

JAMES HARDIE INDUSTRIES N.V.

Form 425

June 24, 2009

FILED BY JAMES HARDIE INDUSTRIES N.V.
PURSUANT TO RULE 425 UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933

SUBJECT COMPANY:
JAMES HARDIE INDUSTRIES N.V.
(REGISTRATION NO. 333-160177)

Memo to all at James Hardie Australia

Proposed change to James Hardie's domicile

For some time now, James Hardie has been considering the issue of its corporate domicile. After an extensive review, the company has today announced that its directors have determined to seek shareholder approval for a two-stage proposal to (a) transform James Hardie to a European Company, and then (b) move its corporate domicile from The Netherlands to Ireland.

Details of the proposal are contained in the attached company statement and we are providing this to our customers today.

Today's announcement demonstrates that progress is being made in resolving another of the company's legacy issues. However, as with other issues that have moved towards resolution, it is likely it will generate renewed media attention.

Against that background, I want to reassure you that:

the proposal will not change our day-to-day operations or our focus here in Australia; and

James Hardie remains committed to the company's Australian operations. Our Chief Executive Officer, Louis Gries, has repeatedly said that James Hardie has no plans to sell the Australian business; moving the domicile does not change this.

Please read the company statement attached, and contact your manager if you have any questions, or would like to be directed to additional information.

If you receive questions about today's announcement, please forward these to your manager so that they can be answered by the appropriate person.

Shane Dias

General Manager Australia

Disclaimer: Forward looking statements

This presentation, and other statements that James Hardie Industries N.V. (James Hardie) may make, including statements about the benefits of James Hardie's transformation from a Dutch NV to a Dutch SE and subsequent redomicile to Ireland as an Irish SE (the Proposal), may contain forward-looking statements. We may from time to time make forward-looking statements in our periodic reports filed with or furnished to the US Securities and Exchange Commission on Forms 20-F and 6-K, in our annual reports to shareholders, in offering circulars, invitation memoranda and prospectuses, in media releases and other written materials and in oral statements made by our officers, directors or employees to analysts, institutional investors, existing and potential lenders, representatives of the media and others. Statements that are not historical facts are forward-looking statements and for US purposes such forward-looking statements are statements made pursuant to the Safe Harbor Provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Examples of forward-looking statements include:

statements about our future performance;

projections of our results of operations or financial condition;

statements regarding our plans, objectives or goals, including those relating to our strategies, initiatives, competition, acquisitions, dispositions and/or our products;

expectations concerning the costs associated with the suspension or closure of operations at any of our plants and future plans with respect to any such plants;

expectations that our credit facilities will be extended or renewed;

expectations concerning dividend payments;

statements concerning our corporate and tax domiciles and potential changes to them;

statements regarding tax liabilities and related audits and proceedings;

statements as to the possible consequences of proceedings brought against us and certain of our former directors and officers by the Australian Securities & Investments Commission; expectations about the timing and amount of contributions to the Asbestos Injuries Compensation Fund, a special purpose fund for the compensation of proven Australian asbestos-related personal injury and death claims;

expectations concerning indemnification obligations; and statements about product or environmental liabilities.

Words such as believe, anticipate, plan, expect, intend, target, estimate, project, predict, forecast, should, continue and similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements but are not the exclusive means of identifying such statements. Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements and all such forward-looking statements are qualified in their entirety by reference to the following cautionary statements.

Forward-looking statements are based on our estimates and assumptions and because forward-looking statements address future results, events and conditions, they, by their very nature, involve inherent risks and uncertainties. Such known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors may cause our actual results, performance or other achievements to differ materially from the anticipated results, performance or achievements expressed, projected or implied by these forward-looking statements and future results could differ materially from historical performance. These factors, some of which are discussed under Risk Factors in James Hardie's Registration Statement (described below under the heading "Additional information and where to find it" include but are not limited to:

all matters relating to or arising out of the prior manufacture of products that contained asbestos by our current and former subsidiaries;

required contributions to the Asbestos Injuries Compensation Fund and the effect of currency exchange rate movements on the amount recorded in our financial statements as an asbestos liability; compliance with and changes in tax laws and treatments;

competition and product pricing in the markets in which we operate;

the consequences of product failures or defects; exposure to environmental, asbestos or other legal proceedings;

general economic and market conditions;

the supply and cost of raw materials;

the success of research and development efforts;

reliance on a small number of customers; a customer's inability to pay; compliance with and changes in environmental and health and safety laws;

risks of conducting business internationally; compliance with and changes in laws and regulations;

currency exchange risks;

the concentration of our customer base on large format retail customers, distributors and dealers;

the effect of natural disasters;

changes in our key management personnel;

inherent limitations on internal controls; use of accounting estimates;

and all other risks identified in our reports filed with Australian, Dutch and US securities agencies and exchanges (as appropriate).

We caution that the foregoing list of factors is not exhaustive and that other risks and uncertainties may cause actual results to differ materially from those in forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements speak only as of the date they are made and are statements of our current expectations concerning future results, events and conditions and James Hardie does not undertake to update forward-looking statements.

Additional information and where to find it

In connection with the Proposal, James Hardie has lodged with the Australian Securities Exchange (ASX) and filed with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) a Registration Statement on Form F-4 with additional information concerning the Proposal, including a copy of a preliminary Explanatory Memorandum/Prospectus. The Registration Statement has not yet been declared effective by the SEC and will be amended before its effectiveness.

While there is no new issue of securities involved in the Proposal under Australian law, under the US federal securities law James Hardie Industries SE is treated as a new registrant and the Explanatory Memorandum constitutes a prospectus for the purposes of US federal securities law. The Explanatory Memorandum is not a prospectus for the purposes of Australia's Corporations Act, 2001. Accordingly, it does not contain all of the information that would be required to be contained in an Australian prospectus and has not been, and will not be, lodged with ASIC.

Investors and security holders of James Hardie are urged to read the Explanatory Memorandum forming part of the registration statement and any amendments, as well as any other relevant documents lodged or filed with the ASX or SEC as they become available because they contain and will contain important information about James Hardie and the Proposal. The Registration Statement, James Hardie's Annual Report on Form 20-F and James Hardie's subsequent reports filed with or furnished to the SEC and other relevant materials (when they become available) may be read and copied at the SEC's public reference room located at 100 F Street, N.E., Washington, D.C. 20549. Information on the operation of the Public Reference Rooms may be obtained by calling the SEC at 1-800-SEC-0330. The SEC also maintains a website, www.sec.gov, from which any electronic filings made by James Hardie may be obtained without charge. In addition, investors and security holders may obtain copies of the documents filed with or furnished to the SEC upon oral or written request without charge. Requests may be made by
