Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

In conjunction with the new officer appointments described in Item 5.02 below, on March 23, 2006, the Board of Directors of World Acceptance Corporation (the Company) approved certain adjustments to the compensation terms of Mr. A. Alexander McLean III, the Company's new Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Mark C. Roland, the Company's new President, and Ms. Kelly Malson Snape, the Company's new Chief Financial Officer. These terms, as described in Item 5.02, are incorporated by reference herein.

Item 1.02 Termination of a Material Definitive Agreement.

On March 23, 2006, the Board of Directors dismissed Douglas R. Jones from his positions as President and Chief Executive Officer of the Company and from any and all other offices held with the Company and any of its subsidiaries. The Board determined that the termination of Mr. Jones' employment was a termination by the Company without cause within the meaning of Mr. Jones' Amended and Restated Employment Agreement effective June 1, 2003 (the Employment Agreement).

The following summary, which does not purport to be a complete description of the Employment Agreement, is qualified by reference to the Employment Agreement, which is filed as Exhibit 10.3 to the Company's quarterly report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended June 30, 2003. Under the terms of the Employment Agreement, Mr. Jones is entitled to the following severance benefits: continuation of payment of 100% of Mr. Jones' base salary ($285,000 per year) through March 31, 2009; the pro-rated portion (currently estimated at approximately 98%) of his annual incentive compensation for the year ended March 31, 2006, as determined pursuant to the Company's Executive Incentive Plan (the amount of which will be determined and approved by the Compensation and Stock Option Committee of the Board of Directors based on the Company's fiscal year-end results); and the continuation of all other benefits and perquisites specified in Section 4.4 of the Employment Agreement for 24 calendar months, until March 23, 2008. These benefits include all benefits and perquisites provided to salaried employees, to the extent permissible under the terms and provisions of such plans or programs, plus long-term disability insurance providing coverage at 60% of Mr. Jones' base salary.

As further provided in the Employment Agreement, Mr. Jones' severance benefits are subject to offset by taxable cash compensation (or deferred compensation that would be taxable absent deferral) he earns for employment or consulting work performed for another company during the periods in which his severance is payable as described above. In such event, the payments described above as payable pursuant to the Employment Agreement will be reduced respectively to the extent that like-kind benefits are paid as a result of his other employment or consulting work. In addition, the benefits from his other employment or consulting will be deemed primary coverage for purposes of coordination of benefits.

The Employment Agreement also imposes restrictive covenants, including non-competition, non-solicitation and confidentiality obligations, on Mr. Jones for 24 months following his period of employment. The Employment Agreement further provides that the Company's obligation to make any payments to Mr. Jones under the terms of the Employment Agreement or the Company's executive incentive plans will cease upon Mr. Jones' violation of any of these covenants.

Apart from the Employment Agreement, the Company's Supplemental Income Plan (the Plan) provides that in the event of a termination without cause, Mr. Jones will receive the same benefit he would have received had he retired on the date of termination, except that the minimum age and service requirements for early retirement do not apply. Accordingly, under the Plan, Mr. Jones would be entitled to receive a total of 180 monthly payments, each in an amount equal to 45% of his monthly base salary times a Days of Service Fraction determined by dividing the number of days from his employment start date to the date of termination by the number of days from his employment start date to his 65th birthday. Under this formula, Mr. Jones' benefit under the Plan will be approximately $4,180 per month, or $50,160 per year, for 15 years.

As of March 23, 2006, Mr. Jones has vested options to purchase approximately 101,000 shares of the Company's common stock at prices ranging from $5.032 to $22.25 per share. Under their terms, these options will remain exercisable until the earlier of three months following Mr. Jones' termination or expiration in accordance with their stated terms.

Various payments to which Mr. Jones is entitled as described above are, or may be, subject to compliance with the requirements of Section 409A of the Internal Revenue Code governing the payment of non-qualified deferred compensation. Among other things, Section 409A requires that certain deferred compensation distributions to key employees of public corporations not occur for at least six months following separation from service. The failure to comply with Section 409A can result in substantial penalties to the employee taxpayer. The Company and Mr. Jones may agree to modify the structure and timing of various payments described above as necessary to comply with the requirements of Section 409A.
