asset impairment analysis for the Company's Original Equipment Europe segment. This compares to the reported loss from continuing operations for the three months ended December 31, 2007 of $55 million. The current year loss is the result of the following factors:

Sales volumes declined significantly as a result of the weakening global economy. The instability in the global financial markets has created a significant downturn in the Company's vehicular markets, particularly within Europe. Net sales were $365 million for the three months ended December 31, 2008, as compared to net sales of $481 million for the three months ended December 31, 2007;

The decline in sales volumes, the underabsorption of fixed costs in the Company's manufacturing facilities as the result of declining sales volumes, as well as a shift in product mix toward lower margin business contributed to a decline in gross profit. Gross profit was $42 million for the three months ended December 31, 2008, as compared to gross profit of $70 million for the three months ended December 31, 2007;

The results for the three months ended December 31, 2008 are anticipated to include impairment charges in a range of $25 million to $28 million, subject to the finalization of the long-lived asset impairment analysis for the Original Equipment Europe segment. This is comprised of a $9 million goodwill impairment charge in the Company's Original Equipment Europe segment, an estimated $8 million to $11 million long-lived asset impairment charge in the Company's Original Equipment Europe segment, and an $8 million long-lived asset impairment charge in the Company's Original Equipment North America segment;

Restructuring and repositioning charges totaling $27 million were recorded during the three months ended December 31, 2008 related to a workforce reduction in the Company's Racine, Wisconsin headquarters and a planned workforce reduction throughout the Company's European facilities, including the European headquarters in Bonlanden, Germany; and Tax valuation allowance charges of $7 million were recorded against the net deferred tax assets in the U.S. and South Korea as the Company continues to assess that it is more likely than not that these assets will not be realized in the future.

For the nine months ended December 31, 2008, the Company anticipates reporting a loss from continuing operations in a range of $61 million to $64 million. This compares to the reported loss from continuing operations for the nine months ended December 31, 2007 of $34 million. The weakened global economy is expected to continue to adversely affect the Company's results over the remainder of fiscal 2009. Based on this trend and the current quarter impairment and restructuring charges which were not contemplated in the second quarter of fiscal 2009, the Company anticipates that its full year results will fall significantly below its fiscal 2009 loss from continuing operations before income taxes guidance range of $5 million to $25 million which was previously reported in conjunction with the Company's second quarter fiscal 2009 earnings release on October 30, 2008.

Liquidity: The Company's debt agreements require it to maintain specified financial ratios. The most restrictive limitations are quarter-end debt to earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA) of not more than a 3.0 to 1.0 ratio (leverage ratio) and earnings before interest and taxes (EBIT) to interest expense of not less than a 1.75 to 1.0 ratio for the third quarter of fiscal 2009 (interest expense coverage ratio), as such terms are used in the debt agreements. As indicated in the Company's quarterly report on Form 10-Q for the quarterly period ended September 30, 2008, recent adverse trends have put additional pressure on the Company's ability to remain in compliance with the interest expense coverage ratio. As a result of the significant downturn in the Company's vehicular markets and resulting loss to be reported for the three months ended December 31, 2008, the Company was not in compliance with the interest expense coverage ratio at December 31, 2008, which constituted a default under the debt agreements.

The Company has reached an agreement in principle with its primary lenders and holders of notes on a waiver of the default which existed at December 31, 2008, and an amendment of its debt agreements. The Company has received written confirmation from the lenders and note holders, and anticipates closing on the waiver and amendments prior to filing its Form 10-Q for the quarterly period ended December 31, 2008. The waiver and amendments will not become effective until the closing. The Company will file a Form 8-K with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission that will describe the material terms of the obligations when the waiver and amendments become effective. In the very unlikely event that the Company is unable to close on the waiver and amendments prior to the filing of its Form 10-Q for the quarterly period ended December 31, 2008, the Company would be required to classify its outstanding long-term indebtedness totaling $254 million as a current liability. Presently, the Company is not able to borrow on its existing revolving credit facility and will not be able to do so until closing on the waiver and amendments.

However, at December 31, 2008, the Company had cash of $73 million that it believes will be sufficient to fund operations without accessing the revolving credit facility while the Company closes on the waiver and amendment or pursues other financing options, if needed. While the Company is confident that it will be able to close on the waiver and amendment with its primary lenders and holders of notes, and in fact is in the final stages of doing so, if it is unable to do so and also unable to obtain alternative financing arrangements, there would be substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

Forward-Looking Statements

This document contains statements, including information about future financial performance, accompanied by phrases such as believes, estimates, expects, plans, anticipates, will, intends, and other similar forward-looking statements, as defined in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. The Company's actual results, performance or achievements may differ materially from those expressed or implied in these statements, because of certain risks and uncertainties, including, but not limited to, those described under "Risk Factors" in Item 1A. in Part II. of the Company's quarterly report on Form 10-Q for the quarterly period ended September 30, 2008. Other risks and uncertainties include, but are not limited to, the following:

The Company's ability to obtain a waiver of and amendment to its debt agreements to regain compliance with financial covenants and remain in compliance going forward;

The impact the current global economic uncertainty and credit market turmoil is having on the Company, its customers and its suppliers and any worsening of such economic conditions;

The secondary effects on the Company's future cash flows and liquidity that may result from the Company's customers and lenders dealing with the economic crisis and its consequences;

The Company's ability to limit capital spending and/or consummate planned divestitures;

The Company's ability to recover the book value of the South Korean business, if divested;

The Company's ability to successfully implement restructuring plans and drive cost reductions as a result;

The Company's ability to maintain adequate liquidity to carry out restructuring plans while investing for future growth;

The Company's ability to satisfactorily service its customers during the implementation and execution of any restructuring plans and/or new product launches;

The Company's ability to avoid or limit inefficiencies in the transitioning of products from production facilities to be closed to other existing or new production facilities;

The Company's ability to successfully execute its four-point recovery plan;

The Company's ability to further cut costs to increase its gross margin and to maintain and grow its business;

Impairment of assets resulting from business downturns;

The Company's ability to realize future tax benefits;

Customers' actual production demand for new products and technologies, including market acceptance of a particular vehicle model or engine;

The Company's ability to increase its gross margin, including its ability to produce products in low cost countries;

The Company's ability to maintain customer relationships while rationalizing business;

The Company's ability to maintain current programs and compete effectively for new business, including its ability to offset or otherwise address increasing pricing pressures from its competitors and cost-downs from its customers;

The Company's ability to obtain profitable business at its new facilities in China, Hungary, Mexico, India and Austria and to produce quality products at these facilities from business obtained;

The effect of the weather on the Commercial Products business, which directly impacts sales;

Unanticipated problems with suppliers meeting the Company's time and price demands;

The impact of environmental laws and regulations on the Company's business and the business of the Company's customers, including the Company's ability to take advantage of opportunities to supply alternative new technologies to meet environmental emissions standards;

Economic, social and political conditions, changes and challenges in the markets where the Company operates and competes (including currency exchange rate fluctuations, tariffs, inflation, changes in interest rates, recession, and restrictions associated with importing and exporting and foreign ownership);

Changes in the anticipated sales mix;

The Company's association with a particular industry, such as the automobile industry, which could have an adverse effect on the Company's stock price;

The nature of the vehicular industry, including the dramatic decline in customer build rates;

Work stoppages or interference at the Company or the Company's major customers;

Unanticipated product or manufacturing difficulties, including unanticipated warranty claims;

Unanticipated delays or modifications initiated by major customers with respect to product applications or requirements;

Costs and other effects of unanticipated litigation or claims, and the increasing pressures associated with rising health care and insurance costs; and

Other risks and uncertainties identified by the Company in public filings with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.

The Company does not assume any obligation to update any forward-looking statements.
