This primarily reflects a reduction in our revenue outlook from $779MM to $761MM primarily associated with three of the four operating divisions excluding the Distribution segment. This follows a weak Q4 and management commentary on its earnings call that Lawn & Garden customers have been planning cautiously, although MYE expects it to recover. This is balanced with reduction in our G&A forecast. We assume an operating margin of 4.9%. We view positively the company s strategic actions to consolidate its branch distribution model into regional distribution centers and implementing policies to mitigate volatility in raw material input costs in the lawn & garden segment. However, these actions are in the early stages of an up to two-year full implementation. Note: 2009 EPS exclude a $0.63 loss from restructuring and discontinued operations. 2Q:10 and 3Q:10 EPS exclude a $0.03 and a $0.01 loss, respectively, from restructuring. 4Q:10 EPS excludes a $1.55 loss from impairment. 2009-2012E EPS include $0.02 of annual stock-based compensation expense. Description: Myers Industries (www.myersind.com) manufactures polymer and rubber-based products and distributes tools, equipment and supplies for the tire replacement and repair market. Plastic products include reusable material-handling containers and pallets, as well as horticulture pots, trays and baskets. Rubber products are used for tire repair and plastic HVAC systems. About 83% of revenue is from the U.S. Headquarters are in Akron, OH. We expect Myers to use its solid balance sheet and free cash flow to target acquisitions. We project free cash flow (FCF) per share of $0.76 in 2011 and $1.17 in 2012. We expect Myers to use free cash flow for strategic acquisitions to expand the pooling business in Materials Handling. With long-term debt-to-capital at 27% of capital as of the end of 2010, or total debt of 1.3x our 2011 EBITDA estimate of $76.9 million ($2.17 per share), we think Myers balance sheet is strong enough to target deals. We maintain our BUY rating and $12 price target. We project a 12% five-year EPS CAGR as gradually strengthening economic fundamentals in the U.S. are augmented by company improvements, such as sales contracts that better reflect raw material costs. With MYE trading at less than 10x our 2012 EPS estimate, we contend the valuation is attractive and maintain our BUY rating. Section 3: Board's Consideration of GAMCO's Proposal to Nominate Directors Leadership Brands
Helping Customers Grow! 15

Background of GAMCO Actions with Myers Industries: 2008 – 09 The Company has made every effort over the last several years to understand and respond to GAMCO’s concerns regarding the Board of Directors: In November 2008, GAMCO sent a letter to the Company announcing its intention to nominate 3 nominees for election to the Board of Directors at the 2009 Annual Meeting of Shareholders. Upon receiving GAMCO’s letter, a representative of the Company’s Board contacted GAMCO to further inquire about specific concerns of GAMCO relating to the Company. The individuals noted in GAMCO’s letter were invited to participate in the regular Board candidate vetting process. GAMCO declined to have its individuals participate in the Company’s review process and failed to articulate any specific concerns that it had regarding the operations of the Company. The Company received no further communications from GAMCO regarding the Company until the filing of GAMCO’s preliminary proxy statement with the SEC on March 30, 2009. On April 24, 2009, the Company announced that Proxy Advisory firms recommended in favor of Myers Industries Director nominees. At the April 30, 2009, Annual Meeting of Shareholders, shareholder votes strongly supported the full Myers Industries Director slate and was unwilling to support the GAMCO slate. 16

Background of GAMCO Actions with Myers Industries: 2009 – 10 In May 2009, GAMCO amended its Schedule 13D relating to the Company to disclose that it intended to submit one or more individuals as nominees for election to the Board of Directors at the 2010 Annual Meeting. Management of the Company engaged in many conversations with Mr. Mario Gabelli, principal of GAMCO, to discuss GAMCO’s specific concerns relating to the Company and its Board. At NO TIME did Mr. Gabelli relate specific concerns with the Company’s strategy, operations or management. On October 30 and again on November 13, 2009, GAMCO amended its Schedule 13D to disclose that it had sent letters to the Company announcing its intention to nominate Messrs. Edward Crawford, Avrum Gray, and Robert Prather for election to the Board of Directors at the 2010 Annual Meeting. The individuals noted were sent questionnaires regarding their qualifications and requesting meetings with the Board’s Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee and management – the standard vetting procedure for candidates. Mr. Prather met with the Chairman of the Corporate Governance Committee in February 2010. It was determined that Mr. Prather did not bring substantive expertise more valuable than that of the Board’s identified nominee, Sarah Coffin. Neither Mr. Gray nor Mr. Crawford agreed to be interviewed, and hence were excluded from further consideration. GAMCO filed its revised preliminary proxy on April 6, 2010, nominating Messrs. Crawford, Gray and Prather. On April 24, 2010, the Company announced that Proxy Advisory firms recommended the Company’s nominees. At the April 30, 2010, Annual Meeting of Shareholders, shareholder votes strongly supported the full Myers Industries Director slate and was unwilling to support the GAMCO slate. 17

Background of GAMCO Actions with Myers Industries: 2010 – 11 Following our 2010 Annual Meeting of Shareholders, GAMCO never articulated any specific concerns that it had regarding the operations of the Company. Therefore, the Company identified two highly qualified nominees for the Board, William A. Foley and Robert B. Heisler, Jr. Then on February 28, 2011, without any other communication to the Company, GAMCO amended its Schedule 13D relating to the Company to disclose that it had sent a letter to the Company recommending two individuals, Jack Liebau and Robert S. Prather, Jr., for nomination for election as directors of the Company at the Annual Meeting of Shareholders (the Letter). In the Letter, GAMCO failed to identify any of its concerns about the Company, except to state: GAMCO believes they will provide a change in corporate stewardship to reflect the Recognizing GAMCO s position as a significant shareholder and to avoid the expense and distraction of a costly proxy fight, the Company offered to add one of GAMCO s nominees to the Board s slate at the 2011 Annual Meeting of Shareholders. GAMCO initially accepted that offer, then days later reneged on the agreement. Like before, GAMCO has neglected to offer any alternative strategic plan to create additional value for shareholders and has consistently refused to communicate its specific concerns to management or your Board. We urge shareholders to discard any blue proxy card received from GAMCO and continue to support the full Myers Industries Director slate. 18

Background of Contacts with GAMCO In Conclusion: ! GAMCO has consistently failed to articulate any specific concerns regarding the Company's operations or propose a new strategy for the Company going forward. ! GAMCO has not articulated any special qualifications of the individuals it seeks to put on the Company's board that might make them more suited to serve as directors of the Company than the nominees recommended by the Board of Directors. ! In the past two years, GAMCO has similarly attempted to place its nominees on the Board, and Myers Industries shareholders have been unwilling to support the GAMCO Nominees. 19

Section 4: Summary & Concluding Remarks Leadership Brands Helping Customers Grow! 20

Summary: Shareholder Focus & Compelling Corporate Governance

We believe that Myers Industries' Board nominees are best suited to represent the interests of all shareholders: Solid performance based on strategic direction and transformative actions over the past three years with optimization initiatives and profit momentum continuing in 2011. Strong balance sheet and financial liquidity to support the growth of the business in concert with economic rebound. Consistent focus on creation of shareholder value and returns, as evidenced by progressive increases in shareholder dividends for nearly 40 years; The Board regularly considers ALL of its available options for delivery of value to shareholders. Strong, independent and committed Board of highly experienced and qualified members; approximately 60% new directors since 2005, reflecting attrition, strategic evolution and recognized corporate governance practices. Compensation policies are aligned with ISS best practices. Transparency, consistent and credible communications with shareholder base. GAMCO's proposal provides no substantive ideas or basis to alter or improve the strategic direction or execution at Myers Industries, which is focused on the best interests of all shareholders. Shareholders are urged to vote FOR Myers Board nominees on the WHITE Proxy Card 21.
