Our Fleet

We own and operate a fleet of 12 vessels consisting of four Capesize and eight Supramax drybulk carriers with an average age of 9.7 years and a combined cargo carrying capacity of approximately 1.1 million dwt. Our fleet carries a variety of drybulk commodities including coal, iron ore, and grains, or major bulks, as well as bauxite, phosphate, fertilizers and steel products, or minor bulks.

We charter all of our vessels under medium- to long-term time charters with terms of approximately one to five years, other than the Star Beta and the Star Sigma, which are currently employed in the spot market. We expect the Star Sigma to trade in the spot market until it commences a three year time charter at a gross daily average charter rate of $63,000 per day beginning in March 2009.

The following table represents a list of all of the vessels in our fleet as of January 8, 2009:

Edgar Filing: Star Bulk Carriers Corp. - Form 6-K

- (1) The Star Alpha is currently off-hire and undergoing unscheduled repairs. We expect the total period for which this vessel is off-hire for such repairs to be approximately 25 days.
 - (2) The Star Sigma, which was on time charter to a Japanese charterer at a gross daily charter rate of $100,000 per day until March 1, 2009 (earliest redelivery), was redelivered to us earlier pursuant to an agreement whereby the charterer agreed to pay the contracted rate less $8,000 per day, which is the approximate operating cost for the vessel, from the date of the actual redelivery in November 2008 through March 1, 2009. We received payment in full and the vessel is currently trading in the spot market on a voyage charter to BHP Billiton at a gross time charter equivalent rate, or TCE rate, of approximately $14,100 per day, resulting in revenue for the vessel that is effectively higher than it would have been under the original charter at the rate of $100,000 per day. We calculate TCE rate by dividing voyage revenues (net of voyage expenses) or time charter equivalent revenue by voyage days for the relevant time period. Voyage expenses primarily consist of port, canal and fuel costs that are unique to a particular voyage, which would otherwise be paid by the charterer under a time charter contract, as well as commissions. The vessel is scheduled to commence a three year time charter at a gross daily average charter rate of $63,000 per day beginning in March 2009.
 - (3) On April 24, 2008, we entered into an agreement to sell Star Iota for gross proceeds of $18.4 million. We delivered this vessel to its purchasers on October 6, 2008.

Exhibit 2

During December 2008, we entered into two freight forward agreements, or FFAs, on the Capesize index totaling 360 calendar days in 2009 with an average rate of approximately $19,900 per day. The Capesize index refers to the daily hire rate of a modern Capesize dry bulk carrier. The contracts are intended to serve as an approximate hedge for one of our Capesize vessels trading in the spot market for 2009, effectively locking-in the approximate amount of revenue that we expect to receive from such vessel for the period. We also entered into FFA contracts on the Capesize index totaling 60 calendar days in 2010 with an average rate of approximately $25,225 per day. All of our FFA transactions are cleared through LCH Clearnet Group and are intended as approximate hedges to our physical exposure in the spot market. Generally, FFAs and other derivative instruments may be used to hedge a vessel owner's exposure to the charter market for a specified route and period of time. Upon settlement, if the contracted charter rate is less than the average of the rates, as reported by an identified index, for the specified route and time period, the seller of the FFA is required to pay the buyer an amount equal to the difference between the contracted rate and the settlement rate, multiplied by the number of days in the specified period. Conversely, if the contracted rate is greater than the settlement rate, the buyer is required to pay the seller the settlement sum.
