Letter to Shareholders

Dear Fellow Shareholders,

Over the past three months, if anything stands out to us it is the stock market's ongoing strength and resiliency. The market shrugged off concerns of escalating tariffs and fears of rising inflation to extend the nine-year stock market rally that, in August, became the longest bull market on record. The S&P 500 posted its best quarter since 2013, increasing 7.7% and is up 10.6% for the year. Our Fund performed even better, increasing 8.3% and 11.3% for the third quarter and for the first nine months of the year, respectively.

Accelerating wage growth and unemployment reaching its lowest levels since 2000 helped push consumer confidence to 18-year highs. Companies in the S&P 500 reported 25% earnings growth in the second quarter, matching the first quarter's strong performance. While lower tax rates contributed to these results, revenue growth also accelerated in 2018 for many companies. Given the broad economic strength, the Fed raised interest rates a quarter point in September for the third time this year and remains on track to increase rates again in December.

In our Fund, investments in Consumer Discretionary, Industrials, and Technology were the biggest contributors to our returns for the quarter. Although our Health Care stocks generated strong positive returns, increasing 13.3%, the performance was below our benchmark for the sector.

Strong consumer spending during the quarter resulted in the Consumer Discretionary sector performing well, increasing 13.2%. Our position in Advance Auto Parts, which increased 24.1%, was a significant contributor to our return in the sector. The company is benefiting from improved execution and favorable industry trends and has been delivering solid top-line growth and better-than-expected earnings results. We continue to believe they have significant room for margin expansion.

Another solid contributor to our returns was home improvement retailer Lowe's, which increased 20.7%. Lowe's recently announced that Marvin Ellison, a former Home Depot executive, joined the company as CEO. He is moving quickly to bring new talent into the organization and is taking decisive action to improve profitability. We like the direction Mr. Ellison is taking the company and increased our position in the stock during the quarter.

Although concerns over new regulations weighed on many technology stocks during the quarter, particularly shares of Facebook and Google, the overall sector increased 9.6%. Microsoft was a top contributor to our returns once again, increasing 16.4% during the period. The company continues to successfully transition its business from delivering on-premise software to solutions available through the cloud. Amid this transition, Microsoft has established itself as one of the most important cloud-computing platforms. salesforce.com, another standout for the Fund, is also benefiting from its cloud strategy.

We recently repositioned our holdings within the highly-cyclical semiconductor industry group. After years of favorable supply/demand trends for memory chips, we believe the tide is turning. We exited our position in Lam Research and added NVIDIA Corporation to the portfolio. NVIDIA designs and manufactures computer graphics processors, chipsets, and software. The stock sold off after earnings, creating an attractive entry point. We see opportunities for the company to outperform driven by its new gaming platform as well as its growing data center business focused on artificial intelligence.

Within the Health Care sector, our holdings in Thermo Fisher Scientific performed particularly well, increasing 17.9%. Thermo Fisher is the market leader in life science tools and diagnostics. The company has a consistent track record of growing organically and using its capital effectively to achieve its strategic objectives. Recent regulatory changes that lower reimbursement fees negatively impacted the investment prospects of Laboratory Corporation, a diagnostic testing company. We exited our position during the quarter and used the proceeds to increase our investment in Merck & Co. The pharmaceutical company is a leader in immuno-oncology, which is one of the fastest-growing fields in pharmaceuticals. We believe its cancer drug, Keytruda, has the potential to increase revenue significantly.

For the nine months ended September 30, 2018, the total return on the Fund's net asset value ("NAV") per share (with dividends and capital gains reinvested) was 11.3%. This compares to a 10.6% total return for the S&P 500 and an 8.8% total return for the Lipper Large-Cap Core Funds Average over the same time period. The total return on the market price of the Fund's shares for the period was 12.0%.

For the twelve months ended September 30, 2018, the Fund's total return on NAV was 19.6%. Comparable figures for the S&P 500 and Lipper Large-Cap Core Funds Average were 17.9% and 15.7%, respectively. The Fund's total return on market price was 19.8%.

During the first nine months of this year, the Fund paid distributions to shareholders in the amount of $15.2 million, or $.15 per share, consisting of $.03 net investment income and $.01 long-term capital gain, realized in 2017, and $.11 of net investment income realized in 2018, all taxable in 2018. These constitute the first three payments toward our annual 6.0% minimum distribution rate commitment. Additionally, the Fund repurchased 855,556 shares of its Common Stock during the past nine months. The shares were repurchased at an average price of $15.61 and a weighted average discount to NAV of 14.2%, resulting in a $.02 increase to NAV per share.

We thank you for investing with us and do not take your trust for granted. We remain focused on delivering consistent investment returns for shareholders by identifying quality companies that are executing at high levels and trading at attractive valuations.

By order of the Board of Directors,

Mark E. Stoeckle
Chief Executive Officer & President
