investors paid cash for shares received as part of the same equity infusion was used by the Company to value their shares received. A gain of $75,000 was recognized on the transaction, which was reported as other income in fiscal 1999. In May 2000 the LLC converted to a "C" corporation. As a result of the recognition of the Company's share of equity in losses of the affiliate, the investment balance as of December 31, 2000 has been reduced to $60,166.

Potential common shares for which inclusion would have the effect of increasing diluted earnings per share (i.e., antidilutive) are excluded from the computation. Options to purchase 24,486 and 505,381 shares of common stock at September 30, 2001 and 2000, respectively, were outstanding, but not included in the computation of diluted earnings per share as their effect would be antidilutive.

(4) Comprehensive Income

Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 130, "Reporting Comprehensive Income" establishes rules for the reporting and display of comprehensive income and its components; however, it has no impact on the Company's net income (loss) or shareholders' equity. SFAS No. 130 requires all changes in equity from non-owner sources to be included in the determination of comprehensive income (loss).

The components of comprehensive loss, net of tax, are as follows:

(5) Bank Credit Facility and Mortgage

At September 30, 2001 we had a $5 million line of credit facility. We have not borrowed under this line, so as of September 30, 2001 and the date of this report, no amounts were outstanding under this facility. The line of credit was contracted to expire on April 1, 2003. However, our lender has notified us on October 22, 2001 that it has terminated our line because it considers an event of default to have occurred as a result of our operating performance. We have contested the lender's default assertion and we are conferring with an outside attorney regarding this matter. A potential alternative lender with which we were negotiating a replacement facility notified us that in light of current market conditions and the economic uncertainties following the September 11 attack on New York, it was withdrawing its commitment to provide us with such funding. We are in discussions with another potential alternative lender to obtain a replacement facility. We cannot assure that this replacement facility will be available on favorable terms, if at all. At the date of this report (November 14, 2001) we have in excess of $4.6 million in cash and cash equivalents with no borrowings other than the 20-year mortgage described below.

On January 10, 2001 the Company obtained a mortgage for $6 million on the real estate property located at 201 and 207 South Street, Boston, Massachusetts. This is a 20-year direct reduction mortgage. The interest rate is fixed for one year, based on the one-year Federal Home Loan Bank rate plus 2.5% per annum. The rate is adjusted on January 10th of each calendar year commencing on January 10, 2002. The current rate of interest as of September 30, 2001 was 7.76% and interest expense for the third quarter and nine months ending September 30, 2001 was $121,331 and $336,761, respectively.

(6) Income Taxes

The Company recorded an increase in its net deferred tax asset valuation allowance of $3.8 million in the third quarter of 2001. The increase reflects management's assessment, based on historical financial results and current economic conditions, that based on the "more likely than not" criteria of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 109, "Accounting for Income Taxes", the Company may not be able to recover a portion of its net deferred tax assets. The Company's remaining net deferred tax assets balance at September 30, 2001 is based on feasible tax planning strategies available to the Company at this time. Income tax expense was $3.8 million for the three and nine months ending September 30, 2001, compared to an income tax benefit of $25,442 and $898,412 in the three and nine months ending September 30, 2000, respectively.

(7) Segment and Geographic Information

The Company's operations are classified into one reportable segment. The Company's domestic net sales and international sales for the three months and nine months ending September 30, 2001 and 2000, respectively, were comprised as follows:

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

The following discussion and analysis should be read in conjunction with the "Safe Harbor" Statement under the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995, stated below, as well as the risk factors set forth in our Annual Report on Form 10-K. Readers should also be cautioned that results of any reported period are often not indicative of results for any future period.

Results of Operations

Our net sales were $12.3 million and our net loss was $5.5 million for the third quarter ending September 30, 2001 compared to net sales of $16.2 million and a net loss of $50.0 thousand for the third quarter ending September 30, 2000. Our loss per share was $0.70 for the third quarter of 2001 compared to a loss per share of $0.01 for the third quarter of 2000. Our net sales were $33.4 million and our net loss was $13.4 million for the nine months ending September 30, 2001 compared to net sales of $43.5 million and a net loss of $1.9 million for the nine months ending September 30, 2000. The net loss per share was $1.70 for the nine months ending on September 30, 2001 versus a net loss per share of $0.25 for the nine months ending September 30, 2000.

Net sales for the quarter ending September 30, 2001 were 23.9% lower than the prior year's third quarter. Unit volume and average selling price both declined in our primary revenue product category, dial-up modems. Revenues declined in our North American non-OEM sales area, and also in our worldwide OEM sales area. Revenues increased in our International non-OEM sales area, reflecting increased sales in the U.K., our second largest country market, and also in Western Europe, where we have a new sales manager.

Net sales for the nine months ending September 30, 2001 were 23.2% lower than the comparable period in the prior year. Unit volume and average selling price both declined in our primary revenue product category, dial-up modems, and revenues declined both inside and outside North America, reflecting continuing weakness in the dial-up modem market.

The major reason for our $5.5 million higher net loss in Q3 2001 over Q3 2000 was a $3.8 million income tax expense recorded against our Q3 2001 before-tax loss of $1.7 million. This tax expense resulted from an increase in our deferred tax asset valuation allowance reserve. See the Income Tax discussion below.

Our before-tax loss in Q3 2001 was $1.7 million versus a before-tax loss of $.1 million in Q3 2000. The major reason for the $1.6 million higher before-tax loss was $2.8 million lower gross profit, partially offset by a reduction of $1.2 million in operating expenses. Gross profit for the three months ending September 30, 2001 was $3.4 million, or 27.8% of net sales, compared to $6.2 million, or 38.2% of net sales, for the three months ending September 30, 2000. The $2.8 million gross profit decrease was due to lower sales volume and selling prices, which was partially offset by reduced material costs and manufacturing expenses, and also due to a $.7 million higher inventory valuation write-down reflecting lower of cost or market tests applied to our inventory of broadband and wireless products. The write-down resulted from both our low sales for these products and the industry decline in component and finished goods prices for these categories.

The major reasons for our $11.4 million higher net loss in the nine months ending September 30, 2001 versus the nine months ending September 30, 2000 was $8.6 million lower gross profit and $4.7 million higher income tax expense, partially offset by a reduction of $1.9 million in operating expenses and other income. Gross profit as a percent of net sales decreased to 19.6% for the nine months ending September 30, 2001, compared to 34.8% for the nine months ending September 30, 2000. The $8.6 million decrease was due to lower sales volume and selling prices, which was partially offset by reduced material costs and manufacturing expenses, and also due to a $3.4 million higher inventory valuation write-down, primarily reflecting lower of cost or market tests applied to our inventory of broadband and wireless products. The write-down resulted from both our low sales for these products and the industry decline in component and finished goods prices for these categories.

In order to reduce expenses, we have reduced our worldwide staff, across all functional areas, from 330 employees on December 31, 2000 to 226 employees on September 30, 2001. We have also implemented a temporary wage freeze and controls on discretionary spending.

Selling expenses in the third quarter ending September 30, 2001 decreased in dollars to $2.4 million or 19.5% of net sales from $3.5 million or 21.9% of net sales in the third quarter ending September 30, 2000. The dollar decrease was mainly due to reduced advertising and promotion expense, primarily for cooperative advertising programs by resellers of our modems, reduced commissions, and outside services.

Selling expenses for the nine months ending September 30, 2001 decreased in dollars to $7.3 million or 21.7% of net sales from $9.3 million or 21.5% of net sales in the nine months ending September 30, 2000. The dollar decrease was mainly due to reduced advertising and promotion expense, primarily for cooperative advertising programs by resellers of our modems, reduced commissions, and reduced selling expenses in our U.K. office.

General and administrative expenses were $1.4 million or 11.6% of net sales in the third quarter ending September 30, 2001 compared to $1.6 million or 9.9% of net sales in the third quarter ending September 30, 2000. The dollar decrease was primarily the result of reduced personnel costs, legal expenses, and other operating expenses. The expense decreases were partially offset by a $.3 million expense increase from the write-down of goodwill associated with a 1996 acquisition.

General and administrative expenses for the nine months ending September 30, 2001 increased in dollars to $4.6 million or 13.7% of net sales from $4.4 million or 10.1% of net sales in the nine months ending September 30, 2000. The dollar increase was predominantly the result of the $.3 million expense increase from the write-down of goodwill associated with a 1996 acquisition, increased bad debt expense, higher legal fees, and higher business insurance costs. The expense increases were partially offset by reduced personnel costs and lower general and administrative expenses in our U.K. office.

Research and development expenses were $1.3 million or 10.8% of net sales in the third quarter ending September 30, 2001 compared to $1.3 million or 7.8% of net sales in the third quarter ending September 30, 2000.

Research and development expenses for the nine months ending September 30, 2001 decreased in dollars to $4.2 million or 12.4% of net sales from $4.7 million or 10.7% of net sales in the nine months ending September 30, 2000. The decrease was primarily due to reduced personnel expenses, lower expenses for industry and government product approvals, reduced expenses for recruiting, and lower expenses for production materials used in product development.

In the third quarter ending September 30, 2001 other income, net was approximately $23,000, compared to other income, net of $136,000 in the third quarter ending September 30, 2000. The reduction in other income, net was primarily due to the interest expense, which began in February 2001 for the debt payments made for the $6 million mortgage of our Corporate headquarters, and a decrease in interest income due to lower interest rates and lower average cash balances in the third quarter of 2001 compared to the third quarter of 2000.

In the nine months ending September 30, 2001 other expense, net was approximately $134,000, compared to other income, net of $419,000 in the third quarter ending September 30, 2000 for the reasons stated above.

Income tax expense was $3.8 million for the three and nine months ending September 30, 2001, compared to an income tax benefit of $25,442 and $898,412 in the three and nine months ending September 30, 2000, respectively. The Company recorded an increase in its net deferred tax asset valuation allowance of $3.8 million in the third quarter of 2001. The increase reflects management's assessment, based on historical financial results and current economic conditions, that based on the "more likely than not" criteria of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 109, "Accounting for Income Taxes", the Company may not be able to recover a portion of its net deferred tax assets. The Company's remaining net deferred tax assets balance at September 30, 2001 is based on feasible tax planning strategies available to the Company at this time.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

We ended the third quarter of 2001 with stockholders' equity of $23.4 million or $2.97 per share, cash and cash equivalents of $5.8 million, working capital of $23.0 million, and a current ratio of 4.8.

Operating activities used $2.3 million in cash during the nine months ending September 30, 2001. Our use of cash included a net loss of $13.4 million, the reduction of accounts payable by $3.9 million, and the increase of prepaid expenses and other assets of $0.3 million. These uses were partially offset by cash and non cash items provided from the reduction of inventory of $9.0 million, a reduction (write-down) in our net deferred income tax asset of $3.8 million, depreciation and amortization of $1.6 million, and a decrease in accounts receivable of $0.6 million. The reduction of accounts payable reflected our reduced inventory levels. The decrease in inventories in the first nine months of 2001 resulted from our reduced inventory purchases following the inventory buildup in 2000, our $3.4 million inventory valuation write-down recorded primarily in Q1 2001 and Q3 2001, and the return of inventories to key suppliers. Our deferred income tax asset was written-down by recording a $3.8 million additional valuation reserve in Q3 2001. Our decrease in accounts receivable primarily reflected our lower sales volume.

Investing activities used approximately $622,000 in cash during the nine months ending September 30, 2001. This cash was primarily used to fund the capital expenditures of $547,000, which consisted primarily of the continuing improvements to our headquarters building, purchases of computer software and hardware, and purchases of equipment and tooling. We also made an additional $75,000 investment in an affiliate. We do not have any significant capital commitments, and we anticipate that we will continue with modest investments in equipment and in improvements to our facilities during the year.

During the nine months ending September 30, 2001, we received cash from financing activities of $6.0 million from the proceeds of a 20-year mortgage of our headquarters building. Principal on the loan is amortized on a 20-year basis. The interest rate is adjusted annually in January of each year based on the one-year Federal Home Loan Bank rate plus 2.5 % per annum. The interest rate for the current year is 7.76%.

At September 30, 2001, we also had a $5 million line of credit facility. We have not borrowed under this line, so as of September 30, 2001 and the date of this report, no amounts were outstanding under this facility. The line of credit was contracted to expire on April 1, 2003. However, our lender has notified us on October 22, 2001 that it has terminated our line because it considers an event of default to have occurred as a result of our operating performance. We have contested the lender's default assertion and we are conferring with an outside attorney regarding this matter. A potential alternative lender with which we were negotiating a replacement facility notified us that in light of current market conditions and the economic uncertainties following the September 11 attack on New York, it was withdrawing its commitment to provide us with such funding. We are in discussions with another potential alternative lender to obtain a replacement facility. We cannot assure that this replacement facility will be available on favorable terms, if at all. At the date of this report (November 14, 2001) we have in excess of $4.6 million in cash and cash equivalents with no borrowings other than our 20-year mortgage. However, if we are not able to reinstate our line or obtain a replacement facility we may require additional sources of cash to support our business over the next twelve months.

Recently Issued Accounting Standards

In December 1999, the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") issued Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 101, "Revenue Recognition in Financial Statements" ("SAB 101"). SAB 101 expresses the view of the SEC staff in applying generally accepted accounting principles to certain revenue recognition issues. We adopted SAB 101 in the fourth quarter of 2000, and have adjusted previously reported revenue, cost of revenue, accounts receivable and inventory balances related to the manner in which we had historically recorded and reported sales returns reserves. There was no net impact on our previously reported gross margins or net income (loss). We have reclassified the statement of operations for the periods ended September 30, 2000 to reflect this change.

FASB Emerging Issues Task Force Issue No. 00-14 "Accounting for Certain Sales Incentives" addresses the recognition, measurement, and income statement classification for certain types of sales incentives. The application of the guidance in Issue No. 00-14 will result in a change in the manner in which the Company records certain types of discounts and sales and marketing incentives that are provided to its customers. The Company has historically recorded certain types of these incentives as marketing expenses. Under Issue No. 00-14, the Company will record these discounts and incentives as reductions of revenue. In April 2001, the FASB Emerging Issues Task Force reached a consensus on Issue No. 00-25 "Accounting for Consideration from a Vendor to a Retailer in Connection with the Purchase or Promotion of the Vendor's Products". Issue No. 00-25 addresses whether certain consideration offered by a vendor to a distributor, including slotting fees, cooperative advertising arrangements and "buy-down" programs, should be characterized as operating expenses or reductions of revenue. Issue No. 00-14 and 00-25 are required to be implemented no later than the first fiscal quarter of 2002, at which time prior period reported amounts will be reclassified to conform to the new presentation. The pro forma disclosures below reflect the reclassification of both previously reported as well as current quarter and the nine month reported revenues and sales and marketing expenses based on the application of the guidance in Issue No. 00-14 and Issue No. 00-25. There is no current quarter or historical impact on the Company's balance sheets.

In June 2001, the FASB issued SFAS No. 141, "Business Combinations" which addresses the financial accounting and reporting for business combinations and supersedes Accounting Principles Board (APB) Opinion No. 16, "Business Combinations," and SFAS No. 38, "Accounting for Pre-acquisition Contingencies of Purchased Enterprises." SFAS No. 141 requires that all business combinations be accounted for by a single method, the purchase method, modifies the criteria for recognizing intangible assets, and expands disclosure requirements. The provisions of SFAS No. 141 apply to all business combinations initiated after June 30, 2001. We do not expect the adoption of SFAS No. 141 will have a material effect on our results of operations or statements of financial position.

In June 2001, the FASB issued SFAS No. 142, "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets" which addresses financial accounting and reporting for acquired goodwill and other intangible assets and supersedes APB Opinion No. 17, "Intangible Assets." SFAS No. 142 addresses how intangible assets that are acquired individually or with a group of other assets should be accounted for in financial statements upon their acquisition and after they have been initially recognized in the financial statements. SFAS No. 142 requires that goodwill and intangible assets that have indefinite useful lives not be amortized but rather tested at least annually for impairment, and intangible assets that have finite useful lives be amortized over their useful lives. SFAS No. 142 provides specific guidance for testing goodwill and intangible assets that will not be amortized for impairment. In addition, SFAS No. 142 expands the disclosure requirements about goodwill and other intangible assets in the years subsequent to their acquisition. SFAS No. 142 is effective for our fiscal year 2002. Impairment losses for goodwill and indefinite-life intangible assets that arise due to the initial application of SFAS No. 142 are to be reported as resulting from a change in accounting principle. However, goodwill and intangible assets acquired after June 30, 2001 will be subject immediately to provisions of SFAS 142. We are in the process of determining the impact that adoption will have on our consolidated financial statements.

Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 143, "Accounting For Asset Retirement Obligations", ("SFAS 143"), issued in June 2001, addresses financial accounting and reporting for obligations associated with the retirement of tangible long-lived assets and for the associated retirement costs. SFAS 143 which applies to all entities that have a legal obligation associated with the retirement of a tangible long-lived asset is effective for fiscal years beginning after June 15, 2002. The Company does not expect the implementation of SFAS 143 to have a material impact on its financial condition or results of operations.

Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 144, "Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets," ("SFAS 144"), issued in August 2001, addresses financial accounting and reporting for the impairment or disposal of long-lived assets. SFAS 144, which applies to all entities, is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2001. We are in the process of determining the impact that adoption will have on our consolidated financial statements.

ITEM 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

The Company owns financial instruments that are sensitive to market risks as part of its investment portfolio. The investment portfolio is used to preserve the Company's capital until it is required to fund operations, including the Company's research and development activities. None of these market-risk sensitive instruments are held for trading purposes. The Company does not own derivative financial instruments in its investment portfolio. The investment portfolio contains instruments that are subject to the risk of a decline in interest rates.

Investment Rate Risk - The Company's investment portfolio consists entirely of money market funds, which are subject to interest rate risk. Due to the short duration and conservative nature of these instruments, the Company does not believe that it has a material exposure to interest rate risk. The 20 year mortgage of our headquarters building is a variable rate loan with the interest rate adjusted annually. A 1% change in the interest rate would result in a decrease or increase of approximately $60,000 of interest expense per year.

190. (1) RIGHT TO DISSENT. -- Subject to sections 191 and 241, a holder of shares of any class of a corporation may dissent if the corporation is subject to an order under paragraph 192(4)(d) that affects the holder or if the corporation resolves to

(3) PAYMENT FOR SHARES. -- In addition to any other right he may have, but subject to subsection (26), a shareholder who complies with this section is entitled, when the action approved by the resolution from which he dissents or an order made under subsection 192(4) becomes effective, to be paid by the corporation the fair value of the shares held by him in respect of which he dissents, determined as of the close of business on the day before the resolution was adopted or the order was made.

(4) NO PARTIAL DISSENT. -- A dissenting shareholder may only claim under this section with respect to all the shares of a class held by him on behalf of any one beneficial owner and registered in the name of the dissenting shareholder.

(5) OBJECTION. -- A dissenting shareholder shall send to the corporation, at or before any meeting of shareholders at which a resolution referred to in subsection (1) or (2) is to be voted on, a written objection to the resolution, unless the corporation did not give notice to the shareholder of the purpose of the meeting and of his right to dissent.

(6) NOTICE OF RESOLUTION. -- The corporation shall, within ten days after the shareholders adopt the resolution, send to each shareholder who has filed the objection referred to in subsection (5) notice that the resolution has been adopted, but such notice is not required to be sent to any shareholder who voted for the resolution or who has withdrawn his objection.

(7) DEMAND FOR PAYMENT. -- A dissenting shareholder shall, within twenty days after he receives a notice under subsection (6) or, if he does not receive such notice, within twenty days after he learns that the resolution has been adopted, send to the corporation a written notice containing

a. his name and address;

(10) ENDORSING CERTIFICATE. -- A corporation or its transfer agent shall endorse on any share certificate received under subsection (8) a notice that the holder is a dissenting shareholder under this section and shall forthwith return the share certificates to the dissenting shareholder.

(11) SUSPENSION OF RIGHTS. -- On sending a notice under subsection (7), a dissenting shareholder ceases to have any rights as a shareholder other than the right to be paid the fair value of his shares as determined under this section except where

a. a dissenting shareholder withdraws his notice before the corporation makes an offer under subsection (12),

b. the corporation fails to make an offer in accordance with subsection (12) and the dissenting shareholder withdraws his notice, or

c. the directors revoke a resolution to amend the articles under subsection 173(2) or 174(5), terminate an amalgamation agreement under subsection 183(6) or an application for continuance under subsection 188(6), or abandon a sale, lease or exchange under subsection 189(9), in which case his rights as a shareholder are reinstated as of the date he sent the notice referred to in subsection (7).

(12) OFFER TO PAY. -- A corporation shall, not later than seven days after the later of the day on which the action approved by the resolution is effective or the day the corporation received the notice referred to in subsection (7), send to each dissenting shareholder who has sent such notice

a. a written offer to pay for his shares in an amount considered by the directors of the corporation to be the fair value thereof, accompanied by a statement showing how the fair value was determined; or

b. if subsection (26) applies, a notification that it is unable lawfully to pay dissenting shareholders for their shares.

(13) SAME TERMS. -- Every offer made under subsection (12) for shares of the same class or series shall be on the same terms.

(14) PAYMENT. -- Subject to subsection (26), a corporation shall pay for the shares of a dissenting shareholder within ten days after an offer made under subsection (12) has been accepted, but any such offer lapses if the corporation does not receive an acceptance thereof within thirty days after the offer has been made.

(15) CORPORATION MAY APPLY TO COURT. -- Where a corporation fails to make an offer under subsection (12), or if a dissenting shareholder fails to accept an offer, the corporation may, within fifty days after the action approved by the resolution is effective or within such further period as a court may allow, apply to a court to fix a fair value for the shares of any dissenting shareholder.

(16) SHAREHOLDER APPLICATION TO COURT. -- If a corporation fails to apply to a court under subsection (15), a dissenting shareholder may apply to a court for the same purpose within a further period of twenty days or within such further period as a court may allow.

(17) VENUE. -- An application under subsection (15) or (16) shall be made to a court having jurisdiction in the place where the corporation has its registered office or in the province where the dissenting shareholder resides if the corporation carries on business in that province.

(18) NO SECURITY FOR COSTS. -- A dissenting shareholder is not required to give security for costs in an application made under subsection (15) or (16).

D-2

(19) PARTIES. -- On an application to a court under subsection (15) or (16),

a. all dissenting shareholders whose shares have not been purchased by the corporation shall be joined as parties and are bound by the decision of the court; and

b. the corporation shall notify each affected dissenting shareholder of the date, place and consequences of the application and of his right to appear and be heard in person or by counsel.

(20) POWERS OF COURT. -- On an application to a court under subsection (15) or (16), the court may determine whether any other person is a dissenting shareholder who should be joined as a party, and the court shall then fix a fair value for the shares of all dissenting shareholders.

(21) APPRAISERS. -- A court may in its discretion appoint one or more appraisers to assist the court to fix a fair value for the shares of the dissenting shareholders.

(22) FINAL ORDER. -- The final order of a court shall be rendered against the corporation in favour of each dissenting shareholder and for the amount of his shares as fixed by the court.

(23) INTEREST. -- A court may in its discretion allow a reasonable rate of interest on the amount payable to each dissenting shareholder from the date the action approved by the resolution is effective until the date of payment.

(24) NOTICE THAT SUBSECTION (26) APPLIES. -- If subsection (26) applies, the corporation shall, within ten days after the pronouncement of an order under subsection (22), notify each dissenting shareholder that it is unable lawfully to pay dissenting shareholders for their shares.

(25) EFFECT WHERE SUBSECTION (26) APPLIES. -- If subsection (26) applies, a dissenting shareholder, by written notice delivered to the corporation within thirty days after receiving a notice under subsection (24), may

a. withdraw his notice of dissent, in which case the corporation is deemed to consent to the withdrawal and the shareholder is reinstated to his full rights as a shareholder; or

b. retain a status as a claimant against the corporation, to be paid as soon as the corporation is lawfully able to do so or, in a liquidation, to be ranked subordinate to the rights of creditors of the corporation but in priority to its shareholders.

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

(26) LIMITATION. -- A corporation shall not make a payment to a dissenting shareholder under this section if there are reasonable grounds for believing that

a. the corporation is or would after the payment be unable to pay its liabilities as they become due, or

b. the realizable value of the corporation's assets would thereby be less than the aggregate of its liabilities.

SECTION 1.1 ANNUAL MEETING. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the corporation shall be held on such date as shall be fixed by the Board of Directors, at such time and place within or without the State of Delaware as may be designated in the notice of meeting. If the day fixed for the annual meeting shall fall on a legal holiday, the meeting shall be held on the next succeeding day not a legal holiday. If the annual meeting is omitted on the day herein provided, a special meeting may be held in place thereof, and any business transacted at such special meeting in lieu of annual meeting shall have the same effect as if transacted or held at the annual meeting. At the discretion of the Board of Directors, the meeting may be conducted by remote communication to the extent permitted by law.

SECTION 1.2 SPECIAL MEETINGS. Special meetings of the stockholders may be called at any time by the president or by the board of directors. Special meetings of the stockholders shall be held at such time, date and place within or outside of the State of Delaware as may be designated in the notice of such meeting. At the discretion of the Board of Directors, the meeting may be conducted by remote communication to the extent permitted by law.

SECTION 1.3 NOTICE OF MEETING.

(a) A written notice stating the place, if any, date, and hour of each meeting of the stockholders, and, in the case of a special meeting, the purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be given to each stockholder entitled to vote at such meeting, and to each stockholder who, under the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws, is entitled to such notice, by delivering such notice to such person or leaving it at their residence or usual place of business, or by mailing it to such stockholder at his address as it appears upon the books of the corporation at least ten days and not more than 60 days before the meeting. Such notice shall be given by the secretary, an assistant secretary, or any other officer or person designated either by the secretary or by the person or persons calling the meeting.

(b) The requirement of notice to any stockholder may be waived (i) by a written waiver of notice, executed before or after the meeting by the stockholder or his attorney thereunto duly authorized, and filed with the records of the meeting, (ii) if communication with such stockholder is unlawful, (iii) by attendance at the meeting without protesting prior thereto or at its commencement the lack of notice, or (iv) as otherwise excepted by law. A waiver of notice of any regular or special meeting of the stockholders need not specify the purposes of the meeting.

(c) If a meeting is adjourned to another time or place, notice need not be given of the adjourned meeting if the time and place, if any, are announced at the meeting at which the adjournment is taken, except that if the adjournment is for more than 30 days, or if after the adjournment a new record date is fixed for the adjourned meeting, notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given to each stockholder of record entitled to vote at the meeting.

SECTION 1.4 QUORUM. The holders of one third of all stock issued, outstanding and entitled to vote at a meeting shall constitute a quorum. Any meeting may be adjourned from time to time by a majority of the votes properly cast upon the question, whether or not a quorum is present.

SECTION 1.5 VOTING AND PROXIES. Stockholders shall have one vote for each share of stock entitled to vote owned by them of record according to the books of the corporation, unless otherwise provided by law or by the Certificate of Incorporation. Stockholders may vote either in person or by written proxy, but no proxy shall be voted or acted upon after three years from its date, unless the proxy provides for a longer period. Proxies shall be filed with the secretary of the meeting, or of any adjournment thereof. Except as otherwise limited therein, proxies shall entitle the persons authorized thereby to vote at any adjournment of such meeting. A proxy purporting to be executed by or on behalf of a stockholder shall be deemed valid unless challenged at or prior to its exercise and the burden of proving invalidity shall rest on the challenger. A proxy with respect to stock held in the name of two or more persons shall be valid if executed by one of them unless at or prior to exercise of the proxy the corporation receives a specific written notice to the contrary from any one of them.

SECTION 1.6 ACTION AT MEETING. When a quorum is present at any meeting, a plurality of the votes properly cast for election to any office shall elect to such office, and a majority of the votes properly cast upon any question other than election to an office shall decide such question, except where a larger vote is required by law, the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws. No ballot shall be required for any election unless requested by a stockholder present or represented at the meeting and entitled to vote in the election.

SECTION 1.7 ACTION WITHOUT MEETING. All action required or permitted to be taken by the stockholders must be taken at a meeting duly called and held in accordance with law and in accordance with this Certificate of Incorporation and these Bylaws.

SECTION 1.8 VOTING OF SHARES OF CERTAIN HOLDERS.

(a) Shares of stock of the corporation standing in the name of another corporation, domestic or foreign, may be voted by such officer, agent, or proxy as the Bylaws of such corporation may prescribe, or, in the absence of such provision, as the board of directors of such corporation may determine.

(b) Shares of stock of the corporation standing in the name of a deceased person, a minor ward or an incompetent person, may be voted by his administrator, executor, court-appointed guardian or conservator without a transfer of such shares into the name of such administrator, executor, court appointed guardian or conservator. Shares of capital stock of the corporation standing in the name of a trustee or fiduciary may be voted by such trustee or fiduciary.

(c) Shares of stock of the corporation standing in the name of a receiver may be voted by such receiver, and shares held by or under the control of a receiver may be voted by such receiver without the transfer thereof into his name if authority so to do be contained in an appropriate order of the court by which such receiver was appointed.

(d) A stockholder whose shares are pledged shall be entitled to vote such shares unless in the transfer by the pledgor on the books of the corporation he expressly empowered the pledgee to vote thereon, in which case only the pledgee or its proxy shall be entitled to vote the shares so transferred.

(e) Shares of its own stock belonging to this corporation shall not be voted, directly or indirectly, at any meeting and shall not be counted in

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

SECTION 1.9 STOCKHOLDER LISTS. The secretary (or the corporation's transfer agent or other person authorized by these Bylaws or by law) shall prepare and make, at least ten days before every meeting of stockholders, a complete list of the stockholders entitled to vote at the meeting, arranged in alphabetical order, and showing the address of each stockholder and the number of shares registered in the name of each stockholder. Such list shall be open to the examination of any stockholder, for any purpose germane to the meeting, during ordinary business hours, for a period of at least ten days prior to the meeting, either at (i) the corporation's principal place of business, (ii) at the place where the meeting is to be held, or (iii) by making it available on an electronic network. or persons) pursuant to which the nomination or nominations are to be made by the stockholder; (d) such other information regarding each nominee proposed by such stockholder as would be required to be included in a proxy statement filed pursuant to the proxy rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission; and (e) the consent of each nominee to serve as a director of the Corporation if so elected. The presiding officer of the meeting may refuse to acknowledge the nomination of any person not made in compliance with the foregoing procedure.

Regular meetings of the board of directors may be held without call or notice at such times and such places within or without the State of Delaware as the board may, from time to time, determine, provided that notice of the first regular meeting following any such determination shall be given to directors absent from such determination. A regular meeting of the board of directors shall be held without notice immediately after, and at the same place as, the annual meeting of the stockholders or the special meeting of the stockholders held in place of such annual meeting, unless a quorum of the directors is not then present. Special meetings of the board of directors may be held at any time and at any place designated in the call of the meeting when called by the president, treasurer, or one or more directors. It shall be sufficient notice to a director to send notice (i) by mail at least 72 hours before the meeting addressed to such person at his usual or last known business or residence address, or (ii) in person, by telephone, facsimile transmission or electronic transmission to the extent provided in Article VIII, at least 24 hours before the meeting. Notice shall be given by the secretary, or in his absence or unavailability, may be given by an assistant secretary, if any, or by the officer or directors calling the meeting. The requirement of notice to any director may be waived by a written waiver of notice, executed by such person before or after the meeting or meetings, and filed with the records of the meeting, or by attendance at the meeting without protesting prior thereto or at its commencement the lack of notice. A notice or waiver of notice of a directors' meeting need not specify the purposes of the meeting.

SECTION 2.11 AGENDA. Any lawful business may be transacted at a meeting of the board of directors, notwithstanding the fact that the nature of the business may not have been specified in the notice or waiver of notice of the meeting.

SECTION 2.12 QUORUM. At any meeting of the board of directors, a majority of the directors then in office shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Any meeting may be adjourned by a majority of the votes cast upon the question, whether or not a quorum is present, and the meeting may be held as adjourned without further notice.

G-5

SECTION 2.13 ACTION AT MEETING. Any motion adopted by vote of the majority of the directors present at a meeting at which a quorum is present shall be the act of the board of directors, except where a different vote is required by law, by the Certificate of Incorporation or by these Bylaws. The assent in writing of any director to any vote or action of the directors taken at any meeting, whether or not a quorum was present and whether or not the director had or waived notice of the meeting, shall have the same effect as if the director so assenting was present at such meeting and voted in favor of such vote or action.

SECTION 2.14 ACTION WITHOUT MEETING. Any action by the directors may be taken without a meeting if all of the directors consent to the action in writing and the consents are filed with the records of the directors' meetings. Such consent shall be treated for all purposes as a vote of the directors at a meeting.

SECTION 2.15 COMMITTEES. The board of directors may, by the affirmative vote of a majority of the directors then in office, appoint an executive committee or other committees consisting of one or more directors and may by vote delegate to any such committee some or all of their powers except those which by law, the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws they may not delegate. In the absence or disqualification of a member of a committee, the members of the committee present and not disqualified, whether or not they constitute a quorum, may by unanimous vote appoint another member of the board of directors to act at the meeting in place of the absence or disqualified member. Unless the board of directors shall otherwise provide, any such committee may make rules for the conduct of its business, but unless otherwise provided by the board of directors or such rules, its meetings shall be called, notice given or waived, its business conducted or its action taken as nearly as may be in the same manner as is provided in these Bylaws with respect to meetings or for the conduct of business or the taking of actions by the board of directors. The board of directors shall have power at any time to fill vacancies in, change the membership of, or discharge any such committee at any time. The board of directors shall have power to rescind any action of any committee, but no such rescission shall have retroactive effect.

OFFICERS

SECTION 3.1 ENUMERATION. The officers shall consist of a president, a treasurer, a secretary and such other officers and agents (including a chairman of the board, one or more vice-presidents, assistant treasurers and assistant secretaries), as the board of directors may, in their discretion, determine.

SECTION 3.2 ELECTION. The president, treasurer and secretary shall be elected annually by the directors at their first meeting following the annual meeting of the stockholders or any special meeting held in lieu of the annual meeting. Other officers may be chosen by the directors at such meeting or at any other meeting.

G-6

SECTION 3.3 QUALIFICATION. An officer may, but need not, be a director or stockholder. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person. Any officer may be required by the directors to give bond for the faithful performance of his duties to the corporation in such amount and with such sureties as the directors may determine. The premiums for such bonds may be paid by the corporation.

SECTION 3.4 TENURE. Except as otherwise provided by the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws, the term of office of each officer shall be for one year or until his successor is elected and qualified or until his earlier resignation or removal.

SECTION 3.5 REMOVAL. Any officer may be removed from office, with or without cause, by the affirmative vote of a majority of the directors then in office; provided, however, that an officer may be removed for cause only after reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard by the board of directors prior to action thereon.

SECTION 3.6 RESIGNATION. Any officer may resign by delivering or mailing postage prepaid a written resignation to the corporation at its principal office or to the president, secretary, or assistant secretary, if any, and such resignation shall be effective upon receipt unless it is specified to be effective at some other time or upon the happening of some event.

SECTION 3.7 VACANCIES. A vacancy in any office arising from any cause may be filled for the unexpired portion of the term by the board of directors.

SECTION 3.8 CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD. The board of directors may appoint a chairman of the board and may designate the chairman of the board as chief executive officer. If the board of directors appoints a chairman of the board, he shall perform such duties and possess such powers as are assigned to him by the board of directors.

SECTION 3.9 PRESIDENT. The president shall be the chief executive officer of the corporation, unless a chairman of the board is so designated. Unless a chairman of the board is so designated or except as otherwise voted by the board of directors, the president shall preside at all meetings of the stockholders and of the board of directors at which present. The president shall have such duties and powers as are commonly incident to the office and such duties and powers as the board of directors shall from time to time designate.

SECTION 3.10 VICE-PRESIDENT(S). The vice-president(s), if any, shall have such powers and perform such duties as the board of directors may from time to time determine.

SECTION 3.11 CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER, TREASURER AND ASSISTANT TREASURERS. The treasurer, or if the board of directors so determines, the vice-president, finance or the chief financial officer, subject to the direction and under the supervision and control of the board of directors, shall have general charge of the financial affairs of the corporation. The treasurer shall have custody of all funds, securities and valuable papers of the corporation, except as the board of directors may otherwise provide. The treasurer shall keep or cause to be kept full and accurate records of account which shall be the property of the corporation, and which shall be always open to the inspection of each elected officer and director of the corporation. The treasurer shall deposit or cause to be deposited all funds of the corporation in such depository or depositories as may be authorized by the board of directors. The treasurer shall have the power to endorse for deposit or collection all notes, checks, drafts, and other negotiable instruments payable to the corporation. The treasurer shall perform such other duties as are incidental to the office, and such other duties as may be assigned by the board of directors. All of the duties of the treasurer may be performed by the vice-president, finance and/or the chief financial officer, in the discretion of the board of directors.

Assistant treasurers, if any, shall have such powers and perform such duties as the board of directors may from time to time determine.

SECTION 3.12 SECRETARY AND ASSISTANT SECRETARIES. The secretary or an assistant secretary shall record, or cause to be recorded, all proceedings of the meetings of the stockholders and directors (including committees thereof) in the book of records of this corporation. The record books shall be open at reasonable times to the inspection of any stockholder, director, or officer. The secretary or an assistant secretary shall notify the stockholders and directors, when required by law or by these Bylaws, of their respective meetings, and shall perform such other duties as the directors and stockholders may from time to time prescribe. The secretary or an assistant secretary shall have the custody and charge of the corporate seal, and shall affix the seal of the corporation to all instruments requiring such seal, and shall certify under the corporate seal the proceedings of the directors and of the stockholders, when required. In the absence of the secretary or an assistant secretary at any such meeting, a temporary secretary shall be chosen who shall record the proceedings of the meeting in the aforesaid books.

Assistant secretaries, if any, shall have such powers and perform such duties as the board of directors may from time to time designate.

SECTION 3.13 OTHER POWERS AND DUTIES. Subject to these Bylaws and to such limitations as the board of directors may from time to time prescribe, the officers of the corporation shall each have such powers and duties as generally pertain to their respective offices, as well as such powers and duties as from time to time may be conferred by the board of directors.

ARTICLE IV

CAPITAL STOCK

SECTION 4.1 STOCK CERTIFICATES.

(a) Each stockholder shall be entitled to a certificate representing the number of shares of the capital stock of the corporation owned by such person in such form as shall, in conformity to law, be prescribed from time to time by the board of directors. Each certificate shall be signed by the president or vice-president and treasurer or assistant treasurer or such other officers designated by the board of directors from time to time as permitted by law, shall bear the seal of the corporation, and shall express on its face its number, date of issue, class, the number of shares for which, and the name of the person to whom, it is issued. The corporate seal and any or all of the signatures of corporation officers may be facsimile if the stock certificate is manually counter-signed by an authorized person on behalf of a transfer agent or registrar other than the corporation or its employee.

(b) If an officer, transfer agent or registrar who has signed, or whose facsimile signature has been placed on, a certificate shall have ceased to be such before the certificate is issued, it may be issued by the corporation with the same effect as if he were such officer, transfer agent or registrar at the time of its issue.

SECTION 4.2 TRANSFER OF SHARES. Title to a certificate of stock and to the shares represented thereby shall be transferred only on the books of the corporation by delivery to the corporation or its transfer agent of the certificate properly endorsed, or by delivery of the certificate accompanied by a written assignment of the same, or a properly executed written power of attorney to sell, assign or transfer the same or the shares represented thereby. Upon surrender of a certificate for the shares being transferred, a new certificate or certificates shall be issued according to the interests of the parties.

SECTION 4.3 RECORD HOLDERS. Except as otherwise may be required by law, by the Certificate of Incorporation or by these Bylaws, the corporation shall be entitled to treat the record holder of stock as shown on its books as the owner of such stock for all purposes, including the payment of dividends and the right to vote with respect thereto, regardless of any transfer, pledge or other disposition of such stock, until the shares have been transferred on the books of the corporation in accordance with the requirements of these Bylaws. It shall be the duty of each stockholder to notify the corporation of his post office address.

SECTION 4.4 RECORD DATE.

(a) In order that the corporation may determine the stockholders entitled to receive notice of or to vote at any meeting of stockholders or any adjournments thereof, or entitled to receive payment of any dividend or other distribution or allotment of any rights, or entitled to exercise any rights in respect of any change, conversion or exchange of stock or for the purpose of any other lawful action, the board of directors may fix, in advance, a record date, which shall not be more than sixty days prior to any other action. In such case only stockholders of record on such record date shall be so entitled notwithstanding any transfer of stock on the books of the corporation after the record date.

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

(b) If no record date is fixed: (i) the record date for determining stockholders entitled to receive notice of or to vote at a meeting of stockholders shall be at the close of business on the day next preceding the day on which notice is given, or, if notice is waived, at the close of business on the day next preceding the day on which the meeting is held; and (ii) the record date for determining stockholders for any other purpose shall be at the close of business on the day on which the board of directors adopts the resolution relating thereto.

G-9

SECTION 4.5 TRANSFER AGENT AND REGISTRAR FOR SHARES OF CORPORATION. The board of directors may appoint a transfer agent and a registrar of the certificates of stock of the corporation. Any transfer agent so appointed shall maintain, among other records, a stockholders' ledger, setting forth the names and addresses of the holders of all issued shares of stock of the corporation, the number of shares held by each, the certificate numbers representing such shares, and the date of issue of the certificates representing such shares. Any registrar so appointed shall maintain, among other records, a share register, setting forth the total number of shares of each class of shares which the corporation is authorized to issue and the total number of shares actually issued. The stockholders' ledger and the share register are hereby identified as the stock transfer books of the corporation; but as between the stockholders' ledger and the share register, the names and addresses of stockholders, as they appear on the stockholders' ledger maintained by the transfer agent shall be the official list of stockholders of record of the corporation. The name and address of each stockholder of record, as they appear upon the stockholders' ledger, shall be conclusive evidence of who are the stockholders entitled to receive notice of the meetings of stockholders, to vote at such meetings, to examine a complete list of the stockholders entitled to vote at meetings, and to own, enjoy and exercise any other property or rights deriving from such shares against the corporation. Stockholders, but not the corporation, its directors, officers, agents or attorneys, shall be responsible for notifying the transfer agent, in writing, of any changes in their names or addresses from time to time, and failure to do so will relieve the corporation, its other stockholders, directors, officers, agents and attorneys, and its transfer agent and registrar, of liability for failure to direct notices or other documents, or pay over or transfer dividends or other property or rights, to a name or address other than the name and address appearing in the stockholders' ledger maintained by the transfer agent.

SECTION 4.6 LOSS OF CERTIFICATES. In case of the loss, destruction or mutilation of a certificate of stock, a replacement certificate may be issued in place thereof upon such terms as the board of directors may prescribe, including, in the discretion of the board of directors, a requirement of bond and indemnity to the corporation.

SECTION 4.7 RESTRICTIONS ON TRANSFER. Every certificate for shares of stock which are subject to any restriction on transfer, whether pursuant to the Certificate of Incorporation, the Bylaws or any agreement to which the corporation is a party, shall have the fact of the restriction noted conspicuously on the certificate and shall also set forth on the face or back either the full text of the restriction or a statement that the corporation will furnish a copy to the holder of such certificate upon written request and without charge.

SECTION 4.8 MULTIPLE CLASSES OR SERIES OF STOCK. The amount and classes of the capital stock and the par value, if any, of the shares, shall be as fixed in the Certificate of Incorporation. At all times when there are two or more classes or series of stock, the several classes or series of stock shall conform to the description and the terms and have the respective preferences, voting powers, restrictions and qualifications set forth in the Certificate of Incorporation and these Bylaws. Every certificate issued when the corporation is authorized to issue more than one class or series of stock shall set forth on its face or back either (i) the full text of the preferences, voting powers, qualifications and special and relative rights of the shares of each class and series authorized to be issued, or (ii) a statement of the existence of such preferences, powers, qualifications and rights, and a statement that the corporation will furnish a copy thereof to the holder of such certificate upon written request and without charge.

ARTICLE V

DIVIDENDS

SECTION 5.1 DECLARATION OF DIVIDENDS. Except as otherwise required by law or by the Certificate of Incorporation, the board of directors may, in its discretion, declare what, if any, dividends shall be paid from the surplus or from the net profits of the corporation for the current or preceding fiscal year, or as otherwise permitted by law. Dividends may be paid in cash, in property, in shares of the corporation's stock, or in any combination thereof. Dividends shall be payable upon such dates as the board of directors may designate.

SECTION 5.2 RESERVES. Before the payment of any dividend and before making any distribution of profits, the board of directors, from time to time and in its absolute discretion, shall have power to set aside out of the surplus or net profits of the corporation such sum or sums as the board of directors deems proper and sufficient as a reserve fund to meet contingencies or for such other purpose as the board of directors shall deem to be in the best interests of the corporation, and the board of directors may modify or abolish any such reserve.

ARTICLE VI

POWERS OF OFFICERS TO CONTRACT

WITH THE CORPORATION

Any and all of the directors and officers of the corporation, notwithstanding their official relations to it, may enter into and perform any contract or agreement of any nature between the corporation and themselves, or any and all of the individuals from time to time constituting the board of directors of the corporation, or any firm or corporation in which any such director may be interested, directly or indirectly, whether such individual, firm or corporation thus contracting with the corporation shall thereby derive personal or corporate profits or benefits or otherwise; provided, that (i) the material facts of such interest are disclosed or are known to the board of directors or committee thereof which authorizes such contract or agreement; (ii) if the material facts as to such person's relationship or interest are disclosed or are known to the stockholders entitled to vote thereon, and the contract is specifically approved in good faith by a vote of the stockholders; or (iii) the contract or agreement is fair as to the corporation as of the time it is authorized, approved or ratified by the board of directors, a committee thereof, or the stockholders. Any director of the corporation who is interested in any transaction as aforesaid may nevertheless be counted in determining the existence of a quorum at any meeting of the board of directors which shall authorize or ratify any such transaction. This Article shall not be construed to invalidate any contract or other transaction which would otherwise be valid under the common or statutory law applicable thereto.

G-11

ARTICLE VII

INDEMNIFICATION

SECTION 7.1 DEFINITIONS. For purposes of this Article VII the following terms shall have the meanings indicated:

"Corporate Status" describes the status of a person who is or was a director, officer, employee, agent, trustee or fiduciary of the Corporation or of any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise which such person is or was serving at the express written request of the corporation.

"Court" means the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware, or any other court in which a Proceeding in respect of indemnification may properly be brought.

"Covered Person" means any person who has a Corporate Status who the corporation, pursuant to the provisions of Section 7.9 hereof, determines is entitled to indemnification as provided herein. It shall in each case include such person's legal representatives, heirs, executors and administrators.

"Disinterested" describes any individual, whether or not that individual is a director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation who is not and was not and is not threatened to be made a party to the Proceeding in respect of which indemnification, advancement of expenses or other action, is sought by a Covered Person.

"Expenses" shall include, without limitation, all reasonable attorneys' fees, retainers, court costs, transcript costs, fees of experts, witness fees, travel expenses, duplicating costs, printing and binding costs, telephone charges, postage, delivery service fees, and all other disbursements or expenses of the types customarily incurred in connection with prosecuting, defending, preparing to prosecute or defend, investigating or being or preparing to be a witness in a Proceeding.

"Good Faith" shall mean a Covered Person having acted in good faith and in a manner such Covered Person reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation or, in the case of an employee benefit plan, the best interests of the participants or beneficiaries of said plan, as the case may be, and, with respect to any Proceeding which is criminal in nature, having had no reasonable cause to believe such Covered Person's conduct was unlawful.

"Independent Counsel" means a law firm, or a member of a law firm, that is experienced in matters of corporation law and may include law firms or members thereof that are regularly retained by the corporation but not by any other party to the Proceeding giving rise to a claim for indemnification hereunder. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the term "Independent Counsel" shall not include any person who, under the standards of professional conduct then prevailing and applicable to such counsel, would have a conflict of interest in representing either the corporation or the Covered Person in an action to determine the Covered Person's rights under this Article.

"Proceeding" includes any actual, threatened or completed action, suit, arbitration, alternate dispute resolution mechanism, investigation (including any internal corporate investigation), administrative hearing or any other proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, other than one initiated by the Covered Person, but including one initiated by a Covered Person for the purpose of enforcing such Covered Person's rights under this Article to the extent provided in Section 7.14 of this Article. "Proceeding" shall not include any counterclaim brought by any Covered Person other than one arising out of the same transaction or occurrence that is the subject matter of the underlying claim.

SECTION 7.2 RIGHT TO INDEMNIFICATION IN GENERAL. The corporation may indemnify, and advance Expenses to, each Covered Person who is, was or is threatened to be made a party or is otherwise involved in any Proceeding, as provided in this Article and to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law in effect on the date hereof and to such greater extent as applicable law may hereafter from time to time permit.

SECTION 7.3 PROCEEDINGS OTHER THAN PROCEEDINGS IN THE RIGHT OF THE CORPORATION. Each Covered Person may be indemnified if, by reason of such Covered Person's Corporate Status, such Covered Person is or is threatened to be made a party to or is otherwise involved in any Proceeding, other than a Proceeding by or in the right of the corporation. Such Covered Person may be indemnified against Expenses, judgments, penalties, fines and amounts paid in settlements, actually and reasonably incurred by such Covered Person or on such Covered Person's behalf in connection with such Proceeding or any claim, issue or matter therein, if such Covered Person acted in Good Faith.

SECTION 7.4 PROCEEDINGS BY OR IN THE RIGHT OF THE CORPORATION. Each Covered Person may be indemnified if, by reason of such Covered Person's Corporate Status, such Covered Person is, or is threatened to be made, a party to or is otherwise involved in any Proceeding brought by or in the right of the corporation to procure a judgment in its favor. Such Covered Person may be indemnified against Expenses, judgments, penalties, and amounts paid in settlement, actually and reasonably incurred by such Covered Person or on such Covered Person's behalf in connection with such Proceeding if such Covered Person acted in Good Faith. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no such indemnification shall be made in respect of any claim, issue or matter in such Proceeding as to which such Covered Person shall have been adjudged to be liable to the corporation if applicable law prohibits such indemnification; provided, however, that, if applicable law so permits, indemnification shall nevertheless be made by the corporation in such event if and only to the extent that the Court which is considering the matter shall so determine.

SECTION 7.5 INDEMNIFICATION OF A PARTY WHO IS WHOLLY OR PARTLY SUCCESSFUL. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Article, to the extent that a present or former director or officer or any other person who has a Corporate Status is, by reason of such Corporate Status, a party to or is otherwise involved in and is successful, on the merits or otherwise, in any

Proceeding, such person shall be indemnified to the maximum extent permitted by law, against all Expenses, judgments, penalties, fines, and amounts paid in settlement, actually and reasonably incurred by such person or on such person's behalf in connection therewith. If such person is not wholly successful in such Proceeding but is successful, on the merits or otherwise, as to one or more but less than all claims, issues or matters in such Proceeding, the corporation shall indemnify such person to the maximum extent permitted by law, against all Expenses, judgments, penalties, fines, and amounts paid in settlement, actually and reasonably incurred by such person or on such person's behalf in connection with each successfully resolved claim, issue or matter. The termination of any claim, issue or matter in such a Proceeding by dismissal, with or without prejudice, shall be deemed to be a successful result as to such claim, issue or matter.

SECTION 7.6 INDEMNIFICATION FOR EXPENSES OF A WITNESS. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Article, to the extent that a Covered Person is, by reason of such Covered Person's Corporate Status, a witness in any Proceeding, such Covered Person shall be indemnified against all Expenses actually and reasonably incurred by such Covered Person or on such Covered Person's behalf in connection therewith.

SECTION 7.7 ADVANCEMENT OF EXPENSES.

(a) Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in this Article, the corporation may advance all reasonable Expenses which were incurred by or on behalf of a present director or officer by reason of such person's Corporate Status, in connection with any Proceeding, within 20 days after the receipt by the corporation of a statement or statements from such person requesting such advance or advances, whether prior to or after final disposition of such Proceeding. Such statement or statements shall reasonably evidence the Expenses incurred by the person and shall include or be preceded or accompanied by an undertaking by or on behalf of the person to repay any Expenses if such person shall be adjudged to be not entitled to be indemnified against such Expenses. Any advance and undertakings to repay made pursuant to this paragraph shall be unsecured and interest-free. Advancement of Expenses pursuant to this paragraph shall not require approval of the board of directors or the stockholders of the corporation, or of any other person or body. The secretary of the corporation shall promptly advise the Board in writing of the request for advancement of Expenses, of the amount and other details of the advance and of the undertaking to make repayment provided pursuant to this paragraph.

(b) Advancement of expenses to any other Covered Person shall be upon such terms and conditions as the board of directors may determine appropriate.

SECTION 7.8 NOTIFICATION AND DEFENSE OF CLAIM.

(a) Promptly after receipt by any person who has a Corporate Status of a notice of the commencement of any Proceeding, such person shall, if a claim is to be made against the corporation under this Article, notify the corporation of the commencement of the Proceeding. The omission of such notice will not relieve the corporation from any liability which it may have to such person otherwise than under this Article. With respect to any such Proceedings as to which the corporation determines to provide indemnification:

(i) The corporation will be entitled to participate in the defense at its own expense.

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TELEPHONICS INC - Form 424B3

(ii) Except as otherwise provided below, the corporation (jointly with any other indemnifying party similarly notified) will be entitled to assume the defense with counsel reasonably satisfactory to the Covered Person. After notice from the corporation to the Covered Person of its election to assume the defense of a suit, the corporation will not be liable to the Covered Person under this Article for any legal or other expenses subsequently incurred by the Covered Person in connection with the defense of the Proceeding other than reasonable costs of investigation or as otherwise provided below.

(b) The Covered Person shall have the right to employ his own counsel in such Proceeding but the fees and expenses of such counsel incurred after notice from the corporation of its assumption of the defense shall be at the expense of the Covered Person except as follows. The fees and expenses of counsel shall be at the expense of the corporation if (i) the employment of counsel by the Covered Person has been authorized by the corporation, (ii) the Covered Person shall have concluded reasonably that there may be a conflict of interest between the corporation and the Covered Person in the conduct of the defense of such action and such conclusion is confirmed in writing by the corporation's outside counsel regularly employed by it in connection with corporate matters, or (iii) the corporation shall not in fact have employed counsel to assume the defense of such Proceeding. The corporation shall be entitled to participate in, but shall not be entitled to assume the defense of, any Proceeding brought by or in the right of the corporation or as to which the Covered Person shall have made the conclusion provided for in (ii) above and such conclusion shall have been so confirmed by the corporation's said outside counsel.

(c) Notwithstanding any provision of this Article to the contrary, the corporation shall not be liable to indemnify the Covered Person under this Article for any amounts paid in settlement of any Proceeding effected without its written consent. The corporation shall not settle any Proceeding or claim in any manner which would impose any penalty, limitation or disqualification of the Covered Person for any purpose without such Covered Person's written consent. Neither the corporation nor the Covered Person will unreasonably withhold their consent to any proposed settlement.

(d) If it is determined that the Covered Person is entitled to indemnification other than as afforded under subparagraph (b) above, payment to the Covered Person of the additional amounts for which he is to be indemnified shall be made within 10 days after such determination.

SECTION 7.9 PROCEDURES.

G-15

(a) METHOD OF DETERMINATION FOR PRESENT OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS. A determination (as provided for by this Article or if required by applicable law in the specific case) with respect to entitlement to indemnification by a person who at the date of determination is a director or officer shall be made either (i) by a majority vote of Disinterested directors, even though less than a quorum, or (ii) a committee of Disinterested directors designated by a majority of disinterested Directors, even though less than a quorum, or (iii) if there are no such Disinterested directors, or if the Disinterested directors so direct, by Independent Counsel in a written determination to the board of directors, a copy of which shall be delivered to the Covered Person seeking indemnification, or (iv) by the vote of the holders of a majority of the corporation's capital stock outstanding at the time entitled to vote thereon.

(b) METHOD OF DETERMINATION FOR OTHERS. A determination (as provided for in this Article or if required by applicable law in the specific case) with respect to indemnification of any person other than a present director or officer may be made by the board of directors in such manner as it may determine appropriate.

(c) INITIATING REQUEST. A person who seeks indemnification under this Article shall submit a request for indemnification, including such documentation and information as is reasonably available to such person and is reasonably necessary to determine whether and to what extent such person is entitled to indemnification.

(d) EFFECT OF OTHER PROCEEDINGS. The termination of any Proceeding or of any claim, issue or matter therein, by judgment, order, settlement or conviction, or upon a plea of guilty or of NOLO CONTENDERE or its equivalent, shall not (except as otherwise expressly provided in this Article) of itself adversely affect the right of a Covered Person to indemnification or create a presumption that a Covered Person did not act in Good Faith.

SECTION 7.10 ACTION BY THE CORPORATION. Any action, payment, advance determination (other than a determination made pursuant to Section 7.9 above), authorization, requirement, grant of indemnification or other action taken by the corporation pursuant to this Article shall be effected exclusively through any Disinterested person so authorized by the board of directors of the corporation, including the president or any vice president of the corporation.

SECTION 7.11 NON-EXCLUSIVITY. The rights to indemnification and to receive advancement of Expenses as provided by this Article shall not be deemed exclusive of any other rights to which a person may at any time be entitled under applicable law, the Certificate of Incorporation, these Bylaws, any agreement, a vote of stockholders, a resolution of the board of directors, or otherwise.

SECTION 7.12 INSURANCE. The corporation may maintain, at its expense, an insurance policy or policies to protect itself and any director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation or another enterprise against liability arising out of this Article or otherwise, whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify any such person against such liability under the Delaware General Corporation Law.

SECTION 7.13 NO DUPLICATIVE PAYMENT. The corporation shall not be liable under this Article to make any payment of amounts otherwise indemnifiable hereunder if and to the extent that a Covered Person has otherwise actually received such payment under any insurance policy, contract, agreement or otherwise.

SECTION 7.14 EXPENSES OF ADJUDICATION. In the event that any Covered Person seeks a judicial adjudication, or an award in arbitration, to enforce such Covered Person's rights under, or to recover damages for breach of, this Article, the Covered Person shall be entitled to recover from the corporation, and shall be indemnified by the corporation against, any and all Expenses actually and reasonably incurred by such Covered Person in seeking such adjudication or arbitration, but only if such Covered Person prevails therein. If it shall be determined in such adjudication or arbitration that the Covered Person is entitled to receive part but not all of the indemnification of expenses sought, the expenses incurred by such Covered Person in connection with such adjudication or arbitration shall be appropriately prorated.

SECTION 7.15 SEVERABILITY. If any provision or provisions of this Article shall be held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable for any reason whatsoever:

(a) the validity, legality and enforceability of the remaining provisions of this Article (including without limitation, each portion of any Section of this Article containing any such provision held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable, that is not itself invalid, illegal or unenforceable) shall not in any way be affected or impaired thereby; and

(b) to the fullest extent possible, the provisions of this Article (including, without limitation, each portion of any Section of this Article containing any such provision held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable, that is not itself held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable) shall be construed so as to give effect to the intent manifested by the provision held invalid, illegal or unenforceable.

SECTION 7.16 NO RETROACTIVE AMENDMENT. No amendment or repeal of this Article or any provision hereof shall affect any right of any person to be indemnified hereunder with respect to any actions, omissions or state of facts existing prior to the date of such amendment or repeal.
