Cordis Corporation, a Johnson & Johnson company, announced that it has acquired Ensure Medical, Inc., a privately held company in Sunnyvale, CA that develops devices for post-catheterization closure of the femoral artery.

The lead investigational technology from Ensure Medical, Inc., is a femoral artery closure device, which uses a synthetic bioabsorbable polymer to stop bleeding and close the site of the arterial puncture.

As a result of the acquisition, Johnson & Johnson expects to incur an estimated one-time after-tax charge of approximately $52 million, or $.02 per share, related to the expensing of in-process research and development. Other terms of the transaction were not disclosed.
