On April 20, 2002, Invivo Corporation (the Registrant) entered into a definitive agreement with 3D Instruments, LLC to sell substantially all of the assets of Sierra Precision, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Registrant, for a cash amount to be determined upon the closing of the transaction. A copy of the press release is filed as Exhibit 99.1 to this report and is incorporated into this report by reference.

This report, including the press release incorporated by reference, contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933 and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 which are subject to the corresponding safe harbors created by those sections. These forward-looking statements include, among other things, statements related to the expected closing date of the transaction, the expected contribution by Invivo Research to the Registrant's overall revenues following the transaction, and the expected increase in the Registrant's gross profit margin following the transaction. Actual results may differ materially from those projected in these forward-looking statements due to a number of factors, including: failure to satisfy the conditions to closing set forth in the transaction agreement on a timely basis or at all, loss of significant customers of Invivo Research or Sierra Precision, the uncertain growth prospects for new markets, the Registrant's dependence on a concentrated line of products, the effects of competitive products and pricing, economic and political conditions that may impact customers' ability to fund purchases of the Registrant's products and services, and other factors. For information regarding these and other related risks, see the Risk Factors section of the Registrant's most recent Form 10-Q on file with the SEC. The Registrant assumes no obligation to update any forward-looking information contained in this report except as otherwise required by law.
