principles (GAAP). We have included this non-GAAP financial measure because, in management's opinion, excluding the third-quarter 2006 charge from United Kingdom tax legislation and the second-quarter 2006 favorable impact from tax legislation changes in Canada and Texas in calculating our effective tax rate is a better indicator of the company's ongoing effective tax rate and is therefore more useful in comparing the Company's effective tax rate with prior and future periods.
