ITEM 2. Acquisition or Disposition of Assets

See Item 1. above.

Business of RRUN

RRUN was incorporated in Nevada on October 12, 2000. RRUN's core business venture is RAHX, a software platform that uses Peer to Peer, or P2P technologies to enable and enhance the distribution of digital media files over the Internet. P2P technologies allow users to exchange digital media files directly from their computers. RAHX focuses on providing both owners and consumers of media-related content a suite of software products that address their respective needs. To take advantage of the sudden growth in the file exchange industry, RRUN expects to launch the RAHX venture before the end of 2001.

RAHX is used together with the product, RAHXWARE, the software which consumers use to connect to RAHX.

Opportunities in the Digital Music Industry

There has been a recent media explosion around the controversial music software company Napster. Napster has caused an uproar within the music industry, as the company has led the way in pioneering a new process of distributing music over the Internet. This process has been dubbed file exchange or P2P. Consumers can now access music files directly with another consumer without going through a website or centralized server.

However, companies like Napster are currently subject to a number of highly publicized lawsuits because, among other things, they promote the use of a software that violates the rights of music copyright owners including major record labels Sony and Universal. An opportunity arises for a company to create a feasible solution that not only generates revenue for the major record labels, but also allows consumers to continue to download and exchange music easily for a low cost.

RAHX Business Model

RRUN's core business venture is RAHX, a software platform that uses P2P technologies to enable and enhance the distribution of digital media files over the Internet. RAHX provides media users and content owners with an end-to-end solution of distributing music over the Internet by performing the following functions:

- o Facilitating the transfer and exchanging of digital media files;
- o Managing the income flow from consumers to content owners;

Edgar Filing: UNITED MANAGEMENT INC - Form 8-K

- o Storing the income for the benefit of content owners;
- o Tracking the content use;
- o Distributing the income to content owners; and
- o Protecting the consumers with Internet security and content owners with digital rights management.

RAHX earns income for RRUN through a two-pronged business model: Direct to Consumer Model and Licensing Model. In the Direct to Consumer Model, RAHX provides a file exchange service or P2P media service directly to consumers and uses its file exchange software to generate transaction fees by acting as an agent to facilitate transactions between consumers and content owners. In the Licensing Model, RAHX licenses its software to other P2P media services that desire a method to generate revenue. RAHX bills these file exchange services software license fees and transaction facilitation fees. Under this model, RAHX earns a smaller transaction fee rate than in the direct to consumer model.

Our report to the shareholders, dated February 14, 2001, is expressed in accordance with Canadian reporting standards, which do not permit a reference to such an uncertainty in the Auditors' Report when the uncertainty is adequately disclosed in the financial statements.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

DECEMBER 31, 2000
(Stated in U.S. Dollars)

1. NATURE OF OPERATIONS

a) Organization

The Company was incorporated in the State of Nevada, U.S.A. on October 12, 2000.

b) Development Stage Activities

The Company was organized to develop innovative technology based ventures with a current emphasis on building new technologies for the entertainment and content industry. The Company's initial venture is RAHX, a business concept focused on the growing Peer-To-Peer (P2P) file exchange industry. The first branded RAHX product is Rahxware, a platform that uses P2P technologies to enable and enhance the distribution of digital media over the internet.

The Company is in the development stage, therefore, recovery of assets is dependent upon future events, the outcome of which is indeterminable. In addition, successful completion of the Company's development program and its transition, ultimately to the attainment of profitable operations, is dependent upon obtaining adequate financing to fulfil its development activities and achieve a level of sales to support its cost structure.

Management is of the opinion that sufficient short term funding will be obtained and that current negotiations with potential users of its products will be successful.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The consolidated financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States. Because a precise determination of many assets and liabilities is dependent upon future events, the preparation of consolidated financial statements for a period necessarily involves the use of estimates which have been made using careful judgement.

The consolidated financial statements have, in management's opinion, been properly prepared within reasonable limits of materiality and within the framework of the significant accounting policies summarized below:

a) Consolidation

These consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its 67% owned subsidiary, RAHX, Inc.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

b) Development Stage Company

The Company is a development stage company as defined in the Statements of Financial Accounting Standards No. 7. The Company is devoting substantially all of its present efforts to establish a new business and none of its planned principal operations have commenced. All losses accumulated since inception have been considered as part of the Company's development stage activities.

c) Investments

Investments in companies owned less than 20% are recorded at the lower of cost or fair market value.

d) Software Development Costs

The costs to develop new software products and enhancements to existing software products will be expensed as incurred until technological feasibility has been established. Once technological feasibility has been established, any additional costs will be capitalized.

e) Income Taxes

The Company has adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 109 - "Accounting for Income Taxes" (SFAS 109). This standard requires the use of an asset and liability approach for financial accounting and reporting on income taxes. If it is more likely than not that some portion or all of a deferred tax asset will not be realized, a valuation allowance is recognized.

f) Financial Instruments

The Company's financial instruments consist of cash and accounts payable.

Unless otherwise noted, it is management's opinion that this Company is not exposed to significant interest or credit risks arising from these financial instruments. The fair value of these financial instruments approximate their carrying values, unless otherwise noted.

g) Net Loss Per Share

Net loss per share is calculated using the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Fully diluted loss per share is not presented as the impact of the exercise of options is anti-dilutive.

3. ACQUISITION OF SUBSIDIARY

Effective November 13, 2000, RRUN Ventures Inc. acquired 67% of the issued and outstanding shares of RAHX, Inc. by issuing 2,814,000 common shares. Since the transaction resulted in the former shareholders of RAHX, Inc. owning the majority of the issued shares of RRUN Ventures Inc., the transaction, which is referred to as a "reverse take-over", has been treated for accounting purposes as an acquisition by RAHX, Inc. of the net assets and liabilities of RRUN Ventures Inc. Under this purchase method of accounting, the results of operations of RRUN Ventures Inc. are included in these consolidated financial statements from November 13, 2000.

RRUN Ventures Inc. had a net asset deficiency at the acquisition date, therefore, the 2,814,000 common shares issued on acquisition were issued at an ascribed value of $Nil with the net asset deficiency of $12,355 charged to deficit. RAHX, Inc. is deemed to be the purchaser for accounting purposes. Accordingly, its net assets are included in the consolidated balance sheet at their previously recorded amounts.

The acquisition is summarized as follows:

Current Liabilities	23,712

(Stated in U.S. Dollars)

1. ORGANIZATION AND BASIS OF PRESENTATION

The unaudited pro-forma consolidated balance sheet and consolidated statements of operations have been prepared based on historical financial information, using U.S. generally accepted accounting principles of United Management Inc. for the year ended June 30, 2000, and for the nine months ended March 31, 2001, and of RRUN Ventures Inc. for the period from inception on October 12, 2000 to March 31, 2001 considering the effects of the reverse take-over transaction as if the transaction was completed effective July 1, 1999 in the case of the pro-forma consolidated statements of operations, and effective March 31, 2001 in the case of the pro-forma consolidated balance sheet.
