President's Letter

Dear Stockholder,

I am pleased to present the annual report for Neuberger Berman High Yield Strategies Fund Inc. for the 12 months ended October 31, 2015. The report includes a portfolio commentary, a listing of the Fund's investments and its audited financial statements for the reporting period.

The Fund seeks high total return (income plus capital appreciation). To pursue that objective, we have assembled a portfolio that consists primarily of high yield debt securities.

Thank you for your confidence in the Fund. We will do our best to continue earning your trust in the years to come.

Sincerely,

ROBERT CONTI PRESIDENT AND CEO NEUBERGER BERMAN HIGH YIELD STRATEGIES FUND INC.

Neuberger Berman High Yield Strategies Fund Inc. Portfolio Commentary (Unaudited)

Neuberger Berman High Yield Strategies Fund Inc. generated a -4.23% total return on a net asset value (NAV) basis for the 12 months ended October 31, 2015 and underperformed its benchmark, the BofA Merrill Lynch U.S. High Yield Master II Constrained Index, which provided a -2.03% return for the period. (Fund performance on a market price basis is provided in the table immediately following this letter.) The use of leverage (typically a performance enhancer in up markets and a detractor during market retreats) detracted from performance.

The overall fixed income market was volatile at times but posted a positive return over the 12-month period. Short-term Treasury yields moved higher in anticipation of the first U.S. Federal Reserve (Fed) interest rate hike in nearly a decade. In contrast, longer-term rates declined given a number of flights to quality. Despite a strong finish, the high yield fixed income market generated weak results during the period. In particular, the energy and metals & mining sectors performed poorly given signs of moderating global growth. Within the benchmark, CCC-rated securities (a relatively low rating) and BB-rated securities (rated higher) returned -10.22% and 1.16%, respectively.

From a sector perspective, security selection in energy and telecommunication services, along with an underweight to banking, detracted the most from performance. Conversely, an underweight to metals & mining, an overweight to gaming and security selection in technology & electronics contributed the most to results.

In terms of the Fund's quality bias, security selection of CCC-rated securities was generally positive for performance. Elsewhere, security selection of BB and higher rated issues detracted from results.

We made several adjustments to the portfolio during the reporting period. We increased the Fund's allocation to BB-rated bonds, while moving its allocation to CCC-rated bonds from an overweight to a neutral position versus the benchmark. From a sector perspective, we increased the Fund's allocations to technology & electronics, media & cable and retailers. Conversely, we reduced its exposures to energy, telecommunication services and packaging.

The Fund's use of derivatives detracted from performance during the reporting period.

Looking ahead, we believe high yield valuations are attractive versus their default risk. We anticipate U.S. GDP growth of about 2% in 2016, which should be supportive for the overall high yield market. Within the market, leverage remains moderate at 4.1 times debt to cash flow, while near-term bond/loan maturities have been significantly reduced through refinancing. That said, we think volatility could remain elevated. Defaults in the U.S. high yield market are currently estimated at around 1.5% for 2015 and could move up to 3% in 2016. Another uncertainty is the Fed's transition to a less accommodative monetary policy. While we anticipate several rate hikes in 2016, our view is that the Fed will take a gradual approach and move more slowly than many previously expected. It's important to point out that interest rates have not historically been the primary driver of high yield performance. Rather, this has been largely a function of GDP growth and default rates, both of which we feel will be supportive in 2016. Furthermore, an environment of gradual interest rate hikes has historically been constructive for high yield bonds, as it usually means the economy is on solid footing.

Sincerely,

ANN H. BENJAMIN, THOMAS P. O'REILLY, RUSS COVODE AND DANIEL DOYLE PORTFOLIO CO-MANAGERS

Closed-end funds, unlike open-end funds, are not continually offered. Generally, there is an initial public offering and, once issued, shares of common stock of closed-end funds are sold in the secondary market on a stock exchange.

The performance data quoted represent past performance and do not indicate future results. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. For more current performance data, please visit www.nb.com/cef-performance.

The results shown in the table reflect the reinvestment of income dividends and other distributions, if any. The results do not reflect the effect of taxes a stockholder would pay on Fund distributions or on the sale of shares of the Fund's common stock.

The investment return and market price will fluctuate and shares of the Fund's common stock may trade at prices above or below NAV. Shares of the Fund's common stock, when sold, may be worth more or less than their original cost.

Returns would have been lower if Neuberger Berman Management LLC (Management) had not waived a portion of its investment management fees during certain of the periods shown. Please see the Notes to the Financial Highlights for additional information regarding fee waivers.

Description of Index

BofA Merrill Lynch US High Yield Master II Constrained Index:

The index tracks the performance of U.S. dollar-denominated, below investment grade corporate debt publicly issued in the U.S. domestic market. In addition to meeting other criteria, qualifying securities must have a below investment grade rating (based on an average of Moody's, S&P and Fitch ratings), and have risk exposure to countries that are members of the FX-G10, Western Europe or territories of the U.S. and Western Europe. Securities in legal default are excluded from the index. Index constituents are capitalization-weighted, provided the total allocation to an individual issuer does not exceed 2%.

Please note that the index does not take into account any fees and expenses or any tax consequences of investing in individual securities that it tracks and that individuals cannot invest directly in any index. Data about the performance of this index are prepared or obtained by Management and include reinvestment of all income dividends and other distributions, if any. The Fund may invest in securities not included in the above described index and generally does not invest in all securities included in the index.
