Continental Resources, Inc. to Purchase 37,900 Net Acres in the Bakken Play With 2.5 MBoe Average Daily

Production

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., March 28, 2012 /PRNewswire/ Continental Resources, Inc. (NYSE: CLR) has entered into an agreement to purchase the assets of Wheatland Oil Inc. of Enid, Oklahoma. Wheatland's principal assets are an ownership of approximately 5% of the interest acquired by Continental Resources in all leases and wells in a defined portion of the Bakken play pursuant to a participation agreement effective January 1, 2002.

The purchase price of $340 million is anticipated to result in the issuance of between 3.90 million and 4.25 million shares of Continental Resources' common stock, subject to customary purchase price adjustments. The number of shares will be determined based on a 20 day average of the daily sale prices prior to closing of the transaction. The average daily price determination will be subject to a floor of $80.00 per share and a ceiling of $87.18 per share.

Wheatland's assets include 37,900 net acres in the North Dakota and Montana Bakken play and interests in more than 1,000 gross wells, with net proved reserves of 17 MMBoe (million barrels of oil equivalent) as of year-end 2011 and production of 2.5 MBoepd (thousand barrels of oil equivalent per day) in December 2011.

Wheatland is owned 75% by the Revocable Inter Vivos Trust of Harold G. Hamm, of which Harold Hamm is sole trustee and beneficiary, and 25% by Jeff Hume. Mr. Hamm is Chairman of the Board, Chief Executive Officer and the majority shareholder of Continental Resources. Mr. Hume is President and Chief Operating Officer of Continental Resources.

A special independent and disinterested committee of Continental Resources' Board of Directors was formed to consider and evaluate the proposed transaction with Wheatland, to determine whether to pursue a transaction with Wheatland and, to the extent a determination to pursue such a transaction was made, to negotiate the terms of the purchase and sale agreement for Continental Resources, and make a recommendation to the disinterested members of the Continental Resources' Board of Directors as to the advisability of the transaction. Evercore Partners served as independent financial advisor for the committee and Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP served as independent counsel for the committee.

Continental Resources intends to seek a shareholder vote as required under Section 312.03(b) of the New York Stock Exchange Listed Company Manual and as required under the terms of the purchase and sale agreement at its upcoming 2012 Annual Meeting of Shareholders.

Section 312.03(b) of the New York Stock Exchange Listed Company Manual requires shareholder approval prior to the issuance of common stock to a director, officer or substantial security holder of Continental Resources if the number of shares of common stock exceeds either 1% of the number of shares of common stock or 1% of the voting power outstanding before the issuance. In addition, the terms of the purchase and sale agreement relating to the transaction require Continental Resources to obtain the approval of a majority of the issued and outstanding shares held by Continental Resources' shareholders other than members of Continental Resources' Board of Directors, Continental Resources' executive officers, Mr. Hamm and his affiliates, and Mr. Hume and his affiliates. Pursuant to the terms of the purchase and sale agreement, if the transaction is not approved by such shareholders the purchase and sale agreement will terminate without the payment of fees to either Continental Resources or Wheatland. In addition, Continental Resources has the ability to terminate the purchase and sale agreement at any time prior to the consummation of the transaction.
