Qimonda Announces Sale of its Stake in Inotera to Micron

Neubiberg, October 13, 2008 Qimonda AG (NYSE: QI) has issued a press release today regarding the sale of its stake in Inotera Memories, Inc..

Qimonda has signed an agreement under which it sells its 35.6-percent stake in Inotera to Micron Technology, Inc. Under the terms of the agreement, Micron has agreed to purchase Qimonda's shares in Inotera for US$ 400 million in cash (approximately Euro 296 million) in two installments. Qimonda will receive US$ 200 million for about one-half its holding, when receipt of the governmental approvals necessary for this step is expected, and the remaining US$ 200 million for the second half once the remainder of the conditions to the final closing of the transaction have been satisfied.

Infineon Technologies AG (FSE/NYSE: IFX), which owns approximately 77.5 percent of Qimonda's shares, previously announced its desire to separate itself from its stake in Qimonda. In that connection, Infineon has had discussions with a number of third parties to explore the possibility of strategic transactions that would result in the disposition of all or a portion of its stake in Qimonda. Discussions in this matter are ongoing. Due to the current uncertainties surrounding the DRAM and world financial markets, among other factors, the outcome of these discussions is uncertain.

About Infineon

Infineon Technologies AG, Neubiberg, Germany, offers semiconductor and system solutions addressing three central challenges to modern society: energy efficiency, communications, and security. In the 2007 fiscal year (ending September), the company reported sales of 7.7 billion (including Qimonda sales of 3.6 billion) with approximately 43,000 employees worldwide (including approximately 13,500 Qimonda employees). With a global presence, Infineon operates through its subsidiaries in the U.S. from Milpitas, CA, in the Asia-Pacific region from Singapore, and in Japan from Tokyo. Infineon is listed on the Frankfurt Stock Exchange and on the New York Stock Exchange (ticker symbol: IFX).
