Financial derivative instruments on own shares

Lisbon, Portugal, 12 March 2007 □ Portugal Telecom informs that, pursuant to the announcement of the shareholder remuneration package which includes a share buyback programme, it has negotiated with several financial institutions the terms and conditions for the execution of equity swap agreements on own shares.

Financial settlement will be applicable under the terms of the said equity swap agreements. Portugal Telecom may opt for physical settlement only provided that a General Meeting of Shareholders duly convened for such purpose has already approved the authorisation for the acquisition of own shares and that the terms and conditions established in such resolution are fulfilled when physical settlement is elected.

Prior to the approval by the General Meeting of Shareholders, the equity swaps will be treated as a derivative instrument on own shares. However, Portugal Telecom understands that it is convenient to have the possibility to opt for the physical settlement of such agreements in the future, as well as to create the necessary conditions to benefit from the exemptions set forth in Regulation (EC) no. 2273/2003 of the Commission, of 22 December 2003.

Therefore, the Board of Directors will present to the General Meeting of Shareholders a proposal of resolution to approve a share buyback programme with the sole purpose of reducing the share capital of Portugal Telecom. Such resolution shall authorise the Board of Directors to opt for physical settlement of the equity swap agreements, within the abovementioned share buyback programme, as soon as it deems convenient.

Additionally, and taking into consideration that the Board of Director's possible option for physical settlement of the equity swaps will involve a purchase of own shares that may benefit from the exemption set forth in Regulation (EC) no. 2273/2003 of the Commission, of 22 December 2003, the financial institutions with whom the equity swaps have been negotiated agreed to comply with the rules applicable to a share buyback programme established in such Regulation and in CMVM's recommendations, with the necessary changes and to the extent that it may be executable, namely:

- a) Ensure that all transactions are properly registered;
- b) Ensure that no shares are acquired at a price that is higher than the last independent trade and the highest current independent bid on the Eurolist by Euronext Lisbon;
- c) Ensure that no more than 25% of the average daily volume traded on the Eurolist by Euronext is purchased, or up to 50% of that volume, subject to the relevant authority being informed and adequate disclosure being provided to the public.

Edgar Filing: PORTUGAL TELECOM SGPS SA - Form 6-K

The financial institution will buy shares in the market to cover its own risk. Therefore, the initial price at which Portugal Telecom may acquire the shares in the future, in case physical settlement is elected, will be calculated based on the average acquisition price (including brokerage and other expenses). In case financial settlement is elected, Portugal Telecom will pay or receive the difference to that price. Also, Portugal Telecom has the right to receive an amount equal to any dividend should it be paid before maturity of the equity swap agreements. Additionally, Portugal Telecom will pay interest to the financial institution over the total notional amount of the equity swap which is calculated as the product of the total number of shares and the initial price.
