On January 17, 2007, Applica Incorporated announced that it had entered into a fifth amendment to its merger agreement with affiliates of Harbinger Capital Partners Master Fund I, Ltd. and Harbinger Capital Partners Special Situations Fund, L.P. (together, Harbinger Capital Partners) after receipt of an offer by Harbinger Capital Partners to increase the merger consideration payable for all outstanding shares of Applica that it does not currently own. The fifth amendment (i) increased the merger consideration payable for all outstanding shares of Applica that Harbinger Capital Partners does not currently own to $8.25 per share in cash, without interest, and (ii) required Applica to convene the special meeting at 11:00 a.m. Eastern Standard Time on January 17, 2007, as scheduled, and adjourn the special meeting until 11:00 a.m. Eastern Standard Time on January 23, 2007, without a vote on any proposal other than an adjournment. In consideration of the increase in the per share merger consideration, Applica acceded to Harbinger Capital Partners' demand for increases in the termination fee payable by Applica if the merger agreement is terminated under certain circumstances to $7 million and Applica's corresponding expense reimbursement obligation up to $3.3 million. Except as expressly amended or modified by the fifth amendment, the provisions of the merger agreement, as previously amended, remain in full force and effect.

The foregoing description of the amendment is qualified in its entirety by reference to the actual terms of the amendment, a copy of which is attached as Exhibit 2.1 to this Current Report on Form 8-K and is incorporated by reference herein in its entirety.

The offer and amendment followed an increase to $8.05 per share of the price of the unsolicited tender offer to purchase all outstanding shares of Applica's common stock that was commenced by Apex Acquisition Corporation, a newly formed Florida corporation and an indirect, wholly owned subsidiary of NACCO Industries, Inc. These recent developments are described in a supplement to the definitive proxy statement that will be filed by Applica with the SEC and mailed to Applica's shareholders on or about January 18, 2007.

Applica convened the special meeting at 11:00 a.m. Eastern Standard Time on January 17, 2007, as scheduled, and adjourned the special meeting until 11:00 a.m. Eastern Standard Time on January 23, 2007, without a vote on any proposal other than an adjournment. The proposals to be considered at the special meeting will be submitted to a vote of Applica's shareholders at the reconvened meeting at 11:00 a.m. Eastern Standard Time on January 23, 2007. The record date for the reconvened meeting will remain November 27, 2006. Shareholders of record at the close of business on November 27, 2006 may submit their proxies to vote their shares on the proposals until 11:00 a.m. Eastern Standard Time on January 17, 2007.

In connection with the proposed transaction with affiliates of Harbinger Capital Partners, Applica has filed a definitive proxy statement, proxy supplements, a Schedule 14d-9 recommendation statement and amendments thereto with the SEC. Investors and security holders are urged to read the definitive proxy statement, the proxy supplements, the Schedule 14d-9 recommendation statement, the amendments thereto and any other relevant documents filed with the SEC in connection with the proposed transaction because they contain important information about Applica, the proposed transaction with affiliates of Harbinger Capital Partners, the NACCO tender offer and related matters. The definitive proxy statement, several proxy supplements, the Schedule 14d-9 recommendation statement and several amendments thereto have been mailed to Applica shareholders and a supplement explaining the increase in the purchase price in the Harbinger Capital Partners merger agreement described in the press release and an amended Schedule 14d-9 recommendation statement will be mailed to Applica's shareholders on or about January 18, 2007.

APPLICA ENTERS INTO FIFTH AMENDMENT TO MERGER AGREEMENT WITH HARBINGER CAPITAL PARTNERS

Applica Board Recommends that Shareholders Reject NACCO Revised Tender Offer

Miramar, Florida (January 17, 2007) Applica Incorporated (NYSE: APN) today announced that it has entered into a fifth amendment to its merger agreement with affiliates of Harbinger Capital Partners Master Fund I, Ltd. and Harbinger Capital Partners Special Situations Fund, L.P. (together, Harbinger Capital Partners) after receipt of an offer by Harbinger Capital Partners to increase the merger consideration payable for all outstanding shares of Applica that it does not currently own to $8.25 per share in cash.

The Applica Board of Directors recommends that Applica shareholders vote FOR the adoption of the amended merger agreement between Applica and affiliates of Harbinger Capital Partners.

The offer and amendment followed an increase to $8.05 per share of the price of the unsolicited tender offer to purchase all outstanding shares of Applica's common stock that was commenced by Apex Acquisition Corporation, a newly formed Florida corporation and an indirect, wholly owned subsidiary of NACCO Industries, Inc.

Applica's Board has once again recommended that shareholders reject the revised NACCO offer and NOT tender their shares in the NACCO offer. The Board reached its determination based, among other factors, on the higher price being offered by Harbinger Capital Partners and the Board's belief that, subject to the receipt of shareholder approval, all conditions to the consummation of the Harbinger merger have been satisfied or will be satisfied at closing.

Accordingly, the Board currently expects that the Harbinger merger will be completed within one business day after the receipt of shareholder approval. The Board also believes that the revised NACCO offer includes a number of conditions that create significant concerns as to whether the revised NACCO offer can be completed. In particular, the Board believes that NACCO's minimum tender condition, which requires that a majority of Applica's outstanding shares of common stock on a fully diluted basis be tendered, presents a significant risk that the NACCO tender offer will not be consummated, especially in light of Harbinger Capital Partners' ownership of approximately 39% of Applica's outstanding common stock and its existing merger agreement with Applica.

As a condition to obtaining the increased merger consideration from affiliates of Harbinger Capital Partners, Applica agreed to increase the termination fee payable if the Harbinger merger agreement is terminated under certain circumstances to $7.0 million plus up to $3.3 million of reasonable, documented, third party, out-of-pocket expenses.

Applica intends to convene the special meeting of shareholders at 11:00 a.m. Eastern Standard Time on January 17, 2007, as previously scheduled, and adjourn the special meeting until 11:00 a.m. Eastern Standard Time on Tuesday, January 23, 2007, without a vote on any proposal other than an adjournment. The proposals to be considered at the special meeting will be submitted to a vote of Applica's shareholders at the reconvened meeting at 11:00 a.m. Eastern Standard Time on January 23, 2007. The record date for the reconvened meeting will remain November 27, 2006. Completion of the transaction, which is expected to occur following the January 23, 2007 meeting, is subject to customary closing conditions. The transaction is not subject to any financing condition.

In order to vote their shares in favor of the Harbinger Capital Partners agreement, shareholders should complete, date, sign and return the proxy card enclosed with the previously distributed definitive proxy statement as soon as possible. Shareholders who have any questions about the recommendation statement, the definitive proxy statement, the proxy supplement or the merger or need assistance with the voting procedures, should contact Applica's proxy solicitor, Georgeson Inc., at 17 State Street, New York, New York 10004 or call toll-free at (866) 857-2624.
