Item 5. Other Events

On April 22, 2004, Boyd Gaming Corporation issued an earnings release announcing its financial results for the quarter ended March 31, 2004. Boyd Gaming reported diluted earnings of $0.20 per share for the quarter ended March 31, 2004 as compared to diluted earnings of $0.25 per share for the quarter ended March 31, 2003, which amounts are computed in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Included in the earnings for the March 31, 2004 quarter was a charge to the provision for income taxes of $5.7 million, or $0.09 per diluted share, net of federal tax benefit, related to an Indiana Department of Revenue state income tax assessment.

In 2003, the Company received a proposed assessment from the Indiana Department of Revenue based upon their position that the Company's Indiana gaming revenue tax is not deductible for Indiana state income tax purposes. An unrelated third party had been litigating the issue in Indiana Tax Court under a similar fact pattern. For some time, the Company had been accruing a portion of the proposed assessment due to the uncertainty of the outcome. On April 19, 2004, the Indiana Tax Court ruled against the third party. While the final outcome remains somewhat uncertain due to the opportunity for appeals, the lowered chances for success with respect to the Company's position in this matter resulted in the Company recording the remaining amount of the proposed assessment. This amounted to a $5.7 million, or $0.09 per share, charge, net of the federal income tax benefit, to the Company's income tax provision for the first quarter.

Item 12. Results of Operations and Financial Condition.
