Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

Patent Purchase and License Agreement

On December 31, 2013, ClearCount Medical Solutions, Inc., a Delaware corporation (“ClearCount”), and Patient Safety Technologies, Inc. (the “Company”) entered into a Patent Purchase and License Agreement (the “Patent Agreement”) pursuant to which ClearCount will sell and assign certain of its patents (the “Assigned Patents”) and license certain of its patents (the “Licensed Patents”) to the Company in exchange for an aggregate payment by the Company of $2.35 million. The Company will grant ClearCount a worldwide, fully paid-up, royalty-free and exclusive license for the Assigned Patents to make, use, sell and import any products or services within the scope of the claims of the Assigned Patents, and permit ClearCount to sublicense. Pursuant to the Patent Agreement, the Company may make, use, sell and import any products within the scope of the Assigned Patents; provided, that a grant of a license by the Company to a third party is only permitted when such grant is incidental to a third party providing goods or services to Company or to end users of the Company’s products or services.

Additionally, pursuant to the Patent Agreement, ClearCount will grant the Company a worldwide, fully paid-up, royalty-free and non-exclusive license for the Licensed Patents to make, use, sell and import any products or services within the scope of the claims of the Licensed Patents; provided, that such license will not include or permit sublicenses, assignments, third party mortgages or encumbrances. Grants of sublicenses will be permitted if such a grant is incidental to a third party providing goods or services to the Company or to end users of the Company’s products or services.

The Patent Agreement terminates for each Assigned Patent and Licensed Patent when such patent expires or is finally determined by a governmental authority to be unenforceable. The Patent Agreement will terminate in full when all Assigned and Licensed Patents are expired or unenforceable.
