OFFICE DEPOT, INC.
NOTES TO CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(Unaudited)

Note A Basis of Presentation

Office Depot, Inc., including consolidated subsidiaries, is a global supplier of office products and services. Fiscal years are based on a 52- or 53-week period ending on the last Saturday in December. The condensed consolidated balance sheet at December 31, 2005 has been derived from audited financial statements at that date. The condensed interim financial statements as of April 1, 2006 and for the 13-week periods ending April 1, 2006 (also referred to as the first quarter of 2006) and March 26, 2005 (also referred to as the first quarter of 2005) are unaudited. However, in our opinion, these financial statements reflect all adjustments (consisting of normal, recurring items) necessary to provide a fair presentation of our financial position, results of operations and cash flows for the periods presented. In addition to normal, recurring items recorded for fair interim financial statement presentation, we recognized expenses associated with exit and other activities because the related accounting criteria were met during the period. These charges are discussed in Note B below. Certain prior period amounts have been reclassified to conform to current year presentation.

These interim results are not necessarily indicative of the results that should be expected for the full year. For a better understanding of Office Depot, Inc. and its financial statements, we recommend reading these condensed interim financial statements in conjunction with the audited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2005, which are included in our 2005 Annual Report on Form 10-K, filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC).

Note B Asset Impairments, Exit Costs and Other Charges

During 2005, we announced a number of material charges relating to asset impairments, exit costs and other operating decisions. This announcement followed a wide-ranging assessment of assets and commitments which began in the second quarter of 2005. Through the end of 2005, we recorded $282.1 million of charges related to certain of these identified activities. We also indicated that additional charges would be recognized in future periods as we complete projects currently underway and implement the remaining projects. For additional discussion of these charges, see our 2005 Annual Report on Form 10-K filed with the SEC. As with any estimate, the amounts may change when projects are implemented. Additionally, changes in foreign currency exchange rates may impact amounts reported in U.S. dollars related to foreign operations.

During the first quarter of 2006, we recorded approximately $18.7 million of charges related to these previously-identified activities (the First Quarter Charges). Approximately $0.2 million is included in costs of goods sold and occupancy costs, $15.8 million in store and warehouse operating and selling expenses, and $2.7 million in general and administrative expenses. These charges primarily related to centralizing and consolidating activities in our International Division and included one-time severance costs and related accruals.

Of the $18.7 million of First Quarter Charges, approximately $17.5 million represented exit and other costs as outlined below.

(Dollars in millions)	Beginning Balance at 1/1/06	Charge Incurred	Cash Payments	Non-cash Settlements	Adjustments	Ending Balance at 4/1/06

Note C Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation

We adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123 (R) (FAS 123R), Share-Based Payments, at the beginning of the third quarter of 2005 using the modified prospective method. Accordingly, financial information for prior periods has not been restated. However, the pro forma effects of recognizing the estimated fair value of stock-based compensation for the first quarter of 2005 has been disclosed previously in our footnotes under provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123 (FAS 123), Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation. The previously-disclosed pro forma information is presented below.

	First Quarter 2005
(In thousands, except per share amounts)
Net earnings as reported	$ 115,308
Stock-based employee compensation cost included in net earnings as reported, net of tax	1,748
Compensation expense under FAS 123, net of tax	(3,065)
Pro forma net earnings	$ 113,991
Net earnings per share Basic
As reported	$ 0.37
Pro forma	0.37
Net earnings per share Diluted
As reported	$ 0.37
Pro forma	0.36

In addition to requiring companies to recognize the estimated fair value of share-based payments in earnings, FAS 123R modified the presentation of tax benefits received in excess of amounts determined based on the compensation expense recognized. Previously, such amounts were considered sources of cash in the operating activities section of the statement of cash flows. For periods after adopting FAS 123R under the modified prospective method, such benefits are presented as a source of cash in the financing activities section of the statement of cash flows.

Note F Division Information

Historically, management has assessed the performance of our reportable segments through a measure we referred to as Division operating profit. That measure reflected sales, cost of sales and store and warehouse operating expenses directly related to each Division's activity. General and administrative (G&A) expenses were evaluated and controlled as a corporate function. As we have previously disclosed, we have been analyzing the further allocation of our G&A costs to our Division results for purposes of segment disclosure.

We now include in our Division operating profit those G&A costs that have been identified as directly or closely attributable to those units. After allocating these costs to the Divisions, a certain amount of corporate G&A remains unallocated. These costs cannot be directly attributed to the activities of any one Division and so are held out separately as corporate G&A. We believe this is the most appropriate way to measure each Division's performance. Unallocated corporate G&A continues to be monitored and evaluated at a corporate level. We have also refined certain other historical allocations across Divisions.

We have provided below the Division operating profit for each quarter of 2005 as previously reported and with the further allocations of G&A and other items.

As discussed in our Form 10-K for the year ended 2005, we recorded significant asset impairment charges, exit costs and other expenses during the third and fourth quarters of 2005 which impacted Division operating profit and G&A expenses. The total charges for the third quarter were $236.8 million, with the following Divisional and G&A impacts: $155.1 million in North American

Table of Contents

Retail; $55.2 million in North American Business Solutions; $9.7 million in International, and $16.8 million in corporate G&A. The fourth quarter charges totaled $45.3 million, with the following impacts: $7.0 million in North American Retail; $6.9 million in North American Business Solutions; $28.0 million in International and $3.4 million in corporate G&A.

The following is a summary of our significant accounts and balances by reportable segment (or Division), reconciled to consolidated totals.

Note G Pension Disclosures

The components of net periodic pension cost for our two foreign defined benefit plans are as follows:

(Dollars in millions)

	First Quarter
	2006	2005
Service cost	$ 1.9	$ 2.0
Interest cost	2.8	2.8
Expected return on plan assets	(1.9)	(1.9)
Net periodic pension cost	$ 2.8	$ 2.9

For the quarter ended April 1, 2006, we have contributed $1.6 million to our foreign pension plans. No significant changes are currently anticipated in our 2006 annual contributions compared to 2005.

Note H Subsequent Events

After the end of the quarter, we completed the acquisition of a controlling interest in a South Korean office supply business which had prior year sales of approximately $44 million. We also increased our ownership interest to a majority stake in Office Depot Israel, which generated revenue in excess of $100 million in the prior year. We will fully consolidate these businesses into our results in the second quarter of 2006.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

GENERAL

Office Depot, Inc., together with our subsidiaries, is a global supplier of office products and services. We sell to consumers and businesses of all sizes through our three reportable segments (or Divisions): North American Retail Division, North American Business Solutions Division, and International Division.

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations (MD&A) is intended to provide information to assist you in better understanding and evaluating our financial condition and results of operations. We recommend that you read this MD&A in conjunction with our condensed consolidated financial statements and the notes to those statements included in Item 1 of this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q, as well as our 2005 Annual Report on Form 10-K, filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC).

This MD&A contains significant amounts of forward-looking information. Without limitation, when we use the words believe, estimate, plan, expect, intend, anticipate, continue, may, project, probably, should and this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q, we are identifying forward-looking statements. Our discussion of Risk Factors found in Item 1A of this Form 10-Q and Forward-Looking Statements, found immediately following the MD&A in our 2005 Annual Report on Form 10-K, apply to these forward-looking statements.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

OVERVIEW

A summary of factors important to understanding the first quarter results are provided below and further discussed in the narrative that follows.

Total Company sales for the first quarter grew 3% to $3.8 billion compared to the first quarter of 2005.

Excluding the effects of foreign exchange, total company sales were 5% higher than the first quarter of last year. Sales in North America were up 6%. North American Retail comps were 3% for the quarter.

For the quarter, gross profit as a percentage of sales was 31.5%, a 40 basis point improvement from the same period last year.

As part of our previously announced charges, we recorded approximately $19 million in charges in the first quarter of 2006 (the First Quarter Charges). Those charges primarily occurred as a result of actions planned and taken in our International Division in the quarter. These projects are expected to continue throughout 2006 and future years and related charges will be recorded when the related accounting recognition criteria are met.

Beginning with this quarter, we now include in our Division operating profit those general and administrative (G&A) costs that have been identified as directly or closely attributable to those units. After allocating these costs to the Divisions, a certain amount of Corporate G&A remains unallocated.

Cash flows from operations increased in 2006, reflecting an improvement in inventory levels and in the use of cash for payables and in part, to the timing of payments.

During the first quarter of 2006, we acquired approximately 12 million shares of our common stock.

Subsequent to quarter end, we completed the previously-announced acquisition of a majority position in a venture in South Korea and increased our ownership to a controlling interest in a venture in Israel. Both entities will be consolidated beginning with the second quarter results.

Table of Contents*Overall(Dollars in millions)*

		First Quarter
		2006		2005
Sales	$3,815.7		100.0%	$3,702.9	100.0%
Cost of goods sold and occupancy costs	2,613.8		68.5%	2,551.2	68.9%
Gross profit	1,201.9		31.5%	1,151.7	31.1%
Store and warehouse operating and selling expenses	843.5		22.1%	827.8	22.4%
Allocated G&A	79.3		2.1%	85.3	2.3%
Division operating profit	279.1		7.3%	238.6	6.4%
Corporate G&A	87.3		2.3%	73.7	2.0%
Operating profit	$ 191.8		5.0%	$ 164.9	4.4%

Beginning with the first quarter of 2006, we now include in our Division operating profit those G&A costs that have been identified as directly or closely attributable to those units. After allocating these costs to the Divisions, a certain amount of Corporate G&A remains unallocated. We have also refined certain other historical allocations across Divisions. Prior period results have been recast for meaningful comparison. See Note F of our Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for additional discussion.

Other companies may charge more or less G&A expenses to their divisions, and our results therefore may not be comparable to similarly titled measures used by some other entities. Our measure of Division operating profit should not be considered as an alternative to operating income or net earnings determined in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

During 2005, we announced a number of material charges relating to asset impairments, exit costs and other operating decisions. This announcement followed a wide-ranging assessment of assets and commitments which began in the second quarter of 2005. Through the end of 2005, we recorded $282.1 million of charges related to certain of these identified activities. We also indicated that additional charges would be recognized in future periods as remaining projects are implemented and accounting recognition criteria are met. For additional discussion of these charges (the 2005 Charges), please see our 2005 Annual Report on Form 10-K filed with the SEC. As with any estimate, the amounts may change when projects are implemented. Additionally, changes in foreign currency exchange rates may impact amounts reported in U.S. dollars related to foreign operations.

The First Quarter Charges totaled $18.7 million. Of this amount, approximately $0.2 million is classified in cost of goods sold and occupancy costs, $15.8 million in store and warehouse operating and selling expenses and $2.7 million in G&A expenses. These charges primarily relate to centralizing and consolidating activities in our International Division and include one-time severance costs and related accruals.

Table of Contents*North American Retail Division*

(Dollars in millions)	First Quarter
	2006	2005
Sales	$1,790.7	$1,698.2
% change	5%	6%
Division operating profit	$ 133.8	$ 106.9
% of sales	7.5%	6.3%

Division operating profit for the first quarter of 2006 included approximately $1.0 million of First Quarter Charges primarily related to accelerated depreciation initiated during 2005 that extended into 2006. Approximately $0.7 million is expected to continue through the end of 2006.

First quarter sales in the North American Retail Division increased 5% compared to the same period last year. Comparable store sales in the 966 stores in the U.S. and Canada that have been open for more than one year increased 3% in the first quarter. Comparable average transaction ticket size continued to increase, reflecting additional technology and furniture sales.

Higher operating profit in 2006 was achieved as the result of broad based product margin improvements from category management initiatives and increased private brand sales coupled with reduced operating costs from our cost management initiatives. These improvements more than offset incremental expense associated with store remodel activities that are now underway.

During the first quarter, the Company opened four stores and closed two stores. At the end of the first quarter, Office Depot operated a total of 1,049 office products stores throughout the U.S. and Canada. We plan to open about 100 stores this year. Previously, we announced that we planned to remodel approximately 60 stores during 2006 in the M2 format, but we may accelerate our plans and remodel about 150 stores this year, with the goal of remodeling approximately 800 stores over the next several years. Those remodeling activities will affect the performance of the North American Retail Division from both acceleration of depreciation of the remaining assets in those stores as well as from the costs associated with the specific remodel efforts, some of which are not capitalizable. We believe the M2 store format improves the customer shopping experience.

North American Business Solutions Division

(Dollars in millions)	First Quarter
	2006	2005
Sales	$1,130.0	$1,051.0
% change	8%	2%
Division operating profit	$ 92.5	$ 74.2
% of sales	8.2%	7.1%

Division operating profit for the first quarter of 2006 included approximately $1.1 million of First Quarter Charges related to efficiency activities initiated during last year as part of the 2005 Charges. It is anticipated that the North American Business Solutions Division will recognize an additional $13 million during the remainder of 2006, though costs related to these projects may differ as the actual plans are implemented. In addition to these projects, the Division is expecting to recognize additional costs in 2007 and 2008 for future network optimization projects. North American Business Solutions Division sales increased by 8% for the first quarter of 2006 compared to the same period in the prior year. Our contract business experienced growth in all three product categories and our direct business successfully completed the catalog migration process from Viking to Office Depot.

Table of Contents

Division customer transaction counts and average order values both increased compared to the first quarter of 2005. Overall gross margin for the Division declined slightly as compared to the prior year due to cost pressures in certain categories. Expense leverage was achieved from call center optimization efforts and advertising efficiencies, including those realized from the consolidation of our catalog operations. We also improved our operating expense ratio in our supply chain again this quarter.

We anticipate continuing to add to our sales force, as well as increase telephone account management to enhance customer relationships and profitably grow the business.

International Division

(Dollars in millions)	First Quarter
	2006	2005
Sales	$895.0	$954.3
% change	(6)%	(2)%
Division operating profit	$ 53.0	$ 57.7
% of sales	5.9%	6.0%

Division operating profit includes approximately $15.7 million of First Quarter Charges related to efficiency activities identified last year as part of the business review disclosed in our Form 10-K for 2005. It is anticipated that the International Division will record an additional $17 million of charges during the remainder of 2006 as these plans are implemented and the accounting recognition criteria are met. However, costs related to these projects may differ as the actual plans are implemented and foreign currency exchange rates may impact the amount reported in U.S. dollars. In addition to costs associated with these projects, the Division is expecting to recognize costs in 2007 and 2008 for future network optimization projects.

International Division first quarter sales increased 2% in local currencies, but decreased 6% in U.S. dollars compared to the same period in 2005. In the quarter, direct and contract sales were up and retail comparable store sales in Europe grew by 4%. The change in exchange rates from the corresponding prior year period decreased sales reported in U.S. dollars by approximately $80 million for the quarter.

Gross margin increased slightly despite continued pricing and cost pressures in key product categories during the first quarter, and broad-based expense savings also contributed to performance in the quarter.

The International Division increased its sales force in the quarter and increased the use of telephone account managers for customer acquisition activity. These productive activities will continue throughout the rest of the year.

After the end of the quarter, we completed the acquisition of a controlling interest in a South Korean office supply business which had prior year sales of approximately $44 million. We also increased our ownership interest to a majority stake in Office Depot Israel, which generated revenue in excess of $100 million in the prior year. We will fully consolidate these businesses into our results in the second quarter of 2006.

Table of Contents

Corporate and Other

General and Administrative Expenses: As a percentage of sales, total G&A expenses increased to 4.4% in the first quarter of 2006, compared to 4.3% for the same period last year. As noted above, the portion of G&A considered directly or closely related to unit activity is now included in the measurement of Division operating profit and prior periods have been recast for comparison. The remaining corporate G&A for the first quarter of 2006 increased compared to the same period of 2005, reflecting the expense recognition of stock options and other employee-related costs.

Other income (expense): Other income and expense, net increased reflecting rising earnings rates on invested cash and increased earnings from joint ventures accounted for under the equity method. Subsequent to the end of the first quarter, we increased our ownership in one existing investment and will begin consolidating this venture in the second quarter.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

At April 1, 2006, we had approximately $550.1 million of cash and short-term investments, as well as $601.4 million of available credit under our revolving credit facility. The credit availability reflects coverage of $83.6 million of outstanding letters of credit. We had an additional $50.2 million of letters of credit outstanding under separate trade agreements. We anticipate having sufficient liquidity to fund announced acquisitions and planned store expansion and remodels. We may continue repurchases of our common stock.

During the first quarter of 2006, cash provided by operating activities was $267.8 million compared to cash used of $60.6 million during the same period last year. This change is attributable to an improvement in inventory levels and in the use of cash for payables and in part, to the timing of payments.

Cash used in investing activities was $158.3 million in the first quarter of 2006 compared to cash provided of $21.1 million in the same period last year. The use of cash in 2006 reflects capital expenditures from the opening of four new office supply stores and relocating two stores in North America, as well as our store remodel program and investments in enterprise software. We also increased short-term investments by $102.2 million during the first quarter of 2006. Investing activities in 2005 include the net liquidation of short-term investments, partially offset by capital expenditures from the opening of 29 new stores and one relocation in North America.

Cash used in financing activities was $372.0 million in the first quarter of 2006 compared to cash provided of $20.4 million during the same period in 2005. Open market purchases of our common stock totaled $398.5 million and payments on long- and short-term borrowings totaled $25.9 million. This was partially offset by proceeds from issuance of common stock under our employee related plans of $40.3 million and $12.0 million in tax benefits from employee exercises of share-based awards.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Our condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Preparation of these statements requires management to make judgments and estimates. Some accounting policies have a significant impact on amounts reported in these financial statements. A summary of significant accounting policies and a description of accounting policies that are considered critical may be found in our 2005 Annual Report on Form 10-K, filed on February 15, 2006, in the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements, Note A, and the Critical Accounting Policies section.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

Interest Rate Risks

At April 1, 2006, there had not been a material change in the interest rate risk information disclosed in the Market Sensitive Risks and Positions subsection of the Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations set forth in Item 7 of our 2005 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

Foreign Exchange Rate Risks

At April 1, 2006, there had not been a material change in any of the foreign exchange risk information disclosed in the Market Sensitive Risks and Positions subsection of the Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations set forth in Item 7 of our 2005 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

- (a) Disclosure Controls and Procedures. The company's management, with the participation of the company's Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, has evaluated the effectiveness of the company's disclosure controls and procedures (as such term is defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the Exchange Act)) as of the end of the period covered by this report. Based on that evaluation, these officers have concluded that the corporation's disclosure controls and procedures are effective for the purpose of ensuring that material information required to be in this quarterly report is made known to them by others on a timely basis and that information required to be disclosed by the company in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to the company's management, including its principal executive and principal financial officers, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

- (b) Changes in Internal Controls. The company is continuously seeking to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of its operations and of its internal controls. This results in refinements to processes throughout the company. However, there has been no change in the company's internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the company's most recent fiscal quarter that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the company's internal control over financial reporting.

PART II. OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1. Legal Proceedings

We are involved in litigation arising in the normal course of our business. While, from time to time, claims are asserted that make demands for large sums of money (including, from time to time, actions which are asserted to be maintainable as class action suits), we do not believe that any of these matters, either individually or in the aggregate, will materially affect our financial position or the results of our operations.

Item 1A. Risk Factors

In addition to risks and uncertainties in the ordinary course of business that are common to all businesses, important factors that are specific to our industry and our company could materially impact our future performance and results. We have provided below a list of these risk factors that should be reviewed when considering our securities. These are not all the risks we face, of course, and other factors currently considered immaterial or unknown to us may impact our future operations.

Competition: We compete with a variety of retailers, dealers, distributors, contract stationers, direct marketers and internet operators throughout our worldwide operations. This is a highly competitive marketplace that includes such retail competitors as office supply stores, warehouse clubs, computer and electronics stores, mass merchant retailers, local merchants, grocery and drug-store chains as well as other competitors including direct mail and internet merchants, contract stationers, and direct manufacturers. Our competitors may be local, regional, national or international. Further, competition may come from highly-specialized low-cost merchants, including ink refill stores and kiosks, original equipment manufacturers, concentrated direct marketing channels or well-funded and broad-based enterprises. There is a possibility that any or all of these competitors could become more aggressive in the future, thereby increasing the number and breadth of our competitors.

In recent years, new and well-funded competitors have begun competing in certain aspects of our business. For example, two major common carriers of goods completed acquisitions of retail outlets that will allow them to compete directly for copy, printing, packaging and shipping business, and possibly offer products and services similar to ones we offer.

In order to achieve and maintain expected profitability levels in our three operating divisions, we must continue to grow by adding new customers and taking market share from competitors, while maintaining service levels, and aggressive pricing necessary to retain existing customers. If we fail to adequately address and respond to these pressures in both North America and internationally, it could have a material adverse effect on our business and results of our operations.

Execution of Expansion Plans: We plan to open about 100 stores in the United States and Canada and approximately five to 20 stores in our International Group during 2006. Circumstances outside our control could negatively impact these anticipated store openings. We cannot determine with certainty whether our new store openings, including some newly sized or formatted stores or retail concepts, will be successful. The failure to expand by successfully opening new stores as planned, or the failure of a significant number of these stores to perform as planned, could have a material adverse effect on our business and results of our operations.

Cannibalization of Sales in Existing Office Depot Stores: As we expand the number of our stores in existing markets, pursuing a fill-in strategy that is both offensive and defensive in nature, sales in our existing stores may suffer from cannibalization (as customers of our existing stores begin shopping at our own new stores). Extensive cannibalization of existing stores, as we open new stores, could have a material adverse effect on our business and results of our operations.

Costs of Remodeling and Re-merchandising Stores: Remodeling and re-merchandising our stores is a necessary aspect of maintaining a fresh and appealing image to our customers. The expenses associated with such activities could have a significant negative impact on our future earnings. Our growth, through both store openings and possible acquisitions, may continue to require the expansion and upgrading of our information, operational and financial systems, as well as necessitate the hiring of new store associates at all levels. If we are unsuccessful in achieving an acceptable ROI on this design, unsuccessful at hiring the right associates, or unsuccessful at implementing appropriate systems, such failure could have a material adverse effect on our business and results of our operations.

Table of Contents

International Activity: We may enter additional international markets as attractive opportunities arise. Such entries could take the form of start-up ventures, acquisitions of stock or assets or joint ventures or licensing arrangements. Internationally, we face such risks as foreign currency fluctuations, unstable political and economic conditions, and, because some of our foreign operations are not wholly owned, compromised operating control in certain countries. Our results may continue to be affected by all of these factors. All of these risks could have a material adverse effect on our business and results of our operations.

Global Sourcing of Products/Private Brand: In recent years, we have substantially increased the number and types of products which we sell under our own Office Depot®, Viking®, Foray , Niceday , AtivaTM and other private brands. Sources of supply may prove to be unreliable, or the quality of the globally sourced products may vary from our expectations. Economic and civil unrest in areas of the world where we source such products, as well as shipping and dockage issues could adversely impact the availability or cost of such products, or both. Moreover, as we seek indemnities from the manufacturers of these products, the uncertainty of realization of any such indemnity and the lack of understanding of U.S. product liability laws in certain parts of the Far East make it more likely that we may have to respond to claims or complaints from our customers as if we were the manufacturer of the products. Any of these circumstances could have a material adverse effect on our business and results of our operations.

Product Availability: In addition to selling our private brand merchandise, we are a reseller of other manufacturer s branded items and are thereby dependant on the availability and pricing of key products including ink, toner, paper and technology products, to name a few. As a reseller, we cannot control the supply, design, function or cost of many of the products we offer for sale. Disruptions in the availability of raw materials used in production of these products may adversely affect our sales and result in customer dissatisfaction. Further, we cannot control the cost of manufacturer s products and cost increases must either be passed along to our customers or will result in erosion of our earnings. Failure to identify desirable products and make them available to our customers when desired and at attractive prices could have a material adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

Possible Business Disruption Due to Weather: During 2004 and 2005, we sustained disruption to our businesses in the United States due to the number and severity of weather events in the Southeastern United States, including record numbers of hurricanes. While we have been able to recover quickly from these events during the past two years, the long-range weather forecast calls for higher than normal tropical storm activity, especially in the Southeastern United States for a number of years in the future. It is impossible to know whether these storms will occur as forecast or the location or severity of such storms. We believe that we have taken reasonable precautions to prepare for such weather-related events, but there is no assurance that our precautions will be adequate to deal with such events in the future. If these events occur as forecast, and if they should impact areas in which we have concentrations of retail stores or distribution facilities, such events could have a materially adverse effect on our financial position or operating results in the future.

New Systems and Technology: We frequently modify our systems and technology to increase productivity and efficiency. We are undertaking certain system enhancements and conversions that, if not done properly, could divert the attention of our workforce during development and implementation and constrain for some time our ability to provide the level of service our customers demand. Also, when implemented, the systems and technology may not provide the benefits anticipated and could add costs and complications to our ongoing operations. A failure to effectively convert to these systems or to realize the intended efficiencies could have a material adverse effect on our business and results of our operations.

Table of Contents

Labor Costs: We are heavily dependent on our labor force to identify new customers and provide desired products and services to existing customers. We attempt to attract and retain an appropriate level of personnel in both field operations and corporate functions. Our compensation packages are designed to provide benefits commensurate with our level of expected service. However, as a retailer we face the challenge of filling many positions at wage scales that are low, although appropriate to the industry and competitive factors. As a result, we face many external risks and internal factors in meeting our labor needs, including competition for qualified personnel, overall unemployment levels, international labor works councils (in our international locations), prevailing wage rates, as well as rising employee benefit costs, including insurance costs and compensation programs. We also engage third parties in some of our processes such as delivery and transaction processing and these providers may face similar issues. Changes in any of these factors, including especially a shortage of available workforce in the areas in which we operate, could interfere with our ability to adequately provide services to customers and result in increasing our labor costs. Any failure to meet increasing demands on securing our workforce could have a material adverse effect on our business and results of our operations.

Operating Costs: We operate a large network of stores and delivery centers around the globe. As such, we purchase significant amounts of fuel needed to transport products to our stores and customers. We also incur significant shipping costs to bring products from overseas producers to our distribution systems. The underlying commodity costs associated with this transport activity have been volatile in recent periods and disruptions in availability of fuel could cause our operating costs to rise significantly. Additionally, we rely on predictable and available energy costs to light our stores and operate our equipment. Increases in any of the components of energy costs could have an adverse impact on our earnings, as well as our ability to satisfy our customers in a cost effective manner. Any of these factors that could impact the availability or cost of our energy resources could have a material adverse effect on our business and results of our operations.

Possible Changes to our Global Tax Rate: Our company is a multi-national, multi-channel reseller of office products and services. As a result of our operations in many foreign countries, in addition to the United States, our global tax rate is derived from a combination of applicable tax rates in the various jurisdictions in which we operate. Depending upon the sources of our income, any agreements we may have with taxing authorities in various jurisdictions, and the tax filing positions we take in various jurisdictions, our overall tax rate may be lower or higher than that of other companies or higher or lower than our tax rates have been in the past. We base our estimate of an annual effective tax rate at any given point in time upon a calculated mix of the tax rates applicable to our company and to estimates of the amount of business likely to be done in any given geography. The loss of one or more agreements with taxing jurisdictions, a change in the mix of our business from year to year and from country to country, changes in rules related to accounting for income taxes, or changes in tax laws in any of the multiple jurisdictions in which we operate or adverse outcomes from the tax audits that regularly are in process in any of the jurisdictions in which we operate could result in an unfavorable change in our overall tax rate, which change could have a material adverse effect on our business and results of our operations.

Disclaimer of Obligation to Update

We assume no obligation (and specifically disclaim any such obligation) to update these Risk Factors or any other forward-looking statements contained in this Report to reflect actual results, changes in assumptions or other factors affecting such forward-looking statements.
