METHANEX SECURES FURTHER GAS SUPPLY TO OPERATE ITS NEW ZEALAND PLANT UNTIL THE END OF THE YEAR

January 30, 2007

Methanex Corporation announced today that it has secured additional natural gas supply that will enable it to continue to operate its 530,000 tonne per year New Zealand plant until at least the end of 2007. This plant is a flexible asset for Methanex, with operations dependant upon methanol industry supply and demand and the availability of natural gas on commercially acceptable terms.

John Floren, Methanex's Senior Vice President, Global Marketing and Logistics, said, "The decision to extend the operation of our New Zealand plant through to the end of this year is driven by our view of methanol industry balances. In part, the continuing delay of new capacity coming on stream and our expectation that some of this new capacity will initially run at low operating rates supports our view that market fundamentals will remain favourable in 2007. Operating our New Zealand plant will help to ensure continued reliable supply to our customers and provide incremental profits for our shareholders."

Methanex is a Vancouver based, publicly-traded company engaged in the worldwide production and marketing of methanol. Methanex shares are listed for trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange in Canada under the trading symbol "MX" and on the NASDAQ Global Market in the United States under the trading symbol "MEOH". Methanex can be visited online at www.methanex.com.
