Section 8

Other Events

Item 8.01

Other Events.

On Thursday, May 17, 2012, Jude Bricker, Senior Vice President of Planning of Allegiant Travel Company (the “Company”) suggested at the Bank of America Global Transportation Conference that the year over year change in total scheduled service revenue per available seat mile (TRASM) would be closer to zero for the quarter ending June 30, 2012. What he intended to say was that TRASM would likely outperform scheduled service passenger revenue per available seat mile (PRASM) for the quarter. That is, the Company expects that the percentage decrease for TRASM for the quarter ending June 30, 2012 will be less than the percentage decrease expected for PRASM. The Company did not provide, and is not providing, specific TRASM guidance for the second quarter of 2012.

Forward-Looking Statements: Under the safe harbor provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995, statements included in this report that are not historical facts are forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements are only estimates or predictions based on management’s beliefs and assumptions and on information currently available to management. Forward-looking statements include statements regarding future revenue per available seat mile. Forward-looking statements involve risks, uncertainties and assumptions. Actual results may differ materially from those expressed in the forward-looking statements. Important risk factors that could cause the Company’s results to differ materially from those expressed in the forward-looking statements generally may be found in the Company’s periodic reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission at www.sec.gov. Any forward-looking statements are based on information available to the Company today and the Company undertakes no obligation to update publicly any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of future events, new information or otherwise.
