Item 5.02. Departure of Directors or Certain Officers; Election of Directors; Appointment of Certain Officers;
Compensatory Arrangements of Certain Officers.

On July 7, 2010, the Board of Directors of Houston American Energy Corp. (the "Company") appointed J. Alex Loftus as a Class A Director and as a member of the Company's Audit Committee and Compensation Committee.

Since 2003, Mr. Loftus, age 66, has served as Executive Vice President of CAMAC International Corp., a Houston-based diversified global energy company with principal holdings in Africa. Since 2007, he has also served as Chief Operating Officer of CAMAC's trading division. Mr. Loftus manages CAMAC's international business development activity and oversees the CAMAC Trading business unit. Prior to joining CAMAC, Mr. Loftus held senior level positions at several consulting firms, specializing in the analysis of world crude oil and refined products markets. Mr. Loftus began his career as a senior financial analyst at Mobil Oil. He has authored numerous articles and studies on petroleum economics and has been frequently quoted in trade publications. He has also served as adjunct professor of economics at Villanova University and Chestnut Hill College. Mr. Loftus is a former President of the Houston Chapter of the National Association of Business Economists and holds a B.A. in Economics and Finance from the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Business and an M.A. in Economics from Temple University.
