This Form 6-K contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 as amended, and information that is based on management's beliefs as well as assumptions made by and information currently available to management. When used in this Form 6-K, the words anticipate, approach, begin, believe, continue, expect, forecast, going forward, improved, likely, look for, outlook, plans, potential, proposal, should and would and similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements necessarily make assumptions, some of which are inherently subject to uncertainties and contingencies that are beyond the Company's control. Should one or more of these uncertainties materialize, or should underlying assumptions prove incorrect, actual results may vary materially from those anticipated, expected, estimated or projected. Specifically, the ability of the Company to realize its ongoing commitment to increasing shareholder value through its ongoing restructuring, asset dispositions, strategic review and implementation, and cost cutting initiatives, may be affected by many factors including: uncertainties and contingencies such as economic conditions both in the world and in those areas where the Company has or will have substantial operations; foreign currency exchange rates; pricing pressures on products produced by its subsidiaries; growth prospects; positioning of its business segments; future productions output capacity; and the success of the Company's business strategies, including further structural and operational changes, business dispositions, internal reorganizations, cost cutting, and consolidations.

UNITED STATES NASDAQ LISTING

On December 30, 2004, Ansell Limited formally notified the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) that it was unable to lodge accounts for the year ended June 30, 2004 on Form 20-F which was due by December 31, 2004. This is because South Pacific Tyres (SPT), a partnership owned approximately 50% by Ansell and 50% by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company and whose financial statements are required to be included in the Ansell filing, had not completed its U.S. GAAP reconciliation.

Ansell Limited has its prime listing on the Australian Stock Exchange. It is also listed on the U.S. NASDAQ National Market. Under this U.S. listing, it is obliged to lodge an Annual Report on Form 20-F with the SEC. The financial statements incorporated in that filing are required to include a reconciliation between Australian generally accepted accounting principles (A GAAP) and U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (US GAAP).

The delay is primarily because SPT is working with its auditors KPMG and with Goodyear to determine the proper treatment of a prior year transaction under U.S. GAAP. When Ansell receives audited SPT financial statements including a reconciliation of their results from A GAAP to US GAAP, Ansell will complete and file its Form 20-F. While Ansell cannot directly control the timetable, it is providing whatever assistance it can to enable the parties involved to reach agreement.

On January 14, 2005, Ansell received a letter from NASDAQ noting that it had not complied with Marketplace rule 4310(c) (14) in that NASDAQ had not received its Form 20-F by December 31, 2004. As a result, the Company's trading symbol will be changed from ANSL to ANSLE on January 19, 2005 and its securities are subject to delisting from the NASDAQ National Market. Ansell has requested a hearing before a NASDAQ Listing Qualifications Panel to explain the situation and present a timetable for fulfilling the reporting requirement, but there can be no assurance the Panel will grant the Company's request for continued listing.

Edgar Filing: ANSELL LTD - Form 6-K

The failure to lodge is related purely to the reconciliation of SPT's results from A GAAP to US GAAP. None of these matters have any effect on Ansell's Australian Stock Exchange listing.
