CITIC PRUDENTIAL GAINS ITS THIRD LIFE LICENCE IN CHINA

Prudential plc's life insurance joint venture CITIC Prudential has received official approval from the China Insurance Regulatory Commission (CIRC) to open a new branch in Suzhou. Prudential is the only British life insurer to hold three licences in China.

Mark Norbum, Chief Executive of Prudential Corporation Asia, said, "Expanding our business in China is a top priority for Prudential. We are very committed to working in partnership with CITIC to build a successful business based on meeting the savings, investment and protection needs of the people of China.
This third licence for the city of Suzhou is another step toward achieving our long-term goal of establishing a sustainable and material business in China."

Chang Zhenming, Group Executive Director and Vice President of CITIC Group commented, "When we first established our joint venture partnership with Prudential, we recognised that Prudential's over 150 years of life insurance experience and CITIC's local market knowledge and strong distribution were a very powerful combination. This third licence underscores the strength of our partnership and the great confidence we have in the long-term potential of CITIC Prudential and the Chinese life insurance market."

Dan Bardin, Managing Director of South Asia and Greater China, Prudential Corporation Asia said, "Suzhou is an important opportunity for CITIC Prudential and will allow us to continue the momentum we have established with our Guangzhou and Beijing operations. With Suzhou we plan to continue our successful strategy of building high quality distribution and focussing on delivering excellent customer service."

CITIC Prudential first established a presence in China with the launch of its Guangzhou operation in October 2000 and is already among the top five providers in the Guangzhou market in terms of new business. It acquired its second licence in 2003, and launched its second Chinese operation in Beijing in August of that year.

The city of Suzhou is situated north of Shanghai in the economically significant Jiangsu Province. CITIC Prudential's Suzhou branch is expected to be open for business in the third quarter of 2004.
